Crownsville Auxiliary plans benefit at Regent

A series of Premier parties are being planned throughout the city to support the Women's Auxiliary of Crownsville State Hospital's Premier Benefit to be held at the Regent Theater on Friday, May 22.

Proceeds from this show will be used to purchase television sets to fill the lonely hours of patients at Crownsville.

The Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Simon Carter, is joining the Mental Health Association's fight for better mental health in Maryland.

* * *

This organization has dedicated itself to improving conditions and meeting the needs of the patients at Crownsville. This project is only one of the many sponsored by the Auxiliary to buy things that will in some way speed the patients' recovery.

The civic groups, social clubs and fraternal organizations have indicated their support of this worthy project by forming Premier Parties to attend the show.

Chuck Richardson, famed radio and television personality, has pledged his help to the ladies by acting as Master of Ceremonies for that night.

Phone Lafayette 3-8862 or Lafayette 3-8509 for tickets. Tickets are also on sale at Charm Center 1811 Penna. Ave., and will be on sale in the Mondomin Shopping Center during the week of the 16th.

The Mt. Moriah Chapter No. 1 of Royal Arch Masons of the Most Worshipful Hiram Grand Lodge 1203-05 N. Eutaw Pl., sponsored its annual Inspirational Breakfast at the Masonic Temple Sunday.

Grand Master Clarence Wycoff, Sister Lillian Payne, Grand Matron Clara V. Bins, and Excellent High Priest James L. Mosley brought back pleasant memories of the past and present Masonic days of the organization.

Mrs. Thornton was presented a money corsage and Mr. GM Thornton was presented a plaque from the NAACP, a past High Priest collar of red velvet and gleaming gold trimmings by the chapter, and a financial donation from the women's auxiliary, Eastern Stars of the Most Worshipful Hiram Grand Lodge.

The success of the program was due in a large measure to James Wilson and Wardell Young.

"THE MAN IN THE GLASS"

When you get what you want
in your struggle for self
And the world makes you
king for a day
Just go to the mirror and look at yourself
And see what that man has
to say
For it isn't your father,
mother or wife
Whose judgement upon you must pass
The fellow whose verdict
counts most in your life
Is the one staring back from the glass
You may like Jack Horner
And think you're a wonderful
Hat chief a plum
But the man in the glass says
you're only a lum
If you can't look him straight
guy
in the eye
He's the fellow to please
Never mind all the rest
For he's with you clear to the end
And you've passed your most dangerous test
If the man in the glass is your friend.

This isn't to change the subject, but at time of bereavement do not do without the help of a complete service that attends to all details. Such services — complete, dignified, and understanding — are available at ELLIOTT FUNERAL HOME, 1129 N. Caroline St. Phone EAstern 7-6590.

—Teddy Hale

Thursday, just 36 days before his 33rd birthday, which would have been May 23. He suffered a brain hemorrhage in a rooming house in the 1400 block of U St., NW and was pronounced dead on arrival at D.C. General Hospital.

BORN IN Cleveland, Ohio, Hale had been living in New York since 1930, but for the past six months had been living in Washington where he had been appearing in clubs and was very popular.

Once one of the top tap dancers in show business, Hale traveled coast to coast for many years, appearing in the top theatres and night clubs. He appeared many years with Lewis and for a brief time when he was sixteen was Lewis' famous "shadow."

He appeared at the World's Fair and also received a citation from President Eisenhower after dancing at a dinner for the President. The song, "Shoeshine Boy," was written for Hale and Louis Armstrong when they were appearing at the old Connie's Inn. Hale also made several movies.

As a tap dancer par excellence, Hale had a distinguished career going for him before he fell under the influence of narcotics and had many brushes with the New York police. After that, his police yellow sheet became as lengthy as his former rave notices.

Baptist Convention

(An Editorial)

The United Baptist Missionary Convention of Md. and its auxiliaries opens its 33rd annual session on Monday.

The convention has 60 member churches.

No census figures are available for Baptist communicants but estimates place the figures at 70,000 plus — an important religious group in this area.

Last year, the Rev. J. Timothy Boddie (Shiloh) retired as president, and was succeeded by the Rev. Willard Clayton (Macedonia).

The spirit of brotherhood and goodwill which pervades these annual meetings is traditional, and a model for the denomination's national convention.
