UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES

W. M. Gardner, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Gardner, of Baltimore, and the grandson of Mrs. J. Carvil Maslin, of Chestertown, has been commissioned second lieutenant in the U. S. Army and ordered to Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., as military instructor.

Corporal Harry T. Hadaway, U. S. Army Ambulance Service, with the Italian Army, wrote an interesting letter to his grandmother, Mrs. Alice P. Hadaway, dated Italy, August 15.

The following poem is from the pen of Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and is entitled "America Speaks":

I am the refuge of all the oppressed,
I am the boast of the free,
I am the harbor where ships may rest
Safely 'twixt sea and sea.
I hold up a torch to a darkened world,
I lighten the path with its ray,
Let my hand keep steady
And let me be ready
For whatever comes my way.

For better than fortresses, better than guns,
Better than lance or spear,
Are the loyal hearts of my daughters and sons,
Faithful and without fear.
But my daughters and sons must understand
That Attila did not die,
And they must be ready,
Their hands must be steady,
If the hosts of hell come nigh.

If Jesus were back on the earth with men
He would not preach today
Until he had made him a scourge and again
He would drive the defilers away.
He would throw down the tables of lust and greed
And scatter the changers' gold.
He would be ready, His hand would be steady
As it was in that temple of old.

I am the cradle of God's new world;
From me shall the new race rise,
And my glorious banner must float unfurled,
Unsullied against the skies.
My sons and daughters must be my strength,
With courage to do and dare,
With hearts that are ready, with hands that are steady,
And their slogan must be prepare.
We must be ready.

With a prayer on the lip they must shoulder arms,
For after all has been said,
We must muster guns if we master Huns,
And Atilla is not dead.
We must be ready.

Mrs. Marion Collison, of Rock Hall, received thirteen letters and cards last week from her son, Walter.

Mr. Arthur Watson, son of Mrs. Benjamin Coburn, of Rock Hall, received his commission as lieutenant on August 31 at Princeton.

Mr. Foster Parker had a cousin die in an army camp recently from Spanish influenza. He was a lieutenant.

Mr. Clarence Wise, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Elliott, has been commissioned first lieutenant.

Corporal James H. Patten, formerly of this county, was killed in France recently. He was raised by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Moffett, of Worton, with whom he lived until a few years ago.

Mr. T. Kemp Bordley, who went to Camp Meade some weeks ago, has been made a sergeant. Mr. Bordley is a man of keen mentality and will no doubt make rapid progress.

Mr. Jack Barroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Barroll, who is in the officers training camp at Cape May, is reported to be sick with hay fever.

Capt. P. J. Wilkinson has been transferred to Camp Grant, Ill. His wife, who had been a guest of her mother, Mrs. W. R. Aldridge, has joined her husband at the new camp.

Mr. Frank Jarman, of Chestertown, is now a sergeant. He has been in France for several months.

Capt. G. Allen Jarman, of Chickamauga Park, Ga., is home for the week. Army life has agreed with Capt. Jarman for he is looking ten years younger than when he was a veternarian in Chestertown.

The following letter is from Sergeant Earnest H. Strong, who is in France with Uncle Sam's troops:

I left Camp Humphreys, Va., in such a hurry that I didn't find time to write and tell you to stop the paper there. The paper was a great enjoyment to me there, but over here it will be greater. So please send it to me here.

We are now eleven days from the States, and have about two more days. If we had had good weather we would be about over now, but we had a bad storm for about two days, and we hardly moved; the ocean was surely some rough. I never fed the fish, but I wasn't feeling any the best. I was up in the crows nest for one and one-half hours. It was great up there—110 feet above the water.

We are now surounded by destroyers, which makes a pretty sight. Such little fellows to be in such a large ocean, but when it comes to fighting, they are always ready.

Remember me to the good people of the town, and some day you will be surprised to look up from your work and be able to say, "hello, Ernest."

President Wilson Makes Great Speech

President Wilson stated emphatically Friday night in New York, in a great speech, that we can't bargain with the Huns. He said in part:

"We are all agreed that there can be no peace obtained by any kind of bargain or compromise with the Governments of the Central Empire, because we have dealt with them already and have seen them deal with other Governments that were parties to this struggle at Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest. They have convinced us that they are without honor and do not intend justice. They observe no covenants, accept no principle but force and their own interest. We cannot 'come to terms' with them. They have made it impossible. The German people must by this time be fully aware that we cannot accept the word of those who forced this war upon us. We do not think the same thoughts or speak the same language of agreement."

The President gave five grounds on which to base peace, as follows:

"First—The impartial justice meted out must involve no discrimination between those to whom we wish to be just and those to whom we do not wish to be just. It must be a justice that plays no favorites and knows no standard but the equal rights of the several people concerned.

"Second—No special or separate interest or any single nation or any group of nations can be made the basis of any part of the settlement which is not consistent with the common interests of all.

"Third—There can be no leagues or alliances or special covenants and understandings with the general and common family of the league of nations.

"Fourth—And more specifically, there can be no special, selfish economic combinations within the league and no employment of any form of economic boycott or exclusion except as the power of economic penalty by exclusion from the markets of the world may be vested in the league of nations itself as a means of discipline and control.

"Fifth—All international agreements and treaties of every kind must be made known, in their entirety, to the rest of the world."

Pointers For Saving Coal In Kent

Every Kent countian wants to save every pound of coal possible and do everything possible to make the supply of coal last over winter without experiencing such inconvenience as some did last winter. Various ways to save coal and still keep warm are pointed out by the General Committee of the Anthracite Coal Operators in a series of suggestions given out on conservation of the fuel during the coming winter months. Briefly they are:

Start furnace and kitchen fires as late as possible, and don't burn them on these warm, Indian summer, days.

Raise window curtains during the day to admit sunlight for that is free heat. Dispense with awnings as they shut out the sun.

Weatherstrip all doors and windows and put asbestos around the furnaces, boilers and cellars pipes used for heating purposes.

Reduce the home temperature to 67 degrees. Do not wait until the mercury shows 74 degrees before closing drafts. By this time that extra amount of coal will have been consumed and wasted, according to all economic rules.

Bedrooms, where windows are opened for the night or otherwise, should be shut off from heat. Use blankets and feel better in the morning.

Wear heavier clothing. This materially saves body heat.

Thoroughly clean soot from pipes and boilers and do not mind doing a little work in the cellar seeing that window panes are tight.

German Casualities In France.—Twenty bucketfuls of identification tags were taken from the German dead who fell in the first week's fighting of the German drive which opened on March 21, according to a press report from Holland. These identification disks are about the size of an American quarter, and it is estimated that there must have been 370,000 in this one shipment. The German casualties of the first three weeks of the drive were estimated at 500,000. By the end of the first week in September the total German casualities in 1918, as estimated from the most reliable reports obtainable, had grown to more than a million, killed, wounded and prisoners.
