ing all elementary schools, and would retain all his present powers over the colored schools. He would be responsible only to Dr. John H. Fischer, superintendent of education, as he is at present.

Five New Divisions

2. The 130 elementary schools would be broken down into five divisions by a formula yet to be worked out. Two colored and three white principals would be employed to head these divisions, as coordinators. Each division would have 26 schools.

These persons would handle the routine administrative matters affecting the schools, thereby relieving the assistant superintendents of routine matters and lighten their loads.

Dr. Jackson said the plan had been in the making for several years and is necessary now because of the rapid increase in the number of schools and pupils which has made it impossible for assistant superintendents to visit all the schools.

Dr. Jackson said if the proposed reorganization is approved when submitted to the School Board, "It will lend itself better to integration than the present system of organization."

The assistant superintendent also noted that he has received suggestions that colored schools be placed directly under his office, "but that he has rejected such proposals because it would create "a rigid system of segregation."

Dr. Jackson said that though the plan has not yet been submitted to the board, it had his "100 per cent approval" because he could see nothing in it that would reduce the authority of his office.

REVAMPED SYSTEM—This reorganization chart shows place of five new coordinators in administration of elementary schools. Under Dr. John H. Fischer, superintendent, line of authority runs to Dr. Houston Jackson and Miss Mary Adams, assistant superintendents, as -co-chairmen, to Miss Edith Walker. Miss Adams, assistant, to five new coordinators (two colored and three white) to supervisors of subject matter, such as English, mathematics, etc., and to the school principals. Similar organization charts showing Dr. Jackson as co-chairman, are said to indicate lines of authority in high schools and vocational schools. Dr. Jackson's title is assistant superintendent of Baltimore Public Schools. In this setup he is to handle "problems in the education of colored children."

Hail Sondheim on board

Mayor D'Alesandro's appointment Wednesday of Walter Sondheim Jr., president of the Board of School Commissioners to succeed Rossel C. Thomsen was looked on with favor in most circles.

Mr. Sondheim upon as a liberal and one expected to continue the present liberal policies of the School Board.

Mr. Thomsen resigned the presidency of the School Board to take a Federal district judgeship in Maryland.

Mr. Sondheim will serve for the unexpired term of Mr. Thomsen which will end March 1, 1956.

Lawyer Fills Vacancy

The Mayor, from his hospital bed, also named R. Samuel Jett, a lawyer, to fill the vacancy on the board created by the elevation of Mr. Sondheim.

Mr. Sondheim was reappointed a member of the School Board last February 26. Mr. Jett will fill the unexpired term, ending March 1, 1960.

The two nominations will be submitted to the City Council for confirmation at its regular weekly session on Monday.

down spurred her on to devote her time to helping others.

The founding of Fayetteville's Hood Library was one of her projects. She also named some of the 12 organization to which she belongs.

At the conclusion of the show, when asked about her nervousness, she replied:

"Why no, I wasn't nervous, but I just couldn't think of all the things I wanted to say."

At 6 p.m. Thursday, Mrs. Carl Murphy, wife of the AFRO president, entertained at dinner for Mrs. Ferguson and her daughter. Attending were the hostess' Morgan Park neighbors. They included:

Dinner Guest

Mesdames Lelia Wright, Gaynelle Spaulding, Katherine Murphy, Anne Smith, Frances B. Hill, Ruth Burgess, Edna Johnson, Rosa Bright, Fannie Jenkins, Lillian Jones, Marita Pandall, Elizabeth Cotton, Gladys Derry, Nellie Sorrell. Also Meadames:

Joseph Johnson, Daniel Lyle, Edgar A. Love, Catherine Adams, Paul Perdue, James Cooper, W. I. Stephens, Finette Hall, Carl White, Henrietta Carroll, James Powell (Charleston ave.), Courtney Valentine, Mary Thomas, (Weaver) Sarah Roache, and Thomas Bell.

Received By McKeldin

On Friday morning, the ideal mother, accompanied by her official hostess, AFRO Woman's the State House at Annapolis editor Lula Jones Garrett, visited where they were received by Gov. Theodore McKeldin.

At 1:30 p.m., Mrs. Ferguson was guest at luncheon of President and Mrs. Martin Jenkins at Morgan State College.

Guests included: Dean George Grant, Dean Thelma Bando, Miss Joan Turner, who is 'Miss Morgan' for the current year; Miss Barbara Mallory, president, Women's Dormitory Council; Richard Avant, president of the Student Council last year; George Outen, this year's Student Council president;

Also, Miss Delores Hill, Morgan's May Queen; Magnus Macauley, a student from Sierra Leone, Africa; James I. Green, president of the Men's Dormitory Council; and Mrs. Carl Murphy.

AFRO Reception

At 7 p.m. Friday, 200 Baltimore citizens have been invited to an AFRO reception honoring Mrs. Ferguson. It will be held at the Me-De-So Club, 100 Eutaw Place.

On Saturday, Mr. Ferguson will be breakfast guest at the E. Chase St. home of Mrs. W. Leroy Berry and on Saturday at 12:30 p.m., will be among the guests at the mother-daughter luncheon sponsored by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. It will be held in the parlors of Douglas Memorial Church, Madison and Lafayette Aves.

In D.C. Sunday

Her Sunday schedule takes her to Washington. There she will speak at the morning services at Vermont Ave. Baptist Church, 1630 Vermont Ave., NW.

A suite has been engaged for her at the Rhode Island Plaza Hotel.

The Celebrity Room of this hotel will be the scene of a luncheon given by the Washington AFRO at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

At 4 p.m., Mrs. Ferguson will be honored at a reception by Mecca Court No. 2, Daughters of Isis, Prince Hall Affiliation. It will be held at the Masonic Temple, 10th and U Sts., NW.

She will take a plane at 6:05 p.m., to return to her home in Fayetteville.

While in Baltimore, Mrs. Ferguson will have at her service a limousine and chauffeur supplied by the Holland Funeral Home. In Washington, the House of Boyd Funeral Home is supplying similar service.

Picked From 400

The AFRO'S 1954 ideal mother was selected because of her success in raising a large family (four children) and because of her many and diverse civic activities.

She was selected from over 400 finalists in the AFRO's ninth annual contest conducted by the AFRO Magazine Section.

Mrs. Ferguson is founder of the James Walker Hood Public Library in Fayetteville, worthy matron of Queen Esther Chapter No. 3, Order of Eastern Star and active in many civic organizations.

Her four children are Mrs. Inez Easley, a Fayetteville teacher; Herman Ferguson, Cleveland social worker; Mrs. Vera Oden, St. Paul, Minn. social worker; and Horace Ferguson, dental student at Howard University. All are college graduates. Her husband, Bernard F. Ferguson, is a postal worker of over 30 years' service.

Plan services for Mrs. Juliette Bearse

HYANNIS, Mass. — Funeral services for Mrs. Juliette Bearse, a former resident of Baltimore, will be held here on Saturday. She died May 13 after an illness of several weeks.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and a granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Moquette, who were among the founders of the Baltimore St. Frances Xavier Catholic Church. She attended schools in Baltimore.

She is survived by her husband, Maurice; five daughters, a brother, George A. Brown Sr., of Baltimore; eight grandchildren and other relatives.

Sollers may be ready

A possibility that some of the more than 385 ousted Turner Station tenants may move into the private owned Sollers project by Saturday is likely.

Slightly less than 40 units in the project have already been renovated and made ready for the new tenants. The Turner Homes will be torn down by the government after June 4.

Mother recovers infant, thanks to 2 policemen

If you believe policemen are without hearts, listen to this story of Officers Fred Luther and John McKinley from the Northwestern station.

They came into Northwestern police court on Thursday morning with a young soldier stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky., who is spending a furlough at his home in the 1800 block of Walbrook Ave.

A young woman walked to the bar before Magistrate E. Everett Lane and testified that the soldier is the father of her four-month-old child. She also said he has a legal wife in Baltimore.

Ironing In Home

On Wednesday night, she said, the soldier entered her home in the 1100 block N. Monroe St., and took the baby. The infant was dressed in a diaper, socks, a thin jacket and nothing else. What did she want Magistrate Lane to do?

She wanted her baby back.

The soldier said he had been drinking and thought he left the baby at a friend's house in the 100 block W. Preston St. That is all the help he could give.

The two officers had been working since midnight but they didn't want to leave a job half-done. They volunteered to find the child and left the courtroom with Mrs. Mary Nelson, a matron.

Meanwhile Magistrate Lane sentenced the soldier to three months in the House of Correction.

The officers and the matron had to go to three houses before they found the child. When they returned to the courtroom, the child was wrapped in a bed spread.

Promised To Return

They told Magistrate Lane the soldier had thrown the baby in a bedroom of a house in the 100 block Preston St., and promised he would be back later to "pick it up."

The officers smiled as they handed the infant to the mother. He seemed none the worse for the experience.

"They didn't have to spend their own time finding the baby, but it was important to them that they did," said Magistrate Lane.

What every mother should know about CUTS and SCRAPES

DON'T flood a large cut with harsh antiseptics. This can damage tissue, retard healing.

DO bandage cut loosely with sterile gauze smeared with 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly. See your doctor to prevent complications such as tetanus.

DON'T neglect a small cut.

DO use iodine or other antiseptic. When bleeding stops, spread on a protective film of 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly. Bandage loosely only if cut will be exposed to dirt.

DON'T bandage a scrape before cleaning with mild soap and water or mild antiseptic.

DO use 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly to promote healing, prevent a hard scab.

No family should ever be without 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly! Used in hospitals and clinics, it's medically approved for home first-aid. Put a jar or tube of 'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly in your medicine chest today.
