Mrs. Edna Finney, George Lane wed

...with Lula Jones Garrett

In a quiet ceremony followed by a nuptial mass, Mrs. Edna I. Finney became the bride of George M. Lane, Saturday morning at 11 a.m. in St. James Episcopal Church.

Father Cedric E. Mills officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her son, Dr. James C. Finney, and had as attendant, Mrs. Hattie Smith, a long friend. Josiah F. Henry was best man.

After a luncheon for the principals is the home of Mrs. Mary J. Brown, the couple motored to Durham, N.C.

Mrs. Lane is a teacher at the Booker T. Washington Junior High School, here, while Mr. Lane is the civilian messenger to the Commanding General and staff of the Second U. S. Army, with headquarters at Fort George Meade, Md.

MRS. WHITE BRIDE

Mrs. Anita White and John W. Johnson were married, a Saturday ago, in the bride's home on Harlem Ave.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Marcus G. Wood, pastor of the Providence Baptist Church. Mrs. Edna O. Gray was soloist and Mrs. Gladys White Davis, accompanist. A reception followed.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. John A. Weston, Miss Nan L. Gaskins, Mrs. Willie W. Ramsey and Gladys Ramsey of Philadelphia; Mrs. Gracie Gray of Virginia and Mr. and Mrs. David Buford of Washington.

The bride is a member of the faculty of the William Alexander School No. 112. Mr. Johnson is a steward.

The ladies who served as hostesses at the reception given the bride a personal shower prior to the wedding.

Gifts included lingerie, perfume, handbags and jewelry.

The party was given by:

Edith Spruill, Cornelia Better, Rosalind Allen, Vernice Mathews, Ornecia Epps, Bernice Quille Amy Weaver, Edna Gray Romaine Jones, Rose Bright, Lillian Draper, Ruth Weaver, Lillian Watty, Elizabeth Allen, Aldie Butler, Myrtle Jones, Audrey Harden and Mary Pool.

MARSHALL-SPENCER WEDDING

Dr. and Mrs. Emerald B. Spencer of Cleveland, Ohio, issued invitations, this week, to the wedding of their daughter, Jacqueline Clarice, and Granville H. Marshall.

Mr. Marshall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Marshall of this city.

The ceremony will take place on July 24, at 6 p.m. in the Church of the Covenant, Cleveland, Ohio. A reception will follow at 8 p.m. in the Cleveland Music School Settlement, at 1125 Magnolia Drive.

HYNSONS HOSTS

Luckily that storm that slapped a part of Baltimore good and hard shed not a tear on that spot in Maryland, Arundel-on-the-Bay, where the Carol Hynsons were holding forth at their annual Fourth-of-July party.

Most of the old crowd and a few new additions were there for the lazy-day doings at the Hynsons' Bay-side home. There were cards, delectable viands, and the young man of the house, Carol Jr., to augment the fun with spins in his motor boat.

Guests, who came early noon and left in late evening were:

Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Hill, Mrs. Gwendolyn Lewis, Miss Scotia Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. George Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Martin Jenkins, Dr. George Grant, Mrs. Vivian Grant and daughters of Baltimore;

Mr. and Mrs. George Dredden and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas of Bridgeville, Del.; Dr. and Mrs. Pervis Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brown, Mrs. Myra Reeder, Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, and Joseph Wells of Washington;

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Richardson, Mrs. Lula Hardesty, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Brown of Annapolis; and the neighbors in the colony. Drs. and Mesdames Bernard Christman, senior and junior;

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hilliard, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Drs. Aris T. and Fave Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Charles King.

Zenobia Cornish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile B. Cornish, celebrated her tenth birthday, July 4th, at a party given for her in Philadelphia by her cousin, Mrs. Kathryn C. Taylor.

The party was quite a surprise to the honoree and unique in that all of the guests were complete strangers to Zenobia.

A patriotic color scheme was carried out for party decorations. The guests played games and staged a gala talent show, with Zenobia introducing a new dance number to her new friends.

Those who joined in the fun were:

Linda Peace, Paula Davenport, Joyce Singleton, Melvin Garrett, Bernard Mitchell, Jean Davenport, Mitchell Cooper, Ida Jackson, Delores Jackson, Eleanor Peace, Marlene Peace, John Hill, Berkie Merrill, Arthur Thomas, and Zenobia.

Following the birthday party Mrs. Taylor entertained Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hill Jr., recent newly weds from Baltimore, Maryland, at a dinner party. Guests at this affair included the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Emile B. Cornish and their daughter, Zenobia; Mrs. Bertha Parker, all of Baltimore.

MISS JOHNS SHOWER

Miss Maizie E. Johns was the honoree at a surprise personal shower given by Miss Doris M. Gibson on the Friday preceding her wedding.

Doris kept the group in a party mood by providing some well selected games, the winners of the same being Bernice Turner, Sadie Jenkins, and Shirley Brooks.

All kinds of delicious eatables were served to the group which included:

Sadie Jenkins, Alice Dodson, Bettye Shelton, Althea Hines, Lillian Jones, Leana Ferrell, Bernice Turner, Shirley Brooks, Mae Cornish, Jeanette Johnson, Virginia Golder, and Doris Gibson.

GRADUATION PARTY

Six of the Stork Club children were graduated from elementary school to junior high school this June. In honor of this event their parents gave a real jamboree complete with juke box and all the trimmings, for them, on Monday.

The youngsters, 75 of them, danced the afternoon away in the Little Folks Theatre - that delightfully spacious rendezvous of the junior Baltimore thespians.

The young ladies were truly glamourous in the most attractive afternoon frocks, from the simply made but completely charming white embroidered organdy of Rosalie Turpin - to the Ballerina length pink dotted Swiss creation worn by Diana Edwards.

The young gentlemen were handsome in their impeccable attire which also had its variations. The Bermuda shorts of Franklin Phillips Jr., "skated" and "kangarooed" as efficiently as the white linens of Roy Templeton.

The graduates were gifted with corsages of Rosebuds and Baby's breath for the girls and pink carnation boutonnieres for the boys.

Punch was served throughout the evening, with ice cream and petits fours during intermission, while the young guests were entertained by musical selections from a youthful quartet.

The honorees were Dale Covington, Rosalie Turpin, Larry Robinson, Michael Broom, Furman Templeton Jr., Orris Walker Jr.

Guests were:

Gail Swan, Eugene Pate, Carol Spencer, Queener Willis, Sondra Oliver, Calvin Wallace, Henry Jones, Herman Roykin, Melvin Callaman, Thomas Perez, Calvin Tyler, Dennis Day;

Betty Noel, Carol Jones, Anne Kirksey, Lelia Watson, Beverly Barrett, George Barrett, Wesely Jennings, Victor Cole, Franklin Phillips Jr., Billy Scott, Howard Cornish, Charles Dial, Charles Covington;

Russell Morton, Patelle Green Yvonne Wallace, Lois Stubble - field, Maxine Johnson, Yvonne Gilkes, Frank Coakley, Ronald Wheatley, Michael Hawkins, Charles Lynch;

Paul Moore, Sylvia Julian, Delores Laws, Ernestine Wood, Rosina Handy, Blanche Jones, Stephanie LaForest, Leon Williams.

Mothers about were:

Mesdames Ethel Covington, Ruth Broom, Irene Templeton, Jean Turpin, Llewellyn Walker, Elsie Robinson, Esther LaForest.

Mesdames Guinevere Spencer, Muriel Callaman Gwendolyn Lynch, Margaret Blake, Catherine Wilson.

Two dads, Furman Templeton, Sr., and Lawrence Robinson Jr., were on hand being generally useful.

PEREGRINATORS

Miss Rose T. Kinney, of the Douglass High School faculty, left from Idlewild, N.Y., Friday to Fly to Israel. Will stop in Greenland, London, Zurich and Greece are the final destination of Lydda, Israel, where she will be until August 13. Plans to return via Paris and be back home by August 22.

Miss Elizabeth V. Anthony gave a bon voyage party for Miss Kenny on Monday are her departure.

Guests included Mesdames Louise Harden, Mae Allen, Ethel Hodges, Gwendolyn DeCecilio, Thelma Ashe and Hilda Parker; Irvin Lindsay, C. Roulette and Earl Anderson.

There were travel games with prizes going to Miss Kinney, Mrs. Harden, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Lindsay . . . and gifts, of course for the honoree . . . the presentations being made by Mr. Anderson.

Mrs. Lena Dickerson and Mrs. Catharine Maye were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Holcombe at their home in Montclair, N.J., last week.

And such entertainment!

Soon after the visitors' arrival they were gifted with corsages by Mrs. Theodore McCain. One Saturday night Mrs. Holcombe had a dinner party, followed by cards, in their honor, and both received beautiful ceremonies.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holcombe, also of Montclair, invited friends to have dinner with the guests and Monday afternoon, Mrs. Florice Newsome of Newark, and her sister, Miss Sadie Jones of Delaware, and Mrs. Bernard Davis of Elizabeth joined them at cards.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hampton were hosts at a card party for Mesdames Dickerson and Maye, where they also received gifts as mementos of the occasion.

When J. Douglass Shepperd Jr graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, recently, pretty Anna Katherine Johnson of Washington, went up to pin on his "bars" after he had won a commission in the ROTC. She's a June graduate of Barnard.

Also about for the commencement were his parents Dr. and Mrs. J. Douglass Shepperd of this city, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Andrew Rhinehart of Washington.

Mrs. Eula Watts of this city and Miss Margaret Wiley of Washington were called to Okalona, Ark, this week, by the death of their father, Frank Wiley.

Drs. and Mesdames Henry Welcome and I. Bradshaw Higgins returned from Europe, Tuesday. Dr. and Mrs. R. Garland Chiswell were in Atlantic City for the Centennial Celebration.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Welcome and Dr. and Mrs. I. Bradshaw Higgins returned from a nine-week tour of Europe, this week, where they were members of the party of the College of Surgeons.

Mrs. Welcome, who pointed out that during the tour they stayed in 24 hotels, the best Europe had to offer. Says they not only saw much of the countries but had opportunities for contacts with persons of all ranks.

Chiefly, she said, their quartet served as fine propganda for America, in as much as race friction in the States has been greatly over-played abroad.

Ten Americans Liked

Europeans, said Mrs. Welcome seem to have a special regard for colored Americans. She added that in most places the party went, the four colored members were singled out for special attention. Europeans were also surprised to find them in the large group of whites, having heard of segregation in America.

Just prior to their return to the States, the party attended the annual Lake Festival in Lucerne, Switerland, which Mrs. Welcome describes as a performance par excellence.

Courtesy Notable

Mrs. Higgins said that while the scenery was picturesque, the travel an education and every moment provided a new thrill, the attitude of the people of Europe especially impressed her.

Europeans, she said, were very courteous, kind and patient, and always willing and ready to help.

The party, which returned on the S.S. Queen Mary, landed in New York City on Tuesday.

POINCIETTIA — The novelty club held an end-of-the-season meeting in the home of Mrs. Mary Horsey, in Catonsville, this week.

Among the club's activities this year have been presentations of $100 to Crownsville State Hospital, food and clothing to a needy family at Christmas, and the purchase of a Braille writer for the Maryland School for the Blind.

Mrs. Rosa Bright is president of the club.

Mrs. Emily Wharton, Mrs. Juline McGuinn and Mrs. Constia Jackson have gone to Cape Cod for the summer.

placed a gold band on her finger.

She then said: "Wilbert, I take thee for my husband and promise assistance I promise to be a loving and faithful wife so long as we both shall live." She placed a ring on his finger. That was the end of the marriage vows. The couple took their seats.

Mrs. White's son, by a former marriage, Humphrey White, and Howard Tscherdy then moved a table containing a marriage scroll in front of the couple. Both signed the scroll, which was then given to. Mrs. Catherine Simon, who read it to the congregation.

Triangle Cited

There followed another period of silence. Dr. Miriam Brailey, seated in the back of the library, was the first to rise and speak.

She recalled that there was often talk of "triangles" in marriages. There should be a triangle in each marriage . . . with God at the apex, she added.

The next person to speak was Sam Legg, clerk of the Stony Run meeting, who enlarged the triangle idea into a "circle," including the love of God, the love of each other, and the love of the couple's circle of friends.

Ends In Hand Shaking

The silence that followed was broken by an arising of Friends, who shook hand to indicate that the meeting was over.

The brief services, however, were not the whole of the services in connection with the marriage. For two months previous the prospective bride and bridegroom had been under surveillance of the Friends.

Interviewed By Committee

First they had made known their wish to be married under the care of the Friends.

Mrs. White had been visited by a committee of women and Mr. Jones by a committee of men. Investigation into their affairs, including the children of both, the previous marriages, their financial status, etc. had been made.

Then the proposal to marry had been published in the bulletin. With these satisfactorily settled, the announcement was made at the monthly worship service. Then arrangements for the marriage at another worship service were made. The entire procedure takes at least two months.

This prevents hasty marriages and possibly accounts for so few divorces among Friends.

Reception

After the service on Saturday, members of the meeting served punch and cookies to assembled guests.

For the services Mrs. Jones wore a beige linen sheath dress with matching coat, a small rose hat trimmed with t
