STROLLING THE AVENUE

A "Rock and Roll" show top all such affairs is in the offing this Wednesday when "The Top Ten" comes rolling into Baltimore for a show at the Coliseum. Headlining the aggregation will be such luminaries of the art as the Clovers, Faye Adams, Joe Turner, Bill Doggett, the Charms, Bo-Did-Li, the Five Keys, Paul Williams, Gene and Eunice, Al Jackson, Ella James and Paul Williams.

If this show doesn't draw the folks, we'll miss our guess. It's been a long time since so much talent has been concentrated on a single offering.

And speaking of rhythm and blues, one of the nation's top exponents of that form of music can currently be viewed in person and in the flesh at the place where good shows are a habit, the COMEDY CLUB.

* * *

THE RAVENS closed out their engagement on Sunday and from all reports that did a wonderful business and scene a sure shot for a repeat date in the near future.

* * *

THE KAPPA Cabaret Party is set for Saturday, Oct. 15 at the Coliseum. The party will be held after Morgan's homecoming game and will have Milton Buckner and the Emasons serving up the entertainment dishes.

Over in Germany, folks seem to take their jazz very seriously. The grandddaddy of them all, Louis Armstrong, was playing a concert in Hamburg and some of the patrons were heard to remark that they couldn't hear Louis blow.

Next thing you know, the police had their hands full of music lovers, as a full fledged riot started to the strains of "When the Saints Come Marching In." Total damage—$2,500.

LOVELY ETHEL ENNIS, who is doing such a wonderful job at RICTOR'S RED FOX LOUNGE had quite an experience in New York at the time she was pressing a test record. She just finished her session when into the studio walked Frankie Lane, Mitch Miller; and about 50 musicians.

"They were all wonderful and I hope that someday I will be able to commend all that attention," says Ethel.

Chances are with that wonderful voice she uses so well, the lovely lady will reach the rarified atmosphere of the big time, where they give you men like Mitch Miller to help you and 50 musicians to play out their hearts.

Latest place to join Along the Avenue is CHICK'S at Baltimore and Greene Sts., where Herman Hill is handling the music and the living is easy. The outfit that Hill heads is one of the smoothest sounding ones in the city, and one that keeps embellishing its reputation with new tunes and arrangements.

THE LAS VEGAS has Cal Tyndler this week and on Sunday the Baltimore Racquet Club will sponsor a cocktail party there. Coming up at the club are a number of star attractions.

On Nov. 8 it will be Erroll Garner; on Nov. 15 the velvet fog tones of Mel Torme and on Dec. 6, the English gentleman with the gentle touch, George Shearing.

After his automobile accident Lionel Hampton underwent a four-hour operation on his ankle in Albuquerque, N. Mex. His condition is good.

Jerome Washington is over at the BERMUDA BAR, 1801 E. North Ave., the Seven Tilters are CLUB ORLEANS' has the Stan Moore Trio; the Tune Toppers are at the CLOVER CLUB.

The SAVOY is offering the musical talents of the Five Crystal Cats; JONES COCKTAIL LOUNGE IS GOING STRONG W LOUNGE is going strong with its fall festival, and RICH'S TAVERN, 1347 Poplar Grove St. and JERRY'S BAR AND GRILL, Edmondson Ave. and Franklintown Rd., are places in which to enjoy yourself.

That's it. Have fun.

Body of man found in river in morgue

The body of an unidentified man, found floating in the Bush River in Hereford County last Friday is in the Baltimore City Morgue.

Thought to be between 45 and 60 years old, the body had been in the water from 10 days to two weeks, the medical examiner reported.

State police at Benson, Md., said there was no evidence of foul play. The discovery was made around 4 p.m. by a fisherman who saw the body about 25 feet from shore.

The site where it was found is about 1000 feet east of the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge near Willoughby Beach Rd.

* * *

THE MAN is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 155 pounds. He was wearing only khaki shorts when discovered.

The man is bald, has short grey hair around the ears, has a moustache and callous or hard growth on the knuckle of his right thumb.

A report on the cause of the death is still pending an autopsy report.

Children one to 11 can get vaccine

The Maryland State and Baltimore City Health Departments, after conferring with their medical and statistical advisers, has announced that the current priority established some time ago restricting poliomyelitis vaccine to five through nine year old children, has been extended, effective at once, in keeping with the new national policy.

On the basis of careful studies of the paralytic poliomyelitis case rates by separate years of age during the past five-year period, it has been determined for Baltimore City and for the Counties of Maryland, to extend the age limits downward four years and upwards one year.

THIS MEANS that the new priority group will make eligible for poliomyelitis vaccine any child in Maryland more than one year old and less than eleven years old.

It will be several months before pregnant women will be in need of poliomyelitis vaccine because the next polio season in Maryland begins about July 1, 1956. Therefore there is no need for action in regard to this group at the present time.

Bates wins 4th straight; tops Dunbar (D.C.) 14-0

By BOB PINKNEY

ANNAPOLIS — A fired - up Bates High School football team with end Ralph Herndon taking over the quarterbacking chore due to the last minute injury to Elton Snowden, won its fourth straight victory of the season Monday afternoon by downing Dunbar High of Washington, 14 - 0.

Against a much better and more experienced Dunbar eleven, coach James Webb's hard running Little Giants completely outplayed its foe from start to closing time. Bates was picking up its first victory over the Poets since 1951.

Bates, who should have little trouble with Douglass in the more Monday afternoon on its own domain, didn't get started until the second quarter when the lanky Herndon, a 6 - 3 senior, passed 16 yards to halfback Reginald Hicks.

* * *

WITH LESS than five minutes remaining in the second quarter, Herndon pushed coach Bill (Cugar) Cain's team deep into its own territory on a sparkling 45 - yard punt.

On this initial play, center Lawrence Brown mopped up a Dunbar fumble on the Bears's 16, as Dunbar was penalized on second down.

With coach Cain recalling the Bates defense perhaps the best in the Washington area, including potent Dunbar, which Bates plays here November 11, the Little Giant front wall men — Wells, Albert Pearman, William Booth and Brown, held the D.C. gridders and only in the final moments did Dunbar threaten.

* * *

HERNDON'S punting was a key factor in Dunbar's second loss of the season as his kicking led to Bates' safety in the third period when Brown jumped through to nail halfback Elmore Jones behind the goal line.

Bates' final touchdown and certainly its prettiest scoring play of the year came when Hyman, a bulky right guard, snatched Arter's pass on the 41 and dashed through the entire Dunbar line for the score. The try-for extra point failed.

EXTRA POINTS — It was the first time since 1947 that a Bates High School team has won four straight contests in a row.

Coach Webb, after the game, commended his whole team on the fine effort they made in trimming the heavy favorite Dunbar team.

Bates proved that this win, although having won their first three encounters on the rifle arm of Snowden, was a team effort. The injured quarterback watched from the sidelines in street clothes.

Against Douglass, Bates lost 31 - 13 in 1952, but roared back the following year to win 12 - 6, only to settle for a 6 - 6 tie last year at Morgan State College.
