mer pupil at Booker T. Washington junior high school, he quit to take a job in a men's hat factory.

From there he went to work in a food store on Franklintown rd., and in 1942 he joined the army.

During his three years of military service, he was 18 months of fighting in the Philippines, New Guinea and Japan. He was a corporal when discharged Jan. 8, 1946.

Worked For Army

Two months later, he was employed as a laborer with the U.S. Army at Ft. Holabird. He remained there six years before transferring to the Air Force as chauffer.

In the evenings he watches television with his family. Boxing is his favorite program and he thinks Jimmy Carter is the best fighter he's seen.

Likes Apple Pie

When it comes to food, he'll settle for ham and cabbage. Apple pie makes a "pretty good" dessert, he says.

Mr. Savage is very timid when questioned about being jury foreman in one of Baltimore's biggest criminal cases this year.

"All I did was to announce the verdict," he replied.

His first time to serve as a juror, he has found the work "very interesting" and he likes it "pretty much."

MRS. VIOLA GAMBLE AND HER ATTORNEY, MICHAEL F. FREEDMAN

—Wife freed

day court trial, Wednesday, Mrs. Gamble, slumped into a chair, closed her eyes and made a sign of the cross.

Her husband, who remained at the back of the courtroom, left quickly, lingering only a few short minutes in the corridor to speak to friends.

Prior to the incident, the Gambles, married four years, lived together, with their 7-year-old adopted German daughter, Daphne, in the 2100 block N. Smallwood st.

After Jan. 1, Mrs. Gamble, 46, and the child moved to the 1900 block Division st. Mr. Gamble, 35, is living with his step-mother, Mrs. F. Gamble, in the 900 block E. North ave.

Daphne, who came to this country last August, through efforts of the AFRO, was not at the trial.

Three Weaknesses

In acquitting the teacher, Judge Emory H. Niles charged there were three weaknesses in the case:

1. The alleged weapon was never found.

2. There was no blood on the defendant when police first arrived.

3. "The strange conduct" of the husband not accusing his wife immediately after the alleged assault.

On the stand, Mr. Gamble explained that he refrained from implicating his wife earlier to protect the child.

"I was afraid that I might die," he said. "I knew that the child would be placed in a home and she loves my wife."

Falsely Accused

Michael F. Freedman, defense counsel, argued that Mrs. Gamble had been falsely accused.

Pointing out that she had been questioned three days by police and released, he said, "The police felt they had no charge. If they did, they would have placed the charge."

On the stand, Mrs. Gamble said that three men had entered her home, Jan. 1, looking for her husband. She testified the men went upstairs and beat Mr. Gamble while he was asleep.

The men were never identified, police said.

Contradicting her testimony, Mr. Gamble said he was awakened by his wife beating him on the head with the shot-gun barrel.

He couldn't move, he added, because his feet were tied. He showed Judge Niles his ankles, bruised and raw from the rope.

The rope, however, was never found, nor was the gun, police said.

Seeking Revenge

Mr. Freedman accused Mr. Gamble of seeking revenge because his wife wanted a divorce.

Mrs. Gamble testified that she requested the divorce Jan. 4, after learning her husband was the father of an illegitimate child.

He also threatened her while he was hospitalized, she said.

"He told me, 'All I want to do is get out of here for a couple of hours and you'll see what I do,'" she testified.

Mr. Peter Moser, assistant state's attorney, charged Mrs. Gamble's story of being "completely a figment of her imagination.

"It was a well-planned attempt to do extreme serious assault by the woman, possibly in conjunction with these other men," he argued.

"No weapon was found which shows she took time to clean up. It's absurb to believe he got angry because she wanted a divorce."

Criminal Record

Evidence, introduced by Mr. Freedman, showed Mr. Gamble had a criminal record. He was convicted of assault on three different occasions.

The first occurred June 11, 1948, when he served 60 days for assaulting a man. On April 27, 1948, he paid a $25 fine for assaulting a woman.

The third conviction was only a week before he was beaten when he was fined $25 in Northwestern, Dec. 26, for striking his wife.

After the trial, Mr. Gamble was asked what his plans were. He replied, "I have only one life."

Mrs. Gamble said that she was going to wait until she had talked with her attorney before making any plans about a possible divorce.

2 teen-age girls nabbed among 6 in lottery raid

Two teen-agers were among six persons arrested Thursday afternoon in a lottery raid.

Appearing at Northwestern police station Friday morning, one of the girls, Miss Marie Terry, 17, of the 1400 block Rutter st., was dismissed on a charge of maintaining a lottery.

The other girl, Miss Kitty Banks, 18, of the 400 block Pearl st., was ordered held in $2,500 bail for grand jury.

Held In Bail

Also held under the same bail for grand jury action were: John Wise, 41, of the 1700 block of Brunt st.; James Rich, 53, of the 1300 block Brunt st.; and Charles Chapman, 51, of the 1900 block Druid Hill Ave.

Also dismissed by Magistrate E. Everette Lane was Jesse Watts, 33, of the 1700 block of Etting st. The two persons were dismissed on the grounds they had been arrested illegally.

Sgt. Joseph Haggerty testified that he and two other plain-clothesmen from the Northwestern police station raided a house in the 1700 block Brunt st., Thursday afternoon.

Raiders Enter House

The officer said when the raiding party entered the house, Mr. Rich, Mr. Wise, Mr. Chapman and Miss Banks were in the living room.

A search of Mr. Rich produced 14 lottery slips, representing plays of $50, while a search of Mr. Wise turned up an additional four lottery slips, the officer said.

He also testified that when Miss Banks was informed that she would be searched at the police station, she took from her dress a bag containing 23 lottery slips representing $83 in plays.

Find Currency

A search of Mr. Chapman produced $167.26 in currency, Sergeant Haggerty said.

Miss Terry was found in an automobile parked around the corner from the Brunt st. house, Officer Leroy Moody testified.

The officer said he asked Miss Terry to accompany him back to the house. When she came to the house, Sergeant Haggerty placed her under arrest.

Teen-ager Searched

She was taken to Northwestern police station, where she was searched by Policewoman Violet Hill White, who received 156 lottery slips, representing $263 in plays, the policeman said.

Mr. Watts was arrested outside the house and police reported he was not carrying any lottery paraphernalia.

me to President Eisenhower on the 45th anniversary of the discovery of the North Pole.

Memorable Day

"It will always remain a memorable day in my life and it was the climax to all the honors I have received."

In addition to presenting Mr. Henson and his wife to President Eisenhower, the publishers arranged a ceremony at the graveside of Adm. Robert E. Peary in Arlington National Cemetery, where the 88-year-old explorer laid a wreath on the admiral's grave.

Mr. Henson was accompanied to th White House and the cemetery by a group of publishers.

Eisenhower Honored

At the White House the publishers also presented Mr. Eisenhower with the John Russwurm award for his contribution to equality of opportunity in the armed forces and his efforts to wipe out racial segregation in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Henson is the only living American ever to set foot on the site of the North Pole, Admiral Peary chose him and four Eskimos to make the final dash of 130 miles to the North Pole, which they reached on April 6, 1909.

Mahoney favors end of dual Guard units

By JAMES D. WILLIAMS

If George P. Mahoney is successful in his quest for the governorship of Maryland he intends to give his "whole hearted . . . sincere co-operation" to the Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations.

This was the promise Mr. Mahoney made on Tuesday when he addressed the weekly luncheon meeting of the Frontiers Club held at the YMCA.

Mr. Mahoney, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, also attacked segregation in the Maryland National Guard as "ridiculous" and indicated his willingness to change the present Jim crow setup, if he is elected.

Followed Speech

Quizzed on his views about segregation in the Guard, the candidate answered:

"If they (colored troops) are good enough to fight in the battlefield, to me they are good enough to have the same rights (at home)."

Pressed by members of the audience for a definite statement on whether he favored integration in the Guard, Mr. Mahoney delivered a blunt "yes" and added that he did not know how he could make his views any clearer.

Mr. Mahoney's answer to the question of the National Guard, came during a question and answer period that followed a speech in which the candidate unleashed a salvo of sharply pointed words aimed at Dr. H.C. (Curly) Byrd.

Hits Byrd Claims

Concerning Dr. Byrd, who is also a candidate for the Democratic nomination, Mr. Mahoney accused him of not "being on the level" in his claim that while president of the University of Maryland he was under the authority of the state board of regents.

Dr. Byrd made the claim on April 6 when he addressed the same organization and was quizzed on discrimination at the university.

Mr. Mahoney answered the claim with the counter-claim that while Dr. Byrd was president of the school he was able to obtain anything for the university that he wanted, and the board of regents had little actual authority at the school.

Mr. Mahoney also assailed Dr. Byrd's recommendation for the continued development of Maryland State college at Princess Anne, with the assertion that the school is too expensive to operate and the funds for and its appropriation could be used to better advantage at Morgan State college.

When Mr. Mahoney finished his blasting of Dr. Byrd, he began to answer questions from members of the audience that touched on a variety of subjects.

Question Of Police

One of the first questions dealt with the National Guard. When this was answered, Harry Coles, Baltimore attorney brought up the question of the promotion of colored policemen in Baltimore.

Mr. Cole pointed out to Mr. Mahoney that there is only one colored sergeant on the police force, despite the fact that a number of men have passed examinations for promotion. Mr. Cole attributed the lack of promotions to the present police commissioner, Col. Beverly Ober

Mr. Mahoney expressed surprise at the lack of promotion for colored officers and said:

"You told me something that I have never heard before. I think it is "ridiculous."

Mr. Mahoney shied away from indicating whether he intended to replace Col. Ober if he is elected governor, but he gave an indication of his attitude toward the commissioner when he asked if the club's pianist knew "There'll Be Some Changes Made."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers wept while to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Trade Mark

Newly retired postal employee hospital patient

Samuel A. Short of 746 Dolphin st., entered Hopkins Hospital, Thursday, for observation of a throat condition.

Mr. Short, 65, was the oldest truck driver in the post office department when he retired last month after 41 years' service.

An appeal has been made for 10 pints of blood for Mr. Short, who may have to undergo an operation.

He recalls that when he entered the postal service, mail was collected from the corner boxes by two-wheel push carts. The department was motorized 1916, using rented trucks at first.

Recalls Bumpy Rides

He suffered some bumpy rides in the first cars the department owned and taxicabs were used when the cars broke down.

Mr. Short was deeply touched by the sentimental farewell accorded him by postal authorities and fellow workers upon his retirement.

An amateur electrician, he helped install electrical fixtures in the postmaster's office some 20 years ago.

To Enlarge Workshop

He plans to devote his free time now to enlarging his electrical workshop and his model train setup in the basement of his home.

A native Baltimorean, Mr. Short and his wife, Mrs. Ida Short, are the parents of nine children.
