Turner Democratic Club acts on sign replacing

TURNER STATION, Md.—The 12th District Democratic Club at its monthly meeting, Tuesday night, set up a committee to see to it that the "stop" and "slow" signs erected at improper places by the Baltimore County Commission's office be replaced where they are needed most.

The committee was composed of: Walter Scott, Dave Riddick, Mr. Moore and C. Quinn Jackson.

Mrs. Iris Manning, head of the social committee of the club, was directed to meet with the board of directors, headed by James Stanley, to arrange for a social affair to be held prior to the coming primary election.

Progress In Ugly Drive

Meanwhile, a progress report was made by Mr. Jackson on the drive to organize auxiliary units to the 12th District Club in areas outside of Turner Station in Baltimore County.

Groups interested in getting out the colored Democratic vote in the county have been contacted in Sparrows Point, Towson, Balmer, the Dundalk and other areas; and the club is certain to have several auxiliary units before the primary, Mr Jackson said.
