BONES AND BAGS.

On account of the war many of our supplies of Bones have been cut off, and in order to get all the nice dry country bones possible, we have determined to pay about twice as much for dry bones as we used to pay, if they are delivered at our factory.

The country boys should pick up all they can and bring them to us instead of selling them to the junk dealers.

We will also pay the highest market price for good second hand Fertilizer Bags. Please communicate with us.

Very truly yours,

The Peerless Fertilizer Co.,

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Chestertown Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment.

Must be proved to be as represented.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.

But the endorsement of friends is.

Now supposing you had a bad back,
A lame, weak, or aching one,
Would you experiment on it?

You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from faraway places.

It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony.

Read this Chestertown case.

Mrs. James S. Lecates, High St., says: "Some three years ago, I suffered from kidney trouble and a very painful backache. My kidneys acted irregularly, causing great annoyance. I had black spots before my eyes and dizzy spells and suffered severely from shooting pains through the small of my back when I bent over. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and soon got relief."

Price 60c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Lecates had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES

A recent letter from Mr. William F. Blyman, dated Somewhere in France, reads as follows: "I am still O. K. and getting along fine. Everybody works here—men, women and children. The women and children go in the fields and work with the men. They use oxen here mostly in place of horses, although some horses are used. I have been issued cigarettes and tobacco. I had just used the last of mine and was wondering what I was going to do for smokes, I have been on the firing line and have been under shrapnel and gas bombardment and was attacked by the Germans another time, but we were ready for them and they must have thought they had struck a hornets' nest. The boys all stuck to their posts and did fine. I thought I would be scared, but I never thought about being afraid until it was too late. I certainly had a feast when I received my pay and got where there was a Y. M. C. A. The boys tried to buy the Y. M. C. A. out. They bought tobacco, cigarettes, matches, candy, cakes, figs, jam and canned pears. I seldom receive papers from home. I have received a few copies of the Transcript, Enterprise, Dover Index and Baltimore American."

Jeff Davis, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis, of Indiantown, on Chester River, in Queen Annes Co., was killed in France last week. Young Davis was a man of many splendid traits, loved by every friend and acquaintance. He was of a quiet and retiring disposition, and therefore made friends slowly, but his courteous and lovable manner held them fast.

Mr. William Sachs, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sachs, who is now stationed at San Diego, California, has been promoted.

Hundreds of thousands of pieces of mail are being sent daily to the boys overseas by relatives and friends from this country. There have been many complaints of non-arrival of mail from soldiers on the other side. Because of the flood of letters it is impossible to get the mail through any faster. Mail experts from every large postoffice in the country are being sent to France to help rush the mails through.

The following is the bitter German wail as to what "might have been":

We'd have eaten our Christmas chow
On the banks of the sluggish Seine;
We'd be sitting in Paris now
A drinking of dry champagne.
We'd have swept, with a grand advance,
On every poilu trench.
We'd have conquered the whole of France,
If it hadn't been for the French.
We'd be goose-stepping down the Strand,
Or camped in Trafalgar Square,
And His Majesty's High Command
Would have dictated peace terms there.
We'd have ravaged the land for miles
As far as our sword could get us,
We'd have conquered the British Isles,
But the British wouldn't let us.
We'd be marching on Epernay,
And putting the place on skids
In the typical German way,
Which is killing the women and kids!
The troops of our smart young prince
Would be turning the Allied flanks,
We'd have won the war long since,
If it hadn't been for the Yanks.
And when it is over and done,
And we're back in our dear Berlin,
When victory hasn't been won,
And we're hungry and scarred and thin,
When Ludendorf's peeved and sore,
And the Kaiser's crown is nicked,
We'll swear we'd have won the war,
If we hadn't been badly licked!

Mr. and Mrs. James Dunbracco received a card on Tuesday from their son, Mr. Murrell Dunbracco, who has arrived in France safely and is well.

Mr. Charles Storke, formerly of this town, son of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Storke, is another Chestertown young man who has made good in Uncle Sam's Navy. Mr. Storke is a gunner on a battleship. He is a brother of Miss Laura Storke, of Chestertown.

It is the opinion of army officials that the extension of draft ages to the 18 and 45 year limits, Maryland will be called upon to register 194,557 men, which is 72,959 more men than were registered in the first draft. The number of new registrants in the United States based on the 18 to 45 limit will be around 15,000,000. It seems almost certain that the bill will become a law shortly.

Arthur Guy Empey, soldier-author, lost his chance for a commission in the U. S. Army by making a fiery curtain speech on the stage of the National Theatre in Washington. He was appearing in a new play, "Pack Up Your Troubles." President Wilson was present. The real heroes of the war, Empey declared in effect, were the volunteers who went over in the first place, and not the drafted men who are fighting now only because they are compelled to do so. Empey ended with a flourish, but the expected burst of applause did not follow. This speech, it is thought, lost him his commission.

Samuel Cohen, of Hospital Corps at Fort McHenry, spent Sunday the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Cohen.

Private Webster Hague, of Washington, visited friends in town on Sunday.

Private Joseph Lambert, of Camp Meade, was the guest of his mother on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bacchus received a letter from their son, James, on last Monday. He is now at a base hospital in Dartford, Kent county, England. He writes that a great many German soldiers, prisoners of war, are in a detention camp nearby.

Coxswain Henry Gunby, of the U. S. Reserves at Norfolk, Va., was at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens, from Thursday to Sunday. He expects to be transferred to Pensacola, Fla., in the near future.

Paymaster Ralph Jones, of Fort Howard, was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jones.

Sergeant-Major Edward Blackway has arrived safely overseas.

Miss Margaret Howard has accepted a position with the government at Washington at a good salary. Miss Howard expects to go to France in a few weeks.
