Flying Nesbits join Magicians

"The Flying Nesbits," sensational acrobatic family of Washington are featured half-time attractions with the sensational Harlem Magicians basketball squad featuring Reese (Goose) Tatum and Marquess Haynes of Harlem Globetrotter fame.

The double barrelled attraction of the Magicians and the Nesbits are considered one of the greatest winter sports attractions of all times. The combination is beginning a world tour from their headquarters in Des Moines, Ia.

The tour will include the New York Olympians, a group of white former college all stars who attempt to try to match the antics of the Magicians on the court.

The Nesbits can be remembered by Washingtonians as a product of the 12th St. YMCA. They included husband and wife and child. The group recently won a national amateur contest at the Harlem's Apollo Theatre.

Both Want To Win

DUNBAR

"I guess we might as well place them on notice that we are out to win," Coach William (Sugar) Cain declared Monday as his squad took its final workouts for Friday's traditional Douglass-Dunbar grid classic at Druid Hill Park.

Coach Cain and his assistant, Archie Lewis, both agreed that the Dunbar eleven is in top condition for the season's closing game.

"We think that our chances are as good as theirs, and we should be in there if we play the kind of ball we played against Carver in the second half last week," Coach Cain declared.

Still smarting from their last year's 8-7 defeat which resulted after an official called a past interference penalty in the last few seconds of play, the Dunbar team, which has won 2 and lost 2 for the season, is out to make it 3 and 2.

Since Coach Cain's arrival at the school in 1944, the Dunbar team has won 5 of its contests with Douglass, lost 4 and tied 1.

* * *

TWO STUDENT assemblies have been held at the school this week during which Mrs. Vivian E. Cook, Dunbar principal, has issued stern warnings against any disorder or fighting following the game such as marred last year's contest.

Coach Cain announced the following starting lineup:

DOUGLASS

"Although we have played only one game this year, I want this victory, the team wants it, and the student body wants it," Mr. Dunn said.

That's what Coach William Payne had to say about his Douglass Ducks, Wednesday, who face Dunbar 2:45 p.m. today.

"The team is in good physical shape and I know the boys will give a good account of themselves.

"Last year we won the championship. We have the same team for Friday's game but we have had practically nothing to do this year," Coach Payne stated.

* * *

IN THEIR first and only game, Douglass battled Bates in a 0-0 game in Annapolis two weeks ago.

The Ducks mentor also commented that "no single player will carry the game.

"I'm not even sure of just whom I'm going to start until the most time to go on the field."

In team Capt. Louis Gross and Robert Owens Dunbar will have their hands full all afternoon.

The best runner on the squad, the speedy Gross, who has been played at left half. Owens, a converted linebacker, played defensive end in 1954.

Trotters rate Arnelle high

Abe Saperstein, owner - coach and guiding genius of the great Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, will be here in Baltimore late this month, believes he scored a terrific scoop in signing Jesse Arnelle, last season's Penn State All-American.

Saperstein had to bid high against a number of league clubs to get Arnelle's signature on a contract at the conclusion of Jesse's collegiate career, but the move is already paying dividends.

Saperstein took the high-scoring ace to Europe last summer on the Globetrotters' sixth annual tour of the continent and Arnelle fit into the machine like he had been born for it.

Six feet, five inches tall, extremely fast and agile for his 230 pounds, the 21-year-old youth from New Rochelle, N.Y., is doing everything well in a Globetrotter uniform. Saperstein regards him as one of the finest first-year men ever to make the team. He predicts even greater things for him in the future.

Bisons go after 4th win in soccer

WASHINGTON

The Howard University soccer team will meet West Chester State College of Pennsylvania, 1953 national champions, at Howard Stadium Friday (today). Game time is 2:00 p.m.

This will be the first meeting of the teams this year. They met in the postseason game of 1954 which West Chester won, 7-0. West Chester is undefeated this season.

To date, Howard has a record of three wins and one loss. The Bisons drubbed the season opener to Queens College, of New York, but have since been over American University, Georgetown, and Lincoln, of Pennsylvania.

Two treated for crash injuries

Two persons were treated at Sinai Hospital, Monday for injuries suffered when cars in which they were riding collided at the corner of Pennsylvania Ave. and Wilson St., at 6:40 a.m.

Lucius McDaniel, 49, of 1802 Thomas Ave., the driver of one car, received lacerations of the right leg. His Mary Joyner, a passenger in the second vehicle, was treated for injuries of the neck and shoulders.

Tansill case still pending

The board of directors at Georgetown University has not yet met on the case of Prof. Charles C. Tansil, whose alleged remarks about race caused a furore in the press recently.

At the time University officials It was also indicated that the board of directors would take action.

Dear Boss

November 3, 1955

Dear Boss:

The other day I wrote a story in the AFRO which I have since regretted. And for the life of me I can't understand now how I let myself in for such a thing.

It was that article on the high school athletic situation, in which I suggested that things are beginning to acquiesce about playing against Douglass, Dunbar, etc., after being told his boys had engaged in practices with Douglass and things had worked out well.

A little later, I began to take stock of myself and started wondering when I got to the point that I was ready to accept that sort of pat-on-the head assurance.

So, I decided to talk with the principal in question, L. G. Woelper, of Patterson Park High School. He said to me that his school is willing to play.

I had been told by reliable sources that Mr. Woelper and Wendell E. Dunn, principal at Forest Park High, had been quoted as saying they would never countenance games between their schools and teams like these mentioned above.

True, my conversation with him was a very brief one. But it was sufficiently long to have him say: "We're willing to play any of them, end of quote." And when I followed up his expression of willingness to play by the query, "Well, why don't you?" he simply repeated, "end of quote" in reply.

Anyway, that's what the man said, chief.

Now, to get back to the original point of this memo, I'm wondering why it should be so difficult for Mr. Woelper and Mr. Dunn says.

Incidentally, the Forest Park principal refused to answer one way or the other when he was asked whether Forest Park had any objection to playing against Douglass, etc.

"No comment," was his terse reply.

As I started to say, the willingness or unwillingness of any principal(or principals should be a small consideration if the Baltimore school system has any serious intention of accepting the ruling of the United States Supreme Court as the law of the land.

It is disgraceful that one, two, five, nine or 20 lowly high school principals should be in a position to dictate when and whether there is to be full integration in education in this city.

It is for the School Board to tell them so. I want the life of me understand why it hasn't already done so.

As for me, and my previous story, it disgusts me to even think about my part in acceptance of the he-said-it'll-be-alright-soon business.

But look, chief, the principals at Douglass, Dunbar and Carver don't seem to be doing all they can about the matter, either. Neither do their Parent-Teacher Associations.

I'll drop you a line next week on what, if any, fight they've shown in this thing. Till then,

SAM LACY

GPO's bowlers have many upsets

WASHINGTON

Many upsets rounded out the first 15 games of league competition in the Government Printing Office Bowling League.

A hard fighting Panther team, led by Bradley Clark, knocked off the league leading Sharks by taking three games.

The Seals, fighting back to remain in contention with the fine playing of Dan Battles and Sadie Ashton, defeated the Tigers three games.

The Falcons continued their winning ways behind the pitching of Buster Braxton and Ed Cole. They defeated the fighting Eagles two to one to take over the league lead.

Penn. RR opens new offices in Baltimore

Headquarters of the new Chesapeake Region of the Pennsylvania Railroad were activated here Tuesday, emphasizing the importance of this city as a rail center.

Under the direction of John A. Schwab, regional manager, the larger administrative unit is one of nine in the Pennsylvania system. Mr. Schwab and his staff have offices in the Pennsylvania Station on the second, third and fourth floors.

Tot hit by car escapes injury

Ronald Lawson, 4, of the 1080 block of Lafayette Ave., escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when he was struck by a car driven by Argie Duke, 40, of the 2100 block of Barclay St.

Police said that the tot ran into the path of the car at the corner of Carrollton Ave. and Fayette St. No injuries were found during an examination at Franklin Square Hospital.
