We Do Not Issue a Catalogue

of our stocks, for the very good reason that styles change so frequently that it is not practicable to do so.

¶ But, by addressing an inquiry to our Mail Shopping Service, you can get full and accurate descriptions and prices of any merchandise in our store.

¶ For instance, if you are considering the purchase of a new blouse (the approved term for a woman's waist), a postal or letter from you will be answered by us, giving the prices and styles of the blouses of the material you prefer. If there is some hard-to-get shade that you have in mind, it is safe to say that we have it among our stocks.

¶ Perhaps you are wondering of what fabrics the new frocks should be made? We will gladly send samples of the most favored materials, if you state whether you want silk or cotton fabrics.

¶ And so our shoppers by mail find it easy to secure satisfactory service by dealing with Baltimore's Best Store.

May we be of assistance to you in solving your shopping problems?

SUGAR WILL GO ROUND IF NONE IS WASTED

Because the supply of sugar is not large enough to meet the country's normal demand and, at the same time, build up a reserve to take care of any emergency, the Food Administration has set two pounds as the largest purchase a city householder can make at one time except for canning or preserving, when a written certificate will permit the buying of 25 pounds. In the country, where shopping is not so easy, the allowance is five pounds for general use and 50 pounds for preserving. It is further stipulated that all sugar not used in the latter way must be returned.

There is plenty of sugar awaiting shipment from Cuba, but for two reasons the amount reaching the United States is variable and small. Some dealers there have been holding out for more than a fair price. And, secondly, the demand upon ship tonnage for wheat-carriage overseas does not leave many vessels available to ply between West Indian and American ports. Thus our supply is far below normal and it is up to us so to adjust our demand that that reduced supply will still go round and meet all actual needs.

Fortunately, there are plenty of substitute sweeteners such as honey, corn syrup, and maple syrup, which will amply take the place of sugar. Perhaps they will cost a little more—but after all this war is rather an expensive business. Experiment with these substitutes and let your fellow-patriots know of your successes. One club has eliminated sugar from its ice cream, using the three above-named substitutes instead. Most of the members are epicures, but they haven't suspected the change. As the steward said to a Food Administration representative, "What they don't know won't hurt them."

Hotels and restaurants, as usual, are co-operating towards reducing the consumption of sugar. One successful device is to keep the sugar bowl out of sight and serve that precious sweetener only on demand. The same practice is recommended by the Food Administration to all Maryland homes.

In Canada, where the shortage is even greater than in the U. S. A., only two teaspoonfuls or the lump equivalent are permitted with one order. It is usually served in small envelopes. At other places two tiny cubes are presented on a small saucer, which certainly impresses upon the patron the value of what he is getting. Sometimes these cubes are wrapped in paper but, in the experience of one restauranteur, that offered too great a temptation for some lady patrons. So much went home in their handbags that he now serves granulated sugar in fluted paper such as candies sometimes come in.

There are many ways of saving sugar. Try them all. Avoid waste and use substitutes.

CHEESE AND POTATO CROQUETTES.
(Official Recipe.)

One cup cottage cheese, two tablespoons chopped parsley, one teaspoon chopped green pepper, one-quarter teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne and dash of paprika.

Mix these ingredients very thoroughly and form into small rolls. Then embed the rolls in mashed potatoes which have been seasoned with salt and pepper, forming a larger roll of each. Roll the finished croquettes in egg and bread crumbs and fry in a pan containing about one tablespoon of hot fat or brush with melted fat and brown in a hot oven.

Is the name of the public eating place of which you are either a proprietor or a patron on the Maryland Food Administration's Honor Roll of those which are abstaining from all wheat products until the next harvest is in?

What does the enemy care whether food is sunk in the sea or thrown into the garbage can? It is all the same to the Kaiser.

Wheat shipments from the Argentine to Great Britain for the first week in June were 2,411,000 bushels as against 150,000 for the corresponding week last year. The total shipment since January 1st is over twice as much as during the first five months of 1917.

SHOW HOW TO DRY FOOD.

Baltimore.—Practical demonstration is the easiest way of teaching, and, therefore, the installation by the United States Food Administration of a Dehydrating Plant at the local War Food Bureau. It is pointed out that the drying of fruits and vegetables this summer is a duty of vital importance which should be undertaken by every woman who wants to do her bit towards winning the war. Dried vegetables require only a small fraction of the storage and railway facilities required for either fresh or canned products. The cost of paper containers is one-twentieth that of cans and one-fifteenth that of glass jars.

Preserving, however, has its admirers, and the Department of Agriculture is putting up in the Eastern High School a pressure canner, through the use of which four hundred jars can be ready for use in eight hours. Demonstrations in both drying and canning will be given at 1.30 P. M. each day. The knowledge there imparted should prove invaluable to all housewives who wish to prepare against any food shortage next winter.

Sugar was practically unknown before the birth of Christ. It is supposed to have originated in India, where it was known as the "Sweet sticks of the East."

Ice cream can be suitably sweetened with two pounds honey, one pound corn syrup, and one pound maple syrup to each two gallons of liquid.

A Poem By A Kent Boy

The following poem was written by Private Elliott F. Boulter and sent to us by a friend of his. Private Boulter is a Kent county boy and is now at Camp Meade training to be a soldier.

We are going to a foreign country,
But we are not going there to stay;
We are going to show the Kaiser,
And we are going to make him pay
For every crime that has been committed
And for every soul that has been lost.
But we are going to show the Kaiser
That us Yankee boys are boss—
For we are going to be boss, friends—
Over them foreign lands,
And we are going to show them people
Just where their master stands.
And it will be easy enough to do this,
For God is always right,
And we are going to lick Germany
If we have to fight day and night.
And when we get the Kaiser
And our captain says 'tis well,
We'll throw the gates wide open,
And kick him into h—l.

(Statement given May 27, 1911.)

On August 15, 1916, Mr. Robinson added: "I have had no kidney trouble since I was cured and haven't had to use Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time."
