League of Women's Clubs plans annual conference

With Lula Jones Garret

Those scores of women who couldn't edge a nose into Madison Street Presbyterian Church to hear Dr. Margaret Just Butcher, a Sunday ago (as well as the lucky ones) will have another opportunity on the 27th.

The dynamic member of the Washington Department of Education will be speaker at the luncheon session of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs on the 27th.

Luncheon will be at 1:30 and will follow registration beginning at 8 a.m., the business session at 9 a.m. and work shops at 11:30 a.m. All meetings are to be held in the Christian Center at Morgan State College.

The work shops have a star-studded leader list, also. They include Mrs. Alice Arrington, executive director of the Harlem Branch YWCA, New York City, and a former president of the League; Mrs. George Lerner, president of the League of Womgn Voters; and Elmer A. Henderson, executive director of the American Council on Human Rights.

The work shops will study education for world affairs, for political action and for integration.

Mrs. Vivian G. Alleyne, president, will preside at the business session.

they and their guests have such fun at the affair which features a showing of fashions.

MISS PURVIANCE HONOREE

Incidentally they have selected Miss Florence Purviance, retired specialist in the art department of the public schools, as honoree at their Founders' Day celebration in May. Robert Watts, attorney, was speaker at their March meeting.

And so to the news of the week:

W.N.M.'s PARTY

I do declare . . . these parties get flossier as the nights go by.

Take the WNM's for instance. Never has Biddie Hall been more elaborately decorated. Never so exciting costumes worn. Never did guests enjoy more the music and the supper, or were in more of a mood for high hilarity.

The hostesses also set the pace in costumes. They wore identical rhumba frocks, ruffled, midriffed and slit to here at the front.

And did the guests follow suit? I'll say they did!

Tall, slender Tilly Pair, a Spanish lass for the evening, made a striking picture as she danced with Dr. Herman Long, (He's from Fisk University (faculty . . . here on a survey mission) who was also in a Spanish costume and even taller than Till.

William (Box) Harris was a strikingly handsome Japanese. The Albert LaForests wore elaborate Siamese costumes and the Robert Wattses came in long stripped night shirts, night caps and bearing candles.

Mrs. Joe Bracy had selected a disreputable old country preacher's outfit to wear, but backed down at the last moment. He was braver. So he came as the preacher; she donned a Chinese ensemble.

Sam and Gloria Phillips probably committee unanimously apply topped the guests in originality. Their ensembles were those of men from Mars. Vying however, was cute Dorothy Johnson, whose "bee" outfit fitted every curve of her petite figure and her head-dress was strickingly odd.

The hostesses marked the wall of the hall off in diamonds. Inserted in each diamond a Devil's head, which is the club insignia. They planted huge photos of themselves at the front of the hall and spotlighted them.

They parked a table for each hostess and her guest in the place and filled them with snacks and drinks, and at the tag end of the evening turned the heat on under huge chafing dishes (which centered each table) and served, of all things, spaghetti and meat balls . . . deliciously hot coffee, etc.

Hostesses included:

Cleota Brayboy, Miriam Brown, Gwendolyn Carter, Kathleen Carter, Rabbie Chisell, Wilhelmina Garner, Helen Glover, Ivy Harris, Ruth Jennifer, Hortense Perkins, Nicki Randolph and Ellsworth Rhetta.

Their guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Daniel C. Brevington, William Taylor, Robert Watts, Joseph Cragy, George Lottier, Sylvester Maultsby, Paul Scott;

Messrs. and Mesdames Daniel Spaulding, Richard Cummings, Marvin Davis, Lorenzo Felder, Clarence Hawkins, Miles Harrison;

Messrs. and Mesdames Irving Williams, John Hall, R. Clarke Davis, Cecil Johnson, Dewitt Howard, George Judge, Earnest Seals, Robert Matthews, Clarence Maiden;

Messrs. and Mesdames Warren Weaver, Wilbur Valentine, Walter Edmonds, Hughes Carter, Charles Peco, James Wood, Joseph Henderson, James Gilliam, Charles Brown, Granville Hillen;

Messrs. and Mesdames John Wood, Harrison Smalley, Larry Moore, William Harris, Harold Jennifer, Richard Perkins, Emerson Brown;

Doctors and Mesdames Percy Smith, Marcus Moore, J. F. Grant, Albert Burwell, William Garner, Garland Chassell, Simon H. Carter;

Mesdames Barnett Rhetta, Tillie Pair, Vera Hudnell, Lula Patterson, Imogine Martin, Tina Parks, Cleota Brayboy, Mattie Lawson, Lloyal Randolph, Ulysses Glover;

Misses Mattie Lawson, Gwendolyn Carter, Leila Logan, Jacqueline Robinson;

James McCleland, Reginald Young, Thadeus Logan, David Mason, Donald Vernon, Herman Long, Reid Jackson, Odum Coker and Lloyd McDonald.

ON COCKTAIL TRAIL

Alpha Kappa Alpha sorors' formal dance in Morgan State College refectory, Friday night, had the proper impetus with a flock of gala cocktail parties.

Florence Dennis poured for her guests who included Ernest and Dora Halton of Washington, Otis and Mary Sprow, Bill and Anne Dorsey, Louise Lockerman, Bill Adams, Lloyd MacDonald, Minnie Dorsey and Russel Tarter.

The Reisterstown Road home of Dr. and Mrs. George P. Brown was the setting of that given jointly by the Browns and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Ellis.

Guests there were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Harold Clark, Joseph Wiles, James Taylor, William Hill, William Henderson.

And breakfast parties included the entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. William Hill, where Messrs. and Mesdames Aaron Ellis, James Ford, William Henderson and William Hill had their waffles and coffee.

SIGMA WIVES MEET

When Sigma Wives met with Mrs. Violet H. Whyte, Tuesday evening, they completed plans for their annual tea in May.

Mrs. Juanita Hill was joint hostess with Mrs. Whyte.

Attending were:

Mesdames Marlene Holden, Kathryn Vickers, Naomi Camper, Elizabeth Tilghman, Violetta Lee, Katharine Johnson, Edna Finney, Cora Gibson and Hazel Phillips.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY

Mrs. R. Garland Chissel Jr. entertained members of the Monumental City Medical Auxiliary on Thursday evening, when they wrapped up plans for their fashion show and then played cards.

The style show is to be held on Friday evening in the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA.

Joint hostesses with Mrs. Chissell were Mesdames Charles Woodland, Barnett Rhetta, William Garner, Preston Grant and Barnett Rhetta Sr.

Attending were:

Mesdames Herbert Mosley, William Watts, M. L. Barksdale, Albert Burwel, Richard Hunt, Albert LaForest and G. Franklin Phillips.

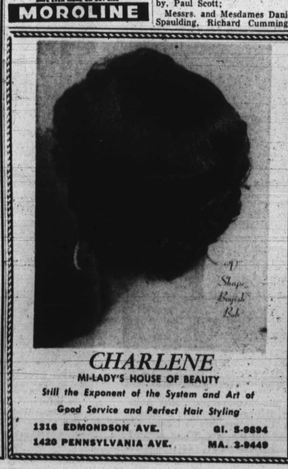
Up from Camp Pickett this past week were C. W. O. Thames, Owens and wife, Pat, all agog about their new Tommy Jr., and also from Camp Lee were Capt. and Mrs. George Dawson.

After being entertained lavishly by the Joseph Locklears on Thursday night, the old gang gathered at Earl and Mel Jackson's on Saturday night.

Those who dropped in to reminence and have a good time were: Capt and Mrs. Lester Hudgins, Joseph and Margaret Locklear, the Owen, the Dawsons, Ruby Miller, Clarence Harris, and Doris Payne.

St. Katherine's Chapel will present its spring fashion show at the YWCA on the 19th. The time is 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Shephard are walking on clouds as a result of welcoming Milton Bernard Jr. who arrived recently. Mrs. Shephard is the former Geraldine Thomas of White Plains, N. Y., and a social worker with DPW. The new Dad is a probation officer in the Court House.



MRS. IVY HARRIS served supper to her guests at the WNM's dance in Baltimore Saturday night.

Dr. Benjamin J. Kimbers Jr., dentist, came to the masquerade party as a dandy.
