
ANDERSON CHEVROLET—This is one of the three locations of Anderson Chevrolet. Known as the Downtown O. K. Used Car lot, 829 W. Baltimore st. Just west of Fremont avenue.

Big sale on at Anderson Chevrolet

A sensational spring used car sale is now on at ANDERSON CHEVROLET, the city's oldest Chevrolet dealer in business for 35 years.

On the umbrella-decorated lot at 829 W. Baltimore st., Anderson has 85 cars on hand, with a drawing power of 300 more.

It boasts a sign advising, "Buy Your car from a new car dealer," and as Richard (Dick) J. Burke, manager, points out, "Anderson is attempting to take the guess work out of used-car buying."

Anderson finances all its own used cars, and each of his business establishments has capable car service men and accommodations for reconditioning cars.

Testimonial From Minister

A testimonial letter from one of Anderson's satisfied customers, the Rev. John Jackson of 903 W. Saratoga st., Apt. 3, reads:

"A friend told me about the fine buy he made at Anderson's downtown location.

"He spoke not only of the fine cars, but also the courtesy he received from the entire organization, everybody was ready and willing to see that he received the very best co-operation, and the small minor things that the car needed were attended to promptly.

"Well, that settled my mind. I made my buy, and everything my friend said is true. My advice to anyone is to stop in at Anderson's, look over the fine array of cars and meet a grand organization to do business with."

What Is A Used Car?

The following are excerpts from the Better Business Bureau's booklet, "Facts You Should Know Before Buying Used Cars":

A "used car" is one which has been sold, registered and used on highways.

"Demonstrators" or "floor samples," sometimes sold with new car guaranteed, should be cars which have never been sold to private owners.

One type of used car is one which has been reconditioned to place it in sound condition so that it may be offered for sale with reasonable guarantees as to its condition.

Another type of used car is the car sold "as is," where the seller makes no warranty as to the condition of the car. The buyer must take it "as is" and the seller assumes no liability.

The condition of a used car depends largely upon the usage it has had and whether it has been reconditioned and, if so, in what manner.

Used Car Prices

As with new cars, the purchaser should buy a used car commensurate with his pocketbook and his needs.

He should consider original cost, upkeep, license, insurance, repairs and oil and gas.

He should consider whether immediate repairs or purchases will be necessary.

Mileage Per Gallon

One who wants the most mileage per gallon at the lowest cost should buy the size and type of car that will give him that advantage.

In trying to make a selection one might decide upon the make, type and year of car, and the price he is willing to pay. Or else, one should decide upon the price limit and then get all information about cars at that price.

Prices on used cars are generally determined by the forces of competition, the supply of cars, the demand by the public, the age and condition of the car and, if reconditioned, the amount of money spent in reconditioning it.

A "bargain" depends upon the condition of the car. The car which requires constant repairs, or which cannot give economical transportation or pleasure, is not a bargain at any price.

Park Circle sells cars with 10,000 mile pledge

Park circle, established in a completely new and modern building, 3400 block Reisterstown rd. sells all its late model used cars with a 10,000 mile guarantee.

Nathan Warshawsky, used car department manager, points out.

"This costs the customer nothing for labor and material. That way, he knows he must get a good car. Otherwise, we stand the loss for repairs."

Second Largest

Park Circle, a 32-year-old organization is the second largest car-dealing concern in the country. The plant destroyed by fire in April, 1951, is now replaced by the most modern used car dealers, building in the state.

It features a new parts departments, a reconditioning plant able to handle an unlimited number of cars, a paint shop with service process allowing the car to be repainted and delivered to the customer within one hour.

All of the employees are ten to 30-year veteran employees and the sales staff is well trained. Leslie Legum is president of the company; Jack Hartley, new car sales manager and Stewart Kantz, truck sales manager.

Bob Fleigh, oldest Studebaker dealer

Large, modern plant located in city, at 242 W. 29th st.

Bob Fleigh, 242 W. 29th st., Maryland's oldest, largest, and best known Studebaker dealer, originated in Hagerstown, January, 1913, when Robert B. Fleigh, president, started in the automobile business while just a teenager.

Through ethical methods of business conduct, Mr. Fleigh's business rapidly grew into one of the country's largest Studebaker distributors, controlling the distribution of Studebaker cars in Maryland and borderline counties of West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

In January, 1929, Baltimore City and all counties west of the Susquehanna were added to their territory.

Since 1940, the company has owned the large plant at 242 W. 29th st., bounded by Remington ave. and 30th st. It contains nearly two acres of floor and yard space, one of the largest and most modern in the East.

Several Original Workers

Bob Fleigh attributes his success to the fact that the majority of his employees (now numbering over 60) have been associated with his firm almost since it began. Twenty-two employees average 13 years of service; 12 of them over 10 years each.

Mr. Fleigh is a native of Maryland. Perhaps the youngest of all the state's "older" dealers, he has built a name for himself as an aggressive merchant of high integrity and business ethics.

A member of the Kiwanis Club, Baltimore Association of Commerce, and a director of the Maryland Automobile Trade association, he takes keen interest in the state's and city's affairs.

He is also a Maryland director of the National Automobile Dealers association and was responsible for many improvements in the affairs affecting automobile dealers and their customers.

Company Vice President

Vice-president of the company, since it started in 1929, is J. E. (Dutch) Carroll. He has participated in the retail sale of more Studebaker cars than any other man in the United States.

Last January Irvin H. Sentz joined the organization as general manager. His experience dates back to 1914, when he became associated with the local Pierce-Arrow distributor.

With the exception of World War II, when he served with the armed forces, retiring as a lieutenant colonel, Mr. Sentz has been in the automobile business.

Mr. Fleigh takes personal pride and interest in the service department of his business. He believes that the proper maintenance of his customers' cars is of utmost importance if he is to maintain their goodwill and insure their further patronage.

He says his objective is to give the best automobile service in Baltimore. Every possible effort is directed towards that end.

Harry Swec, service manager, heads the staff of factory-trained inspectors and mechanics.

$25,000 Remodeling Program

Recently Mr. Fleigh spent $25,000 in modernizing the parts and service departments, and building new general offices and waiting rooms.

The company is noted for the fine quality of used cars and for the famous "Money back guarantee" under which they are sold. Much of the business comes from satisfied customers who return for another used car, and from people who come in on recommendation.

Besides the Baltimore business, Mr. Fleigh is also active in the Fleigh Motor Corporation, Studebaker dealer at Hagerstown, now operated by his son.

Mr. Fleigh is celebrating his 41st year in the automobile business.

The sleek new 1954 Studebakers are a "far cry" from the little, four-cylinder models he began selling in Hagerstown in 1913. Mr. Fleigh says the current trend is towards the low-slung, "European" type of car, of which the 1954 Studebaker is an outstanding example.

Three Studebakers made a clean sweep in a 20-car field representing 13 makes — all stock Models!

Studebaker gets most miles per gallon of all sixes and eights!

A Studebaker Commander V-8 Land Cruiser, with overdrive, captured the Grand Sweepstakes Award in the gruelling Mobilgas run from Los Angeles to Sun Valley!

An amazing average of 60.84 ton miles per gallon—28.1 actual miles per gallon! This actual gas mileage beat all competing cars except the Studebaker Champion!

A '54 Studebaker Champion, with overdrive, made the best actual gas mileage of all cars in the run—a sensational 29.57 miles to the gallon!

A Studebaker Commander V-8 Land Cruiser, with automatic drive, topped all other "automatics" in the run—it rolled up an outstanding 24.58 miles per gallon.

You can buy America's No. 1 economy car—a 1954 Studebaker—for a surprising small amount—and Studebaker automatic drive or overdrive is available at moderate extra cost in any model.
