MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR B. McCAW, left, formerly of Omaha, Neb., and their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. Clifton Johnson, on home leave from Korea, were visitors in Baltimore, last week.

Life in Korea full of charm say the McCaws

By LULA JONES GARRETT

BALTIMORE — Here, this and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. week, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. McCaw and their son-in-law and daughters Lt. and Mrs. Clifton Johnson, were thoroughly enjoying a Stateside visit, but equally enthusiastic over life in their posts in Korea.

Mr. McCaw, former budget director for the State of Nebraska, is now a fiscal officer for the U.S. Command's General Aid Program, in Korea. His wife, who was a superior of art in Omaha, is now teaching in Korea. She teaches English for three foreign language speaking groups at Seoul University' and is exhibit advisor for the Communications Media Division of ICA.

* * *

THAT THE McCAWS have a deep interest in the country is further demonstrated by the fact that their daughter, Mrs. Johnson, also lends her talents to work in that country. She is now supervising three craft shops in the zone between North and South Korea.

Lt. Johnson is of course, in the service in that country. Their marriage in April was a social event and was marked social event in the country, and by two receptions.

* * *

THE FORMER Miss Janis McCaw went to Korea to visit her parents in Nov. She met the lieutenant at a service club, and they were married five months later.

Mrs. Reed Johnson of Fullerton, Md., was an honor graduate at Morgan State College in 1957. He attended Officers Artillery School in Oklahoma, and Fort Benning in Georgia, before being sent to Korea.

* * *

THE McCAWS live in a western style house in Korea and say they "luckily" have a Korean housekeeper who has been trained in the way of western living.

But their meals are, says Mrs. McCaw, is usually an interesting mixture of the East and the West, so that any day while they may have the rice fish, etc. that is well known to all, they may spike the menu with "bulgogi," a type of barbecue; or add "kimchi," a salad of highly spiced cabbage.

* * *

ONE ADVANTAGE of Eastern residence, according to the McCaws, is the economical prices of very high grade clothing. The family demonstrated that in the ensembles worn by them.

A chic dress with matching topper of heavy woven silk material was seen by Mrs. McCaw. I was sure that she had picked the number up on her stop in New York. But she informed me, the ensemble had been made in the East by a dressmaker. Incidentally acquainted with western styles. This was also shown by the perfectly tailored suits worn by Mr. McCaw and Lt. Johnson.

* * *

KOREANS, SAYS Mr. McCaw, are highly intelligent and show remarkable progress under the aid program being provided for them.

The program, initiated before the Korean War, was at first designed to prohibit the spread of disease and unrest, and to alleviate poverty.

Such progress has been made in these areas that most efforts are now being directed toward economic growth and efficient use of equipment being sent in to the country.

Pointing to the numerous young Koreans now being educated and trained in this country, Mr. McCaw says that all the country needs is an opportunity, and the type of assist now being given by the United States.

In Baltimore the quartet was guests of Dr. and Mrs. G. James Fleming, who also had them as guests at the Kappa Alpha Psi dance in Washington, Friday evening.

MISS GLORIA HOUSE became the bride of John Catlett in a ceremony in Wayland Baptist Church, Baltimore, recently.

MISS MARGO DEAN of Washington and Dr. Frank E. Barbee Jr. of Denver, Colo., were married in the Capital, recently.

Sewell-McNair ceremony held

The marriage of Miss Brenda Joyce McNair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McNair, to Ernest Maurice Sewell, son of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Sewell of Churchton, Md., took place recently at the Concord Baptist Church, here.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. O. SE. Clair Franklin, pastor of the Mt. Zion Methodist Church, and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's adopted uncles, William Barnes and Robert Bonaparte, 1712 Smallwood Street.

The bride is a Coppin sophomore and the bridegroom, a junior at the Johns Hopkins University.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white full waltz length net gown with a fitted bodice of lace. Her finger-tip veil was held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white snapdragons.

Miss Vivian Parker was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Inez Lloyd, Miss Dolores Hunt, Miss Bettina Monroe, Miss Vernadine Tubman, and Miss Lillie Wilkes.

* * *

THE BRIDAL attendants wore pink and aqua gowns with seed pearl hats and white slippers. Each carried a bouquet of tinted carnations.

Floyd Stanfield was best man. The ushers included James Jackson, Donald Perry, Warren Hobbs, Walter Stevenson, and Elijah Tony. For this affair the ushers donned summer formals with maroon accessories.

Doris Talley was flower girl and wore white nylon dress; ring bearer was James McNair, cousin of the bride, who wore a white suit and white accessories.

* * *

OUT-OF-TOWN guests were: Mrs. Ann Felder, Eastern Regional director of Tau Gamma Delta Sorority, New York City; Rev. and Mrs. Sherman Mason, Port Republic, Md.; Mrs. Alberta Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Williams, Washington, D.C.

From Shepherdstown, West Va. were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Branson, Mrs. Amelia Harris and Mrs. Agnes Wilson.

From Hanover, Md. were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Butler, and Mr. and Mrs. William Parker.

From New Brunswick, N.J. were Mr. Huey McNair, Miss Helen McNair, Miss Nell McNair, and Mrs. Betty Joe Bennett.

Mrs. Lottie Lindsay, Lithicum Md., and Mrs. John Mundell, Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Queen all from Severn, Md.

Groups present were the Mediocre Teachers Club, and Pi Chapter Tau Gamma Delta Sorority.

The couple will reside at the Tooga Apartments, 2800 Reisterstown Rd.

PARTY PRATTLE: The Petersburg Quettes held their annual closing activity on the spacious lawn at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. Williams, Sunday afternoon.

The newly elected officers of the Petersburg Quettes were presented to the group by the Chairman of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. H. M. Armstrong.

They are Mrs. Elwood B. Boone, president; Mrs. A. M. Banks, vice-president; Mrs. Bennie Brown, secretary; and Mrs. Sylvester V. Blue, treasurer.

Among the persons in attendance were:

Drs. and Mrs. Cortlandt M. Colson (He is basileus of Delta Omega.), Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Avant, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester W. Blue, Dr. and Mrs. Elwood B. Boone, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Jones.

Miss Wanda Jones, Mrs. A. G. Macklin, Miss Angelia Macklin, Dr. A. J. Miller, Miss Carolyn Joyce Miller, Mrs. Charles D. Paige, Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Williams and Hughue Armstrong.

House party at the Annopolis, Md. home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pettigrew, last weekend drew Dr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Jackson of Philadelphia, Mrs. Harry Slade of New York, Mrs. Martha Crichlow, Mrs. Booker Carpenter of Washington and Mrs. Bessie C. Bryant of Rocky Mount, N.C.

And now Delta Sigma Theta has moved into Alaska.

The first chapter of the sorority inducted in America's newly-admitted 49th state was established in Anchorage, Alaska.

The chapter, called the Alpha Alumnae Chapter, was established by Delta's president, Dr. Jeanne L. Noble and first vice president, Dr. Geraldine P. Woods, both of whom flew here from Denver, Colorado where the Sorority's Central Regional Conference was held last weekend.

Marking this historic occasion, which increases Delta's chapters to 231 in 38 states of the United States and in the Republic of Haiti, was a banquet and a radio and television appearance of Dr. Noble.

The Chapter's six charter members, all of whom live in or near Anchorage, are Mrs. Willa J. Ewing, originally from Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Evelyn Lynn of Philadelphia; Mrs. Roberta Smith of Temple, Texas; Mrs. Dolores B. Watson of Seattle; Mrs. Luella Graham White of Wilberforce, Ohio; and Mrs. Victoria Williams Jenkins of New Orleans.

Organized on a state-wide basis as the "Alaska Alumnae Chapter," the charter members will recruit members throughout Alaska.

PEREGRINATORS: Off to Russia, next month, will go Dr. Flemmie Kittrell, of the Home Ec department of Howard University.

The Behind-the-Iron - Curtain jaunt will be a part of the two-month European sojourn she will make this summer. Three weeks will be spent in Russia.

Dr. Kittrell will participate in international meetings in Geneva, Switzerland, a meeting of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights. A member of the executive committee of the U.S. section of the League, Dr. Kittrell will address the second plenary session of an international seminar arranged by the Danish section of the Women's International League, July 19 to 25 in Copenhagen, Denmark. Her subject is "Economic Influences on Cultural Development."

Following an international meeting of the Women's League in Stockholm, Sweden, July 26 to August 1, Dr. Kittrell will make the tour of Russia, where she will study the activities of women and children.

Already in Russia is Washington's Mrs. Edward Mazique, who flew from New York, Saturday.

Mrs. Lucy F. James, assistant supervisor for home economics education in eastern North Carolina, flew to Europe June 22 for a six week educational tour. She went immediately to Copenhagen, Denmark, and afterwards will visit educational centers in Austria, Belgium, Denmark, England, France, Italy and Switzerland.

North Carolina College's home economics department staff entertained at a reception for Mrs. James on Thursday afternoon.

Also making the European trip from the Durham-Raleigh area is Mrs. A. E. Brown of Raleigh.

Sandy Perry, industrial secretary of the Omaha Urban League, left New York a Friday ago for West Germany.

Mr. Perry has been selected as one of a dozen American social workers to participate in a West Germany Government project through September 2. They will spend eight weeks in Hamburg, where they will live in private homes and participate in courses on German youth work and welfare work. They will work in German children's camps or youth-serving agencies.

And in our country, this week, are seven distinguished Librarians . . . including former President and Mrs. Charles D. B. King, Secretary of the Treasury Charles D. Sherman, Attorney General Joseph W. Garver, Director of the Bureau of Natural Resources Surveys Arthur Sherman, Under Secretary of Public Works and Utilities Stanley L. Berland and John L. Cooper.

Back in New York City this week is Dr. Marguerite Cartwright, who participated in the African and Mid-East seminar at Hampton Institute. Within recent weeks she has addressed groups in 11 schools and colleges in seven states . . . and is now readying for a similar mission at Valparaiso University in Indiana, where she will participate in the Lutheran Human Relations Seminar.

CUPIDOODLING: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Berry (he's the distinguished Cincinnati barrister and former assistant Mayor of the Ohio city) announced, this week, the May 30th marriage of their daughter, Faith Daryl, to Arthur Taswell Gisl Jr. in Dillon, S.C.

And another marriage revealed this week is that of Jean Lee Patterson of Martinsville, Va., recently graduate of Kittrell Junior College, Kittrell, N.C., and Robert L. Wilson, business manager of the college. He's a native of Darlington, S.C., a graduate of Allen University.

The marriage, a double-ring ceremony, took place on October 18, 1958 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Patterson.

An August wedding is being planned by lovely Ellena [illegible] of [illegible] St. No. and Mrs. French F. Stone of Houston, Texas, and Melvyn E. Huckaby, Meharry Medical College dental student.

Mr. Huckaby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Huckaby, also of Houston, is a graduate of Highlands University, New Mexico. The bride-elect is an alumnus of Fisk University. Their wedding will take place in Pilgrim Congregational Church in Houston, August 15.

They will be a fall wedding for Aleathea Ann Branch, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur, announced her engagement to Herbert Muldrow, son of Norman Muldrow, Sr. (all of Baltimore) this week.

In New York, Thelma Elizabeth Terry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Terry of Hampden Sydney, Va. and Theodore H. Jones, Jr. (he's on the picture desk of the New York Times) were wed in an afternoon ceremony in Bethel AME Church.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jones of Manhattan, is a graduate of City College and the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard A. Hildebrand.

Mr. Terry escorted his daughter, whose gown was made of satin miss embroidered with French lace. Her headpiece was of matching lace and embroidered with seed pearls.

Mrs. William A. Lewis, a cousin of the bride, was the matron of honor. The other attendants were: Misses Margaret Smith, Shirley Hendricks, Marianna Cooper, Bey . . . and Mrs. Lloyd F. Greenidge. Linda Green was the flower girl.

William E. Beaver of Philadelphia served as the best man and Michael Banks was the page boy. Ushers were Truman Jones, Leonard Riley, William A. Lewis, and Lloyd F. Greenidge.

Mrs. Jones, a graduate of Robert R. Moton High School in Farmville, Va., attended Pace College and The City College. She is employed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

WITH THE LADIES: Vera Scott has just clinched a "first" in Colorado Springs, Colo. public school system, where she now has a post as a social worker.

Annie Mae Spaulding of Durham, who graduated summa cum laude at North Carolina College on the 2nd, has received a Fulbright award for foreign study. She will leave the United States on Sept. 7 for Johannes Gutenberg University in Mainz, Germany.

Top scholarship with Annie Mae is no new experience. She was valedictorian of her class when she finished Hillside High School in 1955. A mathematics major and a German minor, the NCC graduate already has been named recipient of a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship to the University of Michigan.

She has also been awarded an assistantship at the University of Hawaii. A grant from the National Science Foundation, last summer, enabled her to attend a special meterology course for selected students at the University of Chicago.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Spaulding of Hillsboro, she makes her home in Durham with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jackson.

More deeply thrilled with her work than she ever expected to be is Lilloise Mathis Talley of Albany, Ga. For the past year she has been engaged in areas of adjustment for children experiencing financial, emotional and health problems.

Speaking of awards, the 1959 winner of the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award Medal is Louise Gary, graduate of Florida A. and M. University High School. The award, a handsome bronze medal, is given at graduation to the senior student who achieves the highest scholastic standing in science subjects . . . and who may then compete for science scholarships at the University of Rochester.

From Florida A. and M. University, this year, will also go Anne R. Gayles, associate professor of education, to study on a fellowship at Indiana University the next academic year.

Sarah M. Harper, assistant professor of home economics at North Carolina College, has been attending a workshop sponsored by the College and University Section of the American Home Economics Association at the University of Wisconsin stayed on for the 50th anniversary meeting of the American Home Economics Association in Milwaukee.

A Southern University junior student, Miss Shelby Faye Lewis, Plain Dealing, Louisiana, has been appointed one of eighteen students of the South to serve as speakers on a seminar at the Annual Southern Student Human Relations Seminar, to be held at the University of Illinois in August.

Miss Lewis, a political science major, and her co-speakers, who have been called to serve, will be concerned with human relations problems and possible solutions as a part of a project, sponsored by the United States National Student Association.

The Southern University junior, who was selected on the basis of academic achievement, campus leadership and independent thinking, possesses a 3.7 average, is a T. H. Harris and Liberal Arts Scholar; member of the Riverbend Players, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority and Pi Gama Mu Honor Society.

The seminar is scheduled from August 8 to September 3.

A member of the Hampton Institute staff — Jean Page Gilbert — has been named as the recipient of an Opportunity Fellowship from the John May Whitney Foundation in New York City.

Miss Gilbert, who has acted as Director of Testing at the college since 1956, was granted the fellowship in order to complete her study for the Doctor of Education degree at the University of Buffalo.

A one-year leave which has been granted by the college, will enable Miss Gilbert's work at Buffalo to begin with the present summer session there. It will continue through the whole of the 1959-60 academic year.

A resident of Buffalo, Miss Gilbert is a graduate of Bluefield State College, Bluefield, W. Va., and the University of Buffalo. Prior to assuming her present position at Hampton Institute, she served as freshman counselor at Alabama A. and M. College in Huntsville, Ala.

Joyce Trigg Haley, daughter of Mrs. O. V. Haley, Redford, Va., was graduated from Christianburg Institute in 1957 with honors, recently.

She, with the three other at Hampton Insitute.

Parking fee now at Ft. Smallwood

"Fort Smallwood costs the City $33,000 to keep up each year.

"We expect the charge on the cars, and that is for a whole day, will supply half the money to keep the park going."

Charles A. Hook, superintendent of City Parks, was explaining this week the 50 cent charge per car for parking in the Fort Smallwood Beach area. "With the out going administration, and the in-coming administration, the City is in great need of a source of revenue," he said.

Mr. Hook pointed out that another problem at Fort Smallwood Beach. He feels that people from neighboring Washington and the state of Virginia are using the facilities of the park at the expense of Baltimore tax payers.

* * *

"IT IS almost as if the people from Washington have taken over the park", Mrs. Edward Konick, who works at the concession stand at the beach, told the AFRO.

Asked if peple complain about the charge, she said:

"Some gripe, but most don't care. If you come to a park to stay all day, 50 cents isn't so much."

Mr. Hook feels likewise.

"What's more," he added, "if there are four people in the car it amounts to about 13 cents or less a piece."

Charging money to enter city parks is a wide-spread practice in other communities.

"Every town I have ever been in charges people for the use of the parks," Mr. Hook said.

Every spring the tables and benches must be re-painted, some replaced. It takes money. The park must be cleaned. It takes money. There is a problem with the new budget. It takes money to solve all these things, and what's more, the city seems like a good source of revenue," Mr. Hook added.

HOLIDAY ENTERTAINMENT—Jack Brady's Dreamland Cafe (top) and Ted Johnson's Cotton Club, both in Lawnside, N.J., offer special attractions on July 3 and 4.

$81 payoff from big newstip pot

A check for $45 for graduation scene pictures was among the newstip checks paid the past week.

Two other pictures, one of an accident near Dolphin and Madison, won $5 each.

Three dollar checks were paid to newstipsters who called about the boy killed in accident at Lexington and Poppleton Sts., death of ex-principal Henry Brown, nine in family escape fire in the 800 block Pennsylvania Ave., boy struck by car and the death of an original member of the Baltimore Singers.

Two tipsters collected $2 checks for information about the prison escapee who fought with the policeman and the lights going out at Carver High School during a concert.

CHECKS FOR $1 each were paid for information about an accident at Greene and Howard Sts., accident at Howard and 24th Sts., woman faller from window at 1712 Barclay St. former wife of jawver dies, superman shoots self, fire in 400 block Manse Ct. and the man found dead in the 800 block Harlem Ave.

Each week the AFRO has $50 available for newstips and stories and quite often as this week, the Newstip Editor pays out much more than that.

All any one has to do to have a chance at the money is to pick up a telephone when he sees some news event happening and call the City Desk, MU 5-6015, and say, I've got a tip. Photographs must be brought to the City Desk, 628 N. Eutaw St.

Rec centers open season with a 'bang'

The Bureau of Recreation got an early start on Fourth of July celebrations and began programs for the city's children as early as Wednesday, July 1.

No programs are scheduled for July 4, the actual holiday.

Highlighting the pre-Fourth of July events was the Lafayette Courts Recreation Center parade to the Flag House.

The gala occasion saw nearly 2,000 children, their sponsors and parents participating.

REDEDICATING THE pledge of allegiance to the American flag and their country, the children held a patriotic program in which Gregory Lowman took the part of Paul Revere; Donald Davis William McCoy and Howard Johnson pictured the Spirit of '76. Franklin Dyson was Francis Scott Key and Melvin Ward, "Uncle Sam."

Alethia Dyson "made" the flag seen by Francis Scott Key when he was inspired to write the Star Spangled Banner at Fort McHenry. The original flag was made by Mary Picker. Still.

The Yankee Doodle boys in the parade were members of the Lafayette Courts Fife and drum and other center children served as baton twirlers, singers of the the Star Spangled Banner children, and representatives of the 50 United States.

Mrs. Alice Cashin is director of the Lafayette Center. Mrs. Sarah Dodson and Charles Robinson are recreation leaders.

Two outdoor concerts set for weekend

This weekend the Bureau of Music will present two free concerts by the Number 2 Municipal Concert Band, with Weldon J. Jones conducting.

He has been appointed conductor of the band for the balance of the 1959 season.

Mr. Irvine is a graduate of the Dunbar High School of Lynchburg, Virginia State College of Petersburg, and has done advanced work at Juilliard and the Peabody in Baltimore.

At the Bates High School, in Annapolis, he taught, in addition to other subjects, music, and organized and conducted the high school band, and as a community . . . Mr. Irvine conducted the "Irvine Singers," an adult group of Annapolis.

Mr. Irvine organized and conducted an orchestra at the Barrett School for Girls, served with the 93rd Division band in the South Pacific during World War II, and at present is instructor of instrumental music in the high schools of Baltimore County, and a music specialist, during the summer months, with the Bureau of Recreation of Baltimore City.

Mr. Irvine is a member of many groups and organizations locally.

The first concert conducted by Mr. Irvine will take place this evening (Friday) from 8-10 p.m. at Mount and Saratoga Sts., School 100.

The other concert will be held on Sunday, July 5, at 2:00 p.m., at the Baltimore City Jail.
