For Representative In 66th Congress
HON. JESSE D. PRICE
of Wicomico County
Election on Tuesday, November 5th

REPORTS from Washington Wednesday indicate that the total to the Fourth Liberty Loan would reach $6,500,000,000. This is $500,000,000 more than the Government asked for.

THE National Red Cross has undertaken to see that all soldiers over seas receive their packages from home this Christmas. Each family is supposed to receive a label from the soldier himself. Full instructions will be found in the communication from the Red Cross published in today's issue. The packages must be delivered to the Red Cross by November 15.

CONGRESSMAN PRICE

Hon. Jesse D. Price, Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, unexpectedly visited Kent county last Friday afternoon. Senator Price is asking the Democratic voters of this Congressional District to return him to Congress for another term that he may continue to support President Wilson in his war measures and other important measures of which Mr. Price is familiar. To make a change at this critical time would, in our judgment, be unwise, as a new man would lack the experience that is most valuable and important just now to the nation. Party dickering and dissention should be put aside and every Democrat should go to the polls on Tuesday next and vote for Hon. Jesse D. Price for Congress.

SOME QUESTIONS FOR SENATOR ANDREWS.

The following letter appeared in the Baltimore Sun on Thursday:

"About a month ago, just prior to the Republican Congressional primaries, Mr. Augustus Ward, of Crisfield, published a statement in which he alleged that State Senator William N. Andrews, of Dorchester couty, then his opponent for the Republican nomination for Congress, and since nominated, had received the solid German vote of Dorchester county at the 1917 election as the result of statements made by him, Andrews, at meetings held among the German voters in that campaign.

"Mr. Andrews is now the Republican candidate for Congress, opposing Mr. Jesse D. Price. It seems rather significant that while Mr. Ward later published a statement to the effect that he had been misinformed about the matters he had charged in his letter, Mr. Andrews has never made any denial. It is possible that he thought the Ward letter would gloss things over and that the matter would be forgotten, but in view of the fact that he is a candidate for membership in the Congress that is to successfully prosecute this war and to back up our able President, it seems only right that the voters of the Eastern Shore counties, comprising the First Congressional district, should know just exactly what did take place. If Senator Andrews will answer the following questions he will help very much in clearing up the situation:

"Did he attend and address a secret German meeting upon the same night that he addressed a meeting at Taylor's Island, the meeting being held at the home of a well-known German who lives not many miles from Cambridge?

"Did he, in the midst of a heated argument, although he is reported usually to be very cool, careful and deliberate, charge that Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party were responsible for the United States being at war with Germany, thereby insinuating that Germany had done nothing to warrant a declaration of war?

"Were those present admonished to secrecy and did the meeting close with the singing of the "Watch on the Rhine," this, too, notwithstanding the fact that the United States had been at war with Germany for over six months at that time?"

UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES

The following is a letter from Private Harvey Blyman to his mother:

Oct. 12, 1918.

My Dear Mother:

I am the happiest fellow in France, and this is the happiest letter I have ever written since I have been over here. Here is where I begin to tell you about it. I have asked lots of different ones what division the 60th Infantry was in and on one knew until about a week ago I asked a lieutenant where it was and he told me it was in the 5th division. Yesterday about 4.30 I walked out on the street and I saw a company passing. I asked a fellow what outfit. He told me 5th division. I ran down the road to catch them and they told me it was the 61th Infantry. I asked for the 60th and they said it had gone ahead. I did not think I could ever catch them so I started back to our company. I met a fellow I knew on my way back. I was telling him about it. He told me to get on a truck, I might catch them. I hurried back and got my overcoat, belt and pistol. They were serving supper. I got a little in my hands and forced it down. I did not half eat it, and I got on my way. I walked, jumped on a truck and ran. I did that several different times until I got up with the Headquarter Co. of the 60th Infantry. They were in a town and I waited over half hour for them to come in. I got tired waiting for them so I went looking for them again and got in a wagon and rode nearly a mile down the road, and I saw a bunch of fellows in a field. I asked for the company he is in. They said way down the field, so I started down the field, asking as I went. I asked an officer for him and he wanted to know what I wanted with him. I told him he was my brother, and he told some fellows to show me where he was. When I got down to where he was I called him and he wanted to know what I wanted. I told him to come and see, and you talk about two proud tickled boys, we were two. I stayed with him nearly two hours, and would liked to have stayed longer, but our outfit is expected to move any time and I was nearly seven miles from it. It took me about an hour and a half hard walking without stopping to get back. It was eleven o'clock when I got back. I had about fifteen letters from different ones and I gave them to him and he gave me four he had. I am satisfied now that I know he is all right. I have never heard from him. He said he wrote to me when I was at 116th Field Signal Bu. I never got it. All I ever knew was what you told me and by the time a letter got from him to you and from you to me it is nearly two months gone by. I do hope and pray that we will soon meet again.

Yesterday I got myself an overcoat and when I met him he was talking about being chilly, so I gave it to him. He did not want to take it but I told him I could get another one. I am not sure I can get one but the Dough boys need them worse than we do. Bill is well and happy. I will close with love.

From the happiest boy in France,
HARVEY.

It had been nearly eight months since these brothers have seen one another

Capt. L. Wethered Barroll, Coast Artillery, Fort Hancock, New Jersey, has been during the past month critically ill with influenza followed by pneumonia. From last reports it was hoped that he might be able to return to the home of his father, adjoining Chestertown, but the surgeons were unwilling for him to take the risk of the journey at the present time and advised him not to attempt it before the middle of next week.

Mr. Walter Pippin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pippin, of Chestertown, left on Tuesday for the Great Lakes Training Station, Chicago, for training.

Ensign Lester W. Baldwin, who has recently been training at Pensacola, Florida, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Baldwin, this week. Ensign Baldwin is an air pilot in the naval service, and had been studying at the Boston Tecnical University previous to going south. He pilots one of the big seaplanes that have been doing such effective work for the Allies by sinking submarines, bombing submarine bases, etc. This is one of the most important branches of the service. Ensign Baldwin expects to sail for Europe next week. Before enlisting in the aviation department, Mr. Baldwin was a prominent young Baltimore attorney. He is particularly well known in Chestertown for his ability as an orator, and he is one of the best speakers that has graduated from Washington College in a decade or more.

The friends of Lieut. Hope H. Barroll, Jr., will be interested to know that after he received his commission in the Training School at Camp Meade the past spring he was sent to the Artillery School at Camp Jackson in S. C. He then went as an instructor in the Field Artillery School to Camp Taylor near Louisville, Ky. Last week he was promoted and received his commission as first lieutenant, field artillery. With it came an assignment for overseas duty. If not on his way now he will shortly be over there.

A telegram was received at Worton Station Wednesday saying that James B. Ivens, son of the late Mr. J. W. Ivens, of Worton, died in France of pneumonia October 2.

Mr. Rolph Townshend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney P. Townshend, has been made a sergeant.

Recent letters from Sergeant Herbert Skipper contain some interesting photographs of the devastiated portions of France, also the big gun that bombarded Paris last spring.

Sergeant Conlyn Noland, of Camp Meade, has been home for a short furlough.

Mr. Carl N. Bordley, recently called to Fort Thomas, Ky., for limited service, has been granted an extension of 20 days.

Robt. E. Jones, a Kent boy, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel of Infantry.

In Memoriam

On Tuesday, Oct. 16, at sunset Alwayn Hanson Stavely entered into Rest Eternal. The writer has known him all his life and in the passing from us of that life a great vacancy has been made in his home, his community and his church. He was an affectionate, loving son and brother and after his graduation at Charlotte Hall he sacrificed much that he might be near those he loved and until his call into the Service his energy and talents were given to the community in which he was born. Possessed of a rare sense of humor, and great musical talent, he imparted life and sunshine to all social functions which he always most thoroughly enjoyed. His genial social nature endeared to him a large circle of devoted friends, both young and old, and to all he was ever ready to extend a helping hand. Underlying all this was a deep religious nature, which shone through his whole life, and his devotion to his church was ever foremost and we who saw him laid to rest in the church yard of I. U., in which church he was baptized, confirmed and was a vestryman, felt that his loss was irreparable, but that his life would be a shining light to those who are left. When his country went to war he hastened to enlist and was twice given "honorable discharge," on account of physical disability, but his patriotism did not allow him to rest and in May last he enlisted in the Engineering Corps and rendered such faithful service he was recommended for a training camp. While awaiting orders at Camp Pitt, he was attacked by the terrible malady which has ended the warfare of so many of our brave soldiers. He died surrounded by those that he loved, comforted and sustained by that "glorious hope" which is the heritage of the faithful.

"The golden evening brightens in the west,
Soon, soon to faithful warriors cometh rest,
Sweet is the calm of Paradise the blest."

Appeal From the Democratic State Central Committee to the Democratic Voters of Kent County.

FELLOW DEMOCRATS:

This Nation stands today facing the most momentous period of its history. For years, the world has been in the midst of the greatest struggle for the maintainence of universal freedom of the people through which the nations of the earth have ever passed and in the midst of this great struggle, President Wilson has stood out the foremost figure as the leader of Democracy as opposed to the autocracy of the central powers. It has been a struggle of giants, and the people of the whole world and especially of the United States have been fortunate in having such a champion as President Wilson, in the White House at such a trying period of our nation's history. During all these turbulent and stirring times the President has had at his back a united Democratic Party composed of men of brains and ability, who have stood as a stone wall against everything which did not tend to aid the President in bringing about his plans for a world-wide peace and the formation of a league of nations which would stand forever and ever against the tyranny of the military powers of the Central Empire.

Among these men who have been at the right hand of the President during this critical period has been the Hon. Jesse D. Price, Democratic Congressman from the First Congressional District, who has never faltered for a single instant in his loyal and faithful support of the President and all the policies for which Mr. Wilson has stood so earnestly. Throwing aside all thought of personal or political advancement, Congressman Price has given his most loyal support to all the policies of President Wilson, and his record as Congressman from the First District has been one of which every Democrat from Cecil to Worcester can well be proud.

He has been a most faithful public servant and his party has again honored him by renominating him for another term in Congress without opposition, and on the 5th of November the Democratic voters of the First Congressional District will be called upon to assemble at the polls and show by their action whether or not they are still supporting President Wilson and are faithful to the great cause of Liberty for which the President and our Congressman both stand.

During his service in Congress Mr. Price has stood loyally for every measure which meant the full support of our boys in the army, at home and abroad, and his loyalty to the young men of our own blood and bone should be sufficient to endear him to the hearts of not only the Democrats but also of the Republicans of the First Congressional District who should feel it an honor to go to the polls on November 5th, and vote for the return of Mr. Price to the 66th Congress of the United States so that he may continue to help uphold the hands of our President and lend his aid and experience in passing on the momentous questions which will continue to arise day by day until the world is once more at peace. If any Congressman demonstrated that he believes that public office is a public trust, that is our present Congressman, the Hon. Jesse D. Price, whose record being as clean as a hound's tooth, is an honor not only to his native county, but to the State and to the Nation as well.

Therefore, as the governing body of the Democratic Party of Kent County, we, the State Central Committee issue this clarion call to the Democratic voters of Kent and the other counties of the First Congressional District to organize themselves into a solid fighting body to see that every Democrat goes to the polls on November 5th, and does his full duty in supporting President Wilson by voting for the re-election of the Hon. Jesse D. Price. We believe that in no other way can the Democrats or for that matter, can the citizens of the First Congressional District, reward a worthy public servant or our fellow citizens of Kent Co. show their full appreciation of the faithful work done by one of our own sons, than by performing this great civic duty.

Congressman Price is in Washington attending to his official duties and is not running over the country seeking personal votes, therefore, as the governing body of the Democratic Party of Kent County we appeal to all Democrats to take a personal interest in this campaign, and while our Congressman is standing by the President in performing his public duties in the Capitol, let us give our time and means to promote his campaign at home by a personal solicitation among the voters of every district of the county urging them to come to the polls on the 5th of November and cast their vote for the reelection of Congressman Price and the further strengthening of the hands of President Wilson by insuring him a Democratic Congress to support him during the remainder of his administration.

Because of the great epidemic which has swept over this community, it will be inadvisable to hold public political meetings and because of the omission of these local gatherings, it is more important that every Democrat should consider himself a committee of one to do something towards making this a successful campaign for the re-election of a Democrat to Congress, and we again appeal to you one and all to let nothing remain undone in your respective localities which will tend to aid in the triumphant election of Hon. Jesse D. Price on Tuesday, Nov. 5th.

Yours for Success,

ROBERT MOFFETT, Chairman,
A. LINWOOD BEASTON,
A. CARROLL WILLSON,
Democratic State Central Committee for Kent County.

FIFTY FARMS
URGENTLY WANTED
BUYERS WAITING

I want immediately a lot of Eastern Shore farms, especially WATER FRONTS, from a few acres up to average sized farms. My very extensive advertising in northern and western papers, also among the war industry workers along the Delaware River, is bringing scores of inquiries and a big proportion of them are for "water-fronts."

Within the next few months hundreds of buyers will be coming in here ready and anxious to buy a farm and get settled for the coming year. This is the cream season of the year for selling farms. If you have any kind of acreage, now is the time to sell it. This war has made many changes and the market for farms is waking up.

All farms listed with ALBERT L. TEELE'S FARM AGENCY will be widely advertised in a big illustrated catalogue mailed all over the United States. Desirable farms, offered at fair prices, will be liberally advertised in the TRANSCRIPT and the KENT NEWS, free of cost to you.

Do not measure ALBERT L. TEELE'S FARM AGENCY and what it will do for you by what you know of other farm agencies. Do not underestimate active, vigorous methods, backed by ample capital, generous and effective advertising and experienced, tireless salesmen.

I Charge No Commission

Remember—it does not cost you one cent to have your farm sold by ALBERT L. TEELE'S FARM AGENCY. This is a perfectly legitimate proposition, will stand the closest investigation and is based on sound business principles. I invite your banks, and any others interested, to make full inquiries on your behalf.

MR. JOHN E. BARNES,
