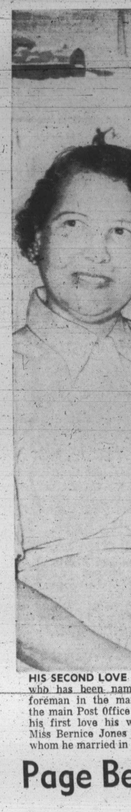
BIGGEST BECAUSE IT'S THE BEST!

Page Bell, new PO foreman, was once substitute janitor



HIS SECOND LOVE is art. Page Bell, who has been named as the first foreman in the mailing division of the main Post Office Building, has as his first love his wife, the former Miss Bernice Jones of Steelton, Pa., whom he married in 1936. Painting in almost any medium is his hobby, and comes in second. Shown above in their home, the couple is surrounded by Mr. Bell's paintings which have been exhibited in a downtown department store.

"I like my new job very much. Actually, it isn't new to me. Every now and then I have been acting supervisor. It happens that way in our work. Sometimes one of us has to act in some other capacity."

Page Bell, 48, 304 W. Oxford St., who made the above statement, is certainly no stranger to the Post Office, having begun work there in 1928.

Now, 29 years later, he has been named as the first foreman in the mailing division of the main Post Office Building.

* * *

RELATING HIS rise from the "dust pan and broom" stage to the responsible position he now holds, Mr. Bell stated:

"I was 20 years old when I went in as a substitute janitor. I was promoted to regular janitor, and then I was made a laborer.

"When I got to be clerk I kept that job for 17 years.

"Now, that I'm a foreman, I can look back and remember when I was glad to be a janitor. But that's a long time ago," he added.

* * *

AS FOREMAN, Mr. Bell has supervision over about 40 persons who work at various jobs in handling the mail.

The duties range from taking care of metered mail, arranging mail to be canceled, separation of mail according to states and secondary classifications, and many other stores necessary for proper mailing.

"I went to Douglass High School night classes and finished when I was 24 years old," Mr. Bell said.

* * *

MR. BELL was born in Westminster, Md. on Dec. 15, 1908 and came to Baltimore when he was 12.

He and Mrs. Bell, who is the former Miss Bernice Jones of Steeltown, Pa., were married on April 4, 1936.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bell are members of Grace Presbyterian Church. Mr. Bell joined in 1943. He was a staff sergeant in World War II and served with the Army in the Pacific.

Next to home and job, in Mr. Bell's active life, is a hobby which he feels is close to his heart.

An artist of some credit, Mr. Bell paints in all mediums and according to his estimate, does landscapes and portraits. He adds:

"I had a little training under private teachers, however what I know about painting won't make the professional artists, but I happy with my pictures," he added.

Her gown is rose net lace over rose taffeta. Slippers are gold. Her necklace is a wreath of gold flowers centered with diamonds. Photo was made Tuesday in her home which is filled with flowers, cards and telegrams congratulating her on her 68th birthday (May 25) and on being selected AFRO mother.

Evans triplets mark their 10th birthday

Yesterday, May 30, was the tenth birthday for Baltimore's well-known triplets, Wallace, Warren, and Wilbur Evans, who are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Evans, 1760 Llewellyn Ave.

They were born at Provident Hospital in 1947 and weighed a total of approximately 17 pounds.

Today they tip the scales to total about 225 pounds. They are 4th grade pupils at public school No. 135, Chase and McDonogh Sts.

* * *

THEIR TEACHER, Miss Geraldine Scott, 1344 Druid Hill Ave., says they are average boys, have good manners and do well in school work.

However, only the children who know them well, can tell them apart.

Wallace is the tallest although he is considered the youngest of the trio since he was born last.

Warren is the middle child and is left handed, while Wilbur, the oldest, is almost identical with Warren, although he is right handed.

When the AFRO visited them in school on Wednesday, they were anticipating the gifts to come in threes on Memorial Day.

Holiday week-end plans for the three hardy, growing boys include playing baseball, hand ball and then some more baseball.

THREE OF A KIND are the Evans triplets shown above on their May 30 birthday last year when they were nine years old. Yesterday (Thursday) Warren, left, Wilbur, center, and Wallace, right, were 10 years old and planned to spend the Memorial Day holiday week end playing baseball. They reside with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Evans at 1700 Llewellyn Ave., attend Public School No. 135 at Chase and McDonogh Sts., where they are in Miss Geraldine Scott's 4th grade home room.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for the AFRO 1957 Ideal Mother, Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, was expressed by over 250 guests present at the 17th Annual Maryland State Conference of NAACP Branches on Saturday, May 25. Shown above following the afternoon luncheon, Mrs. Jackson stands surrounded by her son, Bowen K. Jackson, executive secretary of the Baltimore Branch, left, Mrs. Mary Hawkins, who presented Mrs. Jackson with two dozen roses, and Dr. Charles Wallace, director of the local Branch. Mrs. Virginia Keasley, member of the organization's executive board made the birthday cake, decorated it with ten candles.

New Probation Dept. head makes promotions

The Probation Department of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore has made the following promotions:

Mrs. Frances Male Vessells, former probation officer of 12 years' service has been made supervisor to take effect on June 1.

Robert Hilson, former probation officer of two years' service has also been promoted to supervisor.

Announcement was made by John A. Wallace, new director of the Probation Department who assumed duties on April 12.

He succeeded Charles Snyder who retired in October, 1956. During the time Mr. Snyder vacated the post and Mr. Wallace assumed the duties, Harry Cummings was acting chief probation officer.

Excited as banquet approaches, AFRO Ideal Mother has new dress

By E. M. OLIVER

"Marian is flying in from California. She will leave Los Angeles Thursday. Friday morning she will arrive at Friendship Airport.

"My other daughters, Mrs. Virginia Kiah, will arrive June 6. She is coming by train from Savannah."

Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, the AFRO's 1957 Ideal Mother was excited.

She talked rapidly as she revealed that her children and "plenty of folks" were coming for the Friday, June 7 Ideal Mother banquet.

The AFRO's testimonial in her honor will be held in the Morgan State College Refectory and will be attended by more than 250 Baltimoreans who will have opportunity to salute Mrs. Jackson.

* * *

DURING THE testimonial members of the AFRO's 1957 Honor Roll will receive their plaques. They are:

Mrs. Anna Mae Nichols, Miss Marguerite Garland, Frank Veny, Thomas A. Van Sant, Elmer Burgess William (Sugar) Cain, Archie Lewis, Calvin Lambson, Frank Smith, the Rev. M. G. Wood, John C. Catlin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowie, and Henry G. Parks.

Mrs. Jackson received similar plaque in 1952 for her work as president of the Baltimore NAACP.

* * *

AMONG OTHER special guests and relatives of the AFRO mother who will attend are:

Dr. and Mrs. Forrester B. Henderson of New York; Mrs. Irma Wilson, widow of the late Philadelphia Athletic Commissioner, Rollo Henderson;

Mrs. Sarah Saunders of Philadelphia, an old family friend; Mrs. Mary Jones of Washington; and two sisters, Mrs. Daisy Carey and Mrs. Mary Holland, also of Philadelphia.

* * *

ANOTHER CAUSE for excitement this week was Mrs. Jackson's new frock.

Purchased just for the occasion, it is of rose net lace over rose taffeta, street length, and made with a wide circular skirt which falls in soft folds.

Mrs. Jackson proudly displayed her slippers which are gold kid and medium heeled. Her necklace, also gold, is fashioned into a wreath of flowers centered with diamonds.

However, the AFRO Mother was not the only one excited.

Her husband of 47 years, Keiffer Jackson looked at her admiringly as she posed in her new gown for the AFRO photographer.

He surmised that he would don dark pants and light coat for the occasion.

* * *

THE JACKSON children, all four of them, will be on hand come June 7.

In addition to Mrs. Downes, who is a teacher in Pasadena, Cal.; and Mrs. Kiah, a Savannah, Ga., art teacher, they are:

Mrs. Juanita Mitchll, attorney, who is the wife of Clarence Mitchell, Jr., director of the Washington bureau of the NAACP, and Bowen K. Jackson, the only son, who is executive secretary of the Baltimore Branch NAACP.

Also present will be the nin grandchildren

CARTER—In loving memory of our dear husband, WILLIAM B. CARTER, who suddenly departed this life, February 1, 1955.

I miss the sound of your footsteps,
And your voice since you have gone;
