Tan boxers dominate 6 classes in ring ratings

NEW YORK — Bearing in mind that the elimination tournament for the purpose of determining a heavyweight champion is dominated by colored boxers, it does not seem remiss to say that six of the eight ring divisions are championed by tan athletes.

The latest Ring Magazine rating bear out such an assumption.

Archie Moore, Sugar Ray Robinson, Johnny Saxton, Walter Smith and Sandy Saddler rule the brackets from light-heavyweight to featherweight, that leaves only the bantam and flyweight divisions undisputably in the hands of white fighters.

Tan quintet figures heavily in 1956 Marquette U plans

—At least five tan athletes are expected to figure prominently in the 1956 collegiate athletic plans at Marquette University.

Two good football prospects are expected to be on the scene when the Warriors open the 1956 grid schedule next Sept. 22 against the University of Detroit.

Fullback Alonzo Robinson and sophomore Halfback Marvin Randy both looked impressive in the spring intra-squad game and Head Coach John Druze feels that both will aid the Marquette football cause.

Robinson, a 225 - pound fullback from Kansas City, Mo., led the Blue team in ground gaining in the spring game, piling up 49 yards in 13 attempts. He scored the only touchdown for his squad.

Randy, in a short appearance, picked up 20 yards in five attempts and displayed good open field running ability and speed which the Warriors will need next fall.

In basketball, Guard Al Ayant, sophomore sensation of last year's team, will be joined by another player already hailed as the best basketball prospect to come to Marquette.

The newcomer is Jim McCoy, younger brother of Michigan State's Julius McCoy, who was the leading scorer on the Warriors' frosh squad last year.

McCoy has amazing speed, good defensive ability and a variety of shots from outside and inside.

Hurdler Bob Thomas rounds out the group. Thomas, a local boy, has had more than fair success as a hurdler this season. Track Coach Melvin (Bus) Shimek feels that he will develop into a top flight high stick man and a good broad jumper. He has done 23 feet in the latter event.

Smallwood is outpointed

NEW YORK—Floored in the first round, Hayes Smallwood, the transplanted Baltimore middleweight, appeared never to fully recover and as a result was a relatively easy victim to Tony Gonzalez here Monday night.

A galbering of 1,231 at St. Nicholas Arena, plus the usual Monday television audience, saw the ex-Marylander, now fighting out of Brooklyn, lose all three officials nods in favor of the underdog East-Orange, N. J., youngster.

At that, one judge and the referee — Frank Forbes and Davey Feld—had it fairly close on their ballots. Each tallied the bout 4-4-2. However, Forbes scored it 8-5 on points and Feld 8-4.

Judge Arthur Schwartz put Gonzalez on top by a margin of 8-2.

After being decked in the opening half, Smallwood was rocked on at least four other occasions. He took a mauling but got right count, although he was up at six.

Hardy was reeling under a heavy barrage in third and eighth rounds. And in the ninth and tenth, he had all he could do to remain upright.

To his own credit, Smallwood was game and dished out some punishment, too. But that by Tony was more often and more severe.

Archie Moore knocks out Pompey to retain title

LONDON — Goaded by the referee's demand for action and by the crowd's slow hand clapping, the British form of boxing, Archie Moore stormed to a tenth round technical knockout of Yolande Pompey here Tuesday night.

The victory was recorded unofficially as 2:50 of the round, with Moore successfully retaining his world light-heavyweight title against the young challenger from Trinidad, BWI.

When hostilities were halted by referee Jack Hart, Pompey was bleeding from cuts of his eyes and nose, and suffering a possible fracture of several ribs. He had been down three times in the heat, for counts of eight, nine and eight.

BEHIND on points for the first seven rounds, the 39-year-old champion was stung by the referee's second warning to "mix it," and by the crowd's displeasure.

He sailed into Pompey with both hands, giving evidence that he had been wisely pacing himself against an aggressor 12 years his junior. In the ninth round, Old Archie landed more than a dozen solid whacks to the head and body.

Stalking his foe from ringpost to ringpost, Moore punished Pompey severely with deadly combinations that drew blood. Blood also started flowing from a cut over the left eye, then it gushed from his nose.

By the end of the ninth, the West Indian challenger was bleeding profusely from both these wounds, plus another gash that showed under the right eye.

Following Yolande's third trip to the canvas, Hart shoved Moore away and motioned Pompey to his own corner. The latter made the trip on wobbly legs and with the aid of his seconds.

BECAUSE there is only one official in British rings, and because Hart was apparently confused, the crowd did not know what had happened for several minutes. It was not until Archie's veteran trainer, Cheerful Norman, tapped the referee on the shoulder and pointed to Moore that Hart went over and raised his hand in the customary signal of victory.

It is also because no official time is kept of knockouts in Britain, that the 2:50 TKO time is recorded as "unofficial." The kayo itself is entirely official, however.

THE WIN was the ninth in a row for Moore since he was stopped by Rocky Marciano in the ninth round of their New York heavyweight title bout last September. His overall record since then is 9 wins, 20 losses, five draws; he's knocked out 87.

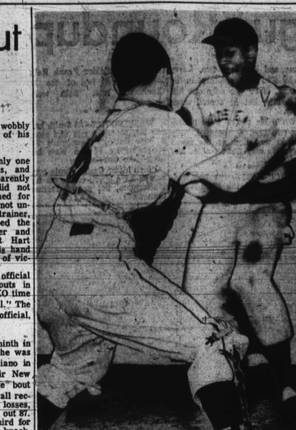
The defeat was the first for Pompey and the first by knockout. He has won 31 and been involved in two draws.

THE VICTORY for Archie was further insurance that the light-heavyweight king will be matched with the winner of the Floyd Patterson- Tommy Jackson "elimination" bout, for a September meeting for Marciano's vacated crown.

If also served to establish once again that the venerable Moore is everything he claims to be in the art of taking off weight.

Going directly to the office of the British Board of Boxing Control from a Turkish bath on Tuesday afternoon, Archie stepped on the scales at 174½ pounds. This was what he had fight — right down to the ounce, said he would weigh for the fight. It meant that he had parboiled.

Moore weighed 183½ pounds on April 30, when he stopped Tiger Gene Thompson in the third round of a California fight.



HOLD IT MAHAN—C. Mahan, catcher for the Anacostia Indians, waits at the plate for Harold Burke of the Roosevelt Rough Riders during last Thursday's playoffs for the District public high school baseball championship at Griffith Stadium. The Indians won 4-3, to take the city title.

Armstrong winning bout with stroke in L.A.

LOS ANGELES (ANP)—Henry Armstrong, the ring's only triple champion last Sunday was reported recovering from a stroke which has hospitalized him at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Armstrong, who was first reported as being "...not mentally clear," was described Sunday as improved.

HE SUFFERED a convulsive seizure in his home last Saturday, following a digestive disorder.

Sunday, Armstrong was well enough to receive visitors, including his wife.

A physician at County General gave the following explanation of Armstrong's condition:

"There is no indication of brain or nervous system damage. In other words, Armstrong is not punch drunk."

However, Armstrong will undergo several days of medical tests before leaving the hospital.

Now an ordained minister, the Rev. Mr. Armstrong, has of late been active in youth and prayer movements here. Once reported in financial straits, he tried his hand at salesmanship for a department store, and ran a boxing gym here.

KNOWN IN his ring days as "Homicide Hank" because of the windmill punching, Armstrong won the featherweight championship from Petey Sarron in New York City on a sixth round KO on Oct. 29, 1937. He defeated Barney Ross to annex the welterweight title on May 31, 1938, and won the lightweight title from Louis Ambers Aug. 17 of the same year. He retired from the ring in the early 1940's after losing to Ray Robinson and Fritzie Zivic.

He had held all three titles simultaneously, becoming the only man in ring history to accomplish the feat.

Steelers ink CS fullback

WILBERFORCE, Ohio—Lionel Reed, star fullback of the Central State College football team, last week was signed to a 1956 contract by the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

The big Warren, Ohio, back was honored here last week at the annual Central State athletic awards banquet. The announcement of his pro plans were made at that time.

Coach Gaston F. (Country) Lewis, in reviewing Reed's performance while with the Marauders, disclosed that he had averaged 12.2 yards per carry in his four years of varsity play. During that period, Lionel was named to two all-conference teams.

According to the player, he intends to continue work on his bachelor's degree in the off-season. He is scheduled to report to the Steelers' training camp on August 1.

Shields signs '56 pact with Colts

Two more halfbacks, Carl Taseff and Burrell Shields, both from John Carroll University, forwarded contracts to the Baltimore Colts on Thursday to up the number of signed veteran players to 16.

The 1956 season marks Taseff's fifth in the National Football League and the third for Shields, picked up on waivers last summer from the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Shields was used last year as a substitute offensive back. He's six - foot - two, 205-pounds and, like Taseff, lives off-season in the Cleveland area. With the Colts in 1955, Burrell carried 19 times for 34 yards and a 3.4 average. He also caught 10 passes for 27 yards.

Report Joe will quit wrestling

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (ANP) —Former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis last Saturday ended his brief wrestling career.

Louis, who owes the Government back income taxes, is said to have grown tired of having his wrestling purses attached.

His "retirement from the wrestling business was announced by local promoter Dick Deutsch, prior to Louis' meeting with Cowboy Lee.

IT WAS also revealed that a law prohibiting withholding taxes from boxing purses was the main cause of Louis' present tax difficulties. Joe made over four million dollars during his stay in the prize ring.

Stating that he was quitting wrestling "until the government men lay off me," Louis said he "didn't blame the government men because that's their job, and the government men don't want to do that to me . . ."

Louis got a total of $500 in guarantee and a percentage of the gate for the Lee bout.

Prior to the bout, Louis had won all 16 wrestling bouts in which he has engaged.

At the Ringside

By CHARLES J. LIVINGSTON

CHICAGO (ANP) — Predictions that will be the next heavyweight champion of boxing is a difficult matter, for many reasons. So many ifs enter into the calculation that one dares not venture out too far on the fistic limb.

There are, for instance, a couple of tests coming up which could considerably change the heavyweight picture—such as is Archie Moore, the No. 1 heavyweight contender, faced a problem in having to scale down to 175 pounds to defend his light heavyweight laurels against Yolanda Pompey in London, June 5.

Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, the No. 2 heavyweight challenger, faces an equal test in his 12-round elimination bout with young Floyd Patterson in New York's Madison Square Garden, June 8.

TO REMAIN in title contention, both had to win: Moore, "Homicide Hank" because of the game he can't afford a loss to someone in his own division and seriously challenge in the heavier division; Jackson, because he's gone the limit under present conditions and a loss to Patterson would definitely eliminate him.

There are other fellows who are also angling for title consideration. But for the time being at least it doesn't seem feasible to consider them as likely candidates to succeed to the championship.

Hulking Bob Baker and Johnny Holman have already been eliminated, and others like Johnny Summerlin, Willie Pastrano, Harold Carter, Bob Satterfield and Heinz Neuhaus are not serious contenders.

MOORE FIGURED to win over Pompey, despite the Britisher's youth and reported stamina.

As for Jackson, it's a different story. The moody New Yorker will probably be insulted by ringtime by odds making him an underdog to a fighter who, although noted for his natural ability, is nevertheless not even rated among the first 10 contenders in the heavyweight division.

And this thought alone might make Jackson even more reckless. That, of course, would prove his undoing. For Tommy would learn that it takes more than clowning and crowding to defeat a sharpshooter like Patterson.

Still, who can tell what Jackson might do?
