"Phone us if you need us"

A girl's best friend is often her telephone—whether she's twenty-five or five.

When you're twenty-five, the mother of a five-year-old, and going out for the evening—it means a lot to know that your favorite baby sitter can call you by phone should anything unusual occur to worry her.

That silent phone says, as clearly as words, that all's well at home.

Sometimes the calls that aren't made (because they aren't needed) add as much to living as those we like to make. Perhaps that's what makes a phone worth so much more than it costs.

AFRO-AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

For outdoors, serve coffee, hamburgers with a flourish

Outdoor cookery is everyone's pleasure these days.

All you need are a few yards of open blue sky and a patch of ground big enough to accommodate one of the new, inexpensive charcoal grills.

We suggest Grilled Hamburger Roll-Ups Most as the Dish likely to succeed. It's simply a new version of that old favorite, the hamburger, with all its best features built in.

Of course, it goes without saying that no hamburger, old style or new, could be fully enjoyed without hot coffee. When you cook over an outdoor fire, it's a fine idea to brew the coffee right over the grill. And the flavor of outdoor coffee in the cup—sheer heaven, that's what it is!

* * *

HERE'S THE WAY to make steeped coffee.

Boil as much water as you will need in a big, clean pot, remembering that it takes three-quarters of a measuring cup of water for each serving of coffee (a quart and a half of coffee (a waurt and a half of water will make eight servings) Move the pot to one side so that the water is not quite boiling.

Add two level measuring tablespoons (or one standard Coffee Measure) of coffee for each serving and stir vigorously for half a minute. Then let the brew stand for ten minutes to steep and settle. Don't let it boil!

A few drops of cold water then will settle the grounds and for all.

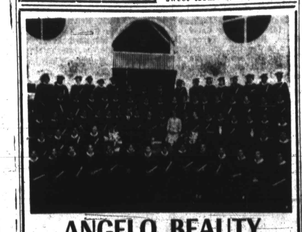
* * *

STUFFED HAMBURGER Roll - Ups are made with 1½ lbs. ground beef salt and pepper processed American Cheese, 1 per, prepared mustard, 1/4 lb. dill pickle, and 8 frankfurter rolls.

Season ground beef with salt and pepper and divide into 8 equal portions. Pat each portion into thin oblong patty and spread with prepared mustard. Cut chees into 8 "sticks"; cut pickle into 8 strips.

Place one cheese stick and one pickle strip on each patty. Roll up and grill over hot charcoal until cheese melts and meat is cooked.

Serve in toasted frankfurter rolls. Makes 8 servings.



TO SENIOR HI — Fifteen-year-old Gertrude O. Moore, 1516 N. Broadway, was among pupils graduating from Dunbar Junior High. She moved to senior high in the same school. Miss Moore is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Winn, and the goddild of Mrs. Lucey Brooks of Cherry Hill.

Lowly Frank takes on airs

Pack lots of relishes (with some chipped ice to keep them crisp), fresh fruit and cold beverages. You're in for a picnic to remember!

* * *

MAKE CRISSCROSS gashes on one side of skinless frankfurters. Stick 4 or 5 cloves in each frank, ham fashion. Make a paste of brown sugar and mustard and spread lightly over scored surface.

If desired, sprinkle with 1 teaspoon drained crushed pineapple. Place on rectangle of foil and pinch edges together. Roast on grill over coals 15-20 minutes.

* * *

ANOTHER WAY to "foil" lagging summer appetites is to slit frankfurters and fill them with apple sauce, raisins and mandarin orange sections, or pimento cheese, then make foil - wrapped packages as above.

One of the nicest things about this technique is that the preparation mess is confined to the kitchen. Once at the picnic grounds, you merely transfer the contents of the foil to toasted buns.

* * *

SAUSAGE SORRENTO, slit skinless frankfurters almost all the way through. Alternate cubes of Mozzarella cheese with salami in the pockets formed.

Dribble with tomato catsup. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and few grains oregano. Wrap in foil rectangles and bake. Lo and behold! The gourmets have invaded the picnic grounds!

Even the simple frankfurter, the perennial pal of picnic lovers, is taking on airs—along with unusual spices and stuffings.

There's good reason for it since, the frank, one of the mildest seasoned sausages, lends itself well to offbeat flavor combinations. Is yours a "sweet tooth" family?

PRETTY and talented are the words for Miss Mease Booker the Royal Crown "Golden Girl." She is touring the nation promoting the sales of Royal Crown Hair Dressing. The young lady won her title in a national contest. She is a professional model and a student at UCLA.

Raisin bars

Iced coffee and "Southern Raisin Bars" were made for each other. A light spicing and generous measure of raisins and chocolate bits make this cooky a popular choice for summertime baking.

Rolling the bars in powdered sugar makes them snowy and inviting, especially on a warm day.

* * *

TANGY SWEET raisins help keep cookies, cakes and nut breads moist. Coarsely chopping them helps release their natural moistness and flavor and distributes chewy bits of fruit throughout the batters.

Stir some raisins into cornbread, too; the fruited bread makes a good go - along with barbecue casseroles and meats.

* * *

SOUTHERN RAISIN BARS are made with— One cup light or dark raisin, one - third cup butter or margarine, two-third cup brown sugar (packed), two eggs, one teaspoon vanilla, one-fourth cup light molasses, two tablespoons orange juice or water;

Kappas' social score notch up after dance

Five hundred guests will attest to the fact that the Baltimore Alumni chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, last none of its vaunted prowess as hosts at its dance, last week.

In the form of a "Kappa Karavan to the Kapitol" town frater had forth at a formal cabaret affair in the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Washington.

THE ELEGANT dance was but one section of the evening's entertainment, for a number of the brothers held forth at pre-parties in their suites in the Statler-Hilton, and a number of others carried on at post affairs.

Among them Polemarch and Mrs. Dick Hobson had a suite; the Randolph Tuckers held a major cocktail party; the Bo Henry Henlsons entertained and the James Denkins lengthened the evening into morning fun.

Official hosts were Joel Newton and John Wood, and the service they provided, from caviar on, is still the talk of the town.

Dick Hobson heads the Baltimore Alumni Chapter, and other hosts were:

Drs. John T. Chissell, R. L. Jackson, T. H. Pinkney, Herbert L. Moseley Jr., G. E. Fleming, Marcus Moore; Joel Carrington, J. H. Thomas Jr., George P. Brown.
