For World-Wide Conference.

The following telegram and answer indicates the part Chestertown, through the influence of Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard, may play in bringing about world-wide peace, a plea for the establishment of which was made yesterday to President Wilson:

New York City, Nov. 24th, 1915.
MRS. WILBUR W. HUBBARD,
Chestertown, Md.

For the sake of all the anxious mothers dreading that their sons may be added to the millions of men already killed or crippled in this war, will you strengthen the appeal to be made by next Friday by Ethel Snowden, of England, and Rosica Schrimer, of Hungary, by telegraphing President Wilson, at Washington, somewhat as follows: We urge a conference of neutral nations dedicated to finding a just settlement of this war.

JANE ADAMS,
President of the Peace Party.

Chestertown, Md., Nov. 25th, 1915.
HON. WOODROW WILSON,
Washington, D. C.

Sooner or later, this war must reach a stage of a conference of all belligerents around a table. Why not first a conference of all the neutrals to be the nucleus around which to draw the belligerents and thus establish the permanent peace of the world. Our conviction is that your elevation to your present position was for the accomplishment of this mission.

MRS. WILBUR W. HUBBARD,
President the Federated Clubs.
