Family out after 100 years; court upholds grand dad's will

"The court is always reluctant to set aside a will . . ." Judge James K. Cullen said in Circuit Court this week.

As a result, for the first time in more than 100 years, the Longnecker Road farm, near Reisterstown, Md., will be occupied by other than a member of the Derricks family.

Judge Cullen upheld the will of the late Joseph Derricks, which bequeathed the property to two stepgranddaughters with instructions to sell it and divide the proceeds.

The stepgranddaughters are Mrs. J. Louise Jones and Mrs. Sallie Wing Lee.

SEEKING TO BREAK the will was Mr. Derrick's 68-year-old sister, Mrs. Alice Derricks Berry, who is presently living at the farm. She said her brother had a verbal understanding with her that the property would come to her.

In refusing to uphold Mrs. Berry's claim, Judge Cullen said "the court must have clear proof of oral promise on the part of the deceased."

In addition to the family farm, Mr. Derricks also left his home, 2017 Kelly Ave., Mt. Washington, to Mrs. Jones and lots next door to Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Lee. He named Elmer R. Haile, attorney, executor.

The will was drawn August 2, 1945.

MR. DERRICKS died January 22 1954. Mr. Haile, who had also drawn the will, probated the document in Orphans' Court, here, and subsequently advertised the farm for sale.

The farm brought a bid of $8,000. But a few days before the sale, Mrs. Berry filed suit against Mr. Haile, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Jones.

In her petition, Mrs. Berry cited the history of the property which she said was first owned by her grandmother, Mrs. Rachel B. Derricks, who bought it shortly after the Civil War.

All of the descendants of Mrs. Derricks and George Derricks were born and reared on the farm.

In 1906 a debt of approximately $450 had been paid off and the title cleared in the name of Joseph Derricks.

In 1916 Mr. Derricks married Mrs. Louise Wing, and thereafter left the farm to join his wife.

At that time, Mrs. Berry said, he made an oral agreement with her, that if she remained on the farm, cared for their mother, and ran the place, he would will it to her at his death.

She made extensive improvements upon the place including installing electricity, building stables, chicken house, repairing chimney, etc., she said.

INSTEAD OF KEEPING his promise, said Mrs. Berry, her brother willed the homestead to persons with no blood ties.

In answer to Mrs. Berry's complaint, Mrs. Jones contended that Mr. Derricks was more like a father than a step-grandfather to her and her sister, Mrs. Lee.

Mr. Derricks, whom they called "Papa," had been the only father they knew over the 20-year period from 1916, until the death of the grandmother in 1936.

AFTER THE grandmother's death, the answer said, they lived with the grandfather for 17 years and cared for him in his declining years.

There were many good and compelling reasons, including their long and intimate relationship, that he should remember them in his will, Mrs. Jones said.

MRS. JONES was represented by Stocksdale, Stocksdale and Stocksdale, attorneys, as was Mr. Haile. Mrs. Lee was represented by Senator Harry Cole.

Mrs. Juanita Mitchell and W. A. C. Hughes Jr. were attorneys for Mrs. Berry. Hearing of the case lasted nearly four hours.

Mrs. Berry now has a suit pending in City Court seeking $5,000 damages for services, work, labor and materials furnished to Mr. Derricks at his request.

In their answers to the Circuit Court suit, attorneys for Mr. Haile and Mrs. Lee contend that it is inconsistent for Mrs. Berry to bring suit for damages for services in one court and claim in another court that services were provided under a contract.

Talk flares into debate

A lecture on "The Explosive Middle East" exploded into a heated debate Tuesday night at the membership meeting of the local chapter, American Council Democratic Action at Morgan Christian Center.

Moshe Fisch, first secretary of the Israeli Embassy, was the scheduled speaker, but he only had he finished his presentation before he was sharply challenged by an Arab student.

The student, Yusif Sayigh, a refugee from Israel, took blunt exception to Mr. Erel's assertion that Egypt's acceptance of arms from the Soviet bloc endangered peace in the Middle East.

THE ISRAELI diplomat had sought to discount the belief that the close ties between Israel and the United States pushed Egypt into the arms deal with Czechoslovakia.

He laid the action, rather, to the rivalry between Egypt and Iraq for leadership in the Arab world. He also said that Egypt was trying to influence the impending plebiscite in neighboring Sudan.

Mr. Sayigh, a Johns Hopkins graduate student, disagreed, asserting the Egypt was forced to turn to the Soviet because of her inability to secure arms from the United States and the Western Powers.

HE ALSO declared that peace would be possible between the Arabs and the Jews, if only the Jews would meet the Arabs half way. This, he said, the Israelians thus far have refused to do.

Herbert Fedder, president of the Baltimore ADA chapter, presided.

Officer Scott no. 11 for Sgt.

Officer Harry Scott now stands number 11 on the promotion list for sergeant in the Police Department.

These promotions generally occur in December whenever there is a vacancy.

However, according to Thomas Miller, personnel director in the department, no vacancies exist at present and it may be that Officer Scott and others on the list will have to wait until next year.

The present list expires on Dec. 31.

EACH YEAR, the police commissioner is given a list of 20 names plus a name for each vacancy in the department from which the promotions are made.

Meanwhile, 120 men are undergoing physical examinations pending appointment to the department. The new class for rookie officers begins Feb. 2, 1956.

In Memoriam 1

BEASLEY—In loving memory of my beloved wife, ELLA MAE, who departed this December 18, 1948.
Sweet sweetheart, you and I, in sorrow and in joy.
We shared our pains and happy moments
With love without alloy.
And death shall never end our love
For thru the mist I see
Our joyous home in the sky—
For all eternity.
Devoted Husband, LOUIS

CARR—A tribute of love to my son, CALVIN, on his birthday anniversary.
Across the bridge of memory
To your birthday Calvin dear
Goes my thoughts of sweetness and love
Who dwells in Heaven above.
Gone but not forgotten nor shall you ever be
LOVING MOTHER.

CLARK—In loving memory of my devoted husband, JOHN CLARKEY, who passed December 16, 1954.

It was sweet to say
In the act
Fleeting
A face I love
The best.
And think of him
Who shares
The sun's last ray.
Goes down in
The far of West.
Time was, you
Miss less as the
Time passes
on.
Thus I did on the day of your passing
My absence can never close the door of my heart
And the lamp of my love is still glowing
Deep in my heart lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame I shall keep it
Never darling, I loved you
But our Heavenly Father loved you best.
Devoted Wife, P. ANITA G. CLARK.

FREDERICK—In loving memory of my daughter, LOUISE DIXON, who passed away, December 18, 1944.
Sweet, I'd like to stray
To the road of yesterday,
To the place I see you
Pray
To talk to you a little while.
To let you linger along the way.
That leads us back to yesterday
Memories are treasures that no one can steal.
Your death was a heartache that nothing can heal;
I do not regret you now that you have gone.
But always will remember you no matter how long.
MRS. EVELYN M. FREDERICK, Mother.

DEAR MOTHER, FRANCES R. VALENTINE, who passed away four years ago today, December 18, 1951.
Dear Mother, O, how we miss you
Your smiling face
There is no one who can take your place
We often sit and think of you
And then a sweet voice whispers in our ears:
"Fear not I'm always near."
Loving Daughters, CARRIE D. ROBERTS, DELLA BRIGHT

DANIEL VALENTINE
MARIA HUGHLETTE

WATERS—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, LAURA J., who departed this life December 17, 1936:
A wonderful wife, mother and God.
One who was better God never made.
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true
One in a million, that one was you.
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Her sympathy was true and true.
Loved by your friends, and all those you knew.
Oh wonderful one, that one was you.
Husband and Daughter, FLOSSIE W. JONES.
