assault on girl, 11

A 35-year-old father who police claim assaulted an 11-year-old girl when she came to his apartment to baby sit, was ordered held without bail in Northeastern Police court Tuesday.

Charges were filed against the man when the girl's mother discovered that she had contracted a social disease. The girl said she was assaulted around June 5.

CAMP LIFE—Taking part in one of the main features offered at summer camp, these youngsters spent a week recently at Camp Francis M. Wood. Expenses for 102 boys were paid by the Eastside Community Committee. The agency is designed to promote youth activities to help combat juvenile delinquency. William S. Taylor is co-ordinator.

102 enjoy outdoor life at Camp Francis M. Wood

One hundred and two boys and 10 counselors enjoyed camp life activities at Camp Francis M. Wood the past week, sponsored and financed by the Eastside Community Committee.

Last Sunday approximately 286 parents and friends took advantage of the "Open House" entertainment which has been offered by the committee for the past ten years.

Out of a total of 110 boys, 70 gained a total of 248 pounds. There was no illness. Only eight boys came up with abrasions of a minor nature, and one of the visiting children was bitten by a stray dog during the Open House period.

The County Humane Society took care of the dog.

Contest Winners at Francis M. Wood were the following:

Winners

ALONG THE AVENUE...

There's a long week end in store for the happy people of Baltimore, but before we begin the stroll Along the Avenue, one piece of advice.

Take it easy when you drive this weekend. Life is a lot of fun when you are around to enjoy it—but George its nothing when you are six feet under terra firma because you tried to save a few seconds or pulled a foolish trick with an automobile.

Play it cool—be safe. We love you too much to lose you.

Happy Jack is back on the scene after an absence of too many months. The popular entertainer is due to open a week-end stand tonight (Friday) at TILLIE'S, Fayette and Wolfe Sts.

The colorful Happy Jack is returning to uptown society after playing a number of engagements in local downtown and out-of-town clubs. He will be backed by the rocking King Draper who really toots a mean horn.

Catch the King of "Lawdy Miss Clawdy," a jumping number if there ever was one. The column spent a few pleasant moments on Wednesday night talking to George, one of the co-owners of the popular TILLIE'S.

George has been in the night club business for over 11 years and he remembers with a warm feeling the COZY CORNER TAVERN on the west side of town where he made a host of friends.

Many of these friends have followed the two owners across town to their new club, confident that they will receive the same friendly treatment at TILLIE'S as they did at the old club. And they are so right. The guys are perfect hosts.

Talked to a fellow on Tuesday night at the COMEDY CLUB who said:

"Dad there are just three trombone players. Bill Harris, Benny Green and Jay Jay Johnson. After them there are no more."

After listening to a healthy slice of the Johnson horn, this column agrees that the man rates top billing in the major leagues. He doesn't play with the blast of a Benny Green but with a softer tone, displaying a lot of technique and imagination that adds up to mighty fine listening.

The youthful Jay Jay hails from Indianapolis and played with the Count Basie aggregation before going out for himself. His tone and control have to be heard to be appreciated and they show to excellent advantage on a dreamboat version of "Moonlight in Vermont."

Backing Jay Jay this week are a group of our best local musicians featuring the town's premier saxophone ace, Bill Swindell, who has one whale of a time playing chase choruses with the Johnson horn. Real good music.

Saw Howard Dixon on Wednesday, wearing an extremely handsome silk suit. The Algiers Social Club is sponsoring a cocktail party at the COMEDY CLUB come July 11. Time is 5 to 9 p.m. Roger Bowie is president; Charles (Scattie) Gross, secretary, and David Major, treasurer.

There is a mighty good act coming into the club next week in the person of George Burke and his quartet. The fellow plays a tasteful organ and has been seen with the Pearl Bailey show and on a number of TV shows.

That wonderful place, RICTOR'S RED FOX LOUNGE, is offering a whole bagful of surprises this week end, with fun in store for all. Can't let the cat out of the bag, but be sure to be there, you will have fun.

A little way down the street is the CLUB TIJUANA where three greats of modern music are making the sounds sound as good—as good. There's Art Blakey, the trumpet man Art Farmer, who was recently at TIJUANA with his own group, and Charlie Rouse. George, is's great music at its best and air conditioning too.

Next week the TIJUANA will offer a setting for the music of Milt Jackson. More good news comes with the information that every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9 to 11 p.m. will be bargin time at TIJUANA.

The two Davis boys are still at it at the CLUB CASINO, where the crowds get bigger as the news gets around town that the outfit rocks but good. Both of the musicians are artists in their own right. They were teamed up as a special package 11 weeks ago and the CASINO date is their last gig together.

Eddie "Lockjaw" Davis takes care of the saxophone and Jackie Davis is the organ man. This Jackie Davis is quite a guy. In his home town of Jacksonville he was, to put it mildly, a "child prodigy."

He started playing the piano just about the time that he learned to walk and by the ripe old age of nine, he was playing professionally. By the time he had grown to 11 he was playing with a band and by the time he reached 13 he had his own radio show.

Child labor laws being what they are in Florida, he could play with the band, in clubs and other locations. Then came the time when he won a scholarship to Florida A. and M. as a music student.

He finished school in 1943 and then taught school for several months and then treked north to Chester, Pa., and a job as a musician.

He went into the Army and remained for several months with a special service outfit at Ft. Dix, N.J. After the Army came a succession of other jobs as a pianist and then he fell in love with the organ.

He quickly mastered the instrument and was on his way. He has played across the face of the country and has established himself as one of the leading exponents of the swing organ.

He records for the Trend label and has a flock of new sides set to debut in August. Best one of the lot he says is "Better Luck Next time."

His plans for the future:

"I want to exploit the organ to its fullest. They tell me there are two million sounds in the instrument and I want to produce them all."

His pet peeve?

"Smut. To me its a poor substitute for talent."

The very pretty face at the hat check stand belongs to Jean Addison.

On the East Side there is a jumping group at the CLUB AMBASSADOR, called the Mello Jacks. Leading the group is Jay Evans on the bass. The band is filled out by Aaron Gross on the sax, Al Staff—"Speers" on the drums.

The drummer picked up his handle while he was an entertainer with a spoon playing act. The group started out several years ago and has played in a number of leading clubs.

Jay is a native of New York and has made Baltimore his home for several years. A real good outfit.

The CROSSROADS is always a nice place to go and that's it for the week. Have fun...

125 youngsters take part in seventh fishing rodeo

A happy group of 125 youngsters took part in the Seventh Annual Fishing Rodeo at the Druid Hill Park casting pond Saturday.

The annual contest was sponsored by the Youth Welfare Committee of the Junior Association of Commerce and the League of Maryland Sportsmen.

Prizes were awarded to the following:

For catching the heaviest fish, a rod and reel was presented to Robert Rubikewsky of 5708 Simmons Ave.; longest fish, rod and reel, George Buckingham, 3500 Greenspring Ave.; heaviest bass dip net, Joseph Rubikewsky, 5708 Simmons Ave; and for the heaviest bluegill caught, hand-line kit for Joy Ann Boyle of 3831 Park Heights Ave.

Winners

For landing the second heaviest fish a metal stringer was awarded to James Drennan, 2116 Druid Hill Ave; smallest fish, spin lure, Jerry Boston 1651 Ruxton Ave.; second heaviest catfish, fly lure, Edward N. Dutton, 2118 Druid Hill Ave.; second heaviest bluegill, hand line, Harriet Thomas, 1630 Ruxton Ave; and for the third heaviest catfish, a casting line for James White of 2083 W. Lafayette Ave.

For the fourth heaviest bluegill, stringer cord, John Schroen, 3523 Parkdale Ave.; fifth heaviest fish, bait box, Joseph Kooker, 3606 Pioneer Dr.; sixth, heaviest fish, hooks and handline, Kenneth Yearick, 3626 Parkdale Ave. and for the seventh heaviest fish, a sinker box for Rogers Powell of 2807 Tanny Rd.

The Rodeo was open to boys and girls under the age of 14. Fishing was permitted by hook and line.

Among those named to serve as Committee Judges were Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro; J. Paul Bright, president, Junior Association of Commerce; and Russell Orr, executive director, League of Maryland Sportsmen:

Also, Joseph W. Sener Jr., vice president, Junior Association of Commerce; William A. Smith III, director, Junior Association of Commerce; William Friend, regional chairman, League of Maryland Sportsmen; Clem Buser, president, Highland Fishing Club; and William E. Long of the Pikesville Sportsmen's Club.
