Caroline thrown by school grades

Illini's great back in scholastic trouble

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (ANP) — J. C. Caroline, one of college football's most sensational stars last fall, may not play football next September when Illinois opens its 1954 season.

Caroline is seven hours short so far as grades are concerned. He must make up these hours in summer school or else be dropped from the team.

This fact was learned by the public Saturday when Caroline failed to show up with the squad in the intrasquad tilt that marked the end of spring training.

The Reason

The reason for Caroline's shortcomings is too much banquet circuit during the past year. J. C. spent so much time attending events in his honor that he did not have enough time to do his school work.

Coach Ray Eliot of the football team, however, expressed confidence that the all-American halfback can make up his studies and return to the squad. He said:

"Caroline is getting his grades in good shape. I think he'll be all right.

No Dumbbell

"He isn't a dumbbell. But he's the kind of boy who has to go to every class and work hard to keep up.

"Last fall there were so many demands on his time—and some people were very insistent and unpleasant about it — that he missed about three weeks of classroom work.

He just couldn't make it up."

Big Ten

In 1953 Caroline, along with Mickey Bates, led Illinois to a surprising tie for the Big Ten championship with Michigan State.

Bates has kept up his grades and has been switched to full-back for the 1954 season.

Another newcomer to the Illinois team will be Abe Woodson, former prep star at Austin in Chicago. In the intrasquad game, Woodson looked sharp in running, leading all men in yards gained with 94 and a touchdown.

If J. C. returns to action, he Woodson and Bates will form three fourths of the Illinois backfield.

Orioles, Yanks end Trice's win streak

NEW YORK (ANP) — The world champion New York Yankees gained revenge on rookie pitcher Bob Trice of the Philadelphia Athletics Sunday as they blasted him from the mound in the third inning and whipped the A's 7 to 4 in the first game of the doubleheader.

Earlier this season, Trice had defeated the Yankees 1 to 0. He did not have it Sunday, however. After giving up four runs in the second inning, he was shelled from the mound in the third when three men got on base with nobody out. He gave up all seven Yankee runs on four hits and four bases on balls.

The defeat was the first of the season for Trice after winning four straight tilts.

practice," Heard said.

"I have been keeping a mental book on the hitters by learning their strength. I feel that I have a fairly good idea on what the top hitters like and dislike in the way of pitches, he asserted.

Heard has found his fellow Orioles "a bunch of swell guys," and says everybody in Baltimore "has been fine to us."

Harry Breechen, the Orioles pitching coach, "has taught me how to throw a screwball,"

Newcombe wins third victory

PHILADELPHIA (ANP)—Big Don Newcombe, making his best start of the current season, won his third victory of the year Friday as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3 to 1.

Big Don allowed 10 scattered hits, but w a s tough in the clutches. He struck out the side in the sixth and fanned the final out in the eighth with two men on base.

In the game he struck out seven men and walked three. He now has a 3-1 record for the season.

Heard explained. The little 29-year-old moundsman is tabbed for relief roles mainly.

A screwball, the pitcher said, is a pitch that "breaks away" from a righthanded hitter.

It was made famous by Carl Hubbell, a one - time New York Giant hurler.

Brecheen, while pitching for the St. Louis Cardinals, was adept at throwing the "screwball."

Heard feels that his main pitching asset is his curve and control.

Throws "Junk"

He throws what batters call "junk." It's tempting slow pitches that appear to be easy to hit, but when a batter swings he finds the crazy spin on the ball makes him either pop up or beat the ball into the ground.

Heard stands 5 feet 7½ inches, weighs 147 lbs., and was born in Atlanta, Ga.

In 1953, while pitching for Portland, he won 16 games while dropping 12.

Manager Dykes feels that Heard is going to play an important role later in the season.

Need More Runs

At the present time, the Orioles starting foursome have needed little help from fellow moundsman. They have been asking for more runs rather than relief pitching.

"I keep telling myself," Heard said, "if I get in there I know that I will make good. Since there are a lot of good hitters in this league and I think that Minnie Minoso is one of the best, but I feel that I can handle them."

There is at least one other person in Baltimore who shares this confidence.

She is the number one member of the Heard fan club, Mrs. Mildred Heard, the pitcher's wife.

She can be found sitting near the Orioles dugout at nearly every game. She usually attends the games alone on a season pass all the players' wives receive.

Six Bears to run in Coliseum Relays

Otis Johnson, Jim Rogers join crack relay squad

Morgan State College's mile relay team will run in the Coliseum Relays in Los Angeles, Calif., May 21, Coach Eddie Hurt learned Wednesday.

The initial invitation from Coliseum official's, extended two weeks ago to the sprint team, was broadened to allow two other Morgan tracksters to compete in the famed West Coast meet.

Morgan now will be represented by a total of six men who are to run three races — the mile relay, the 440 and the 880-yard relays.

Will Double

Two men from the mile relay team will double on the quarter - mile and half - mile relays. They are Otis (Jet) Johnson of Philadelphia, Pa., and Jimmy Rogers, of British Guiana, S.A.

The two teamed up with their running mates, Herman Wade of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Josh Culbreath of Norristown, Pa., in executing a record CIAA 3:11.3 mile relay Saturday, May 8 at Morgan. Rogers, crack third leg men, did the quarter in 46.9.

The sprint teams will be composed, in addition to Johnson and Rogers, of Irvin Wade, off man Robert (Hobbie), Robinson Tarrytown, N.Y., and Ken Kave of Washington, D.C., who'll run the anchor spot.

The mile relay team will run in its usual order — Wade, Johnson, Rogers, and Culbreath.

Fifth Trip

Morgan, competing there for the first time in 1950, ran second to Occidental College of California, in a sensational mile relay which found Occidental the winner in 3:10.1 time and Morgan a close second in 3:10.2 time.

In 1951, Morgan won the mile relay in 3:12.5 time. George Rhoden won the quarter in 47.1 and Bragg placed second in the 100-yard dash.

Continuing in 1952, Rhoden again won the quarter, Bragg captured the 100, and the sprint team ran, but failed to place.

In 1953, Bragg placed third in the 100-yard dash.

For five of the men making the race, it will be a new experience. Only Rogers, an honor student, has competed before in the California race, having run with the sprint team in 1952.

Coach Hurt will accompany the team when it leaves here Wednesday morning. The group will fly.

Ten local ball games scheduled

A total of seven softball and three baseball games will be played by 20 Bureau of Recreation teams May 15 and 20.
