UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES

Mr. Harold Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Matthews, of Chestertown, was shot through one of his legs in France during the last few days of the war. Mr. Matthews is, no doubt, receiving the best attention and will soon be well again. He is in the Hospital where Dr. Houston Toulson is stationed.

It is now Colonel Grant! Colonel Grant was here when he was Major Grant and was very helpful in putting the Fourth Liberty Loan over in Kent county. Colonel Grant was promoted from major because of three days of active fighting during the last few days of fighting. Colonel Grant, when here, expressed himself as very anxious to go to France and he finally succeeded in so doing and getting in the active fighting.

A ship load of American troops have arrived from Europe, while 11 American army divisions, now in France, are designated for an early return to this country.

Mr. William Sachs, who has been stationed at Hampton Roads, Va., for the past two months, has been home on a furlough. Mr. Sachs was stationed at San Diego, Cal., and says the climate out there is great.

In a recent letter Sergeant Colin F. Duyer, formerly of Chestertown, said in part:

I came through the severe fighting without a scratch, but had some very narrow escapes. Another sergeant and myself went forward to look over the ground and pick out positions for our guns one morning when we walked right into a Hun machine-gun nest. My pal got a bullet through the coat that cut it like a knife, but we ducked to the ground and when they fired again there was no damage done.

I have seen lots of men wounded and killed all around me, and I have no desire for these scenes, but you soon get used to them.

One morning when we went over the top, we had marched all the night before and launched our attack about eight o'clock in the morning. It was hard work and took a man in good physical condition to stand it.

Marion Smith, a boy from Kent, who is in our company, deserves lots of credit for the way he handled the rations for us in all kinds of shell fire and he is now our table sergeant.

The war is about finished, and I am celebrating it over a bottle of champagne.

The following is a General Order that was issued to each man in the company in which Sergeant Duyer served:

Headquarters 29th Division.
American E. F.

General Orders, No. 59.

Now that its part in the action north of Verdun is finished, the Division Commander wishes to take occasion to express his deep appreciation of the skill, endurance and courage shown by the officers and men of the division, including both staff and line, in a most difficult and prolonged fight.

Everything was opposed to our success. We had a most determined enemy in our front and one skilled by four years of warfare, whereas this was the first real fight of our division. On most days the weather was bad and the ground difficult, added to the fact that the fighting was largely in wood. On account of the woods, ravines and dampness, gassing of our troops was easily accomplished and full advantage of this fact was taken by the enemy to whom the use of gas was an old story.

Without exception the organizations of the division and their commanders responded heroically to every call upon them and at the end of the fight we had not only gained our objectives, but we held them and turned them over to our successors. We advanced some eight kilometers through the enemy's trenches, and captured over 2,100 prisoners, 7 cannon, about 200 machine guns and a large quantity of miscellaneous military property. We had the pleasure of seeing the hostile divisions withdrawn from our front, one of which was composed of some of the best trops of the German army. On many occasions captured prisoners stated that our attack was so rapid and our fire so effective that they were overwhelmed and had nothing to do but to retire or surrender.

In this brief summing up the results of its first fight the Division Commander feels that every officer and man participating, whether in planning or in executing, should feel a just pride in what has been accomplished. This is but repeating the praise that has been bestowed upon the division by both American and French superior commanders.

By command of Major-General Morton.

S. A. Cloman, Colonel of Infantry, Chief of Staff.

Harry Coope, Adjutant General.

In Memoriam

Of our baby, Charles Gibson, who departed one month ago the 25th of November, 1918.

In a little snow-white casket,
Resting all among the flowers,
Lies my loving, blue-eyed baby,
Who such a little while was ours.
Your little clothes are laid away,
Your little toys are still,
Your little go-cart runs no more,
And a vacant chair this world can never fill.

MAMMA AND PAPA.

Our hearts are sad and lonely now,
Our grief too deep to tell,
But time will come, we care not when,
That we may with you dwell.

GRANDMA AND PAPA KENDALL.

Whenever we speak of your loving name,
Our eyes with tears are wet,
Oh, Charles, how we loved you,
And love cannot forget.

AUNT STELLA AND LOLETA.

Oh, could we see our pet once more,
And hold him on our knee,
And feel his arms around our neck,
How happy we would be!

UNCLE OLIVER AND EDWARD.

Auto Badly Damaged.—An automobile, driven by a gentleman from Church Hill, ran into a telephone pole on the bend of the state road in Queen Annes, in front of the residence of Mr. E. R. Anthony, Saturday night, at 11.45 and badly damaged his big car. The sign "slow down", near the bend, was knocked down, a part of it punching a hole in the top of the car. The driver was unhurt. The damage to the car is estimated at between $300 and $400.

Woman's Defense Council Meeting

Mr. Fred O'Bryan, a direct representative of Mr. Hoover, talked to the Woman's Defense Council at the Eastern Shore Inn on Monday afternoon. Both gentlemen and ladies from the town and county listened to the simple, direct story he told of actual conditions in Europe with a feeling that this was a call to service for humanity greater than any we had yet known.

Before the armistice was signed we were feeding between thirty and forty million people in Europe. Immediately when the armistice was signed we had to feed two hundred million. Last year we saved about twelve million tons of food; this year we must save twenty million tons, if people in Europe are to be saved from starvation. In Vienna they are dying by the hundreds daily now. Mr. O'Bryan said that Mr. Hoover had stated, we might expect ten millions of people to die of starvation in Russia this winter, because we cannot reach them with food. We may expect to hear of cannibalism in Russia. The Christian virtue and morals, humanity, justice and kindness were in danger of being swept from the earth, because of lack of staple government and the lack of food.

There was no emotional appeal in Mr. O'Bryan's talk, just the simple story as he knew it from the inside. The world leans upon us to save them from starvation. The twenty million tons we must save means one pound of food for every person in this country to save daily. There will be no compulsion about this, as the power of the Food Administration will be gone when peace is signed. You can buy all the food you want. This sacrifice must be voluntary to keep your neighbors from starving in Europe.

There will be no wheat substitutes, because all the grains are as scarce as wheat. You can buy all the white flour you want, because they need the bran and coarser grains for animals, but if you eat more than you actually need, or if you waste one particle of food, how can you call yourself a Christian, when men, women and children are dying that this food would save? We are not going to feed the Germans, but after the other nations are fed we are going to lift the embargo to some small extent, that they may buy what is left.

Mr. Hoover, by maintaining $2.50 wheat prices this year will cause the government to give the farmers hundreds of thousands of dollars. Australia is offering wheat at $1.14 and they have 3 or 4 years crops on hand to sell, which they have not been able to dispose of. So if the government has prevented their getting as good price before as they might according to the law of supply and demand, this year, by upholding prices, they will get a great deal more for their wheat according to the laws of supply and demand.

The world will need, however, every ounce of food to keep nations of people alive. Can we as a nation that has suffered least in this terrible war, eat as usual with bountiful tables, while people are dying for that same bread? It is left to your own conscience.
