NAACP's fall drive close to success

The current drive of the Baltimore Branch of the NAACP for 10,000 members is nearing its closing stages with Sunday, Oct. 30, set as the final report night at Bethel AME Church, Druid Hill Ave. and Lanvale St.

At that time, Mrs. Mamie Bradley, mother of Emmett Till, Mississippi lynch victim, will be the guest speaker. A total of 7,100 members and $21,54.87 in cash has already been reported, and John Flamer, campaign director, has urged all volunteers to make their final reports on Sunday at 8 p.m.

DR. CHARLES WATTS and Dr. J. E. T. Camprer, co-chairmen of the Mississippi Legal Redress Fund, have reported that $3000 has been sent to Thurgood Marshall, NAACP counsel in New York City.

They also announced a city-wide emergency drive to raise the balance of $2,000 due on the $5,000 pledged at the Dr. T. R. M. Howard meeting on September 25.

Dr. Carl Murphy, chairman of the campaign, personally raised $2,500 in large gifts. Mrs. Augusta T. Chissell, chairman of the interracial committee, reported a total to date of $1,028.

• • •

THE LIFE Membership Committee, composed of life members of the branch, under the direction of Mrs. P. D. G. Pennington, president of the Baltimore Links, and Mrs. Charles T. Woodland, Women's Auxiliary of the Monumental Medical Association has reported to date a total of $2,555.

They secured 13 new life members, exceeding their goal of ten.

Among the divisions, in closing competition, the Dodgers under the leadership of Mrs. Sarah F. Diggs and Raymond A. C. Young, (Northwest Baltimore), were in the lead with 2,485 members and $6,563.21.

Wife talks, fined — husband has to pay

Getting a wife to keep quiet when she wants to talk can be quite a job.

It can also be a bit expensive, as James Dunloggin of the 800 Block of W. Saratoga St., found out Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunloggin appeared before Magistrate Lindwood G. Koger Sr. in Northwestern Police Court on charges of disorderly conduct after a taxi driver complained that Mrs. Dunloggin had broken his car window.

• • •

THE WHOLE affair, according to the arresting officers, took place Sunday night at the corner of North Ave. and Payson St.

Mr. Dunloggin said that he had been trying to get his wife to keep quiet so that they wouldn't get into trouble. Mrs. Dunloggin said that her husband had struck her.

The two arresting policemen said that Mrs. Dunloggin had taken off her shoe, and in trying to hit her husband, had broken the cab window.

• • •

THE CAB driver said nothing, other than that his window repairs would cost $17.95.

The magistrate dismissed Mr. Dunloggin. He fined Mrs. Dunloggin $15 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge, and ordered the cabbie's window paid for immediately.

Mrs. Dunloggin kept quiet. Mr. Dunloggin dug down into his wallet to take care of her fine and the cab window.

The woman pays - huh?

10 are appointed as police officers

One woman and nine men were among the 58 probationary police officers who took their oath of office in Superior Court, Thursday morning and were admitted to the Police Academy in the Northern District.

The new policewoman is Miss Eleanor T. Truman, 2700 N. Longwood St., sister-in-law of tive Sgt. Hiram Butler, wood St., sister-in-law of Detec-
