We are selling our goods this season at the same low prices as heretofore, and if any advance, it is so little as not to be noticeable to any extent. As most of our goods are in, we invite you to come in now and make an early selection, we have just what you are looking for.

FOUR MOUTHS TO FEED FOR EVERY AMERICAN.

Peace Releases Millions From German Yoke, And Thereby Doubles America's obligations To Humanity —20,000,000 Tons Of Foodstuffs Must Be Shipped To Save Europe From Anarchy And Famine.

An appeal to America's world conscience is made by Herbert Hoover toward food privation and possible famine from upwards of 300,000,000 people. Add in the home needs of the United States and it is seen that every man, woman and child must spare no effort in production or conservation if the Food Administration's undertaking on behalf of this nation is to be carried out. It means that for every pair of hands in the United States there are now four mouths to feed. Somehow or other at least 20,000,000 tons of foodstuffs must be shipped during the ensuing twelve months.

Mr. Hoover is now in Europe arranging that this vast relief work which is made possible by economy at home shall be carried out with efficiency abroad. The text of his message to his fellow countrymen, which was announced from almost every pulpit on Sunday, reads as follows:

"Again in full confidence, I call upon the American people to set aside Sunday, December first, and the week following, for the consideration of America's opportunity for renewed service and sacrifice.

Last summer, when the military situation was acute, we assured the Inter-Allied Food Conference in London that whatever the war-food program of the Allies required we were prepared to meet; that the Conference need not consider whether or not we had the supplies—we were prepared to find them; we pledged ourselves, by the voluntary economy of our people, to have the reserves in food to supply all necessities. The ending of the war does not release us from the pledge. The same populations must be fed, and until another season has passed they cannot feed themselves.

The change in the foreign situation necessarily alters the details of our food program, because the freeing of the seas from the submarine menace renders accessible the wheat supplies of India, Australia and the Argentine. The total food demand upon the United States is not diminished, however. On the contrary, it is increased. In addition to the supplying of those to whom we are already pledged, we now have the splendid opportunity and obligation of meeting the needs of those millions of people in the hitherto occupied territories who are facing actual starvation. The people of Belgium, Northern France, Serbia, Roumania, Montenegro, Poland, Russia and Armenia rely upon America for immediate aid. We must also participate in the preservation of the newly liberated nations in Austria, nor can we ignore the effect on the future world developments of a famine condition among those other people whom we have recently released from our enemies. All these considerations mean that upwards of 200 million people, in addition to those we are already pledged to serve, are now looking to us in their misery and famine. Our appeal today is therefore larger than the former appeal to the "war conscience" of our people. The new appeal is to the "world conscience," which must be the guiding inspiration of our future program.

The President of the United States has asked me to take charge for this Government of this work; to perfect ... the arrangements for foodstuffs to the populations of Belgium and France now being released, and to organize and determine the need of provision to the liberated peoples of Southern Europe to prevent such debacle as has taken place in Russia.

The determining factor for the success of such an enlarged appeal will be the vivid consciousness in every individual in each community of obligation and opportunity.. It is that common recognition of obligation that we now wish to create. Such an intelligent "world conscience" in the American people must be the main dependence of the stricken countries of the world until normal conditions are once more restored.

America by her participation in the war has accomplished her objectives of self-defense and of vindicating the efficiency of a government in which the people, and the people only, are sovereign. She has established the foundations of government by the people throughout the enemy countries, and this is the real bulwark of world peace. We have yet to build on these foundations. No government nor nation can stand if its people are starving. We must do our part if the world be not consumed in a flame of anarchy.

The American people, in this most critical period of their history, have the opportunity to demonstrate not only their ability to assist in establishing peace on earth, but also their consecration, by self-denial, to the cause of suffering humanity."

HERBERT HOOVER.

BANANA BUJEA.

Six bananas, two green peppers, one-half-inch green ginger, one clove garlic, one sliced onion, one tablespoon savory fat, one-half cup cocoanut.

Cut bananas in pieces and allow them to lie in weak salt water for a few minutes. Slice the peppers and the ginger and cut the garlic into very small pieces. Brown the onion in the fat. Then add the bananas, peppers and seasonings. When the fruit softens stir in half a cup of cocoanut Cook a few minutes longer.

Among the first fruits of victory is the extra pound of sugar per month allowed Maryland, beginning December 1st. The maximum for each individual is now four pounds.
