night to unload these ships. We are proud of them," are the words of Thomas Wilkerson, president of Local 858.

Mr. Wilkerson, 36, who lives at 520 N. Calhoun st., knows his men and when he speaks of them with pride, there is a strong note of sincerity in his voice.

Mr. Wilkerson has been working on the docks since he was 17. He has risen from the ranks to head the city's largest local of longshoremen.

Works Long Hours

This is the first elective office that the native of Halifax, N.C., has held. In the present emergency, Mr. Wilkerson works long hours in his office which looks out over ships tied up at Locust Point. He doesn't mind the hours, his main concern is seeing that his men are working.

"I like this job fine. It is a lot of work and responsibility, but I like it."

To the longshoremen, Mr. Wilkerson is known as "Tommy." They crowd his office seeking information about their work, union affairs and a host of other problems. His door is always open to them.

As president of the largest local on the waterfront, Mr. Wilkerson is one of the most important men in Baltimore. He commands the respect of steamship officials, union leaders and the men themselves.

Important Figure

Another important figure in the affairs of the local is John F. Barry of 1720 N. Caroline st., financial secretary and business manager.

Mr. Barry is now serving his third term in the four-year job. He was elected by the secret ballots of the local's members in 1952, 1950, and 1954.

A longshoreman since 1913, the Baltimore born Mr. Barry has grown up with Local 858. He remembers the days when the local was striving for recognition and he has a deep pride in its record.

"This is a democratic union, every man has the right to speak without fear. The only man that has to worry about his job is a shirker. If a man has a complaint, he knows that we will listen to him."

Like Mr. Wilkerson, Mr. Barry knows the problems of the men, because he has worked on ships and has a personal knowledge of the things the men face.

$2.35 An Hour

Mr. Barry is also proud of the work the men have accomplished in the handling of the diverted ships, and he is happy that they have the opportunity to earn healthy wages.

Under terms of a recent contract, longshoremen are paid a basic wage of $2.35 an hour with time and a half for overtime, which amounts to $3.52 an hour. Overtime is any time after 5 p.m. and all day on Saturday and Sunday.

On the basis of this, a man working 40 hours a week earns $94.05 if he works between the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Overtime sends his earnings shooting upward, and during the present boom, a longshoreman can make overtime almost at will.

Seasonal Occupation

However, Mr. Barry pointed out that the occupation is "seasonal" with slack seasons coming in the spring and fall.

"A lot of our men are also commercial fishermen, and when the slack season comes, they go out on fishing boats until work picks up again."

Another source of pride in the union for Mr. Barry stems from the hospitalization plans available to local members who have worked 700 hours during the contract year.

This plan pays up to $300 for surgical expenses, $30 a week for 13 weeks, $12 a day for 31 days for a hospital bed, $2,000 for death. The plan also provides maternity benefits for the wives of longshoremen and hospitalization for minor dependents.

$75,000 Paid Out

Financed by the union and the Steamship Trade Association, the plan has paid out approximately $75,000 since it was started in 1950, Mr. Barry said. Of the 7,600 men in the local, Mr. Barry estimates that 1,500 of them have enough hours to their credit to qualify for hospitalization.

Mr. Barry said the port is busier now then it has been since the war years when a great deal of ammunition was loaded here. He also said that most dangerous cargo to load is steel while ore is the simplest.

Enjoys His Work

After all these years, Mr. Barry still enjoys his work.

"I like the excitement to be found here on the docks. This is the life I like."

Mr. Barry is the father of nine grown children and the grandfather of 16. One of his sons, George of 2105 Homewood ave., has been working on the docks for several years.

These two men, Mr. Wilkerson and Mr. Barry, are among the officials who help to make Local 858 the most powerful voice on the waterfront.

The local owns three valuable pieces of property on Hull st., two pieces of improved property on Clinton st., 120 acres of land in Anne Arundel County, Md., and is one of the largest property owners on Ritchie Highway.

see what other steps could be taken.

Dr. William Kress is president of the Baltimore City Dental Society and maintains offices in the Medical Arts Building. His term expires in May when he will be succeeded by Dr. William F. Martin, also with offices in the Medical Arts Building.

Denies Making Promise

Dr. Kress said that while it is true that his society has consulted with the Governor's Interracial Commission, there was no promise that the vote would not be taken until further conferences were held.

"We promised that the entire membership would vote on it, and it came before the entire membership on Monday," Dr. Kress would not say how many members are affiliated with his group.

The president-elect, Dr. Martin, however, said the 175 members who voted represented a quorum.

Another member of the group, Dr. Daniel E. Shehan, told the AFRO the membership of the society "is about 500." He said he himself has been a member for "30 years," but referred other questions to Dr. Kress.

Not At Meeting

Dr. Bruce M. Dorsey, another member, said he did not attend the meeting.

Asked whether he favored the admission of colored dentists, he said: "I have always tried to be very broad in all of my approaches to things of this character and I had expressed myself to several of the colored dentists.

"I am not opposed to the advanced professional training of any particular group. I have lived all over the world with all kinds of people . . ."

"Too Big" For One Man

Dr. Leon Seligman, 2230 Garrison blvd., a member of the society's executive council, said, "I don't want to be involved in this matter. It's too big for one man to tell his opinion at all."

Dr. R. Kent Tongue Jr., 17 W. Pennsylvania ave., Towson, another member of the executive council, said:

"I'm not in a position to say how I feel about the vote . . . it represented the thinking of those who were there . . ."

Has No Objection

Another member of the society's executive council, Dr. Charles E. Page Sr., 3126 Harford rd., said: "I did not arrive at the meeting in time to vote on the question. I have no objection to admitting colored members myself."

Dr. James H. Ferguson Jr., the member who offered the resolution objecting to membership by colored dentists, also maintains offices in the Medical Arts Building.

He told the AFRO he had no comment about the resolution and referred further questions to the president of the society. Dr. Ferguson says he has been practicing dentistry in Baltimore for 38 years.

NAACP progress shown in movies

Movies and sound films, showing progress of the Baltimore NAACP during its 10 years of operation, will be shown on April 6.

The program will be presented at 8 p.m. at Sharp St. Methodist church, Dolphin and Etting sts.

The films will feature an address by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at an NAACP mass meeting, principals in various baby contests, and highlights of some conventions.

This is one of a series of fund raising projects presented by the program committee. Members are Mrs. Beatrice Martin, chairman; Mrs. Zula Mae Watts, Mrs. Nellie Williams, Edward Pauls and Bowen Jackson, NAACP coordinator.

Training Conference

Four Maryland delegates will attend the regional leadership training conference at the national NAACP headquarters in NYC, April 9-10.

The conference is designed to familiarize branch leaders with what must be done in their particular areas throughout the year.

Maryland delegates will be Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president; Bowen Jackson, Robert B. Watts, attorney; and the Rev. J. L. Tilley.

autos, trucks, gasoline, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer.

Reductions of taxes on admissions other than theaters are cabret bills, college athletics, and racing admissions.

Combined with the 10 per cent cut in income tax revenue, the government has cut its tax money by $7.4 billions so far this year.

To Pass On Reductions

Department stores and appliance, luggage, jewelry and furs shops have indicated that the cuts will be passed on to the Washington consumer as soon as possible.

A similar move has been promised by merchants in Philadelphia. The tax reductions range from five to 10 per cent on various items.

be one after all." That's the opinion of Mrs. Eleanor Bracy, 2230 Longwood ave., a stock control employee.

She is the wife of Joseph Bracey, a personnel counselor for Social Security employees.

In citing her objection to the move, Mrs. Bracy notes that "women workers shouldn't be too bad off." The Bracys have one daughter.

Leroy Bolden has been with the Signal Depot as an expeditor for three and a half years. "My only alternative if the plant should move," he declares, "is to seek government work in either the Baltimore or Washington area."

Although he is not a permanent civil service employee, his wife, Mrs. Willa Bolden is and has worked at the depot as a clerk-typist for two years. The Boldens have two children.

Car Stolen

Added to the burden of the Bolden family is the fact that their automobile was stolen Tuesday.

If unable to find work in civil service, the family plan on turning its attention toward private industry.

Earlier this week the case involving the transfer of the signal installation was sent to the assistant secretary of defense for consideration.

Wednesday Governor McKeldin wrote Secretary of Defense Wilson urging his intervention in stopping the proposed transfer as announced by the army two weeks ago.

"Economic Distress" Possible

In his letter the Governor said the removal of the Signal Depot would result in "considerable economic distress" in the Baltimore area.

He was greatly disturbed by the announcement, he continued, because the "depot has become important to the economy and livelihood of a large number of Maryland citizens."

In 1953, workers at the depot collected $11,500,000 in wages. At least 300 colored workers are home owners.

Lower Living Standards

All have expressed the opinion that the transfer will lower their standard of living, and will in effect, work a hardship upon their families.

At a mass meeting on March 23, a total of 1,500 workers met to plan campaign strategy.

The government employees are now fighting against a December deadline.

The Tobyhanna Depot is located near Scranton, Pa., has no transportation, no reserve labor and is almost inaccessible during the winter months.

For the colored worker there are not as many opportunities for work at the Pennsylvania depot as there are in Baltimore.

According to a union official, "Baltimore is one of the few places where colored employees can get jobs on equal terms to which everyone is entitled as American citizens."

State income tax returns due April 15

With the dead-line for filing State Income Tax returns fast approaching, State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, has issued a final reminder in order that all persons may be aware of the requirements for filing and their responsibilities under the law.

The Maryland return is due on or before April 15. It covers income received by the taxpayer during the calendar year 1953.

Every resident of Maryland who, during 1953, had a gross income of more that $1,000 if single, or more than $2,000 if married, is required to file.

Married Persons

Mr. Tawes pointed out that married persons must use the combined income of both husband and wife to determine their liability for filing a State return.

The Maryland form which is similar to last year's form provides two methods of computation.

The optional method can be used by taxpayers having a gross income of not more than $10,000 from salaries and wages and not more than $500 from dividends interest and annuities.

Taxpayer Uses Tables

Under this method the taxpayer does his tax from the tables. In developing the tables, allowance has been made for personal exemptions and deductions approximating 10 percent of the gross income to a maximum amount of $500.

The regular method goes into greater detail and involves schedules which the taxpayer must complete. However, under the regular method the taxpayer may use a standard deduction of 10 percent of his gross income, to a maximum of $500 for each taxpayer.

Non-residents too, have a liability to Maryland. Mr. Tawes emphasized, for they must file with this State if they received salary or wages for services performed within Maryland or from any trade or business carried on here.

Permanent Offices

The Income Tax Division maintains permanent offices in Baltimore, Dundalk, Cumberland, Easton and Salisbury and in Washington, D.C., where the taxpayer may call at any time for assistance.

In addition to these branches, temporary offices have been set up in the Court House at Hagerstown and Frederick where agents will be present to give assistance to taxpayers until the April 15 deadline.

McKeldin has hopes Balto. hotels will accept ball players

Governor McKeldin said Wednesday night that he hopes when big league teams come to Baltimore "they will be able to play as units, and live together as units—not with any of the players having to go to Pennsylvania ave."

Mr. McKeldin's remarks referred to hotel accommodations for colored ball players with visiting teams. Not included in his prepared text, he made the statement while speaking at a Variety Club dinner, honoring Spyros P. Skouras, president of 20th-Century Fox Films.

The governor was discussing brotherhood, good fellowship, and the rights and contributions of minorities when he interposed his statement about the ball players.

Later it was reported that Mr. McKeldin had been meeting with local hotel officials in an attempt to see that visiting colored players will not be segregated from their teammates.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

New this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

The Secret of Long, Good Looking Hair — By Jean Allison — Many women tell me how they envy people with naturally attractive, long hair—smooth, soft, growing out so rich and healthy. They ask, "How can I have hair like that?" Scientific facts now give the answer: It all depends on the nature and condition of the scalp. In other words, you can have gorgeous hair like that only if your scalp is ready and able to make it so.

More and more of my friends are discovering that when they seek to improve the looks of their hair they must think about the condition of the scalp too. They are also learning the amazing facts about Sulfur-8 Hair and Scalp Conditioner and how it works for the beauty of the hair.

The Power of Sulfur-8

A new scientific form of sulfur is being hailed by hair and scalp experts throughout the world. This potent "super-sulfur", called polysulfides, is the wonder drug featured in the great Sulfur-8 Hair and Scalp Conditioner formula. Only Sulfur-8 has that special formula.

Of course, Sulfur-8 cannot give you a new scalp, nor make your hair grow or be longer than your scalp allows, but when used in time it usually works wonders on certain conditions that may hold your hair back from looking its best.

You may never know how beautiful your hair can be until you try Sulfur-8 and give it a real chance to do its good work. You will like its new, pleasant fragrance too.

Something Wonderful Happens

Happy Sulfur-8 users have been telling me about its marvelous results in helping the most abused dry hair look softer, smoother and more lustrous. They are thrilled by the new beauty of their hair and have been telling their friends how it came about. The fame of Sulfur-8 has grown so fast that already millions of jars have been sold.

Mr. Lemon was struck down in the 600 block W. Franklin st. Police are still looking for the driver of the car.

Human relations groups support city FEPC bill

Discrimination in employment is "one of the worst expressions of bigotry and discrimination."

This is the opinion expressed by the state and city commissions on race relations which has endorsed the Equal Employment Opportunity ordinance now pending in the City Council.

Support of the measure was given in a letter this week to Mayor D'Alesandro from the Baltimore Commission on Human Relations.

The letter, signed by William C. Rogers, chairman of the state commission, was delivered to Acting Mayor Arthur B. Price.

Philly Law Model

The ordinance, No. 1839, is pending before the council's committee on legislation and executive appointments. It is patterned after the Philadelphia Fair Employment Practices law.

It provides for the establishment of an unpaid commission of five members, appointed by the mayor, subject to the approval of the City Council.

The ordinance would prevent any employer from refusing to hire a person because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

May Petition Court

The appointed commission would be empowered to receive and investigate such complaints. It would have the right then to petition the Circuit Court to enforce any order it might issue.

The proposed ordinance was considered at a meeting of the race relations commission on March 10. Their endorsement of the measure grew out of that meeting.

Their letter of support said in part:

"We endorse the principles and the objectives embodied in the proposed ordinance because we are convinced that discrimination in employment, based on color, religion or nationality is one of the worst expressions of bigotry and prejudice.

"This form of discrimination interferes with a man's opportunity to earn a livelihood, and thus injuries also those who depend upon him for family support.

Immoral And Unjust

"In our opinion, a denial of an equal opportunity to earn a livelihood is immoral and unjust. It is undemocratic and un-American, it is a handicap in our foreign relations.

"It is a violation of our pledges to thousands of American veterans; it is bad for business, and it is a constant source of distrust and friction between the various racial, religious and ethnic groups that comprise our population.

"We are convinced, too, that conventional methods of education designed to eliminate this form of discrimination are not sufficient.

"The experience of a number of states and a great many municipalities indicates that voluntary methods are not effective.

"The educational approach coupled with some form of compulsion as an ultimate sanction against the minority who are, always impervious to reason, is the only effective method of dealing with this problem.

"The proposed ordinance is not a pioneering experiment. There is a great body of experience with this kind of legislation in other states and cities, and the reports from these jurisdictions uniformly emphasize the fact that the educational approach, coupled with ultimate compulsion when necessary, has proved to be an effective deterrent to this form of discrimination.

Citizens back FEPC measure

A steering committee was named on Wednesday night to head the drive of a citizen's group to obtain passage of the FEPC ordinance recently introduced in the City Council.

Named as chairman was D. Roy Green, Mrs. Beatrice Martin was named secretary. The meeting was held at the office of the Urban League, 2404 Pennsylvania ave.

Approximately 30 persons attended the meeting of the group which will function under the name "Citizens in Support of Ordinance 1839."

Program Adopted

During the meeting, a three-point program was adopted.

1. To have neighborhood groups stage meetings with their councilmen to give them their views on the measure. The first of these meetings has been set for April 8 by residents of Wilson and Morgan Parks. The four councilmen in the third councilmanic district are expected to attend.

2. To have all citizens write, phone or visit their councilmen to inform them of their views.

3. To mail out 600 pamphlets, "Questions and Ansyers Regarding Ordinance 1839." This pamphlet was prepared by the Baltimore Jewish Council.

New suspect held on fencing count

A fourth man has been ordered held in connection with the police discovery of several thousand dollars worth of reportedly stolen merchandise.

The latest suspect was identified as Charles E. Gastins Jr., 41, of the 700 block George st. He has been ordered held in $3,000 bail for a further hearing on April 7, on a stolen goods charge.

The other men who have been ordered held for grand jury action are listed as: Mallord Grant of the 1900 block Walbrook ave.; Rayston R. Carter of the 1300 block N. Fulton ave., and James H. Coles of the 2000 block Pulaski st.

Arrested At Store

Grant and Coles were arrested when they were reportedly discovered Friday night as they attempted to enter a grocery store in the 700 block Westwood ave.

After their arrest, police said they received information which led them to a house in the 1300 block Fulton ave., where they found several thousands dollars worth of stolen merchandise, including 17 pistols, two shotguns and a rifle.

Police also reported the discovery of $14,500 in cash.

On Saturday night, Officer Raymond Milligan of the Northwestern station arrested the fourth man and an additional quantity of stolen merchandise was uncovered at a house in the 700 block George st., police said.

According to police, Gastins received the merchandise from Carter, and the two separate caches of loot were part of the same operation.

All the recovered merchandise was placed on public display at the Northwestern station house on Tuesday afternoon. Two taxicab companies came gas, sour stomach, acid indigestion. 60th Anniversary 1894-1954 — Good Neighbors for 60 Years — You recognize this building—it's the Clifton Savings Bank, a landmark of Broadway. . . . For 60 years, we've been a good neighbor; thousands of folks in Northeast Baltimore have saved their money here, and have made use of the various services of the bank. It is a mutual bank—owned entirely by its depositors. — We invite you to open your Savings Account. Your savings are protected by sound and conservative banking policies, and are insured up to $10,000, by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. — During our many years of operation, interest has been paid regularly each year. — Come in and open an account. — The CLIFTON SAVINGS BANK — On Broadway . . . at the corner of Chase and Gay Streets — MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION
