Gadabouting In Baltimore

Variety chief motif of town entertaining

with Lula Jones Garrett

Dorothea Towles, utterly lovely in lace, lent an air of charm to the NAACP tea, Sunday afternoon.

An internationally known model, it was but natural that you and I would be interested in the outer Miss Towles . . . who, incidentally, is much prettier informally, even if she is more chic professionally.

On Sunday she wore a black lace, sheath underpinned in pink, which had a draped bust effect in black chiffon . . . the latter continuing in a floating panel at back. The sheath was low cut, both front and back, and matched with long gloves of the same lace.

Eula Watts, who arranged for the hostessing, at the Me-De-So Club, floated about in that sophisticated chapeau, a mauve chiffon affair, which she won at the showing of the National Designers' conference recently.

Wore the hat with a black frock, and had you observed her serenity as she manipulated the party, you would have had no idea that she had to dash home at that late hour and prepare for some personal hostessing. But more of that later.

Mrs. Watts had two lovelies on the door: Ada Woodland and Iris Wheaden, both in chic blue satin sheathes; and a dozen other hostesses circulating, including Ida Russell, Edith Allen, Pauline Watts, Erdie Scott, Augusta Chissell, Pearlie Pennington, Rebecca Greenwood and Lula Patterson.

And if we are to talk about clothes, leave us not leave out Mrs. Russell, whose fitted black wool frock, trimmed at neckline with black fox fur, and black fur hat I could have snatched right off her back. She relieved the black with brilliant blue green gloves.

FROM THERE dashed to dinner party being given by Mr. and Mrs. Medford Reynolds . . . who just should have had all those guests about when a burglar visited their home two days later, and put the place in a shambles searching for money.

Vermiece arrived from school to find her house filled with officers and her floors filled with the contents of closets and drawers.

Found the house funds gone but, praise be, none of their clothing or equipment.

But the party on Sunday was informal and gay with her special guests being a new addition to the local medical set, Dr. and Mrs. William Birt, who are now ensconced in the old Wheatley place on Druid Hill Avenue.

He's a surgeon and urinologist. Mrs. Birt (Helen) is a former capital schoolmarm. They are parents of a six-year-old and prospectives of their second.

Other guests were the Reynolds' cousin, Dr. Lester Ward, who has offices in Brooklyn and Jamaica, N.Y., the Charles Hickses of Frederick, Md., and Erma Davis of this town.

Otherwise the affair was the monthly getting - together of a regular group.

BACK TO EULA WATTS . . . hosting, along with Marione Croxton, on Monday of the Ladies Guild of Macedonia Baptist Church, when some 26 ladies enjoyed an elegant supper after transacting business at the Watts' Aruna Ave. place.

About were Mesdames Naomi Evans, who is president of the Guild, Connie Rapp, Lillie Stevenson, Naomi Stanley, Anna Mae Pinkett, Odessa Davis, Beatrice Lancaster, Carlene Fundy, Orangie Epps.

Also Dorothy Joyner, Lillian Maith, Bessie Anderson, Ernestine Early, Alma Deanes, Velvo Ingram, Joyce Walker, Ernestine Burley, Nellie Jackson.

Guests were Mesdames Caramie Anderson of Detroit, Mich. and Margaret Wiley, and the Rev. Willard Clayton, pastor of Macedonia Church.

THE STORK CLUB held its annual fall picnic in beautiful Patapsco State Park on Saturday, Oct. 11. The theme of the outing was "Stressing Wholesome Family Relationships and Fellowship" with the members of the Stork Club.

Supervised play activities were directed by Mrs. Norma Felder and George Taliaferro. Children from the play - pen age to senior teens were in attendance. The weather man must have been invited, too, because it was a beautiful day. Delicious odors permeated the air from the huge fireplace where Dr. Furman Templeton Sr. kept the logs blazing.

Present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Davis, Marvin and Marjean, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Nickens and Stanley; Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy, Madeline, Arthur, Houston, and Laura; Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, Gregory Craig, Geoffrey, Neal and Jill; Mr. and Mrs. Melville Pugh, Clifford and Melville III; Mr. and Mrs. William E. Spencer, Carol and William Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fisher, Cheryl and Herbert Fisher Jr.; Mrs. Virginia Grant, Ellen and Pamela;

Mrs. Charlotte C. Holt, Yvonne and Pamela; Mrs. Venessa Porter and Antoinette Porter; Mrs. Mildred E. Hooper and Deidre, Mrs. Clarissa Chapin, Arthur, Rodney, Marjorie, and Greta of Washington; Mrs. Nicki Randolph, Bonnie and Lesa; Mrs. Betty Bundara and Tanya; and Mrs. Anita Woodlon;

Club member families present were:

Mrs. Gladys Prestwige, Billy and Barbara; Mrs. Ruth Broom, Kenneth, Michael, Christopher, and Maria; the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Daniels, Reggie, Judy and Freda;

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hackett, Ronnie and Edward; Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Robinson, Charlotte Ann and Larry; Mrs. Evelyn Bass, Jacqueline, Kenna, and Rita;

Mrs. Llewellyn Walker, Orris and Lance; Mrs. Catherine Greene and Patricia, Mr. and Mrs. Furman L. Templeton and Roye and Leon Williams Jr.

Other guests were Jackie Finney, Linda Young; Cordell Alor, Barbara Lewis, John and Evelyn Datcher; Andrea Brown, Speedy Scott, Bertram, and Kay Murray, David Allen and Jimmie Gilliam.

Ruth Broom is president of the Stork Club and Irene Templeton was chairman of the outing.

Carole and Clifton Martin entertained the senior teens of Tots and Teens at their home Sunday afternoon, at the club's monthly meeting.

New officers were elected and tentative plans were made for the coming fall and winter seasons. Group advisers are Mrs. Ruth Drew, Mrs. Agnes Cooper, and Mrs. Julia B. Martin.

After delicious shrimp and dip made by Mr. Martin, the young people relaxed, as the young will do, with their records.

New officers are:

President, Sharron Phillips; vice president, Adrienne Fennell; secretary, Daniel Henson III; treasurer, Luther Bond; and reporters, Carole Lynn Martin and Jacqueline Cooper.

Members include Anita Turks, Carolyn Drew, Andrea Hill, Zelma Moore, Gwendolyn Watts, Janet Johnson, Charles Watts, Ridgely Smith, Willie Johnson, Franklin Johnson, and Clifton Martin.

Missing was Mrs. NAACP (Mrs. Lillie Jackson) and daughter, Juanita Jackson Mitchell, who were in Georgia at the time. Mrs. Mitchell had a speaking engagement that morning at the Wheat Street Baptist Church in Atlanta. Accompanied by her mother there, they went on to Savannah to visit Dr. and Mrs. Lycurgus Kiah (Virginia Jackson).

THE HANSEL AND GRETAL Child Study Club held its first meeting at the new home of the president, Mrs. Blanch Colbert.

The plans for the year were reviewed. One of the events will be a Halloween party for the small members, at the home of Phyllis Green 3045 W. Lafayette Avenue, on October 31, from 5-8 p.m.

The program chairman has arranged to have speakers to come to future meetings to discuss the following topics: "Religion and Your Child"; "Behavior problems and how to recognize them" and "Speech problems of children."

Members present were Mesdames Blanche Colbert, Beulah Maxwell, Eloise Taylor, Joyce Blanchard, Frances Lucas Doris Denby and Phyllis Green.

An October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Smith on Craddock Avenue.

After a brief meeting the members were treated to a surprise in the form of a Tupperware Party after which a light repast was served by the hostess.

Members present were Mes-

THE W.M.N.'s will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the club with a party on the 24th. They are, standing: Mesdames Ivy Harris, Miriam Brown, Stevie Harris, Wilhelmina Garner, Gwendolyn Carter, Cleota Brayboy; seated: Mesdames Hortense Perkins, Helen Glover, Robbie Chissell, Jimmy LaForest, Ellsworth Rhetta and Ruth Jennifer.

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST L. HARGROVE were married in Emmanuel Christian Community Church, Sunday. The bride is the former Miss Peggy Ann Johnson.

Miss Peggy Johnson becomes bride of Ernest L. Hargrove

Miss Peggy Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William U. Johnson, Sr., and Ernest Leon Hargrove were married in the Emmanuel Christian Community Church, Sunday afternoon.

The double - ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Sidney Daniels, took place at two in the afternoon. Soloist was Mrs. Gwendolyn Day, and Mrs. Mildred Bryant was at the organ.

THE BRIDE wore a gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned on empire lines, and with a chapel train. The bodice was embroidered with pearls and iridescents.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a tiara of pearls and iridescents and she carried a white lace prayer book with a garland-of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Johnson was given in marriage by her father.

MRS. GERALDINE SIMMONS, matron of honor, was gowned in coral, with matching slippers and a headpiece to which was attached a flirtation veil of silk coral illusion. She carried blush roses.

Bridesmaids wore gowns of Nile green, with matching slippers and veils, and carried yellow roses.

The attendants' frocks were made with Chantilly lace bodice and taffeta skirts. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mildred Morse and Misses Clarina Nelson and Lucretia Shaw.

BEST MAN for Mr. Hargrove was Robert Hamlin. Ushers included Robert Simmons, Thomas Great and Frederick Ruffin. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, 1814 W. Lexington St.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception, Mrs. Johnson wore a gown of rose beige lace, with matching accessories. The grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lee Hargrove, wore blue lace.

MR. HARGROVE, son of Mrs. Benjamin Cooper of New York City, is with the Baltimore Transit Company, here. His bride is a secretary at Pratt Library.

Following their wedding trip to New York City they will be at home at 4086 Cedardale Rd.

Marian unit has anniversary

The 83rd anniversary celebration of the Marian Household of Ruth No. 6, GUOOF was observed Sunday with a sermon at Ebenezer AME Church, delivered by the Rev. S. A. Thompson.

In the afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Thompson gave a prayer of dedication at the new Odd Fellows Hall.

Also on the program were Thomas M. Boone, superintendent of the Sunday school at Ebenezer, and the Rev. John D. Lindsay of Sharp St. Memorial Methodist Church.

A banquet was served in the dining room under the Supervision of Mesdames Edna Lampkin, Alice M. Johnson, Eglantine Cotton, Alfreda Holman and Elizabeth Conley.

Among those present were the following:

Dear friends in the brotherhood of God, through the love of Jesus Christ and the fellowship of the Hour Bank. We ask the aid and cooperation of all mothers in encouraging their children to attend regularly the Sunday School and Bible Classes. The Bible Study training in the teachings of Christ is an investment that will contribute greatly to the future happiness of both parent and child. It is up to us, the people of God, to begin such a movement NOW. May the inspiration of the Holy Spirit bless the people of all races and go with us in this, our chosen endeavor.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Beulah Maxwell, 1138 Ashburton St.

The speaker will be Mois Stubblefield, who will speak on "Books For Your Children."

I'm Miss Myrtle

Of course, you remember me! I'm in HENDIN'S Office —and part of my job is to help open up Charge Accounts for some of the best dressed women in Baltimore. Sometimes I ask these women — "Why did you open a Charge Account at HENDIN'S?"

And most of them tell me— "because HENDIN'S has the newest, most outstanding Women's Fashions in Baltimore — because we appreciate the friendly, personal attention the HENDIN girls give to every customer—because HENDIN'S prices are right, and because HENDIN'S wonderfully easy Credit Plan makes it possible for every girl to dress beautifully—for as little as $1.00 A WEEK."
