City Council okays site for warehouse across from new Douglass Senior High

The ordinance to rezone the Warwick Ave. property across the street from the new Douglass High School to a first commercial area, passed the City Council with a vote of 16 to 2 at the final session for the season, Wednesday.

* * *

AFTER THE ordinance is signed by the mayor, the property can then be used for the proposed warehouse - salesroom building to which residents in the area are opposed in view of the four surrounding schools.

In an unexpected move, Wednesday, Councilman Walter T. Dixon (D., 4th) changed his vote from no to yes on the ordinance.

* * *

MONDAY, when the Council had voted 13 to 1 to accept the favorable report of the measure from the Zoning Committee, Mr. Dixon was the only opposing member.

At that time, he said that while he had introduced the ordinance with his colleague, Councilman Solomon Liss (D., 4th), he felt that school children in the area were in danger due to the probably increased traffic.

However, Wednesday, he explained that he was changing his vote because he had talked with Traffic Director Henry Barnes and had been assured that any increase of traffic in the neighborhood would be controlled.,

COUNCILMAN William D. Schaeffer and Michael Hankin, both (D., 5th) cast the only negative votes, Wednesday. Restating the views of the residents in the area who argued against the proposal at a hearing Monday afternoon, Mr. Schaffer said:

* * *

"I AM of the opinion that it would not be to the best interest of the community to use this site which is adjacent to Douglass High School as a trucking terminal.

"A similar site was built in the Fifth District and the people in the area, are now plagued with dirt, noise and rumbles from the trucks which are damaging the homes."

* * *

FOLLOWING Mr. Schaefer's statement, Councilman James Welsh Jr. (D., 2nd) withdrew his affirmative vote and passed.

* * *

OTHERS who did not vote on the ordinance were William Bonnett, (D., 1st); Mrs. Anna Arthur (D., 3rd) and Michael Mehale (D., 6th).

Those, besides Mr. Dixon, who voted in favor of the ordinance, were:

James J. Duffy and Joseph J. Staszak; both (D., 1st); Chester Ray, C. Lyman Schueler, both (D., 2nd); Richard Byrd, J. Joseph Curran, Henry Hergenroeder, all (D., 3rd); Maxwell Albert, Solomon Liss, both (D., 4th); Jacob Edelman, Leon Rubenstein, both (D., 5th); and Thomas Fallon, William Hudnet, both (D., 6th).

Army man jailed for $10 larceny

An Army sergeant who came to Baltimore from Aberdeen Proving Grounds with $100 in his pockets, but was arrested for taking $10 from a housewife's kitchen table, was placed on probation without a verdict Sunday.

At a hearing before Magistrate Linwood Koger, Sr., in Northwestern Police Court, Sgt. Carroll Dillard, a 13-year Army man, denied that he took the money.

Mrs. Lucy Ellis testified that she laid eyes on Sgt. Dillard for the first time Saturday, when he forced his way into her home in the 600 block Camel St. and walked out with the money.

Sgt. Dillard admitted that he had been drinking but said he knew nothing about entering the apartment. "In the first place," he asked, "what would I need with $10 when I had $100 in my pockets."

Couple air drinking habits before judge

"She can drink a fifth of liquor and remain on her feet. I drink a half pint and I'm gone."

That's the excuse Thomas Solomon of the 600 block N. Pace St. gave in the Northwestern Police Court Sunday when charged with assaulting and threatening Miss Mary Jefferson with a knife.

In discussing his drinking habits, Mr. Solomon told Magistrate Linwood Koger Sr., that he might have threatened Miss Jefferson but he knew nothing about it.

Miss Jefferson said Solomon accused her of taking his billfold containing $75 and then chased her out of the house.

Mr. Solomon was fined $15 and costs after stating that all that he knew is that he was arrested when he went upstairs to change his clothes.

Confusion ends in court

Confusion reigned in Northwestern Police Court Friday afternoon when Mrs. Jean Merrick, 25, 1900 block Madison Ave., entered to lodge a complaint that a stranger had broken down her front door.

Seconds later, in rushed Carlos Acosta, 39, 1600 block Division St., who in halting English explained that he had damaged the door in search for a woman who had run off with a dollar.

Then came Herman Smith, 56, 1200 block Wilmer Ct., who identified himself as the landlord.

* * *

WITH THE three principals speaking at the same time, police said they were unable to make heads or tails of the incident, so they locked up everybody and charged them with disorderly conduct.

Came trial time and Mrs. Merrick repeated her story for Magistrate Linwood G. Koger, Sr. adding "I don't even know the man."

"I give a woman a dollar to get some whiskey and she grabbed him and run away to thees house where I knock down door," said Mr. Acosta.

All Mr. Smith had to say was: "Somebody knocked the door down. You should see all the glass."

After Mr. Acosta admitted he had made a mistake in houses, Magistrate Koger fined him $15 and dismissed the other two defendants.

School head spurns mixed school study

NORFOLK — Norfolk Superintendent of Schools J. J. Brewbaker last week rejected a suggestion that a bi-racial panel of lawyers be set up for working out legal aspects of immediate integration of public schools.

The suggestion made by the Norfolk NAACP Chapter, was turned down by Mr. Brewbaker who said that it might "encourage controversy which should be avoided."

Daylight robbery broken up by FBI man and sheriff

A bold holdup by two youths in broad daylight, at Mount and Fresbury Sts., was broken up Wednesday by an FBI agent and a deputy sheriff who happened to be driving through the neighborhood.

THE TWO officers were approaching the intersection from opposite directions, when they witnessed the robbery in progress.

FBI agent Thomas W. Hoard arrested one youth while Deputy Sheriff John Key took off after the other on foot but was unable to overtake him.

* * *

THE OFFICERS found the teenagers beating Ernest G. Nering and his wife, Annie, of the 2400 block Callow Ave.

* * *

MR. NERING, a salesman for a plastics company, reported that the boys approached his car when he stopped to make a delivery and struck him and his wife in the face.

They ripped open his pants pocket, he stated, took $12 and then removed a wrist watch from his arm. The watch was recovered at Northwestern Police Station when a search was made of the suspect.

The youth was turned over to Patrolmen William Craig and Frank Serra of the Northwestern District by the arresting officers who were enroute to different assignments.

The suspect, 19, who resides in the 1200 block Poplar Grove St., is being held for investigation at Northwestern.

Soldier faces armed theft count; held on $4,000 bail

A 19-year-old Fort Meade soldier, charged with robbing a cab driver at gun-point, this week, is being held on $4,000 bail pending grand jury action.

The bail was set for Pvt. Henry J. Brown by Magistrate Samuel Gabroff of Southern Police Station.

According to the cab driver, Wayne Robinson, of Odenton, Md., Brown robbed him of "five of six dollars" after driving the soldier and a lady companion to Barre and Sharp Sts. last Monday night.

THE COUPLE had been picked up at Fort Meade the driver said. After the woman left the cab, Brown pulled out a revolver and ordered Robinson into the back seat, police reported.

After taking the money, Brown ordered the driver to take him to Sharp and Camden St., where he got out, Robinson testified.

Police, summoned from the Camden St. B. and O. train station, arrested Brown in the Greyhound Bus Station at Howard and Lombard St.

$1,000 bail set for man in stabbing

Clarence Banks, of the 400 block E. Federal St., was ordered held in bail of $1,000 in the Northeastern Police Court Saturday for assaulting and cutting Allie McMillian of the 200 block N. Aisquith St.

The 29-year-old laborer was arrested following an altercation at a bar in the 900 block N. Gay St. In addition, to the cutting charge, Banks had to post an additional $100 bail for disorderly conduct.

A hearing has been scheduled for June 23 at 8 a.m. at Northeastern.

Buffaloes cop 17-6 win in Midget play

The Buffaloes downed the Black Hawks, 17-6 in a South Baltimore Midget League game Tuesday.

First baseman Williams, with a home run, and rightfielder Washington and shortstop Meekins had four hits each to lead the winning attack.

'Hopalong Cassidy' goes free in wine death

James J. (Hopalong Cassidy) Collins, 47, 900 block Madison Ave., was found not guilty Friday on grounds that it was self defense when he fired the shot that killed Eliza Beard, 25, 2100 block Longwood St.

Collins told Judge Joseph R. Byrnes in Criminal Court, that when he arrived at his second-floor apartment at about 2:15 a.m., March 29, Beard and some others were there drinking wine.

Beard began to argue and Collins asked him to leave.

* * *

COLLINS SAID that Beard started toward him and William (Grand Pappy) Johnson, 43, 700 block Fisher St., grabbed Beard. "I went into my bedroom and closed the door," Collins testified.

Collins said that he got his gun from under the pillow and when Beard burst into the room with one hand in his pocket and another behind him, he fired the pistol. The bullet lodged in Beard's throat.

The man testified that Beard was known to carry a knife and he shot because he was afraid.

* * *

THE STATE contended that Collins could have escaped from the house by another door in the bedroom. Collins said that the door was locked from the outside.

Collins said that following the shooting, he left and hid the gun under a trash can in Camel Alley.

Police arrested Collins in the cellar of a house in the 1900 block Pennsylvania Ave., later in the day. The gun was not recovered.

* * *

BEARD DIED at 11:05 p.m. in the Maryland General Hospital.

Collins told the court that he fled following the incident because he was afraid of a "syndicate" that hangs around a bowling alley.
