Unnecessary

In one of our larger towns, a woman recently called up at least a dozen stores and markets, to find out if they had any new vegetable, saying she was just looking for "something different." This, of course, helps to congest the service.

In ordinary times we encourage a free use of the wires for social, business and domestic purposes. But these are not ordinary times. War time conditions make us ask you to please cut down the length of social talks and to eliminate unnecessary calls.

United States Student Nurse Reserve

All women in the county contemplating entering any hospital in the United States as a nurse, immediately or in the near future, are requested to enroll now in this drive for nurses.

The government is drawing upon all hospitals of the country for trained nurses to go abroad. Only fully trained nurses are eligible for service over seas. These places must be filled and the Government is calling for volunteers. They want 25,000. Any one wanting to become a trained nurse now or any time within the next year had better enroll immediately or they will likely find so many registered before them they could not get a place. This applies to army nursing schools and all hospitals. In selecting those to be called which are registering now, the government will give the preferance to those with previous training, sound health, college training, high school graduates, the pick of the country.

There are three ways to enroll. First, those who wish to enter regular hospital work; you can choose your hospital. Second, those who wish to enter Army Nursing Schools. Third, those who will enroll to go to either regular hospitals or Army Nursing Schools. The government hopes that the majority will enroll under this third class. You can also enroll in the preferred and deferred class, those in the preferred class may be called immediately and those in the deferred class may be called any time within a year. It will depend upon how many girls register throughout the United States as to how soon and whether you will be called or not.

For information or enrollment apply to any of the following ladies throughout the county:

Mrs. Charles S. Smith, Chairman for Kent County.
Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth, Fairlee.
Mrs. Harry Williams, Worton.
Mrs. Harper, Still Pond.
Mrs. Brice, Betterton.
Mrs. Isaac Gibbs, Massey.
Mrs. Stavely, Lynch.
Mrs. Jones, Galena.
Mrs. Brice, Millington.
Mrs. Urie, Kennedyville.
Miss Brooks, Quaker Neck.

Miss Annie Copper and Miss Stevens were present and gave talks on canning and drying. Exhibitions in both were given at the fair this week.

A discussion was held as to the advisibility of starting a community kitchen in the county.

A survey will be started immediately to register all women in the county who are doing any work on farms, in banks, postoffices, newspaper offices, factories, stenographers, typewriters and telephone operators. Mrs. Lecates will announce her committee next week.

Mrs. Hubbard served peach ice and cake.

German Killed Near Centreville

An automobile and motorcycle collision occurred on Sunday night on the Centreville-Queenstown road, near the Cedardale farm, when the motor cycle, driven by Frank Pinder, of Carmichael, ran into the touring car of Joseph M. Brown and driven by his son, J. Paul Brown, of Centreville, causing the instant death of Pinder.

Pinder is a young German and has been in this country but a short time. He was on his way to the farm of Jas. H. Carter, where he had been employed, and Brown was returning to Centreville. Pinder was on the left of the road and was traveling without light. He was thrown through the windshield of Brown's car and suffered a fractured skull and was otherwise bruised and cut.

Brown stopped at once and placed the injured man in his car and hurried to the office of Dr. James M. Corkran, where he was pronounced dead. Coroner Coursey summoned a jury of inquest, which exonerated Brown from all blame.

What England Has Done

We have frequently heard the statement in Chestertown during the past two years—"What Has Great Britain Done in the Great European War for the cause of the Allies?" The following may be of interest to these people: Great Britain has over seven million men in uniform. Her navy has for four years swept the commerce of Germany and her allies from every ocean and sea of the world. Only U-boats have come from Germany's harbors and these have been gradually reduced in number. The whole of England, Scotland and Wales is an armed camp. British man power has been drawn upon almost to the very limit. Fifty-year-old Englishmen are fighting in the ranks. Eighteen-year-old boys are fighting. British soldiers are fighting in more theatres than are those of any other nation, Allied or Teuton. That is the explanation of the fact that not more than 2,500,000 British troops are upon the battlefield of France. At this very hour Great Britain is carrying on five active campaigns in five far-separated sections of the world. Besides her great army in France, she is fighting the Turks in Palestine. She is driving against the Turks in Mesopotamia. She is waging war against the Turks between the Suez Canal and Asia Minor. She is fighting the Austrians and Bulgarians in Macedonia. Besides all this Great Britain is maintaining an army in South Africa to keep the old German colonies under control. She has garrisoned practically all of the island of Ireland. She has landed men on the Murman Coast. She has strong divisions with the Italians and she is maintaining between 500,000 and 1,000,000 at home for a safeguard against the threatened invasion of the British Islands. Yes, friends, Great Britain has been a very busy nation for the past four years, and her valor as well as activity has been such that the future cannot dim.
