Chestertown Party Robbed.

Threatened with annihilation by a heavily armed negro highwayman, who pointed a savage looking pistol into their faces, a Chestertown couple while motoring from this place to Wilmington recently were relieved of the valuables they had with them, consisting of jewelry worth upwards of $250, according to a Wilmington paper.

The hold-up occurred at about 9.20 o'clock at a lonely place on the road leading north out of Odessa, a short distance above the town. One of the tires on the car had been punctured and the party stopped there to make repairs. The work on the tire had just been completed and the party was about to proceed, when the negro, who evidently had been hiding in the heavy underbrush along the road, sprang out, pointed his gun and shouted "hands up."

There was nothing to do but comply, as the motor party was unarmed, and the result was that the highwayman got a wallet, containing about $72, a diamond ring and wedding ring and other jewelry from the lady, which appeared to be satisfactory to the thief, who next gave the command to "get aboard, start north and don't look back."

So the motorists started off and went direct to Wilmington, seeing nothing further of the negro and having no more trouble.

James E. Caldwell

Last week we made mention of the death on the fields of France of Mr. James E. Caldwell, of Galena. He is the second of Kent's sons to [illegible] up his life in the interest of civilization and his name will be placed on the imperishable scroll of the nation's heroes.

At the time of his enlistment he was a book-keeper at Hotel Dupont, Wilmington. He was born in Galena 27 yrs. ago. He went to Wilmington when a youth and took a course in Goldey College, graduating with honor in the class of 1914. "He was an exemplary young man," said William E. Douglas, president of Goldey College, "and was distinguished for his faithfulness, uprightness, ability and high degree of earnestness. He was exceedingly popular with students and faculty and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. It is with the deepest sorrow that I hear of his death, but his life has been given in a worthy cause."

Following his graduation from Goldey College Mr. Caldwell obtained a clerical position in the office of the Delaware workhouse, later taking a similar position with the Wilmington Gas Co., going from the Gas Co. office to the Hotel du Pont. At each place he maintained the reputation he had established at the college. He lived at 813 Madison street, Wilmington, prior to his enlistment and enlisted in Philadelphia.

He was sent with his command to France last September and had been communicating with relatives here and in Wilmington. He is believed to have been the first Delaware boy to have been killed in action in the war.
