LOCAL MATTERS

Elected Cashier.—Mr. Maddox, cashier of the Galena Bank for the past two years, has been elected cashier of the People's Bank to succeed Mr. A. Parks Rasin, who will resign December 1 to assume the duties of the clerk to the circuit court to which position he was elected in the recent election.

Betrothal Announcement.—Mr. and Mrs. H. Sachs announce the betrothal of their daughter, Minnye, to Mr. Gabriel L. Hines, of Swarthmore, Pa. The nuptial day is set for December 28, 1915. Mr. Hines is director of music at Swarthmore College, and will be very kindly remembered here as the pianist in the Hines Company, which performed during the last night of Chautauqua. Prof. Hines recently won a $15,000 prize at the Panama Exposition Musical Festival.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST

Thanksgiving Day falls on November 25th.

Just take a walk around town and view the pretty new homes recently completed and in course of completion.

Some of our Isaac Waltons have been catching good yellow perch with hook and line off Chester bridge this week.

Phil Henson, the well-known barber on the Steamer B. S. Ford, who was paralyzed last week, is somewhat improved.

The handsome new high school on Washington avenue will be opened with appropriate exercisas about Thanksgiving.

Miss Holdson, of H. F. Jefferson & Bro's. millinery department, received word on Tuesday of the death of her nephew in Baltimore.

Owen C. Smith & Co., agents, delivered to Mr. Charles N. Satterfield this week a handsome seven-passenger Studebaker touring car. The firm has other good prospects.

Mrs. Belle Smith has sold all of her beautiful chrysanthemums, shipping some as far south as North Carolina. The pretty flowers bring Mrs. Smith quite a tidy sum every year.

Several of Kent's poultry fanciers are preparing to make exhibits of their birds at the great Maryland Poultry and Pigeon Association in Baltimore, Nov. 30 to Dec. 4.

The County Auditing Committee has been at work examining the public accounts in the County Commissioners office during the week. They expect to finish their labors next week.

At a meeting of the Town Relief held last week at the home of Mrs. G. F. Clark, the following officers were elected for the year: President, Mrs. G. F. Clark; vice-president, Mrs. T. T. Horn; secretary, Miss Daisy Barnes treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Copper.

The Maryland Court of Appeals has decided that the State Road Commission is not responsible in damages for any personal injury received through negligence occurring in the execution of road work under its control. The court holds that the State Road Commission is a governmental agency and is thereby entitled to State immunity from suit.

A sneak thief stole some fine embroidery and some medicine belonging to Miss Sallie Tucker from her carriage while it was hitched on W. Front street Friday night. Miss Tucker left the carriage for several hours and when she returned the things were gone.

Mr. Josiah Massey, one of Queen Anne's leading farmers, captured nearly all the prizes at the school fair in Centreville. He won a beautiful silver cup as a sweepstake prize and carried off several money prizes for wheat and corn, and we venture to say he will do the same thing at Baltimore.

A Musicale will be held in the home of Mrs. William Medders, under the auspices of the Still Pond Ladies' Aid Society, Friday evening, Nov. 26. Talent from Chestertown, Still Pond and Betterton will be heard. It is hoped that Dr. Merle T. Adkins, formerly pitcher on the Baltimore Orioles, will sing.

One of the small sons of John Painter, a farmer near Middletown, accidentally shot and seriously wonded his brother on Tuesday afternoon. Painter had left his gun in the house on returning from a rabbit hunt and the boys got hold of it, which was discharged in handling. The boy may die.

Fritz Jette and Fritz Ellau, who left here sometime ago for Germany, have reached the Vaterand, getting in by way of Sweeden, and have joined the 3rd Kompanie, 1st Excradron, Battillion J. R. 42, Satrlsund, Germany. Fritz can speak English so fluently that he will be made an interpreter. His wife and children had not reached him when he wrote.

The gunning season opened on Wednesday, and large scores were made by many sportsmen. One party of six killed 45 rabbits and several birds, and stopped hunting at three o'clock. One other gunner shot 15 times and killed 14 rabbits, while another gunner said he would have killed two had they not run into a hollow tree. Rabbits seem to be more plentiful than was at first thought, especially up the county.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Chestertown was reorganized on Wednesday, November 9th, 1916, at a meeting held in the Rest Room. This new union starts out well with fifteen members, including officers: President, Mrs. William T Brown; Vice President at large, Mrs. Mary E. Bryan; Recording Sect., Mrs. Clifton L. Jarrell; Corres. Sect., Mrs. Claude F. Parks; Treasurer, Mrs. W. Irving Walker. All of the ladies of the town and vicinity are most earnestly invited to join this union and attend the regular monthly meeting which will be held on the first Tuesday of each month at 2.30 P. M.

Mrs. George B. McWhorter had a most unusual experience on Thursday morning. Upon going out her front door she found the porch floor, the railings, the sides of the house and window sills, as well as the cement pavement bespattered with blood. The cause of the trouble was a dog, which had severely cut its foot. It bled profusely and in its efforts to get assistance it had gone on Mrs. McWhorter's porch. The dog's bloody footprints on the pavements were tracked as far as the home of Dr. H. B. Simmons, where they were lost. It required the entire morning to clean Mrs. McWhorter's porch with hose and brush.

Mrs. Wm. Walter Chapman entertained a number of lady friends at bridge at her home on Washington avenue yesterday afternoon.

A lady in Baltimore renewed her subscription to the TRANSCRIPT to 1918 last Thursday. That's an evidence of the paper's worth. Another subscriber living in New Jersey, wrote saying he missed getting his paper last week, and "please forward the last issue at once." We appreciate these evidences of confidence in us.

Prof. Ten Hoor, of Washington College, will give his second lecture on "Aesthetics" at the rest room next Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17th, at the regular meeting of the Woman's Federated Club. Members of the club will please remember that the regular club meetings are held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Deputy Sheriff Mark Perkins had an interesting experience on Thursday with a party of Pennsylvania sportsmen who were out gunning near Kennedyville without a license. The party came in an auto, which they left on the roadside while they went hunting. Sheriff Perkins perched himself in the auto to await the gunners' return, but some one put them wise and they did not show up. A Delaware party had been to the same place the day before, and the sheriff was notified as to what was going on. It is against the law for non-residents to gun in Kent without a license or without an invitation from land owners.

NUPTIAL EVENTS.

ANSPON—DAVIS.

A pretty home wedding took place at Elmwood the country home of Mr. Harry Davis, near Still Pond, Thursday evening when his accomplished daughter, Miss Emma Bascomb, became the bride of Prof. Bert Winfried Anspon, of the Maryland Agricultural College. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. S. Hepbron, rector of I. U. Parish. The old colonial home was most beautifully decorated throughout with autumn leaves chrysanthemums and potted plants. One end of the spacious double parlor was a bower of lovely autumn leaves in front of which was an arch of chrysanthemums from which the wedding bell of white asters was suspended. The bride was attired in a robe of white faille silk trimmed with old family lace. Her tulle veil was fastened with natural orange blossoms from Florida, and her bouquet was of Lillies of the Valley and white Orchids. Her only ornament was a pin of pearls and sapphire, gift from her brothers. The matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. Eliason, of Wilmington, wore a handsome gown of pink taifeta trimmed with spangled chiffon. Little Anna Eliason, niece of the bride, in a dainty creation of pink and white and carrying a beautiful basket of pink roses, was flower girl. The wedding party entered the parlor in the following order: The groom and his best man Mr. W. H. Davis, brother of the bride, followed by the little flower girl and the bride, on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Harry Davis, mother of the bride, entered the parlor on the arm of her son, Mr. Henry Davis, just ahead of the wedding procession. Mrs. Davis was gowned in black satin and lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of Lillies of the Valley and lavender orchids.

Miss Maud Newman, of Baltimore, a collegemate of the bride, played the wedding march, and rendered soft and sweet music during the ceremony.

After [illegible] wedding a handsome collation [illegible] by a caterer from Wil[illegible] bride and groom left at [illegible] and M[illegible] friends at [illegible] cember 1st[illegible]

Davis, Smyrna, Del; Miss M[illegible] kins and Miss Maude Newnam, [illegible] timore, Md.

NICHOLSON—WHALAND.

Mr. Charles B. Nicholson, son of M[illegible] Robert G. Nicholson, and Miss Mar[illegible] Whaland, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Whaland, and one of Chestertown's popular teachers, were quietly married at Mt. Calvary P. E. Church, Baltimore, last Saturday. The ceremony was performed by the assistant rector, Rev. Mr. Venables, and was witnessed by Miss Edith Harley, an intimate friend of the bride. They made the trip via Tolchester on Saturday. Mr. Nicholson is one of the county's prominent young farmers.

With Our Advertisers.

The DuRue Bros.' Ideal Minstrels which are to appear at Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday 17, shall always, as in seasons before, be clean and classic, and honest, with fair treatment to the public and truly advertised. This year, presenting an entire change of performance with all new vandeville features. Not one stale or worn out act presented and we feel confident that we shall please our friends to such an extent that they will pronounce us the one and only truly advertised Minstrel Company that visits your city this season, for we have gathered together the most expensive army of Minstrel talent from American and European agents that was ever engaged under one Minstrel management. Don't fail to see the street parade and hear the solo band concerts on day of show.

William A. Hyland, the hustling Galena hardware merchant, will have a great demonstration of the celebrated Majestic range November 29th to Dec. 4th. Valuable premiums will be offered. Watch for the announcement next week.

John S. Vandegrift is advertising a sure cure for roupe, cholera, corns and hog cholera. The receipt from which Mr. Vandegrift prepares his hog cholera remedy is 50 years old, and was the property of his wife's father, Mr. Barkman, who was a prominent stock dealer. He will give away a trial bottle to any one who has affected hogs. See him about it.

Kilburn, Bramble & Noland the big Fairlee merchants have a most interesting letter in their adv. on page 3. Read it. They will pay 40 cents a dozen for eggs all next week.

Add-A-Link. See Jeweler H[illegible] about it.
