Meeting of Sen. unit called off

WASHINGTON, D.C. (ANP) —The Senate Judiciary Committee, the graveyard last year of civil rights legislation, failed Monday to have a quorum present for the transaction of any business.

Sen. James O. Eastland, (Dem., Miss.) committee chairman, waited a few minutes for enough members to show up to constitute a quorum, but when they failed to do so he called the meeting off.

Sen. Everett M. Dirkson (Rep. Ill.), who with Sen. Thomas G. Hennings, (Dem., Miss.) is sponsoring the Eisenhower Administration's civil rights proposals, indicated that he is seeking to have Eastland to agree to a series of committee meetings to hasten action on the bill.

Youth sent to jail on gun charge

"Judge, I was just carrying the gun to give it back to a fellow who had left it at my home without my knowledge."

This testimony by Sterling A. Abrams, 18, of 1525 W. Lexington St., in Criminal Court on Monday, failed to convince Chief Judge Emory H. Niles. He sentenced the youth to six months in the Reformatory for Males on a deadly weapon charge.

Young Abrams was arrested on the early morning of April 27, according to testimony, by police and a police dog, when he was noticed with several other young men loitering in the vicinity of Franklin Square Hospital. The others evaded arrest.

The gun, a .22 calibre rifle, was found, police said, stuck inside a trouser leg of Abrams. The young defendant had previously served a House of Correction sentence on a weapons charge, Judge Niles was told.

Gets 5 years for attempt on young child

"I think the defendant's letter is very incriminating . . . I don't think his effort to explain the four times is satisfactory."

Judge S. Ralph Warnken offered this opinion in Criminal Court on Monday, and then sentenced Timothy Norwood, 30, of the 500 block Orchard St. to five years in the penitentiary.

Mr. Norwood faced a rape charge, involving the 10-year-old daughter of a woman friend. Judge Warnken found him guilty on an attempt count included in the indictment.

The incriminating evidence was a letter Mr. Norwood admitted writing to the girl's mother stating: "I know she is going to tell you this has happened 14 times, but it has happened just four times, with this time."

Mr. Norwood's explanation of this was: "I've seen her do bad things four times, but I was afraid to tell her mother before."

Esso employees hold firm's stock

Esso Standard Oil Company has reported it now has more than 20,000 employee stockholders, including four out of every five employees who work for the company in Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

Stockholders among employees in Esso's Bel.-Md.-D.C. Sales Division have increased more than eleven per cent in the last year and a half. There has been a 30 per cent increase of stockholders at the company's Baltimore Refinery in the same period.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN PINKETT JR.

—Wife No. 4

wife's alleged undissolved marriage, they had "lived separate and apart." Mrs. Pinkett's address was listed as 5106 14th St., NW.

HE ACCUSES her of "harassing him because of his refusal to live with her."

"She has embarked," the suit says, "on a course of conduct designed to embarrass him in his work, his social relations with others and his business connections."

She has "also telephoned persons at their residences, places of employment and she telephones his employment and business repeating vicious and untrue statements about him and persons with whom he comes in contact to discredit him and his associates," the suit continues.

As a result, says Pinkett, other persons, along with him, have suffered humiliation and embarrassment.

He asks the court to issue an injunction forcing Mrs. Pinkett to stop telephoning him and others concerning his affairs and maligning his character.

BEFORE THE bloom of marital bliss wore thin, the Pinketts talked of each other in glowing terms.

"She's a wonderful girl," said Mr. Pinkett a few days after the wedding.

Said Mrs. Pinkett: "I have secretly admired him ever since we met."

Mrs. Pinkett, 34, is a former dress designer and worked as a receptionist for the Pinkett real estate firm for three years, after meeting Mr. Pinkett.

SHE IS a native of Middletown, Pa., and a graduate of the National School of Dress Design in Chicago. Mr. Pinkett is a partner in the realty firm with his father, John R. Pinkett Sr., and brother, Charles.

He has been married previously to Mrs. Charlotte Ridgely, an attorney; Mrs. Frances Kirk, a model, and Miss Bailey.

ONLY CLOSE friends and relatives attended their marriage ceremony last year.

Discussing the marriage later, Pinkett said, "I agree with my wife. This is the last time for both of us."

LAVERN BAKER, recording star of "Game of Love," headlines the Royal Theatre stage bill. Midnite show is Friday, May 31 and closing date is June 6. Other features are Heartbeats, Johnnie and Joe, Harold "Stump" Cromer, and Babe Lawrence.

GETS JAIL TERM

Charles Hackett, 16, 2306 block Pennsylvania Ave., was sentenced in Criminal Court on Monday to not more than five years to the Maryland State Reformatory for Males for the purse snatching robbery on May 3 of Mrs. Betty Brown, 1809 block West North Ave.

STROLLING THE AVE.

Great things are happening down at ROSSITER'S, 1001 S. Hanover St., where even those of us afflicted with two left feet need no longer start making excuses when everyone else begins to dance.

A gentleman by the name of Lord Kove billed as the "Mambo Calypso Dance King" will be around and there will be dance lessons in the beautiful air conditioned club on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 8 to 9 p.m.

Wednesday will see a special session from 9 until 11:30 p.m., so if you want to learn the latest dance steps and learn them from an expert then ROSSITER'S is the place to go.

To keep things moving at a fast clip over the weekend the club is offering on Friday and Saturday the music of the Ko-Ko-Mo Calypso Quartet, sponsored by the Hi Fi Dance Studio.

As you can see there are plenty of things to keep you busy and happy at ROSSITER'S where the drinks and food are delicious and the entertainment is of the best.

FLINK JOHNSON is making things hum at CHICK'S and ditto for Cornell Drew at the CASINO.

CARR'S BEACH has a top attraction today (Friday), Saturday and Sunday in the person of Big Jay McNeely, the mad man with a sax.

On Saturday there will be a dance sponsored by the Buddy Club and featuring Lewis Lymon and the Teen Chords.

THE BIG beat of a big band, the Buddy Morrow outfit, will fill the COLISEUM on Monday when H and H Enterprises presents a terrific show, and when we say terrific that is an understatement.

On the bill will be such talent as Ernie Williams, Joe Ann Campbell, The Fliers, The Solitaires, Penny Nelson, Betty Ann Blake, The Equadors and Dick Johnson and his modern jazz quartet.

And if that is not enough then the great man himself, Hot Rod Hulbert, will be on stage to act as master of ceremonies.

Shows are at 8 and 11 p.m. and our considered advice to you is not to miss this wonderful package of entertainment.

CONTINUOUS entertainment is the order of things at the CLOVER CLUB with such worthies as Al Brown and the original Tiger Toppers plus the music of music, Dave Ross, at the organ.—

If dancing is what you like, and that includes a lot of us, then the KNOTTY PINE CLUB at Park Ave. and Biddle St., is the place you want to go.

Eddie Gough provides the music for light hearted feet and there is no charge for taking to the dance floor.

ANDRE KING is the featured attraction at the RED FOX LOUNGE and there is a special attraction this Sunday night. It is a going away party for Ray Chambers who is leaving the RED FOX for an appearance at a New York night club.

The ever popular Eddie "Lockjaw" Davis is the man in the spotlight at the CLUB TIJUANA where there is never a cover nor a minimum. Eddie is one of the most popular figures ever to play the club and when you hear his fine music you can understand why.

There is fun to be had at the CROSSROADS, Fulton and Pennsylvania Ave.; the VILMA, Pennsylvania Ave. and Baker; the COMEDY CLUB with the music of the Australian Jazz Quartet; the CARNIVAL LOUNGE with Purnell Rice; CLUB UBANGI and the Swallows Combo and of course the ALHAMBRA where the food and drinks are always the best. That's it . . . Have fun.

Ray Chambers off for New York stay

With a far away look in his eyes and a half smile across his lips Ray Chambers gently stroked the keys of the baby grand at the Red Fox Lounge and the instrument answered with the subdued notes of a tune from the pen of George Gershwin.

To the listeners in the club the music that came from the piano was up to the usual high Chambers standard but to Perry Raphael Chambers, to give him his full name, the number was anything but ordinary.

It was one of the last numbers that he will play at the club before he leaves on Sunday night for an engagement in New York City, the goal of every young artist.

IN THE big city Ray will play the piano behind the singing of Ethel Ennis, another local product in the heart of Beau Brummel on East 54th St.

Ray was picked for the assignment after he appeared in a New York recording studio to provide the background for Ethel at the suggestion of the singer's manager, George Fox.

A few minutes of listening to Chambers and the powers that be decided that his was a very real talent and the lad followed for the New York Nitery.

RAY WAS born in 1924 and shortly thereafter he started preparing for his career. His first public performance was at the age of six at a church.

At that time his father, Leon Chambers, directed four church choirs and the young Ray provided the back groung music. When he reached the ripe old age of seven he started playing the pipe organ at Bethel AME Church and his talent attracted such attention that his picture appeared in the AFRO.

Incidently, he still carries around that faded clipping as one of his cherished possessions.

BY THE time Ray reached eight he was playing professionally even though he could not read music. Eventually this defect in his musical education was remedied when he met Mrs. Ruth McAbee at Booker T. Washington Junior High School, and she taught him to read the music he played so well.

Ray kept playing and then came the war and he went into service. On his return he went back to the night clubs working with such personalities as Sally Blair, the Ravens, the Five Keys, the late Rivers Chambers, Buddy Johnson, Art Tatum, and many more.

From a musical family, Ray has four sisters who play the piano and sing and three brothers with the same accomplishments.

CAPABLE OF playing anything from Bach to the tunes from the pens of such moderns as Dave Brubeck; Ray has enlisted a whole host of fans who tell you frankly that "He's the best".

Now that his big chance has come in the big city, Ray has only this to say:

"I'll do my best."

And with a man of Ray's capabilities, that means the job will be done right.

Carib fete at theatre in Princeton

PRINCETON — Jean Leon Destine and his dancers will give a Carib Creole Carnival at the McCarter Theatre of Princeton University on June 13, 14 and 15.

The performances begin at 8:30 p.m. each evening.

Destine who holds many decorations includes many other Caribbean cultures in his show.

They include a steel band from Trinidad, calypso singers from Jamaica, a Cuban cha-cha-cha specialist, and his Voodoo drummers from Haiti.

Meringues, djubas, bamboulas, beguines and bandas are on the program also.

Economic position of Ghana studied

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (ANP)—Official reports from London bankers indicate that, after the payment of $341.6 million in export duties, the Ghana Cocoa Marketing Board's transactions resulted in a trade surplus of $239.6 million for the period of 1947-1955.

Almost three fourths of this surplus accrued in the first half of the period under review.

Most of the duty from cocoa exports was diverted into various development funds. Officials of the Ghana Government believed that such a procedure was essential to a financial policy of probity and prudence.

Case says jury trial issue confuses rights bill picture

WASHINGTON — The injection of the trial by jury issue into the discussion of the civil rights bill has engendered confusion not only in the press but in Congress as well, Sen. Clifford P. Case (Rep. N.Y.) told the Senate this week.

He pointed out that neither the Constitution nor prior legal precedent provides for a jury trial in contempt cases of the kind which might arise under Senate Bill 83 (the civil rights bill).

He praised the statement made by the American Civil Liberties Union and called the statement "a lucid and concise analysis of the jury trial amendment."
