Don't Be Swindled

Agents in many places are canvassing from door to door with publications purporting to be issued by the government, representing that they have government sanction. They are charging as high as $4.75 for the publication.

No such publications have been authorized by the government. The publications issued by the government are always given away or sold at cost, or in the case of certain school text books prepared by the Food Administration, sold under contract with the publisher to charge the price fixed by competition, ranging from twenty cts. to half a dollar.

Anyone who engages in a scheme such as described is guilty of false representation if no more. The cases should be reported to the Department of Justice for action.

W. H. MALTBIE,
Federal Food Administrator for Md.

MILLINGTON

Mr. W. J. Tolson, we are glad to say, is improving so he was able to take an automobile ride last Sunday. No new cases of the "Flu" have been reported this week, and we hope it is on the wane.

Private Ross Duling, of Camp Meade, was the guest of his father, Mr. B. W. Duling.

Mrs. Bertha Sturtevant moved last Tuesday to Wilmington.

An airplane passed over our town last Sunday about 1.45 p. m.

After spending several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ahern, Mrs. Francis E. Fitch and little son, Francis, Jr., left last Monday for Chestertown, where they will spend a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. D. B. Ford, after which they will leave for their future home in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkins and Mrs. Annie Jenkins, of Trappe, Md., spent last Sunday with the latter's brother, Mr. Joseph Mallalieu.

Mr. Wm. A. Hollett died at his home near town last Tuesday of pneumonia, aged 31. A private funeral was held on Thursday at 2 p. m., interment in Millington cemetery. He leaves a widow, who, before marriage, was Miss Florence Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirby, of Kent county, also a father, Mr. James Hollett, and two brothers, Charles and John Hollett, and four sisters, Mrs. Walter Everett, Mrs. Chas. P. Jones Mrs. James Voshell and Mrs. Howard Anthony.

Mr. Frank P. Barnhart died at Hotel Bailey on Wednesday at 9 p. m. Arrangements for funeral unknown at time of writing. He leaves a widow who, before marriage, was Miss Annie Bailey, and three small sons.

GALENA ITEMS

Betterton extends its deepest sympathy to Mrs. F. Crew, Mrs. Caroline Luik, Mrs. Elizabeth Selah and Mrs. Carrie Cunningham in their recent bereavement.

Most of the people of Betterton who have been suffering with the influenza are recovering. There has been hardly a home that has escaped it entirely, either by sickness or death.

The ducking season opened yesterday, and the gunners report wild ducks being very plentiful.

On Tuesday night the star shells that were exploded at the proving grounds presented a very beautiful sight. It is by means of these shells that raiders are located in No Man's Land. Airplanes from the proving grounds flying over Betterton are now quite a common sight.

Rev. Mr. Stauffer, the former rector of Shrewsbury, with his family, have moved in one of Mr. James T. Crew's cottages.

Mr. Harvey Moore has recently purchased a new Buick touring car.

Miss Edith Turner has returned to school at the Wesley Collegiate Institute after being at home for several weeks recuperating from a case of flu.

Miss Marie Willis and Miss Mary Taylor have also returned to their Miss Marie Willis and Miss Mary

STILL POND
