EXPLOSIVT WAR DRAMA PLAYING AT THE HARLEM

Robert Mitchum, Stanley Baker and two of the screen's loveliest actress, the European Elizabeth Mueller and American Gia Scala, head the cast of "The Angry Hills," now playing at the Harlem based on the novel by Leon Uris, who wrote the memorable "Battle Cry."

An explosive drama of the Greek Resistance movement during World War II, the story tells of an American war correspondent, who becomes the center of adventure and intrigue when he joins the embattled Greeks in their fight against the conquering Nazis in 1941.

The picture was filmed on locations in Greece, among them Delphi, at the foot of Mt. Parnassus; the old village of St. George, and the streets and environs of Athens in the shadow of the Acropolis.

Mitchum plays Mike Morrison, a correspondent who has reported and romanced his way through Europe in advance of invading Nazi armies and who arrives in Athens just as Greece is on the verge of falling.

While awaiting his plane for England, he is visited by a leader of the Greek Underground, with the result that he finds himself entrusted with a secret list of underground workers which he is to deliver to British Intelligence.

In the course of his pursuit by a man named Tassos and his cohorts who have sold out their country, Morris becomes involved with two girls, one the peasant girl, Eleftheria (Gia Scala) who nurses him back to health after he has been wounded; the second the beautiful Lisa (Elisabeth Mueller), who proves herself one of the greatest of Greek patriots.

Stanley Baner plays the ruthless Nazi, Konrad Heisler, who is determined to capture Mitchum dead or alive, and important supporting roles are enacted by Theodore Bikel as Tassos, Sebastian Cabot, Peter Illing, Leslie Phillips, Donald Wolfit and Marius Goring.

BRIGITTE BARDOT BACKS IN MET'S NEW FILM

Embarked on a new invasion of America's screens, Brigitte Bardot is back with us again in her new film, "Love Is My Profession," starting today at the Met Theatre.

The new film, a Kingsley International release, is based on the inflammable novel by Georges Simenon.

Many readers of the story, undoubtedly, will share the viewpoint that France's international "sex kitten" is one of the few actresses who top the role in this story of a man's obsession with his mistress.

Co-starring opposite her in the role of the man obsessed is Jean Gabin, who by his achievements has come to be known as the "king" of French filmdom.

In fact, the entire production of "Love Is My Profession" was sided and abetted by a wealth of France's top-tier cinema and literary talent.

JOAN CRAWFORD STARS IN NEW ALBERT FILM

Joan Crawford, in one of the most unusual love stories of her brilliant screen career, currently stars at the New Albert Theatre in Paul Wendkos Pictures' "Autumn Leaves."

Miss Crawford superbly portrays an attractive woman, watching her youth disappear in loneliness, who suddenly is awakened to romance by a handsome young stranger.

Their love affair is fraught with misgivings on her part, desperate needs and demands on his; their idyllic marriage inevitably moves from warmth and excitement to terror, suspicion and fear.

In its swift-paced entertainment, "Autumn Leaves" captures the warmth and excitement of a breathless romance, the action of a mystery story and the drama of life-and-death conflict.

More, "Autumn Leaves" sharply poses an absorbing problem in human relationship between a man and a woman, and the question is not resolved until the final few seconds of the film. Miss Crawford, aided by brilliant newcomer Cliff Robertson, makes "Autumn Leaves" a truly, great dramatic production.

THRILLING WESTERN FILM NOW AT THE REGENT

Of the many good stories to come out of the West when America was young, none has been filmed that fans will find more interesting and unusual than "The Hangman," the new Paramount production starring Robert Taylor, Tina Louise, Fess Parker and Jack Lord, which is now at the Regent Theatre.

Here is a film that concentrates on the portrayal of colorful people — and not just a few, but an entire town, in a way to keep audiences on the edge of their seats wondering what will happen next, and always being surprised.

It's the story of a marshal's relentless manhunt and a town's determination that he should not be successful.

"The Hangman" is the uncomplimentary name given to Robert Taylor who plays the title role, a man so committed to carrying out justice that he has to learn the hard way that justice must be tempered with mercy.

It is his education that sparks the extraordinarily interesting story told in this dramatic and highly suspenseful film.

Fess Parker does a fine job as the warm-hearted sheriff who is opposed to Taylor's methods but who falls in love with the same woman Taylor does — Tina Louise.

Hot Rod jets into Royal today

Hot Rod Hulbert, popular WITH disc jockey, will be sticking to his radio format when he jets into the Royal Theatre for seven days, starting today (Friday) with a star spangled Rocket Revue.

Considered by many as Baltimore's top radio personality and showman, Hot Rod plans to carry through his musical space theme at each show, with the capable Tracy McCleary and his orchestra providing the background music.

A name well known for his exciting and often zany gimmicks, Hot Rod will come up with a new one at this show in the form of Rajah-Ha, son of Shirkhan of Grandeur.

RAJAH-HA, a classic beauty, is an Afghan Hound, a line that dates back to 4,000 BC, and is regarded as the oldest known breed.

The Afghan has the reputation of being a great hunter and at the same time a well mannered, gentle and dignified animal.

Also featured in the Rocket Revue will be The Drivers; known for their superb close harmony and recording of "Doe Doe"; Clarence Samuels, who will come direct from Montreal with his versions of "We're Going to the Hoop."

Lovely Jean Hill will fill her spot with one of the most unique and refreshing singing acts of the day.

OTERS ON the bill will include the popular Memos of "My Most Precious Posession" fame; the hard hitting Valets, whose recording of "Shiree" is placing them among the top vocal groups, and the Marvels, a group of girls whose recording of "Dedicated to the One I Love" is a national hit.

For fun and laughter there will be Baby Seals.

The entire Rocket Revue has been produced, staged and directed by Hot Rod, who, being a man of matchless energy, will also broadcast his nightly radio show from backstage in his dressing room.

A feature of the show, which shows to good advantage, is the unique lighting arrangement Hot Rod has set up.

MAN MEETS DOG — Dating back to 4,000 B.C. is the breed of dog known as the Afghan Hound. Only an estimated 4,000 of these dogs are in the United States and the one shown here is the property of the gentleman in the picture, Hot Rod Hulbert. Hot Rod will introduce the dog, whose name is Rajah-Ha, at his Rocket Revue which opens today (Friday) at the Royal Theatre for a week's run.

Wants a 'peaceful' home, wants her husband out

Explaining that she needs a peaceful home for the proper upbringing of her children, Mrs. Harriet Madison asked the court his week, to have her husband, Haywood, remove himself from their residence.

The petition, a part of divorce proceedings being instituted by the wife, also asks that Mr. Madison be enjoined from molesting her, that she be given custody of their two children and that he be ordered to provide alimony an support for her and the children, counsel fees for her attorney, Mrs. Juanita M. Mitchell; and court costs.

The couple is jointly buying property at 2930 Windsor Ave., where they now live. They were married June 30, 1951, the court was told.

• • •

ACCORDING TO the petition asking for a divorce, Mrs. Madison is charging her husband with cruelty, both physical and mental.

She says that she is in fear of her safety and can live with him no longer.

To back up this charge, Mrs. Madison cites Dec. 26, 1957, when, she says, her husband was convicted in Northwestern Police Court for assaulting and beating her.

She says that on this occasion he was sentenced to 30 days in jail, the sentence suspended, and he was placed on probation for a year.

On May 21, this year, she says, he again attacked her, beat her, and ran her out of the house in her underclothes. She says that she was forced to call police and to flee to the home of her mother.

She says that their separation is beyond reasonable hope of expectation of reconciliation, because his actions made continuance of the marriage relations unbearable.

She asks alimony because, according to the petition, she is without sufficient funds to support herself and their children.

As a steelworker at Sparrows Point, she says, he earns $100 per week.

• • •

A DIVORCE was granted to Mrs. Shirley Elkridge of 718 Radnor Ave., from Leslie Elkridge.

Married June 8, 1953, they voluntarily ended the marriage in May, 1955, Mrs. Elkridge testified.

Mr. Elkridge agree to provide $7 per week for support of their five-year-old son who is to remain in the mother's custody.

ALSO WINNING a divorce on testimony that he and Mrs. Avenue agreed to end their marriage, was Roosevelt Brodie of 300 N. Gilmore St.

Mr. Brodie says that their marriage lasted only from August 7, 1955 to Sept. 15, 1955.

His offer to provide $15 per week for support of their son, was accepted by Mrs. Brodie, with a reservation that she have the right to ask for an increase.

She won custody of the three-year-old child.

Lower parking fee asked for Ft. Smallwood

A resolution asking that parking fees for autos at Fort Smallwood be lowered from 50 cents to 25 cents is to be introduced in the City Council Monday evening.

Leon A. Rubenstein, Fifth District councilman, is author of the proposal, and states the lowered rate would apply to auto bearing Maryland tags only.

The resolution is to be directed to Baltimore's Department of Recreation and Parks, which operates Fort Smallwood.

Mr. Rubenstein said he believes a lower parking fee would be more of an inducement for families of modest means to visit and enjoy the park and beach facilities.

Grant renewed

The Baltimore Council of Social Agencies has been awarded a renewal of a grant from the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the amount of $7,917. These additional funds make possible a nine months extension of a project which was initiated 2 years ago at a total cost of $46,000.

The project addresses itself to the question: What factors motivate handicapped persons towards independence? The official title of the study is "Comparative Study of Factors Motivated Handicapped and Non - Handicapped People Towards Independence In Several Types of Employment Setting."

Record taxes

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has announced that a new high had been reached in tax collections by the State of Maryland from one single tax source for, as of June 2, 1959, the Income Tax Division of his office had deposited $100,082,261.18 from corporation and individual income taxes during the present fiscal year which ends June 30, 1959.

Mr. Goldstein stated that corporation income taxes now totaled $17,786,461, while the individual income tax had thus far produced $82,295,950.
