COMMENCEMENT HELD AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Interesting Exercises Witnessed At The Old Institution

Washington College held its 136th Commencement this week, beginning on Sunday morning, when Dr. James W. Cain, president of the college, delivered an interesting and instructive baccalaureate sermon. In the evening Dr. J. L. Ward made an excellent address to the Y. M. C. A. of the College in Christ Church.

On Monday evening the fourth annual debate for the Samuel Towner Rogers prizes was held in William Smith Hall. The question for debate was: "Resolved, that the present system of government control of railroads should continue after the war." Miss Ruby Josephine Graham and Mr. Clyde Everett Bounds presented argument for the affirmative; and Miss Harriette Staples Welch and Mr. Page Gibbons Young, the negative. The judges decided in favor of the negative, and the prizes were awarded to Page Gibbons Young, first, and Clyde Everett Bounds, second.

On Tuesday morning the declamation contest for the Simpers medals was held. The contestants were: Miss Grace Nickerson, "The Revolutionary Rising"; Miss Evelyn Russell, "Why We Are At War;" and Harold Carleton Wickard, "President Wilson's "Flag Day" address. The judges were Drs. Micou, Hall and Jones, who awarded first honors to Miss Russell and second to Mr. Wickard.

On Tuesday evening the contest for the Visitors and Governors Medal for Oratory was held. Mr. Henry Thomas Hollingsworth won first honor, while Mr. Clinton Wyatt Corbin won second honor.

On Wednesday morning commencement proper was held in William Smith Hall. The procession formed in front of Middle Hall in the following order: the band, the undergraduates, the graduating class, the recipients of the Master's Degree, the recipients of Honorary Degrees, the Faculty, the Visitors and Governors.

The Commencement exercises were unusually interesting. The honor orations were thoughtful and interesting and very well delivered. Hon. Clarence Perkins held the attention of the audience to the end with his timely and instructive address on "Education and Patriotism." Dr. Cain was very impressive, both in introducing Mr. Perkins and in presenting the flag and there was regret that this commencement would be the last he would have here.

The Service Flag showed 131 young men who were willing to lay down their careers and youthful ambitions and their lives if necessary at the call of their country.

The program for the morning was as follows: The Star Spangled Banner, Orchestra; Invocation; Overture, "Zampa," Orchestra; Second Honor Oration and Salutory, "Entente Ideals" Emily Frances Howard, Chestertown; Polonaise, "Militaire," Orchestra; First Honor Oration and Valedictory, "The College Man and the War," Edgar Allen McGinnes, Millington; Novelette, "Laces and Graces," orchestra; Address to the Graduating Class, Hon. Clarence W. Perkins, Baltimore; Conferring of Degrees Upon Examination; Conferring of Honorary Degrees; March, "We're Going Over," Orchestra; Awarding of Prizes; Presentation of the Class Shield, Charles Samuel Adkins; Acceptance of the Shield, On behalf of the Faculty, President Cain; on behalf of the Students, Edwin Clyde Walls, '19; Presentation of the Service Flag; "America," the audience and orchestra; Benediction. The Fifth Regiment Orchestra furnished the music.

The following were the graduates and the degrees conferred:

Bachelor of Arts—Hope Horsey Barroll, Jr., extra ordinem, Chestertown; Charles Samuel Adkins, Newark; Edward Cain, cum laude, Chestertown; George Rodney Crowther, Jr., cum laude, Smithburg, Md.; Mark Sheldon Dolbey, cum laude, White Haven, Md.; Gladys Theresa Hatcherson, Chestertown; Emily Frances Howard, magna cum laude, Chestertown; Edgar Allen McGinnes, magna cum laude, Millington; Nicholas Hocking Metzger, cum laude, Frostburg, Md.; Martha Rebekah Pennington, cum laude, Millington; Susan Roberts Stam, cum laude, Chestertown; Levin Paul Taylor, extra ordinem, Quantico, Md.; Charles Merritt Twilley, Chestertown; Polly W. Westcott, cum laude, Chestertown.

Bachelor of Science—William Floyd Brown, extra ordinem, Chestertown; William Sterner Campbell, cum laude, North East, Md.; Clinton Wyatt Corbin, Tylerton, Md.; Henry Thomas Hollingsworth, Denton, Md.; Harry Jewell Rouse, Chestertown; Charles Lewis Schelberg, Queenstown, Md.; Clarence Lee Seward, extra ordinem, Cambridge, Md.; Samuel Irving Sparks, extra ordinem, Chestertown; William Jennings Wallace, extra ordinem, Church Hill; Albert Jessop Wilmer, cum laude, Chestertown.

Master of Arts—Charles Foster Monzani, A. B., Washington College 1917; graduate student and instructor in modern languages 1917-1918.

Master of Science—William Carey Miles, B. S., Washington, 1914; graduate student at the University of Michigan, 1914-1915; inventor of valuable electrical devices; LL. B. and M. P. L., Georgetown University, 1918. Irwin Oliver Ridgely, B. S., Washington College, 1913; M. D., University of Maryland, 1918.

Doctor of Divinity—Sewell Norris Pilchard, educated under private instructors; completed the Conference Course of the M. E. Church and ordained minister, 1886; Chaplain in the United States Army, 1896 to 1901; Examiner in the M. E. Conference, 1905 to 1915.

Doctor of Science—J. S. William Jones, A. B., Washington College, 1889; A. M., 1892; Professor of Mathematics since 1892.

The following prizes were given besides those mentioned:

The Valk Medal for Excellence in Mathematics during the first three years of the college course, Edgar Allen McGinnes.

Visitors and Governors Medal for the highest average in the Junior Class, Carroll Edward Bounds.

The following students attained an average of 90 or over and were distinguished in scholarship: Edgar Allen McGinnes, Emily Frances Howard, Martha Rebekah Pennington, Evelyn Russell, Polly Wickes Westcott.

The following students received no demerits during the year: Gladys Theresa Hatcherson, Emily Franecs Howard, Polly Wickes Westcott, Ruby Josephine Graham, Harriett Staples Welch, Jesse Marion Huffington, Clarence Leon Carroll, Grace Nickerson.

On Wednesday night the Commencement ball was held. The night was an ideal one for the ball and people from several counties were present.
