CHARLOTTE, N.C. — The Ninth District PTA Congress has announced plans for the annual instruction school at Catawba High school, April 24.

ALONG THE AVENUE

In the future when people talk about the best night clubs in Baltimore, the name of the OLDE MILL will be high on the list.

A few months back the club was damaged in a fire. As a result, owner Joe Mazer completely rebuilt the rear of the club and the net result is an intimate type of room that is the first of it's kind in the uptown area. And that's the truth, George.

The Rose Room at the OLDE MILL has been painted in a soft and warm shade of rose that is as rich in color as an evening sunset. Drapes have been hung to give the room an even warmer glow.

Instead of the usual type of table, patrons will be served on low tables very similar to the coffee table in your living room. Settees and soft chairs will provide the seating facilities and the mood will be set by soft music.

Everything has been planned to give the ROSE ROOM a distinctive personality. It promises to be a wonderful place where relaxation will be easy and where patrons will find something new along the night club circuit.

The big opening is set for tonight (Friday) don't miss it, the ROSE ROOM is out of this world. The address is Fremont ave., just off Edmondson.

Another club sporting the new look is the COMEDY CLUB. The bar has been lengthened to run back to the bandstand in the rear of the club. The additional space has made it possible to install a band stand inside the bar. This will house the smaller outfits that play the club. The old bandstand will be used for the larger groups.

Currently jumping for joy at the club is Big Jay McNeely. Next attraction booked by the Dixon brothers is Slam Stewart along with Lillete, a whale of a femme piano player.

Stewart needs little introduction to jazz fans and the young lady only has to play one number and any listener can tell that he is listening to a top artist.

Another lady of glamor, Sarah McLawlor, will be the top attraction at the CLUB CASINO come Monday. Now appearing at the club are Don Gardner and His Sonotones.

Russell Riley, the Baltimore singer who has been signed to appear with the Pearl Bailey show, is making plans to leave the city. Riley is the lad who was given a chance to audition at the Royal Theatre, and made such an impression on Miss Bailey that she inked him to a pact.

Russell, who lives at 1623 Druid Hill ave., will leave for Chicago the last of April. From there he will move to Detroit and thence to St. Louis. The 29-year-old singer has appeared on almost every talent show of note in Baltimore and for two years was a featured artist on the Bailey Goss TV show.

He is currently employed at the Edgewood Chemical Center, but his first love is singing. In 1945 he appeared with the Ink Spots for six months and then Uncle Sam called him to don a soldier's suit.

In the Army, Russell was attached to special services as a singer. On his discharge from service he was even more determined than ever to make a name for himself as a singer. Now with the help of Miss Bailey, he is on his way. Incidently, Russell pays tribute to Chuck Richards for the encouragement he gave a young singer.

Uptown at RICTOR'S RED FOX LOUNGE, Lou Bennett and his Hammond Tones are playing their last week at the popular spot before shoving off for a downtown club. Set to replace Lou is Ray Chambers.

Night clubers are flocking to RICTOR'S to hear Lou and the boys before they leave the spot that gave them a start toward the big time.

CLUB TIJUANA is featuring the music of Alex Kallo, the blind pianist with the talented fingers. Next item coming up at the club is the popular Billy Taylor, who will be playing a repeat performance at the club starting next week.

The Carson Models Agency, 1238 W. North ave., is presenting a fashion show with teen agers and prospective May graduates tonight (Friday) at 8 p.m. at the North ave. address. Promises to be quite nice.

In East Baltimore the CLUB AMBASSADOR is still blaring a trail by continuing to attract full houses every night. One of the principal reasons is the jamming group that plays under the banner of the Mello Jades.

The CLUB ORLEANS has a set of new faces in Bill Wilson and his combo. The young musician is the son of the late music teacher at Douglass High school and is quite a lad with the music.

After a spell of a few weeks, CLUB 1017 will resume live entertainment this Tuesday night with Chester Slater, billed as "Mr. Organ." Slater comes to 1017 from the Club Shalimar in New York City. That's it for the week . . . Have fun.

Cherry Hill sponsors big Health Carnival

The second annual Health Carnival will offer residents of the Cherry Hill community a multitude of benefits when it opens on Monday.

Sponsored by the Cherry Hill Health Council, the Health Carnival will be held in the Community Building, 2700 Spelman rd., Monday through Friday, April 26-30, between 4 and 9 p.m.

Cooperating agencies which will have health exhibits at the carnival are:

The Maryland Tuberculosis Association, the Baltimore City Health Department, the Baltimore League for Cripple Children and Adults, the Cancer Society, Maryland Division; and the Heart Association of Maryland.

The Maryland Society for the Maryland State Department of Health, the Planned Parenthood Association of Baltimore, and the Baltimore Safety Council.

The Baltimore Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the Mental Hygiene Society of Greater Baltimore, and the section of Alcohol Studies of the State Department of Health.

Local community organizations also assisting include the Ladies' Guild and the Boosters Club of Cherry Hill, and Public Schools Nos. 154, 156, 159, and 160.

Mrs. Ruth Webster, who is president of the Cherry Hill Health Council, is serving as general chairman for the carnival. Assisting Mrs. Webster are Morris Norris, publicity; Mrs. Elizabeth Bias and Mrs. Jennie Butler, registration; and Mrs. Ada Marshall, Mrs. Cornelia Johnson and Mrs. Bertha Cole, door-to-door canvass.

According to Mrs. Butler, residents of the Cherry Hill area who attended the Health Carnival will be rewarded in many ways, ranging from free chest X-rays to free tickets to future Oriole games.

As part of their year-round tuberculosis detection program the Baltimore City Health Department, with the assistance of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, will offer free chest X-rays to all adults, 14 years of age and older.

X-Rays Made Easy

Officials of both agencies say that it takes only a few minutes to get a chest X-ray, that no undressing is required, and that a report will be sent to the home of very person who is X-rayed.

Each of the cooperating agencies will display health exhibits and distribute free health literature. Interesting movies will be shown and lectures given. Officials of these agencies will be present to answer questions.

Free prizes will include Oriole tickets donated by the Cherry Hill Pharmacy; passes to the Hill Theatre, donated by Morris Norris, manager; a year's subscription to "Parents Magazine," donated by the Planned Parenthood Association, and a gift from the Charm Center on Pennsylvania ave.

Colt star, Buddy Young, will also appear during the week for Hauswald Bakery.

Original Formula . . .
Through four generations of the same family, the formula for the one and only original Wight's SHERBROOK has never varied. The fact that this custom-distilled whiskey is the world's favorite Maryland straight rye is convincing proof that it surpasses all others in smoothness and fine flavor.
Still made in the same time-honored way as back in 1868—with every drop aged six full years—SHERBROOK is Maryland's most treasured rye. Try it!

NAACP speaker is Dr. Butcher

Dynamic Dr. Margaret J. Butcher, Washington D.C. school board member, speaks here Sunday at the NAACP memorial services honoring the late Dr. Charles H. Houston, noted civil rights lawyer.

The services will begin at 3 p.m. at Trinity Baptist church, Druid Hill ave. and McMechen st.

Special music for the memorial service will be given by various city choirs.

Officers of the Baltimore NAACP branch are Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president; Dr. Charles E. Watts, treasurer; Bowen K. Jackson, co-ordinator; Mrs. Mary Hawkins, secretary, and Dr. W. O. Bryson Jr., auditor.
