CURRIE — In loving memory of my dear husband, WILLIE J. CURRIE, who passed away May 7, 1959:
When one you care for has departed,
And you sit alone and broken hearted,
There's something in a kindred mind.
That always leaves a sense behind
Of the companionship, I know
The pain it was to see you go.
Yet memory softens everything
The grave the victory — death its sting.
Who loved you, sadly miss you;
I, who held you very dear,
Miss the smiling face of kindness
Often feel your presence near.
Though God took you from us away
You are with me every day.

Mother always had a smiling face
Her home was a happy place
