Hicks' story Stranger than fiction

Dear AFRO:

I wish everyone could read Jimmy Hicks' story on what went on behind the scenes at that Tilghman trial in Mississippi.

That's a true story even stranger than fiction.

My hat's off to both the AFRO and to Mr. Hicks.

Harvest Casserole

FOR HARVEST Casserole use one stewing chicken, about three pounds, ready-to-c o o k weight, cut up, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one clove garlic, optional, one-half cup fat for frying, three-fourth cup flour, eight onions, one tablespoon salt, eight carrots, two teaspoons paprika, three cups cooked rice, and three cups chicken gravy.

Shake chicken in paper or plastic bag with mixture of the flour, salt, paprika, and pepper. Brown chicken in the moderately hot fat, turning to brown evenly.

If used, add garlic clove. Reduce heat to low, add the water, cover tightly, and continue cooking until chicken is almost fork-tender, about 2½ to three hours. Meanwhile cook vegetables and prepare gravy.

For the gravy, use five-tablespoons fat and five tablespoons of flour and three cups of water or milk. Measure flour into the measured quantity of fat in skillet. Blend and set over low heat.

Cook until frothy, then add the milk or water, all at once. Increase heat and cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Cover and simmer about five minutes. Season to taste.

Line the bottom and sides of a large casserole with the rice. Add chicken and vegetables. Top with the hot gravy. Cover and cook in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 30 minutes, or until gravy is bubbly. Serve from casserole. Eight generous servings.

Schmidt's new hot rolls in 8 minutes

Now, thanks to Schmidt Baking Company, you can have delicious hot rolls for breakfast even though you are dashing off to work; for lunch though you have spent the morning shopping; or for dinner, even when you have overstayed your time at a committee meeting.

And not just "hot rolls", but rolls such as your most admired cook never turned out!

SCHMIDT'S BLUE Ribbon Brown N' Serve rolls, popped into the oven, will be ready for serving by the time you have poached the eggs, or made the salad or warmed the roast. In fact, in less time than it takes to do either!

Schmidt's Blue Ribbon Brown 'N' Serve Rolls take a scant six minutes from the time they are put into the oven to the time they go on the plate.

This Schmidt masterpiece, over a year in development, brings you the speed, the convenience and tantalizing flavor the housewives have sought for years.

The rolls are geared to fit in the quick meal preparation that is the theme of today's modern living.

IN ORDER that you can fully understand the amount of research and investigation that went into the development of Brown 'N' Serve Rolls, here's the story from the beginning.

Carl P. Schmidt, president of the company, and Harold MacManus began to discuss producing such a roll about two years ago.

At that time they decided, how even, that under no circumstances would the Schmidt Baking Company offer a Brown 'N' Serve Roll until they could produce the finest roll possible to bake.

Towards this end they not only sought the advice of experts throughout the country, but also that of experts on baking methods, pans, machinery and production processes.

Finally Mr. Schmidt decided it was necessary to go out in the field where such rolls were selling fast and find out what other bakers were doing and how they were baking their rolls.

DURING THE PAST three months baking has gone on. One test bake after another has been employed to be certain that the ingredients were in balance, and that the rolls had the finest taste and flavor appeal.

A great amount of attention has been paid to the important items: (1) quickness with which the housewife can prepare the rolls; (2) final flavor of the roll in its hot form and (3) palatability of the roll when it has turned cold after baking.

When you buy your first rolls now reaching the market, you, too, will be convinced that the Schmidt Blue Ribbon Brown 'N' Serve Rolls are the finest and most easily and quickly prepared of any you have tried.

Make your own taste test and be convinced.

Hot Cross Buns

Hot cross buns are a favorite breakfast treat, and here is an excellent recipe for making them.

Use 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 tablespoons fat, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 cups scalded milk, 1 egg, 1 cake or package of yeast, and ½ cup lukewarm water, 5-6 cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ cup currants, ⅔ cup confectioners sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, and Top milk.

Place sugar, fat and salt in large mixing bowl, add scalded milk and stir until sugar is dissolved and butter melted. Cool to lukewarm; add beaten egg and the yeast softened in lukewarm water. To 1 cup flour, add cinnamon and yeast, then add currants. With this add enough flour to liquid mixture to make a soft dough that will hold its shape. Knead lightly, return to greased mixed bowl; cover and place in warm spot to double in bulk.

FORM DOUGH into small balls about 1½ inches in diameter. Place on a greased baking sheet, cover with cloth and set in a warm place to again double in size. With a sharp scissors or knife, make two gashes at right angles across each roll. Brush with milk and bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, for 20-25 minutes. While still hot, rush top with confectioners sugar moistened with milk to make a paste.

Cooking Fun

Cream of chicken soup is a favorite at our house, and when we serve it we always garnish it with hearty wedges of ripe olives and finely minced parsley.

This delicious tossed salad is sure to liven up any menu. Combine 1 small head iceberg lettuce, 1 cup cottage cheese, 1 diced red apple, ½ cup each raisins and chopped walnuts and 2 sectioned oranges. Toss together lightly with a little French dressing.

Chocolate waffles are an easy quick dessert to make. In fact make your batter ahead of time and then bake the waffles at the table. A delicious topping is whipped cream sprinkled with chopped salted almonds.

Canned cling peaches and creamy cottage cheese are the makings of dozens of delicious salads. Arrange drained canned cling peach halves on shredded lettuce and fill with cottage cheese mixed with chutney. This is the kind of salad which needs no dressing.

A hot lima bean salad makes hearty fare for a cold day. Cook California large dry limas according to your favorite way, then top with this dressing. Combine ½ teaspoon flour with 1 tablespoon brown sugar, ¼ cup water and 2 tablespoons vinegar. Add 1 beaten egg yolk and cook over hot water until slightly thickened. Pour over the hot limas, toss lightly and sprinkle with crisp bacon bits, minced green onion and parsley.

Treat the kids to a frosty apricot float. Put a scoop of vanilla ice cream in the bottom of a glass. Fill ¼ full with chilled apricot whole fruit nectar. Then finish filling with chilled ginger ale.

Lemon honey dressing is well known for being a creamy dressing to serve with fruit salad. To give it a new and tasty touch use these proportions. Mix ¼ cup honey with 1/3 cup lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon celery seed. Mix thoroughly and chill before using.

Frost your next spice cake with this simple frosting. Combine softened cream cheese with enough honey to give good spreading consistency. Spread on cake and sprinkle generously with pieces of broken walnuts.

In case you're luckly enough to have some fruit cake about the house, serve it this way. Heat the fruit cake, cut into serving sized chunks and top with a tasty apricot whole fruit nectar and honey sauce. Thicken the sauce with cornstarch and flavor with a bit of cinnamon.

MOLASSES EGG NOG

A good builder-upper for the coming winter months is a molasses egg nog at snack time. (Molasses has an available iron content second only to beef liver

Beat the yoke of one egg; add 2 teaspoons of real New Orleans molasses and mix well. Add one cup of cold milk, a few grains each of salt and nutmeg. Beat the egg white stiff and fold in. Serve at once.

SAVORY SEASONING MIX

Handy to have in the refrigerator to glorify the flavor of every-day foods — a savory seasoning mix. Easy to make, too. Just cream together 1 family size can (½ oz.) Underwood Deviled Ham, 1 stick (¼ lb.) butter and a few pinches of your favorite herb — basil for instance.

Use generously as a tangy seasoning to stir into mashed or baked potatoes, sauces, soups, stews, or as an extra-special topping for vegetables.

Stewing chickens rated as one of the best meat buys

There are abundant supplies of chicken now available at very economical prices.

The plentiful supplies of chicken are due to increased marketings of stewing chickens and new and bigger crops of young plump broiler - fryers grown commercially to meet everyday demands for chicken, states Gwendolyne Clyatt, Food Economist, Baltimore Office of the Department of Markets, University of Maryland.

Every member of the family relishes chicken, starting with the toddler who gives his hearty approval of chicken when he is favored with a juicy, sturdy bone.

IN ADDITION to the excellent flavor that chicken meat has, it provides good nutrients.

Like other meats, it has high-quality protein. Chicken contains valuable vitamins and minerals, too.

WHEN YOU bring chicken home from the store, unwrap it and store it carefully in the refrigerator. If it is packed in a film wrapper, remove that covering and wrap the bird loosely in waxed paper.

And, use the chicken as soon as possible after buying to get the best flavor.

The stewing chicken is a popular type chicken and currently listed as a "good buy." Enjoyment of this type chicken should be greater now because today's stewing chicken is meatier and fuller flavored.

Stewing chicken is one of the most versatile of birds and can't be surpassed for family meals for the coming fall days.

These birds are not as tender as the younger ones so they require longer cooking in the presence of moisture.

Chicken can be stewed, braised or simmered. If you do not use the chicken immediately after cooking, then cool it promptly, cover it and store it in the refrigerator.

fore rejoining his ship, but Jackson takes the whole thing philosophically with the tart comment:

"It might have been worse."

LATE LAST Saturday night, Jackson was on his way to catch a bus to the Coast Guard Station at Curtis Bay, where the weather ship, the McCulloch, is tied up.

Passing the tavern, Jackson stopped for a bit of refreshment. The place was crowded and as he made his way to the bar, he was shot.

Wounded in the arm at the same time was John Johnson, 32, 500 block Archer St. He was treated at University and released.

An operation was performed on Jackson as soon as he was admitted to the hospital, but the bullet was left in his body to be removed at another operation.

BY WEDNESDAY, Jackson was able to walk around the hospital ward. Police are still looking for a man described simply as "wearing a blue shirt."

Jackson has been sailing with the Coast Guard 15 years, and will remain five more before he retires. A native of Chatanooga, Tenn., he is the father of three. He is separated from his wife.

When news of the shooting reached his shipmates, ten of them hurried to the hospital to donate blood. Every night has seen at least one crew member show up at the hospital during visiting hours.

Jackson's last words:

"That was my first time in that bar, and you can bet it will be my last."

10 YEARS THAT Rocked the World!

Is this the "NEGRO Century"?

During the decade 1945-1955, American Negroes made greater political, social and economic gains than at any preceding period. What legal steps were taken to give the Negro the legal right to live anywhere? How did the Negro Rock the legal props from under segregation, education and interstate transportation? What pressures were brought to bear to abolish segregation in the armed forces? What led to the series of decisions that restored to the Negro his voting franchise in the South?

In the big, 10th anniversary issue of EBONY magazine, now on your newsstand, read the historic account "10 Years That Rocked The World" ... the picture-packed-and-fact-packed article that shows the famous Negro personalities who made possible the tremendous forward strides of America's nearly 16 million Negroes. See the tremendous achievements that outstanding Negroes have made in sports, politics, business, music, the arts, statesmanship and good citizenship. The fate of the Negro in America is an inspiration to oppressed minorities everywhere in the world.
