Election on Tuesday, November 5th

NOTICE TO PATRONS

The War Board has asked or ordered all newspapers not to extend credit of over three months to subscribers, which means that any subscriber whose subscription is over due for a period of more than three months is to be discontinued, and all free copies must be omitted from the mailing list. So should any subscriber fail to receive the Transcript October 5, they will understand the reason. We sent bills to all subscribers the first of the year, and those who have failed to settle should do so at once in order that there may be no interruption in the weekly visits of the Transcript to your homes. As soon as we can we will put the date of expiration on the label of your paper, so in the future you can see just how far your subscription is paid to. In the meantime, we ask all delinquents to remit at once. The shortage in news print paper is one of the reasons for the action of the War Board. SEND IN YOUR SUBSCRIPTION AT ONCE.

ADDITIONAL NOTICE TO OUR PATRONS

The Priorities Board of the War Industries Board has listed paper mills as an essential industry, and has rated them in fourth class for priority for coal, on the distinct understanding that the greatest possible economy in the use of paper be exercised, and that the reduction in the use of paper by the newspapers shall be 15 per cent.

The Board, therefore, compels us to strictly observe the following rules:

No publisher may contiue subscriptions after three months after date of expiration, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for.

No publisher may give free copies of his paper; except for actual service rendered; except to camp libraries and huts or canteens of organizations recognized by the Government, such as the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., or K. of C.

No publishers shall give free copies to advertisers, except not more than one copy for checking purposes.

No publiher shall send free copies in exchange for other publications, except to such other publications as are printed within the county, or within a radius of 40 miles from his point of publications.

No publisher may issue holiday, industrial or other special editions.

FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

The drive for the Fourth Liberty Loan for Kent Co. will open in Chestertown this Saturday afternoon, Sept. 28. Every citizen who possibly can should attend this meeting and help in this great undertaking. Kent's allotment is $543,000. This looks like, and in fact is, a large amount of money, but judging from the reports of the banks, our people are getting accustomed to large sums of money, and there can be no good reason, that we can see, why this amount cannot be raised. It must be raised. The Government is asking the people of Kent County to loan it this amount at 4 1-4 per cent—a good investment, besides affording you the privilege of doing a patriotic duty.

HEROES' DAY PROCLAMATION

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ANNAPOLIS, MD.

For more than a year the United States of America has been a participant, on the side of liberty and civilization, in the great world war that within the space of a few years has menaced and threatened to destroy the best that mankind has struggled for centuries to build up. While millions of men have made the supreme sacrifice for the salvation of the world, since the awful struggle began, until recently these martyrs for the cause of justice have been drawn from the heroic armies of our Allies of Europe. Now, however, the situation has changed, and our own splendid men in arms are now standing firmly and fighting valiantly beside their Allied brethren of foreign lands, and doing their noble part to repel the cruel oppressors of mankind. Already over ten thousand of our brethren have made the supreme sacrifice on foreign battle fields in defense of principles for which they were proud to die, and while conscious that no memorial that we can frame can add glory to the record of their holy service, we deem it fit and appropriate that we should formally take cognizance of the sacrifices they have made, believing that while we can add nothing to their glorious fame we may by so doing increase the patriotic flame within our own hearts as we contemplate the sacrifices they have made, and that in thought of them we may make a new dedication of ourselves to the service for which they died.

Now therefore in memory of our sacred dead of this great world war, and of the loved ones they have left behind, whose service and sacrifice is second only to that of those they have loved and lost, I, Emerson C. Harrington, Governor of the State of Maryland, do set apart and proclaim

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 29TH, 1918, AS Heroes Day, and I call upon all the people of Maryland to observe it with appropriate services and ceremonies as a tribute of honor and appreciation of the heroic men of our own land who have given their lives in this great struggle for the freedom of mankind.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND.

Given under the Great seal of the State of Maryland. Done at the City of Annapolis this 19th day of September, nineteen hundred and eighteen.

EMERSON C. HARRINGTON.

By the Governor:
THOMAS W. SIMMONS,
Secretary of State.

HEROES' DAY PROCLAMATION.

CITY HALL,
BALTIMORE, MD.

To the Citizens of the City of Baltimore:

During the past year the great war, now being prosecuted by the nations of the world, has been brought home to all of us. We have been called upon to make many sacrifices, but all of these pale into insignificance when we think of those of our neighbors and friends who have paid the greatest tribute of all. They have given their sons to the cause for which we stand, and many of these young men have answered roll call for the last time.

The memory of their heroic sacrifices will always be with us. There is nothing that we could say or do that would enhance the value of their gift to the nation. We can only in an humble way endeavor to express our sense of obligation.

To that end it is proposed that Sunday, September 29th, shall be set apart as Heroes' Day, in order that we may then better, and in some tangible form, give expression to the sentiments which dominate us, and so keep sacred to remembrance the names of those who have taken their places on the nation's honor roll.

And, therefore, I, as Mayor of the City of Baltimore, do request all our people to observe the said day in fitting manner and with services or exercises worthy of the occasion, and which shall be hall-marked and stand for a small part of a tribute which is beyond power of expression.

JAMES H. PRESTON.
Baltimore, September 20.

HEROES' DAY.

To the Citizens of Maryland, and the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of Baltimore:

At a time when our Country is in the midst of so many trials, and when we are all being put to the test for our common welfare and the preservation of our ideals, it is imperative that we should face courageously all the problems confronting us.

Through the greatest goodness of our Lord and Master, our eyes have been opened and we see our way clear before us. Our citizens have been asked the supreme question and they have answered it. They have given freely of their treasures, and of the results of their labors, these and more too.

Because many of our friends and neighbors have made the most supreme sacrifice of all, they have added to the material offerings the priceless gift of their sons, the blood of their blood, the bone of their bone, and on some of these fathers and mothers the hand of affliction has been heavily laid. Some of these boys who marched away to war will never come back. Their names are inscribed on the nation's roll of honor as heroes who died for the cause. And now it has been suggested that Sunday, September 29th should be set apart as a day of solemn memorial in Maryland, so that our State may pay fitting tribute to the memory of her sons, and I do accordingly make request to all the citizens of the State of Maryland that said day shall be observed in fitting manner and that special exercises shall be held so that the record of heroism shall be preserved and that the names of those who pledged their all for patriotism and freedom shall not perish or be forgotten.

J. CARD. GIBBONS.
Baltimore, September 20.

HEROES' DAY.

To the Clergy and Laity of The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Maryland:

MY DEAR BRETHREN—Sunday, September 29th, has been officially designated as the day on which we shall revere and honor in our churches the memory of the gallant soldiers of our State who have gone out from our homes and given their lives in the cause of liberty and "peace with justice."

Their names are written on the roll of immortal fame, and, in commemoration of this, the day will be known as "Heroes' Day." As it surely is our desire, so will it be our privilege, with all our countrymen, to observe this occasion in a manner which shall express our supreme realization of the debt we owe to, and our affection and admiration for, those who have thus finished their course after having fought the good fight and kept the everlasting faith of the fathers of this Republic.

Our dear ones gone have made the supreme sacrifice for God and humanity. It is granted us to catch something of the spirit which animated and sustained them, in our loving observance of this occasion; and I know that the pews of our churches will be filled with our people, appropriate services rendered in our chancels and pertinent messages delivered from our pulpits.

"Deep calls to Deep." Our response will be spontaneous, individual and universal.

Affectionately yours,
JOHN G. MURRAY.
Baltimore, September 20.

HEROES' DAY.

DEAR BRETHREN:

Sunday, September 29th, has been set apart as a day of memorial to the Soldiers of Maryland who have given up their lives fighting for the cause of Liberty and Justice.

The war has made many changes amongst us. We have been called upon to make many sacrifices, but these brave young men have made the greatest of all, and there is no tribute we could pay which would be in any sense adequate to manifest our gratitude to those heroic spirits.

We can, however, at least gather together, and in some measure express to our State and Nation how deeply we feel our losses, and how sincerely we regard our sense of obligation. Let us exemplify both by action and words that the memory of their heroism is always with us, and above all let us go upon record that we are standing solidly behind those who are now fighting, and that these boys who have already passed to the beyond have not died in vain. Were it necessary I would say more, but I cannot think that any of our people would need further urging to make this day memorable.

WILLIAM FRASER McDOWELL, D.D
Baltimore, September 20.
