THE HAND OF DEATH

By reference to our death columns in this issue will be seen the sad trail of death that has visited this county the past week. Many homes have been saddened as never before by taking therefrom mothers, fathers and children. Some have been taken in the spring time of their happy and hopeful lives, others have passed the half-century mark, and some have reached a ripe old age. We extend sympathy to all those who have been bereaved of their dear ones.

DEATHS

This has been a sad week in Kent county. The grim reaper has taken a fearful toll from the homes of our community and left many firesides desolate. Elderly people have been stricken who have seen many decades of life, who have been identified with the history and growth of our county; young men have been cut down in the full flower of their splendid manhood; mothers, leaving children, husbands and loved ones, are no more; many children have followed the same sad path. Our people are grief-stricken as the reaper, with keen and relentless blade, has gathered in the precious sheathes. Our hearts are touched with sympathy for the bereaved, and, though we stand mute and apparently unconcerned, all of us feel in our hearts for the bereaved words which our lips cannot frame. May the cherished memories of other joyous days spent with the ones that are now no more be at least a little consolation to the loved ones who now stand closest within the shadow.

The sad death of Mr. T. Kemp Bordley, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. S. Bordley, of Chestertown, occurred at Camp Meade on Friday afternoon from pneumonia, aged 30 years. Mr. Bordley contracted a severe cold a few weeks ago and when last home was suffering from it. Later came the influenza, which developed into pneumonia, which caused his end, his mother and brother being with him at the last.

Mr. Bordley was a young man of exceptional ability in many ways. He was a graduate of Washington College and his intellectual horizon was much broader than the average man. He was broad-minded in his views in politics and along other lines of thought and was always willing to hear the other side. He was generous to everyone and was always willing to lend a hand to those in need. He was a member of the Chestertown M. E. Church. In church circles he was a hard worker, and every branch of that institution will miss him greatly. Especially will the Sunday School and choir miss his services. As a violinist he was an artist of rare skill and many are times when local audiences have been thrilled by the beautiful melody that came from his instrument and touched to loftier ideals or more intense patriotism. It is doubtful if there has been such a skillful performer on the violin who has lived in Kent county in the past generation as this young man who has graced the realm of death by his presence. For many years Mr. Bordley had been connected with the firm of Bordley & Sons, and was well known to the customers for his courteous ways and fair dealing. About two months ago he entered the service of the government and made a fine type of soldier. His death is a sad one, and his family and friends have the sympathy of the people here in their bereavement.

The funeral was held at the M. E. Church at 12.30 o'clock Wednesday, conducted by Revs. T. F. Beauchamp, A. H. Covey, L. E. Barrett and George Newton, interment in Chester cemetery. Undertaker Dodd had charge of the funeral arrangements. The pall bearers were: John Speicher, C. C. Jones, A. L. Sterling, T. W. Eliason, Jr., R. W. Huey, J. N. Wheatley.

Mr. Purnell Jefferson, one of Kent's oldest and most highly respected men, died at his home near Chestertown on Thursday, aged 87 years. Mr. Jefferson was well liked by all who knew him and had a wide circle of friends. He leaves two sons, Samuel and Percy. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon, interment in Chester cemetery, Rev. Mr. Donovan officiating. Undertaker Dodd had charge of the funeral arrangements. The pall bearers were Frank Plummer, E. T. Graham, J. E. Morris, Harry Legg, Thomas Fowler and Jerry Miller.

The whole community is saddened because of the untimely death of Mr. Frank J. Duyer on Monday morning at his home on Cannon street. Mr. Duyer's wife was ill when the end came. Mr. Duyer was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Duyer and besides his parents, leaves a wife, who was before marriage Miss Lucy Thompson, and two sisters, Misses Maude and Rose Duyer. Mr. Duyer contracted the influenza, from which pneumonia set in, bringing the end. He was 35 years of age.

Mr. Duyer was born in Chestertown and was well known to a wide circle of friends, to whom he endeared himself by his amicable and loving manner, and was always ready to do a good turn for anyone when an opportunity presented itself. He was of a particularly jolly disposition and was always ready to hear or tell a good joke. He had that sterling gift of good humor which made him like a brother to all who knew him, and because of this trait many friends were naturally drawn to him, always finding him pleasant company. After leaving school, he entered the carpentering business with his father. In this line he was one of the most skillful workmen in the county, his massive physique, keen eye and good judgment making him an expert mechanic. The rush of mechanics to other places this year did not tempt Mr. Duyer to leave the pastoral scenes of Kent county. He was a great lover of his home and family and county and he preferred the quiet and comfort of life here in preference to the rush of city life. The deceased will be greatly missed here, not only by his family and relatives, but because of his usefulness in the fields of useful endeavor. His grief-stricken wife, parents, sisters and friends have our deepest sympathy.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from his late home on Cannon street, conducted by Rev. J. L. Ward, interment in Chester cemetery. Undertaker Dodd had charge of funeral. The pall bearers were Merritt Thompson, Wilmer Dill, Wm. H. Lambert, William Spielberger, Walter Wright, Harry Thompson.

The home of Mr. Hicks Tucker, of Queen Annes county, a few miles from Chestertown, is in deep sorrow because of the sudden death of his wife from the pneumonia on last Sunday morning. Mrs. Tucker had been a sufferer from the influenza, which developed into pneumonia. Mrs. Tucker had been quite sick for several days, but the end came suddenly. She was 33 years of age. Mrs. Tucker was before marriage Miss Hester Jefferson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jefferson, and sister of Messrs. Harry F. and Norman Jefferson, of Chestertown. She was a lady of splendid personality, was a good neighbor and well liked by all who knew her. The deceased leaves a husband and two small boys.

The funeral was held on Monday conducted by the Rev. Mr. Rowlinson, of Crumpton, interment in the Church Hill cemetery. Undertaker W. T. Hicks had charge of the funeral arrangements. The bearers were: Harry F. and Norman Jefferson, J. T. McGinnis, Charles A. Baxter, James A. Tucker and G. T. Dewberry.

Mrs. S. L. Thomas, one of Chestertown's oldest and best known citizens, reached the end of a long and useful life on Sunday morning and laid her burdens down. She has been sick for several years.

Mrs. Thomas was a lady of kind and generous impulses and her home was one of hospitality.

The deceased was the widow of Mifflin W. Thomas, a prominent business man of this town years ago. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. J. Alfred Perkins, of Lansdowne, Pa.; M. Wilbur Thomas, of Chestertown; Miss Laura Thomas and Mr. R. Snowden Thomas, both of the same place; and J. A. Thomas, of New Orleans. Funeral services were held at the home on Washington avenue Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by Rev. T. F. Beauchamp, of the M. E. Church, of which the deceased was a member for years. Interment was made in the family lot in St. Paul's cemetery. Undertaker W. T. Hicks had charge of the funeral arrangements. The pall bearers were: Messrs. M. A. Toulson, W. B. Strong, R. H. Collins, H. R. Graham, E. W. Emory and Mifflin Perkins.

Death claimed another of our young men in the full possession of his vigorous young manhood on Thursday, when Mr. John Kennard Aldridge succumbed to pneumonia, following a short illness from influenza. He was 32 years of age.

Mr. Aldridge was one of the most progressive of the young farmers of Kent. He was a young man of a quiet disposition and had a wide circle of friends who will greatly miss him.

He leaves a wife and two children, besides his mother and two sisters to mourn his loss.

The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m., interment in Chester cemtery. Undertaker C. L. Dodd in charge of arrangements. The bearers will be Clinton Wroth, Lawrence Strong, W. B. Usilton, C. C. Jones, Frank V. Simpers, Thomas Massey.

After a short illness of influenza, which developed into pneumonia, Mrs. Tilden Hadaway died Wednesday. She was 31 years of age. Mrs. Hadaway was before marriage Miss Peterson. She was a lady of charming personalty and was well liked by all who knew her. She leaves a husband and six children to mourn her loss. The funeral was held yesterday, Friday, morning, at 11 a. m., interment in Chester cemetery. Undertaker Dodd in charge. The pall bearers were: Wm. Faulkner, Clarence Newcomb, Gilbert Hadaway, Roy Robinson, Harry Fowler and John Hadaway.

Edward Kennard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kennard, died at the home of his mother on Sunday morning of influenza, aged 32 years. Mr. Kennard had been working for the past two months in a shipbuilding plant in Baltimore, where he contracted the disease. Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers and three sisters, viz, J. A., Richard and Frank, Mrs. W. C. Benjamin, Mrs. Edward Shockley and Mrs. Jessie Jacobs. Funeral services conducted by Rev. T. F. Beauchamp on Tuesday morning with interment in Chester cemtery. Undertaker C. L. Dodd in charge.

Funeral services were held at the home of his mother at Betterton on Wednesday, Rev. S. S. Hepburn officiating, interment was in Still Pond cemetery. The grave service was in charge of the Betterton Lodge of Odd Fellows of which he was a member. Undertaker W. H. Krusen had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Mr. Newton Bogle, for many years superintendent of Bogle's wharf, on Chester river, died at his home on Eastern Neck Island on Monday, following an attack of paralysis, aged about 63 years. The deceased was one of the most widely known men in the Fifth District. His nearest relative is a nephew, Mr. James A. Bickett, of Norfolk. Funeral services were held Tuesday at 5.30 with interment at St. Paul's, Rev. Dr. Dickerson, of Fairlee, officiating. The bearers were: R. B. Carroll, Notley O. Willson, J. W. Stevens, L. W. Wickes and A. A. Harris. Undertaker C. L. Dodd.

The death of Albert F. Legg, eldest son of Mr. H. H. and Stella Legg, occurred at the home of his parents, at Flatland, on Monday, aged 23 years. Besides his mother and father, he is survived by a wife, Lillian M. and one son, Albert F., Jr., and the following brothers and sister, Arthur K., Harry R., W. T., Marion L. and Mary R. UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES

Despit their native abhorrence of war and militarism, the Jews of the United States have become a unit for the war against Germany. The reasons for this attitude have been examined by a writer in the American Weekly Jewish News, who concludes, that not only does the heart of the East Side of New York, the largest Jewish colony of the world, beat with America, but that particular section has actually become one of the strongholds of unadulterated Americanism.

As an example of what sea power has done, seven American soldiers and their equipment have landed in Europe every minute of the night and day during the past three or four months. Through the splendid work of American shipbuilders, the United States now is able to transport more than 50 per cent of her soldiers in American ships manned by Americans. When the American army first began to move overseas, it was carried largely by British vessels.

Under the heading "When I Come Home" the following poem will be appropriate at this time:

When I come home and leave behind
Dark things I would not call to mind,
I'll taste good ale and home-made bread,
And see white sheets and pillows spread;
And there is one who'll softly creep
To kiss me, ere I fall asleep
And tuck me 'neath the counterpane,
And I shall be a boy again
When I come home!

When I come home, from dark to light
And tread the roadways long and white,
And tramp the lanes I tramped of yore,
And see the village greens once more,
The tranquil farms, the meadows free,
The friendly trees that nod to me,
And hear the lark beneath the sun,
'Twill be good pay for what I've done
When I come home!

Mr. John W. Barroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hope H. Barroll, has been sick at Cape May. His condition is much improved since last week.

Sergeant Henry Furbush, formerly of Chestertown, stationed at Long Island, N. Y., is ill with pneumonia at Price's Station.

A letter from Lieut. Robt. R. Ayres, who is at Camp Greene, N. C., says he has just recovered from the influenza. He says out of 250 men, only 8 men escaped from it. Lieut. Ayres fears he won't get a chance to get across to France before the war is over.

We received a letter from Mr. F. E. Lambert, Jr., on Wednesday. Mr. Lambert is in France and he was on his way to the front when he wrote the letter.

Capt. L. Wethered Barroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hope H. Barroll, of Chestertown, has been sick at Fort Hancock, N. J., for several days.

Up to the present, nearly 1,000,000 British lives have been sacrificed in the war, according to reliable information.

Letters from Sergeant H. P. Skipper, who is in France, are of a very optimistic nature. Mr. Skipper is well.

Private John B. Robinson, who enlisted in the U. S. Marines several months ago and who has been in training since, at Paris Island, S. C., and Quantico, Va., has sailed for foreign parts.

Sergeant Hanson Stavely is quite sick with the influenza at Pittsburg University.

Opportunity To Enter Coast Artillery

Authority has been given the commanding officer at Fort Howard, Md., to induct men having the required qualifications and after induction send them to the school for coast artillery officers at Fort Monroe, Va. At Monroe they will take the school course and training, and if found qualified, will be commissioned in the Coast Artillery.

Registrants in deferred classifications on account of dependent relatives can be given option of discharge from service in case of failure. Others would revert to status of enlisted men and be returned to some coast defense and given opportunity to study and be coached for another chance at the school.

This is an exceptional opportunity for juniors and seniors in technical colleges today and also for all graduates as they would simply have to brush up on mathematics. No previous military training or knowledge is necessary, and if otherwise qualified, a good working knowledge of plane trigonometry and logarithms is all that is required. There is no age limit.

Full particulars may be obtained from the Commanding Officer, Fort Howard, Md.

FIFTY FARMS

URGENTLY WANTED

BUYERS WAITING

I want immediately a lot of Eastern Shore farms, especially WATER FRONTS, from a few acres up to average sized farms. My very extensive advertising in northern and western papers, also among the war industry workers along the Delaware River, is bringing scores of inquiries and a big proportion of them are for "water-fronts."

Within the next few months hundreds of buyers will be coming in here ready and anxious to buy a farm and get settled for the coming year. This is the cream season of the year for selling farms. If you have any kind of acreage, now is the time to sell it. This war has made many changes and the market for farms is waking up.

All farms listed with ALBERT L. TEELE'S FARM AGENCY will be widely advertised in a big illustrated catalogue mailed all over the United States. Desirable farms, offered at fair prices, will be liberally advertised in the TRANSCRIPT and the KENT NEWS, free of cost to you.

Do not measure ALBERT L. TEELE'S FARM AGENCY and what it will do for you by what you know of other farm agencies. Do not underestimate active, vigorous methods, backed by ample capital, generous and effective advertising and experienced, tireless salesmen.

I Charge No Commission

Remember—it does not cost you one cent to have your farm sold by ALBERT L. TEELE'S FARM AGENCY. This is a perfectly legitimate proposition, will stand the closest investigation and is based on sound business principles. I invite your banks, and any others interested, to make full inquiries on your behalf.
