Unlikely '55 Birds will become mixed

By SAM LACY

Except for what civic pride they may be inclined to have, students here are in for a "very run" this season as far as a rooting interest in Oriole baseball is concerned.

The Birds are a virtual certainty to play out the 1955 American League campaign without a second player in the lineup. Not for that matter, even on the roster.

Dave Roberts, their promising farmhand is not considered "ready" for the majors; Joe Durham, the Orioles' rookie prospect of 1954, still has a year of military service, and there is little likelihood that a deal will be swung which will net the club anyone who can help it.

* * *

PAUL RICHARDS, who acts as the double capacity of general manager and manager, put the stamp of "unready" on Roberts in an interview with the AFRO before Tuesday night's game with the Boston Red Sox.

And although there have been numerous reports that the Orioles have tried to get Elston Howard from the New York Yankees, Richards would neither confirm nor deny them.

To a direct question as to whether he has made an effort to obtain Howard, Richards said: "It's no use. They (the Yankees) won't even talk about him."

* * *

MINDFUL OF the fact that Paul has been reported as making flying trips to various parts of the country to look at young prospects in the farm system, the AFRO wanted to know:

"Have you seen Roberts lately, the young first baseman at San Antonio?"

"No!," said the Oriole boss, "I haven't seen him personally. But we get daily reports on him.

"He seems to be doing very well. He has tailed off a little from the way he was hitting earlier in the season, but that's to be expected.

"We don't think he's ready yet though; not to play up here. We're afraid if we should bring him up too early, he'd get in fouled up and it would ruin him.

"Besides, San Antonio's leading that (Texas) league right now, and if anyone suggested we wanted Roberts, they'd murder us."

* * *

"WELL," the AFRO observed, "it looks like a dry run for me around these parts this summer, doesn't it"

"You never can tell," Richards replied, busying himself with signing some checks on his desk. "Something may turn up."

"But there's nothing in prospect as far as you can see?"

"At the moment, no," was Richards' answer.

* * *

BALTIMOREANS have felt that the addition of a colored player or some merit would mean help for the Orioles, both at the gate and on the field.

Despite the flourish attendant to Paul's arrival here to take over the club, and despite the many deals that have been made in what the AFRO recognizes as an honest effort to improve the team, the Orioles are currently behind their 1954 pace.

That may be surprising in the light of the poor record the Orioles had last year, when they won only 54 and lost an even 100, to finish next to last in the standings.

In their first 36 games of 1954, the Orioles were 12-2 and tied for sixth place. At the end of their 36th game this season (Tuesday night), the Birds were 11-25 and were at the bottom of the league in 8th place.

THERE IS A lucky photo circled in this edition of your AFRO. Look for it, it's worth $5 to the person whose head is circled in the LUCKY PICTURE. If you're in the lucky photo, all you have to do to collect your $5 is to call at the City Desk, AFRO office, 628 N. Eutaw St. BEFORE 12 noon Tuesday.

Find drowned youth in Brooklyn quarry after two-hour hunt

The body of James D. Handy, 21, of the 1300 block Woodyear St., was recovered from a quarry near Brooklyn Park, late Tuesday night, two hours after he sank from sight in 13 feet of water.

Ferndale police said Handy had been swimming with four friends when he attempted to cross from one side of the quarry to the other. When he reached the center, he yelled for help and disappeared.

The recovery of the body was made at 8:30 p.m. The quarry is on the site of the Arundel Sand and Gravel Co., on Belle Grove Rd.,

Officer mobbed in boy's attack

A police officer who attacked a 14-year-old boy with this night stick when breaking up a group of youths playing ball in Millman St. Thursday, was beaten by a mob of more then 100 persons who protested the action.

The officer, Patrolman Harry Stevens, 22, was attacked by the protesting East Baltimore residents and was saved by the arrival of other officers.

His victim, whom he reportedly hit while he was down and kicked in the face, was unconscious when taken from the scene by police from the Northeastern District.

High Court 'sits' on final decrees

WASHINGTON

The U.S. Supreme Court, Monday, recessed, until next Tuesday without handing down final decrees in the five school segregation cases.

Arguments on how and when the court should enforce its carrying out its decisions of May 17, 1954, outlawing segregation in public education, were heard in April.

The session on May 31 is scheduled to be the last of the current term, but it is possible that the court may sit again on June 6 to hand down opinions on other cases which are not decided on Tuesday.

City art museum sets gala exhibit

One of the Baltimore Museum of Art's major exhibitions in recent years will be opened with fanfare on Saturday, from 8 to 11 p.m.

Whereas such events have usually depended upon extensive loans from other museums, this show deals entirely with the accumulation of art treasures that have been given to the museum and Baltimore City in the past 25 years.

To mark the opening Dr. William M. Milliken distinguished director of the Cleveland Museum of Art and president of the American Association of Museums, will speak in the auditorium at 9 p.m. Many directors of other American Museums will also attend.

'Good boy' slain in police chase

Frederick Page, 18, of the 200 block E. Lafayette Ave., described by his mother as a "good boy," died late Thursday after being shot twice by policemen following the chase of a stolen car through Northeast Baltimore.

The chase started when the stolen car driven by Page, rammed into the back of a police tower truck, as the youth turned into Broadway from Gay St.

It came to an end five blocks away in an alley between Durham and Holland Ave., with two bullets in the boy's body. He was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital where he died at 11:30 p.m.

* * *

DETAILS OF THE shooting reached the boy's mother, Mrs. Catherine Page, several hours later when a neighbor heard the story on a television program and relayed the news to Mrs. Page.

Mrs. Page reached the hospital shortly after 7 p.m. and was present when her son died. All that she could say was "Lord have mercy on him."

According to Mrs. Page her son, a native of Winston-Salem, N.C., had been in Baltimore since December and had been employed at Johns Hopkins Hospital as an orderly since April.

She described him as a "good boy" and said she was not able to explain why he had been riding in a stolen car.

In addition to his mother, Page is survived by his father, Theo Page, and residing in Winston-Salem, and four sisters, Gwendolyn, Elaine, Theola, and Lola Page.

Page was shot by Patrolman Allen Myers after he had abandoned the stolen automobile near Johns Hopkins. One of the bullets entered his back and came out through his chest.

* * *

POLICE STARTED the chase after Page struck the back of the tower truck and continued to drive.

Patrolman Wolfrat, driver of the truck, started out in pursuit of the youth. At the same time, he radioed for assistance.

The winding route taken by the fleeing youth covered Barnes St., Eden St., Ashland Ave. and Caroline St. At Ashland and Caroline, a patrol car ojined the chase.

* * *

PAGE CONTINUED to race away from his pursuers. He turned west on Madison St. south on Spring St., west on Monument St., then north on Eden.

When he was slowed down by another motorist at Wolfe, young Page made a turn into Wolfe, where the lead patrol car pulled along side him and tried to force him to the curb.

The youth veered suddenly into the Johns Hopkins' yard and the lead police car crashed into a utility pole and struck a car parked nearby.

Patrolman Strebeck was thrown from the car and suffered a possible fractured shoulder as he landed almost under the parked car.

* * *

AT THIS POINT, the youth leaped from the stolen automobile and started running toward Durham St. Patrolman Myers leaped from his car and fired three shots, two hitting Page and the third hitting the trunk of the car he had abandoned.

When Page leaped from the car, it continued to roll and crashed into garage doors of the Little Potts warehouse. The stolen car is the property of cmfwy m m m m mmmm Milton Gollier of the 3100 block Dillon St.

The chase ended just one block and a half from the Northeastern police station. The shots which felled the youth were heard in the stainhouse.

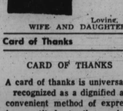
In Memoriam

HILL—In memory of our dear mother, ELLA B. HILL, who passed away, January 1, 1954.
Gone but not forgotten.
LOVING MOTHER AND SISTERS

HUTCHINS—In loving memory of my dear husband, JOHNNY W. who passed away thirteen years ago, May 27, 1942.
When the evening shades are falling
And I am sitting all alone
In my heart there comes a longing;
If you only could come home.
Oft and oft my thoughts do wander;
To your grave so far away;
Where I laid you dearest son.
Thirteen years ago, May 27, 1942.
By His Loving Mother
ESTELLE SMITH

JACKSON—In tribute to my husband, WILLIAM JACKSON, on his birthday May 8, who departed this life May 25, 1949.



God knows how much I miss you dear
Never shall your memory fade.
Loving thoughts shall ever wander;
To the spot where you are laid.
Loving Wife
MARY JACKSON

JOHNSON—In loving memory of our dear one, JESSIE, who passed away, May 8, 1954.
Gone but not forgotten.
LOVING MOTHER, DAUGHTER, GRANDSON AND SISTERS

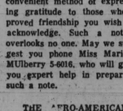
MOORE—In loving memory of our dear mother, MARY ELIZABETH MOORE, who departed this life, November 28, 1935; Our dear father, GEORGE B. MOORE, who departed this life, December 22, 1942.
What is home without a mother?
All things the world may send.
But when we lost our darling mother
We lost our dearest friend.
Time and memory may we miss him.
Friendship may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrows
Lies within our hearts concealed.
BESSIE MOORE
HOWARD MOORE

PARKER—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, JAMES W. PARKER, who passed away May 24, 1954:
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered since we lost you,
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true
There is not a single day
That we do not think of you.
WIFE AND CHILDREN

ROSS—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, MARY E. who departed this life May 1, 1952.
We do not forget her, we loved her too dearly.
For her memory is safe from our hearts
Love like a dream, can never die
Our loss grows more sincerely
For grief often dwells where it seldom is seen.
Gone but never forgotten.
Devoted Husband
WILLIAM V. SR.
Children,
WILLIAM V. JR.,
THOMAS E., ALICE M.
MARTHA M., SARAH E.

STEWART—In loving memory of our dear one, THERESA BRIDGECOE, who departed this life one year, ago May 31, 1950.
A beautiful memory, a smiling face
A broken link we can never replace;
Tll memory fades and life departs
You will live forever in our hearts.
HER DEVOTED FAMILY

WHITE—In loving memory of my husband and father, ISAAC CLANCE WHITE, who departed this life May 27, 1950.



Gone is the face we love so dearly,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
One who was so very dear
Loving WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

A card of thanks is universally recognized as a dignified and convenient method of expressing gratitude to those whose proved friendship you wish to acknowledge. Such a notice overlooks no one. May we suggest you phone Miss Marion, MUberry 5-6016, who will give you expert help in preparing such a note.

THE AFRO-AMERICAN

In Memoriams 1

THOMPSON—In loving memory of our dear father, ANDREW, SR.; mother, LAURA V.; and brother, ANDREW JR., who passed away June 1, 1940, October 26, 1951; and February 11, 1935, respectively.
God giveth His beloved sleep.
His angels watch them still in our hearts,
And if we God's commandments keep,
We'll meet again never to part.
