Carver scores over Phelps 5

Coach Sodie White's Carver Vocational High School basketball team made every quarter a winning one here Wednesday in downing Phelps Vocational High of Washington, 60-51.

Paced by Gabriel Bell and Mel Patterson, the Trainers romped to a 16-11 advantage in the first period, and were never headed thereafter.

Each had nine field goals and a free throw to rack up 19 points to share leadership in the winning attack.

However, it fell to the lot of Ben Warley, of the visiting Washington team, to grab individual honors for the afternoon. The amazing Tradesman center hit for 29 points, acquired via 12 floor baskets and five from the 15-foot line.

In the preliminary contest, Carver Jayvees downed the

Morgan relay

The Bears came back to score in the Boston A.A. and Millrose.

IN THE FIRST of these two Golden Bear triumphs, Jenkins was out with a virus infection and Morgan followers had to admit it was something of a hollow win. Last Saturday night, Charley was back, but again the Hurtmen were deprived of what one might call complete satisfaction.

The Garden was abuzz with the suggestion that the Villis ace had not fully recovered from his bout with the flu bug.

That is why tomorrow's clash here figures to be the crossroads for Morgan. Jenkins will be back in the Villanova lineup and literally bristling with health,

THIS RIVALRY between Morgan and Villanova, both small schools in the college field, each with fewer than 1,000 boys, marks the latest in a long series of duels featuring the Golden Bears.

From the days of George Rhoden, Bob Tyler, Bill Brown, et al, down through the Art Braggs and Sam LaBeaches, Hurt's charges have been thrown, year after year, into head-on clashes with rugged relay quartets.

FIRST IT WAS New York University, with the Callanan twins and their cohorts. Then it was Cornell with its Meredith Gourdine, Charley Moore, etc. followed by Seton Hall and Phil Thigpen, Harry Bright and company.

Until last year, the Bears were locked in a two-way fight for relay supremacy with the mercury-heeled Manhattan College aggregation, which headlined Vern Dixon, Lou Jones and their colleagues.

All that, however, is water under the bridge. Tomorrow night, the Garden boards will sing with Morgan's bid to add a "solid" victory over Villanova to her record-shattering performance of seven days ago.

This is the crossroads.

Maces Lane drops cage game to Bates

By BOB PINKNEY

ANNAPOLIS—Led by Melvin Pindell, who made 17 points, a fluctuating Bates basketball team which led at all the stopping points raced to a 70-64 victory over a struggling Maces Lane team from Cambridge, Monday night, at Bates.

Although a last ditch rally by Maces fell only six points short of its mark, Coach John Holt's hard - running Little Giants held big leads throughout the contest, until ordered to freeze the ball in the closing minutes of the game as the Cambridge five started to pull into striking distance.

The victory was Bates' fourth of the season against six setbacks, and gives them a 3-1 record against county school opposition. They must get by Solters Point of Dundalk before they can reach the annual Class "A" tournaments at Morgan in March.

THE 17 POINTS for Pindell was a personal high, as his previous high was 13 points in his team's 59-41 loss to Douglass on Jan. 11 at Baltimore.

Senior Bob Jones showed a nice eye hitting for 13 markers, while Monroe Green, turned in a fine performance under the baskets, had 14.

Bates, using its fast break to an advantage dashed to a 12-4 lead with Green, Jones and Pindell pocketing most of the shots before Roosevelt Palmore, the game's leading scorer, with 20 points, got his team in contention.

With four minutes left in the final quarter, Bates played possession ball as they were ahead 69-57 despite Pindell fouling out of the contest.

Coach A. C. Jordan's men scored seven straight points before Johnson's field goal iced the contest for Bates.

Mrs. Orvilla Taylor's girls team dropped their third contest in a row, losing a 32-31 decision to the Maces Lane's girls team. Yvonne Brown scored 17 points for Bates.

Aggies defeat Bear boxers

GREENSBORO, N.C. — The A-T College Aggie boxers, defending CIAA champs, opened the season Saturday by defeating Morgan State College.

The champs won five of the seven matches in the dual meet held here at the A-T gymnasium.

The Aggies won the meet without the services of Donald Quarles, defending conference light-heavyweight champ and Alphonso LaPrince, a member of the 1952 championship team, just recently returned from the armed forces.

No competitors were offered by the visitors in their weight classes.

Toledo ace inks Giants grid pact

TOLEDO, Ohio (ANP) — Mel Triplett, considered the best small college fullback in Ohio last fall, has signed a contract to play professional football with the New York Giants.

Trinlett signed the contract at the University of Toledo, where he performed for four seasons. Wellington Mara, co-owner of the Giants, was present for the signing.

The former Rockets' fullback was the fifth draft choice of the Giants in the recent draft selections of the National Professional Football league teams.

It was reported that he received a $1,000 bonus for his signature.

Sugar Ray not broke, his manager asserts

SUGAR RAY ROBINSON

CHICAGO (ANP)—Sugar Ray isn't broke, but doesn't know if he will continue his comeback.

These words about the former great welterweight and middleweight champion were spoken last week by Joe Glaser, Ray Robinson's business manager, replying to a magazine story which stated that Ray is broke.

In the article Robinson was described as a flamboyant carefree liver who, through boxing, dancing and business, grossed $3 million, but wound up selling several of his business enterprises to cover a $200,000 deficit and to pay a $43,000 Internal Revenue debt.

SHORTLY AFTER the story hit the stands, Glaser blasted it as " . . . a vicious attack on Robinson.

"They've been trying to get him for years on account of something that happened once," he said.

Glaser did not explain what the "something" was, but added: "I don't know about the taxes, but I do know I looked over his businesses and suggested he sell his wife's beauty shop, which he did about six months ago.

"I told him to get rid of the laundry. The bar and grill are doing all right. He still owns all his property. He definitely and positively is not broke."

THE MAGAZINE story had said that the income tax debt had forced Ray to offer for sale the "Sugar Ray's" bar and grill.

About Robinson's comeback plans, Glaser said this to say:

"One day he (Ray) says he thinks he'll keep on fighting, and the next day he'll change his mind. I've had dozens of offers from promoters. I just can't give an answer to them because we honestly don't know if Sugar Ray is going to fight again."

Robinson dropped a unanimous 10-round decision to Ralph "Tiger" Jones of Yonkers, N.Y. in the Chicago Stadium here last Jan. 19.

Louisa County teachers meet

LOUISA, Va.—Dr. E. D. McCreary of Virginia Union University Theological Seminary was the principal speaker at the Louisa County Teachers Association's annual mid-year workshop held at the A. G. Richardson High School here Jan. 28.

Others participating in the workshop were: H. S. Moss, the Rev. P. H. West, R. E. Phanelson, principal; Byrd W. Long, superintendent of school; and G. L. X. Cowling, assistant supervisor of secondary education in Virginia.

Arsenal five vie for league title

PHILADELPHIA

James Bates of 1809 Berks St. is captain and one of the high scorers of the Frankford Arsenal basketball team. The quintet is competing in the finals for the U.S. Government Industrial League championship.

The finals, which began on Monday, are being played in the Recration hall (Bldg. 12) at the arsenal. First to face the arsenal team was the Post Office five, league champions in the 1953-54 season. The arsenal defeated Western Electric in the semi-finals Jan. 31.

James Vacca is team manager. Members are William Bennett (player-coach), Issac R. Grant, Sylvester Brosier, C. C. Dunn, Donald D. DiGuglielmo, and Donald Boessler.

GIANT KILLERS—Maryland State College, often playing the role of "giant killer" in collegiate athletic circles, pulled the trick once more Saturday night when their Hawk basketballers toppled Virgnia Union from the ranks of the undefeated, 77-60. Left to right, the starting five of Coach Nat Taylor's classy quint are: Jerome Ford, Theophilus Lloyd, Frank Carr, Wayman Wilburn and Gabby Mowery. Mowery is captain.

Tony Jenkins cage standout with Mounties

WOONSOCKET, R.I. — Although handicapped the early part of the campaign by an injured knee, Tony Jenkins, 6-foot guard is making a strong bid to fill the gap left by his big brother, Lionel, in the hearts of Mt. St. Charles Academy fans.

Beset by injuries, illness to key players and the loss of key men, the Mounties are having a rugged time in the interscholastic basketball league, but Tony has been a standout game after game.

Recently Big Tony, as the boys call him, hit the hoops for 18 points against Woonsocket 75-60. He is a strong working backcourt player and has proved highly valuable off the boards.

TEAMING with the Mounties' captain, Gene Murray, son of the coach and also a 6-footer, Tony has given the Mounties control of the boards in many contests.

The other Jenkins, Lionel, is now playing with the freshman team at Providence College where his high scoring is the talk of Worcester. The Jenkins boys are from Washington, D.C.
