LOCAL MATTERS

Caught Big Bass.—Mr. Leslie Needles has caught a number of big bass in the Radcliffe Mill Pond, near Chestertown, recently. Most of these fish were large ones, some weighing as high as four pounds.

Wireless Stations In Kent.—There are now several government wireless and observation stations in Kent. One is at Howell's Point, one at Worton Point, one at Swant Point and one on the Bramble farm, near Tolchester. All are on the bay.

Dr. Cain Has Responsible Position.—Dr. James W. Cain, who resigned as president of Washington College, has accepted a position as vice-president of the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore. This is a very responsible position.

A Big Loss.—Mr. Carroll Wilson recently lost 13 shoats which weighed about 100 lbs. each, three valuable brood sows and a horse. It is believed they died from eating spoiled canned asparagus, which had been thrown in a slop barrel. Mr. Wilson estimates his loss between $500 and $600.

Tomato Louse Doing Damage.—Another enemy to Kent farmers has appeared in the form of a tomato louse, which it is feared will do considerable damage to tomatoes unless means can be found shortly to combat it. The louse has also appeared in Queen Annes county. This is an unknown pest in this county.

Runaway.—An exciting runaway occurred on High street on Wednesday afternoon when a horse, belonging to Mrs. L. S. Costelle, ran away. An old colored man was in the carriage and he soon saw that he could not stop the frightened animal and jumped to the hard High street, near Princess st., being somewhat bruised about the face. The horse ran nearly to the Chester River steamboat wharf before it slowed down, Mr. Arthur Bacchus, the agent, then seizing the bridle of the horse and holding it.

Mr. Parker Sells His Fine Farm.—Mr. Foster Parker has sold his fine farm, "Green Acres," in Queen Annes, near town, to Mr. Frank Price, of Wye Mills, this week, and will move back to Salem, Mass., his former home. The farm contains about 210 acres. Mr. Parker's family is one of the most popular in this section and we are sorry to lose them from our midst. They will leave here about January 1.

$36 To Plant Acre of Wheat.—According to figures prepared by committees of several of the farmers' clubs, of a Western Maryland county, it costs just $36.07 per acre to plant, harvest and market wheat under present prices and conditions. The figures of the committees are based upon investigations made of actual operations on about 100 farms in the county.

Canners and Farmers To Meet July 16.—A government agent will be in Chestertown next Tuesday, July 16, to meet the canners and farmers of Kent and will offer them the influence and co-operation of the government to assemble and distribute the labor necessary to handle the crops. The meeting will be held in the Court House at 2 p. m.

Have Not Heard From Son For Two Months.—Mr. and Mrs. John Hirons are somewhat concerned because they have not heard from their son, Mr. Norman Hirons,—who is in France,—for two months. When last they heard from him he was in a base hospital sick. The overseas mails are very uncertain these days and we hope the young man will be heard from shortly.

Suffrage Meeting Held.—An interesting meeting was held on Friday evening on the Public Square in Chestertown in the interest of Woman's Suffrage. The principal speaker of the evening was Mrs. Walters, of Washington, and she was one of the best lady orators that has spoken here in years. Her address was interesting and to the point. Miss Dorothy Grenier, of Baltimore, also made a short address. A small crowd was present. These speakers have been making a tour of the shore and have met with much enthusiasm for the cause everywhere.

Big Garage Reported Sold.—It is reported that Messrs. A. S. Turner and John N. Bennett have purchased the garage business and the Ford Automobile agency from the Noland Motor Co. The company is compelled to dissolve because Mr. Conlyn Noland and Mr. Ernest Strong, junior members of the firm, have entered military service.

House Robbed.—The home of Mr. William McMakin, the engineer who has charge of the erection of the bridge over the Sassafras river at Georgetown, was robbed last Friday night. A diamond ring, watch, four dollars in a pocketbook, a valuable horseshoe pin and some silver spoons were stolen. No clue has been found of the thief. Mr. and Mrs. McMakin were asleep in the house when the robbery occurred.

Prepare For Winter.—Daily papers describe the residents of various communities throughout the United States as making preparations to keep warm the coming winter by cutting trees. Many women are engaged in this work in some parts of the country. Last winter meetings were held here for the purpose of relieving the fuel famine, if possible. We are sure all will be done possible in Kent to insure fuel for Kent next winter.

War Savings Sales.—The total sales of war savings and thrift stamps by the various postoffices in the county for the month ended June 30, 1918, are as follows: Chestertown, $14,294.40; Betterton, $2,644.57; Blacks, $434.76; Galena, $4,453.48; Golt, $673.18; Kennedyville, $1,804.62; Locust Grove, $98.40; Lynch, $43.27; Massey, $406.85; Millington, $4,149.98; Rock Hall, $7,543.52; Still Pond, $1,029.38; Worton, $343.53; total, $37,919.94.

Lieut. Kibler In Big Raid On Huns.—Lieut. J. Thomas Kibler was in the recent raid on the Huns in France when they were driven back several miles. Several bullets pierced his clothes and a number about him were killed, but he escaped uninjured. The Huns were beaten thoroughly by Lieut. Kibler's division. At last reports he was on his way to a hospital to have the fourth finger on the right hand taken off.

Pig Died In Milk Can.—A pig missing from the stye on the farm of W. C. Money near Townsend, Del., kept the tenant and several farm hands on the farm busy in making a search one morning recently. Finally a farm hand found the pig dead in a milk can that had been left overturned in the back yard. The pig had evidently crawled into the can to feast on milk and could not get out, dying of exhaustion in trying to extricate itself from the improvised trap.

Wheat Yields.—The following have threshed wheat and their yields are as follows per acre: Josiah Massey, 22 bu.; Edward Robinson, 20 bu.; H. C. Lusby, 21 bu.; Joseph Moffett, 30 bu.; Leon Brown, 17 bu.; Frank Coleman, 15 bu.; Grover Coleman, 20 bu.; J. T. Smith, 20 bu.; J. E. Allen, 12 bu.; R. G. Nicholson, 19 bu.; Albert Jarivs, of near Still Pond, got 700 bu., although he expected 1000. Charles M. Browne, of near St. Paul's got about 17 bu. The average yield of the county will be about 18 bushels to the acre.

May Be a Dry Nation.—Legislation to prohibit the sale of distilled liquors, wine and beer after January 1, 1919, and to prohibit the manufacture of wine and beer after November 1 next, was agreed upon Monday by the Senate Agricultural Committee. The legislation is proposed as a substitute for the pending Norris amendment to the Emergency Agricultural Appropriation Bill, which would stop the sale of distilled liquor and wine on June 30, 1919, and prohibit the manufacture of beer three months after the bill becomes law.

Rich Neck Red Cross Supper Big Success.—The Rich Neck Red Cross supper held at "Green Acres," the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Parker, in Queen Annes county, on Thursday evening was a big success in every way. About four hundred purchased suppers, while about $150 was cleared altogether by the energetic ladies. The suppers were first-class and were served in a charming manner. Everything was sold. Miss Kathryn Jester, of Wilmington, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Seney, entertained the crowd by dancing and singing. A feature of the affair was the manner in which Mr. S. W. Granberry, agent for the Western Electric Company, lighted the lawn and porch. Mr. Granberry furnished the light from storage bateries and was not compelled to run his engine. The ladies deserve credit for making the affair such a success. Dancing and cards followed the supper.

Looking For a President

Messrs. W. W. Beck and L. W. Wickes, committee, were in consultation with Dr. Goodnow, of Johns Hopkins University this week in reference to a president for Washington College to succeed Dr. J. W. Cain, who resigned. The Baltimore American of last Thursday says: "Messrs. Beck and Wickes, who represent the Board of Visitors and Governors of the college, invited Dr. Goodnow to present recommendations for a president. Their conference was preliminary and took a wide range, without a specific recommendation. During the conversation Mr. Wickes suggested that a Southern educator would probably come nearer meeting the demands of the college than an educator from the North. President Goodnow said that the suggestion was probably in line with the environment of the college. He said his acquaintance with Northern educators was more extensive than with Southern. He advised a full survey of the field before a final decision was made. The trustees of the college have determined to infuse new life into it, to broaden its curriculum and enlarge its attendance. The annual salary of the president is $3000, with free house rent."
