LOCAL MATTERS

Marriage Licenses.—Marriage licenses have been issued recently in the Clerk's office for the following: Michael Camgro and Celia Lusent, of Philadelphia; Samuel Zinman and Marcelle Schwartz, of New Castle, Del.

Mr. Schoenrich Crippled. — Mr. Schoenrich, a graduate of Washington College last year, who enlisted and was stationed at Camp Meade for some time, was in town this week. Mr. Schoenrich had the misfortune to have a wheel of a railroad train run over one of his feet and has lost a part of it as a result.

Swept To Death During Hurricane.—Capt. Alvin Downey, of Annapolis, formerly of Rock Hall, was swept from the deck of the U. S. salvage ship, "Hatie Gage," during a hurricane recently off the North Carolina coast and was drowned. He leaves a widow and three grown children. The whole crew was probably drowned.

Dogs Poisoned.—Some one has again laid poison out and as a result a number of dogs died last week. Mr. Laurence E. Duyer lost a rabbit dog; Mr. Benjamin E. Rust lost a bird dog; the dog at the race track died also from the same cause last week. Something should be done to put a stop to this. Every dog poisoned has been one upon which taxes are paid and every one has been harmless.

Memorial Service Held At Galena.—A beautiful memorial service was held in Olivet M. E. Church, Galena, last Sunday morning in honor of Private James Caldwell, who gave his life for his country in France. The church was decorated with cut flowers sent by his many friends and the Service Flag with the gold star was displayed. Rev. Frank White had charge of the service. The choir sang "Lead Kindly Light" and Miss Anna Vansant sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Mr. Frank Ruth had composed a beautiful poem for the occasion, which he recited.

Red Cross Supper.—The Rich Neck Red Cross will hold a chicken supper on the lawn of Mrs. Foster Parker, in Queen Anne's, about a mile from Chester Bridge, on Thursday evening, July 11, beginning at 6 p. m. Autos will meet persons who desire to go on the Queen Anne's side of the bridge and carry them free of charge. The ladies are making big preparations for the affair.

Dreamed Of Money And Found It.—Mr. Edward Armstrong dreamed of money for a half dozen nights recently, and finally dreamed that it was lying at a certain man's step in this town. Upon going his rounds with his papers, Mr. Armstrong found a big "roll," with a fifty-dollar bill on the outside. The "roll" contained about a hundred and fifty dollars and belonged to a certain young lady, who was extremely pleased to have it returned to her.

Filing Questionnaires In Kent.—The young men of Kent who registered June 5 have been busy this week filling out their questionnaires. The classification will be made some time this month and the registrants will be notified of their position in the draft. If dissatisfied with the action of the local board an appeal may be made to the District Board, which will review the decision of the local board. Of the hundred odd registered here, some will be disqualified for physical unfitness; comparatively few have families or dependents. It is thought that over 50 per cent registered will be taken.

Big Fourth At Tolchester.—The 4th of July was an ideal one for the usual festivities of the day in Kent. Tolchester and Betterton were the principal points of interest. At the former place it is estimated that the largest crowd in ten years packed into the resort. Regular fourth of July goers to Tolchester say there were between 6000 and 7000 people there. No accidents of a serious character occurred to mar the occasion. A steady stream of autos poured through Chestertown from early in morning until sunset. Betterton also drew a good many people from the county.

VANSANT & NEWSOME,

Progressive Head-to-Foot Outfitters, Chestertown, Md.

A Hundred And Two Years Old.—Emory Hynson, colored, of Morgnec, was in Chestertown on Tuesday. Hynson says he will be 103 years old on the 10th of August. He is a remarkably well preserved man.

Return To United States.—Mr. W. Russell Wheatley, who has been employed for several years as a telegraph operator on one of the big dailies in Toronto, Canada, last week accepted a similar position on the New York Times. He reported for duty on the Times the first of this week. The Times is one of the most progressive and best dailies in the United States.

A Fatal Fall.—Mrs. William McFarland, of Burrisville, fell down the barn loft at the home of her husband one day this week and died shortly after. Her husband and two of his brothers were helping a farmer near Chesterville, this county, get up hay at the time. Mr. McFarland was notified of the sad accident and left immediately for his home.

Significant Phrases.—Every great war has its striking and familiar phrases. In the Civil War Grant's "we will fight it out along these lines" was prominent. The "I regret to report" of the South African War is remembered. "We have met the enemy and they are ours," was heard often following the Spanish-American War. In the present war, and, especially since the beginning of the great German offensive in March, the phrase that most often recurs in the news despatches from the front is "the ground was littered with heaps of German dead." The significance of this is, for the time being, lost on the people of Germany, who are kept in ignorance of their terrible losses, but it is well known to the people of the Allied countries. It spells the ultimate defeat of the Germans.

Germans In American Uniforms

That German soldiers who lived in the United States before the war, thus being able to speak the American language fluently, are being sent to the front clad in American uniforms, is the startling information conveyed to Mr. John LaTour, of Buffalo, N. Y., by his brother, James Donohue, a private in the U. S. Marine Corps and the first American prisoner to escape from a German prison camp and successfully make his way back to the American lines.

"I saw a number of German soldiers in American uniforms," wrote Donohue, "and all of them could speak English fluently. One of them asked me where I was from and when I told him Buffalo, he laughed and said he had been a waiter in a restaurant there at one time."

Donohue was captured when knocked senseless by a Boche rifle butt and after being made to work night and day digging graves for dead Germans and being spit upon while at work by German officers, he made his escape by hitting his guard over the head with an axe. He made his way back to the American lines, living on some bread and water he took off a German Red Cross dog. He successfully passed through an American barrage while on his way to the American lines.
