"It's smart to be seen at Baltimore and Greene."

That catchy little phrase is attractive to customers at Chick's Bar and Lounge.

Going into their 11th week on the band stand there are the Pace Setters, a rollicking trio.

As an added attraction, on Wednesday, "Aloha Night" is held and the club crowns a new king and queen.

It's the policy at Chick's to have no cover, no minimum and no minors.

The jam sessions there each Sunday at 5 p.m. are something to look forward to.

The name of Baltimore's favorite songbird Ethel Ennis is still very much in the limelight.

At least one of her records is on the juke boxes of three downtown stores.

ROCK 'N' ROLL is here to stay. You can believe that after hearing the Mello Jacks over at Club Sara at 1521 E. Fayette St.

There's music every night over there and the customers are eating it up.

A trip to the eastside is never complete without a visit to the Clover Club at Fayette and Wolfe Sts.

Jerry Nelson, at the organ and Lawrence Reid on bass are holding forth there.

Weekend entertainment in the Clover Room features Alfonso Brown and the Tune Toppers.

THREE FLOOR shows nightly is the policy at the Comedy Club.

Starting Monday, June 11, the Club Casino on the Avenue, will take on a holiday air for one week.

On that date "Fiesta Week" will begin, featuring Jimmie Elliott and the Hammond Organ Trio, and Frank Minton on the Calypso drums. Prizes will be awarded nightly.

At 2714 Pennsylvania Ave., that's where the Club Paree is located, Pete Martin is the talk of the town with his performance at the organ.

A cocktail party has been scheduled at the Club Paree for Sunday afternoon.

EVERYBODY IS RAVING about Andy Ennis and his combo at the Red Fox Room.

Though young in years, the Ennis combo jumps with some of the coolest music this side of the North Pole.

Disc jockey Billy Foxx is very much in evidence on the piano at the Red Fox.

The Rice Inn, at 1306 Pennsylvania Ave., is still tops for the best in food.

Those who tried the house special "moo goo ga pen" last week are still talking about the meal. Wonton soup was a part of the meal.

• • •

HAVE YOU heard that the Club Astoria on Edmondson Edmondson Ave., is the only night club in town offering beverages at bar prices?

For your entertainment, too they are featuring the Purnell Rice Quartet nightly.

Formerly with the Red Prysock aggregation, the outfit features Rice, Jimmy Goldstone, Irving Turner, and "Diz" Nelson.

The Vilma at Pennsylvania Ave. and Baker remains a Baltimore favorite with its offering of good food, choice wines, and drinks mixed by experts.

• • •

ARE YOU one of those who hesitates to leave home for a night on the town for fear of missing your favorite television program?

Fret no more. Along with your steaks, chops and sandwiches, you can get TV, too at the Edmondson Cafe at 604 Poplar Grove St.

The song has ended but the melody lingers on at the Club Tijuana where recording star Frank Culley brought down the house with his wild brand of tenor sax playing.

The "Tame Cleveland-Lyons Trio" will take over the bandstand at the Tijuana for a one week stint beginning Friday.

FASHIONABLE restaurant where you can get a tasty meal before and after making the rounds on the avenue is Rio Restaurant at 1518 Pennsylvania Ave.

The management just completed a $15,000 renovation job on the place six weeks ago.

When you cast your eyes on those tangerine colored walls and get a whiff of the delicious odors seeping from the kitchen, THAT'S IT.

N.Y. Elk speakers laud Vann, Johnson

BROOKLYN, N.Y. — Jesse L. Vann, Brooklyn realtor and candidate for grand exalted ruler of the Elks, received another backer at New York State Association Convention of Elks here last week.

General Sessions Judge Myles Paige urged convention delegates to support the Brooklyn candidate because the Elks are "in need of the type of competent and progressive" leadership Vann can give.

At another session, James B. Yearwood, grand auditor, drew a tremendous round of applause when he asked that Robert H. Johnson be re-elected as grand exalted ruler at the national convention in Los Angeles in August.

Action Group wins W. Nigeria control

LAGOS, Nigeria (NNPA) — By winning 41 of the 66 seats so far declared in the Western Nigeria election, the governing Action Group is assured of a majority in the next House of Assembly.

The other 25 seats have been won by the National Council of Nigeria and the Cameroons. A total of 14 seats remain to be decided.

In the last House, the Action Group had 60 seats and the National Council 13. The poll was heavy. Over a million votes have already been counted.

THE PACE SETTERS—Starting their 11th week at Chick's Bar and Lounge are the Pace Setters along with Lawson Vessells. Located at Baltimore and Greene Sts., the lounge is one of the smartest in the city.

The National Urban League is a 46-year old social service agency working in the interest of equal opportunity for all Americans. It has branches in 61 cities and 31 states.

'Jubilee Day' marks Supreme Court edict

The 28th annual observance of "Jubilee Day" by Prince Hall Masonic Shriners and Daughters of Isis was celebrated throughout the nation last Sunday.

Area Shriners and Daughters of Isis marked their observance with services at Christ Methodist Church, Chase and Washington Sts., Baltimore, Md.

Appeals Court upholds Robeson's passport ban

Singer Paul Robeson was turned down Thursday on his passport appeal by the U. S. Court of Appeals that upheld a lower court decision in the case of Robeson vs John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State.

The appellate court ruled that Mr. Robeson failed to exhaust means of obtaining legal papers through the passport office.

• • •

HE DECLINED "to execute an affidavit concerning present or past membership in the Communist party which affidavit he understood to be one of the prerequisites under the regulations," the court said.

James T. Wright, one of Mr. Robeson's attorneys, said the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

HU official warns of Dixiecratic plot

ATLANTA — A noted lawyer declared Monday that southern pressure groups are using the nation's mass communications media to distort the facts on segregation and called upon colored leaders to use the same facilities to refute their claims.

The speaker was Dr. James N. Nabrit Jr., secretary of Howard University and a veteran civil rights attorney. His remarks were made at Atlanta University where he delivered the commencement address.

If the southern attack on desegregation goes unanswered, Dr. Nabrit said, the colored American stands to lose the support of northern whites in his fight for equal treatment.

• • •

"THESE GROUPS (segregationists) have embarked upon a well organized and coordinated effort to divide and poison the minds of northern whites and to confuse and dissipate all activities which lend moral, political and economic or financial support to our effort to secure equal justice under the law," he said.

Recent articles in national magazines by southern spokesmen and their appearance on network radio and television were seen by Dr. Nabrit as part of the concerted plan to defend segregation.

The plan has two objectives, he asserted. "One is to convince the North that the South is adamant in its opposition to integration and will never accept it," he said.

• • •

"THE SECOND is to so bewilder the North with stories of colored people and their "diseases, ignorance, slothfulness, political crookedness and immorality as to cause the North to wipe its hand off the question and relegate it to the South for solution."

Declaring that the arena of battle had shifted from the courts to the field of social action, attorney called for a major conference of colored leaders in every field to meet the challenge.

"We need to answer Byrnes, Talmadge, Waring, Faulkner, Price, Shivers, Clark and others," he said.

(Ed. Note—former South Carolina Governor James Byrnes; former Georgia Governor Herman Talmadge; T. R. Waring, editor of the Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier; novelist William Faulkner; Associated Press reporter Ben Price; Texas Governor Allen Shivers and General Mark Clark).

• • •

"ACRIMONIOUS LANGUAGE, dogmatic positions or inept statements are no answer to this major threat," Dr. Nabrit said.

"We need selected persons to appear on radio and television—before college and forum groups, to prepare newspaper and magazine articles and to separate fact from fiction."

On the subject of the speed of desegregation, Dr. Nabrit said that such factors as the difference in attitudes of law enforcement officers, economic situations and the number of colored voters will cause the process to be brought about more quickly in some areas than in others.

"Though we cannot cease to fight," he declared "we may, however, choose our weapons and our battlegrounds. Wisdom may dictate that we fight first where our chances of winning community support and compliance seem greatest."

DR. NABRIT ALSO warned against prejudging the recent actions of southern liberals, saying that many are supporting unfavorable legislation as the lesser of evils.

"In some cases the exigencies of discretion and compromise are so great that we cannot be sure which leader is at heart in favor of compliance with the law of the land and which is not," he said.

"Yet, it is our task to seek out these friends and to join with them in our struggle for first-class citizenship."

• • •

THE ATTORNEY SAID that the elimination racial discrimination and segregation in America is vital if the country is to maintain its prestige in world affairs and discharge its responsibility in the effort to achieve world peace.

Declaring that racial prejudice is insidious and that it captures the mind and corrodes the soul, Dr. Nabrit said, "We must combat it in the courts, in the community and in the political field. But above all, we must meet its psychological and propagandic instrusions into the hearts and minds of our friends."

The Week in records

OLD AND POPULAR

The music business, like no other business, is one in which the passage of time does not necessarily diminish an individual's abilities. In most cases, guile and a sense of phrasing usually count for more than special vocal development.

Such singers as Ella Fitzgerald, Frank Sinatra, Nat (King) Cole, Dinah Washington, Maxine Sullivan, Margaret Whiting, Billy Eckstine, Anita O'Day, Bing Crosby and Sarah Vaughan have been going strong for years and their popularity is much the same today as it was 10, 15 or 20 years ago.

It seems that the added experience, the widened perspective make them more effective artists.

• • •

DINAH WASHINGTON is another singer who is aging well. Her newest Mercury releases, "Let's Go Around Together" and "Let's Get Busy" are beautiful and refreshing top-drawer tunes that could bloom into big hits.

Maxine Sullivan, who was once the nation's top jazz stylists in the late 1930's, gives an intriguing and relaxed quality to "Maxine Sullivan — 1956" on Period label.

LAVERN BAKER and Clyde McPhatter, Atlantic recording stars, recently waxed several solid sides. Lavern's "Fee Fee Fi Fo Fum" and "I'll Do the Same For You" are sweet and hot. McPhatter gives a pretty, pleasing performance on "Treasure of Love" and "When You're Sincere."

Delores Hawkins, the pretty Chicago chirper sings "I'll Be Seeing You," and "I Gotta Right to Sing the Blues" on an Epic disk. Both are being given good play on deejay programs.

Pick Hampton yearbook staff

HAMPTON, Va.—Frank Render, an English major from Richmond, has been chosen editor of the '57 yearbook at Hampton Institute.

He will be assisted by Miss Yvonne Bacote, an elementary education major from Winston-Salem, N.C., who was elected managing editor. A sociology major from Greensboro, N.C., Jerome Sandifer was made business manager.

Other appointments include Robert Gay and Paul Dusenberry, art staff; Willie Brown, business department, and Le-Clair Lambert, Janice Feemster and Florence Oliphant, editorial staff.

Tuledo student granted $4,000

TOLEDO, Ohio (ANP) — James Hill Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hill, has been awarded a $4,000 scholarship to Howard University school of liberal arts.

The white high school senior is a member of the National Honor Society and has been a member of 13 other high school clubs and organizations. A talented musician, he has studied voice and plays the violin, viola, piano, flute and xlyophone.

His parents are teachers in the Toledo public school system.

Teen-Age Recording Artists Bobby and Melvin
