Six to leave world, receive Oblate veil on Saturday

Six postulants will renounce the world and receive the white veil of the Oblate Sisters of Providence Saturday, at 2 p.m. in the convent chapel, 501 E. Chase St.

The impressive investiture services, during which the young women will receive the black veil with the white veil, marks the second phase of their religious life.

Following the ceremonies, they will begin a two-year probationary period which is necessary before they may pronounce the first vows in 1959.

Relatives and friends are invited to witness the reception at which time the postulants, dressed in bridal array, become the brides of Christ.

* * *

THE SIX young women, their hometowns and their names are as follows: Miss Frances Maxcon, Havana, Cuba; Claudia Young, Detroit, Mich.; Sorella Bethel, Church Point, La.; Elaine Johnson, Washington, Anne Briscoe, Hughesville, Md.; and Mary Frances Colbert, Baltimore.

In private ceremonies at 8 a.m., Saturday, in the Convent chapel of the Immaculate, 504 Mosher St., seven novices, who have completed two years of successful training, will take their first vows.

They are: Sister Mary Rose, the former Carmelina Hadrick, Lara, Havana, Cuba; Sister Pelecias, the former Pilar Consuegra, San Louis Orienle, Cuba; Sister Mary Michele, the former Barbara Beij, Elmira, N.Y.;

Also Sister Mary Patrice, the former Mary Lydia Price, Baltimore; Sister Mary Emma, the former Virginia Hadrick, Norristown, Pa.; Sister Mary Clarice, the former Althea Proctor, Waldorf, Md.; and Sister Mary Vinchetta, the former Edith Duncan, Middletown, Pa.

AFTER profession or taking of the three vows of religion, nuns of the Oblate Sisters teach in elementary schools, high schools and conduct day nurseries and homes for dependent children as well as residences for women and week-end retreats.

The Oblate Sisters also direct catechetical centers and vacation schools.

The congregation which was founded by a Sulpician priest in 1829 Father Joubert and Elizabeth Lange also has houses in Washington, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, and Minnesota and also five provinces in Cuba.

March 9, each year, marks the celebration of the Patronal Feast of the 129-year old Order.

St. Frances of Rome is the patron saint of the group which is the largest community of colored nuns in the United States.

Methodist clergy told 'values of cooperation'

WASHINGTON

"The only way we can create justice in the world is to share values of cooperation."

Thus spoke the Rev. James R. Cannon on Monday as he gave a lecture speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Methodist DIST Ministers Union at Asbury Church, 11th and K Sts., NW.

The Rev. Mr. Cannon discussed the subject of "God, Jesus and Salvation." Justice cannot be achieved "through war and hate," he said.

"We cannot do it with force," he declared. "We must do it through the instrument of God."

THE REV. Mr. Cannon said, "Salvation depends upon the inexhaustible goodness of God and love. God is both spiritual and personal. We can approach Him in hours of frustration and weakness."

Ministers gave the speaker a unanimous vote of thanks for the lecture, which brought a number of questions from the floor during the question and answer period.

The Rev. John B. A. Dyson, president, presided. The following visitors were introduced:

The Rev. I. G. Simpson, pastor of Mt. Vernon Methodist Church, 1910 West Virginia Ave., NE; the Rev. B. J. Finkley, Georgetown, S. C., and the Rev. P. O. Simmons, Columbia, S. C.

Also, the Rev. W. N. Williams, presiding elder of Virginia District CME, revival speaker this week at Lane Church, 14th and C Sts., NE.

Mrs. Margaret F. Sares and many other relatives and friends including the following:

A BROTHER, William W. Barnes; step-mother, Mrs. Florence M. Barnes; one step-brother, James H. Turner;

Also three nieces, Misses Gwendolyn Bullock, Muriel Williams, and Altomesse Gibson; two nephews, William Bonds Jr., and Herman Williams Jr.; Two brothers-in-law, Joseph Knight and Thomas Williams; one sister-in-law, Mrs. William W. Barnes.

George L. Barnes, 47, dies; buried Thursday

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church for George L. Barnes of 1336 N. Mount St., who died Saturday morning at the Johns-Hopkins Hospital after an illness of two weeks.

He was 47.

A native of Freemont, N.C. Mr. Barnes came to Baltimore in 1915, attended the public schools here, and became the owner of the Druid Radio and Television Shop at Carey and Harlem Aves.

He is survived by his wife, Joseph Bush, Mrs. Bertha Lee and Dr. McKinley Reesby.

Also C. A. Johnson, Attorney Dallas Nicholas, and Earl Kogler. Musical selections were given by Mrs. Rosa Holly, Horace Cole and Mrs. Lydia Starks.

The Rev. Joshua Webster Green is pastor of the church. He is the son of the late Dr. J. H. Green, founder of Metropolitan Baptist Church.

Words To Live By

By REV. ROBERT NEWBOLD

Are you a Christian? Do you constantly worry? If your answers are "yes;" then it is important that you consider the following:

Worry is sometimes a sign of insecurity.

You may be emotionally insecure.

Thus, your feelings of anxiety are not the result of money you do not have; rather, they are due to the lack of an inner feeling of safety.

Worry is also an indication of fear. Some people have an acute phobia of disease. Hence, they are always concerned about it. The hypochondriacs are in this class.

They imagine themselves to be the victims of not one—but many diseases.

* * *

IN OTHER cases, the fears of some adults are carry-overs from childhood.

The person who fears the dark may be going back to the time when childhood punishment was that of being shut in a dark room.

The law-abiding citizen who fears a policeman may be reacting to the indoctrination of parents who used a policeman as a symbol of harsh punishment for "bad boys" and "mischievous little girls."

So then, some of the apprehensions of adults may be attributed to childhood fears.

Finally, worry is an indication of lack of faith. Many Christians trust themselves too much and God too little.

Therefore, when their well-being is threatened, and they do not find sufficient reassurance within themselves to stop the threat, they worry.

* * *

JESUS SUGGESTED this in his immortal "Sermon On The Mount;" when He said:

"Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which today is and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall He not much more clothe you? O ye of little faith?" (Matt. 5:30)

Indeed these words of the Master clearly point up the connection between worry and the lack of faith.

If, therefore, you would worry less:

(1) Face up to your worry. Put it under the spotlight of careful examination.

(2) Pray that the Holy Spirit will guide you into the experience of having more faith in God.

Stations of the Cross tonight to be observed by thousands

The devotion of the 14 Stations of the Cross is observed today and every Friday until Good Friday April 19, which represents the last Friday before the close of the Lenten Season.

The service usually at 8 p.m. which attracts thousands of all faiths, including followers of the Catholic religion, is one of the most important preparatory to the festival of Easter.

It is also one of the most impressive in that persons who attend pause, as they visit each station, and perform a devout meditation as they pass from station to station.

* * *

THE SERIES of the 14 Stations of the Cross which depicts the closing scenes in the Passion of Christ, is usually placed around the walls of the church edifice.

In some parishes the pictures are hung in the aisles, so that ers to the congregation during her short period at the church.

* * *

AS ONE MEMBER put it, the Rev. Miss Ferrell has the ability to translate fundamental Christian principles into every day living, and it has "caught on" at the church.

The Rev. Miss Ferrell sees it this way:

"I simply love people and love working with them."

NAACP youth to hear Hager

RICHMOND— Funeral services were held Thursday for Royal Alexander Boulding Crump who for 27 years was director of the Hanover School for Boys.

Mr. Crump died at 70 years of age at 3:15 p.m. Monday at the McGuire Veterans Hospital. His death followed an illness of almost three years.

He retired from his position at Hanover School in 1954. The State Department of Welfare and Institutions gave him an award, for his service.

* * *

A NATIVE of Richmond he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Crump. He attended Baker Street School, Virginia Union University, and was graduated from Hampton Institute. Later, he was awarded a graduate degree by the University of Chicago.

The first colored superintendent at Cheltenham School for Boys in Maryland, Mr. Crump became Superintendent of that institution on September 15, 1944. He revolutionized the corrective and disciplinary program of that school and began to stress scholastic; vocational and recreational training.

The Cheltenham School or Boys was changed to Boys' Village of Maryland in 1949.

At Hanover, he was a leader in Calvary Episcopal Church, a Mason and a member of the Order of St. Luke.

The Funeral service was held at 2 p.m. at St. Phillips Episcopal Church, St. James and Leigh Sts. The Rev. Jennings Hopson, assisted by the Rev. Thomas D. Brown of Charleston, W. Va., conducted the services.

In recognition of his military service, his coffin was draped with the American Flag. Burial was in Woodland Cemetery. A. D. Price Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

He is survived by Mrs. Clarissa Layton Crump, widow; Mr. W. Boulding and Louis Crump, brother; six nieces, one nephew and other relatives.

Vesper services feature music

WASHINGTON

Metropolitan AME Church, 1518 M St., NW, the Rev. G. Dewey Robinson, pastor, announces its second annual vesper services that will be highlighted with musical programs.

Participating choirs are as follows in connection with the Lenten season observance:

March 25, Zion Baptist Church Choir, Mrs. Jennie G. Smith, director.

March 31, St. Luke's Episcopal Choir, Willis Hines, director; and James Jones, organist.

April 7, 19th Street Baptist Choir, George Murphy, director, and Mrs. Raymalda DeVeau organist.

April 14, Ephesus Seventh Day Adventist Choir; Mrs. Alma M. Blackmon, director.

Ministers urged to file social security waivers

Clergymen who want social security protection, but who have not filed waivers of their social security tax exemption, should file the waivers by April 15.

By filing waivers last year many ministers, members of religious orders, and Christian Science practitioners elected to have their earnings in 1955 and subsequent years count toward old-age, survivors, and disability insurance.

Those waivers remain in effect and need not be renewed. Other clergymen who have not yet elected to be covered must file waivers by April 15 if they wish to have their earnings in 1956 and subsequent years count toward social security.

The election is made by filing Form 2031 with the District Director of Internal Revenue. Form 2031 may be obtained from the District Director or from any Social Security Administration office.

Young lady pastor has 'standing room only'

REV. ERA FERRELL

Members and friends having the desire for fellowship at the Emmanuel Christian Community Church, 1210 Lanvale St., must be sure to get there on time.

The church has joined the ranks of those few other Baltimore places of worship where there is standing room only during the regular Sunday services.

Many veteran members of the congregation and visitors as well attribute this fact to the dynamic leadership of the Rev. Era Shirley Ferrell, who has been serving as pastor protem at the church since the death of the Rev. Wilbur Walters last year.

The young lady minister has been able to hold the membership together and attract other people to the church.

Bishop Stewart represents AME Zion Church in Ghana

The board of Bishops of the AME Zion Church designated Bishop William Andrew Stewart, president of Washington, and supervising bishop of the Eighth Episcopal Area of the Church, to represent the AME Zion Church at the independence celebration of the Gold Coast at Accra on March 6.

He was in company with the Church's president bishop of West Africa, Bishop Daniel Carlton Pope who presides over the mission schools and churches of the denomination in Liberia, Gold Coast and Nigeria.

* * *

BISHOP STEWART left the United States on March 4, and expects to return to the United States March 16.

Bishop Stewart presides over five Alabama Conferences among which is the city of Montgomery where the struggle for racial, economic, and political freedom has engaged the attention of the world.

Significant for the Church after 55 years of continuous missionary efforts in the Gold Coast that he should represent the cause of freedom and racial leadership at the celebration.

The AME Zion Church operates 64 schools and churches in the two Annual Conferences known as the East and West Gold Coast Conferences.

'Love and marriage' tip wins $10 AFRO award

A heart warming story of love and romance and a quiet wedding which united a beautiful young girl and a prominent churchman was the big news in the AFRO this week—and the tipster who made it all possible won the top, tip award of $10.

Our alert reader-tipster will receive the AFRO check and the gratitude of thousands of our readers because all the "world loves a lover" and the big line held the story of two lovers.

A tale of heroism paid off too. Over on Guilford Ave., a crippled woman trapped on the 3rd floor of a burning building owes her life to a man who forgot the personal dangers involved and rescued her.

* * *

THAT NEWS TIP was worth $2. The report on a falling ceiling was good for $1; and a tip on a fire on Chiro St. also earned a dollar check for the wide awake tipster in that area.

Information on the death of a prominent businessman in the community, and the unfortunate fire accident of a little girl over on Madison St. and the auto accident which involves a man near Mulberry and Mount Sts., were tips that rated $1 apiece this week.

There is a total of $25 waiting for LUCKY NEWS tipsters who call the City Desk each week.

And another $25 for news pictures too.

You don't have to be smart or born lucky to cash in on this tip money.

Just go to your phone and call the City Desk when you hear of a news tip, or send that picture in which tells a story.

Newstips numbers to call are: MU. 5-6015, 6016, 1812 and 1813. If no answer, call La. 3-2811.

IN MEMORIAM

MURPHY — In loving memory of our father, Daniel H. Murphy, who departed this life February 28, 1922.

Our thoughts go wandering when daylight fades to the land of long ago.
And memory paints the scenes of old in the gold of the twilight gloom.
We seem to see in the soft dim light
The faces we love the best,
And think of them when the day's last ray
Goes down in the far-off West.
Sadly missed by the children,
