Household Hints

Foamlined knitwear which resists wrinkling, sagging, and stretching can be washed exactly like a fine sweater. Just, squeeze the garment through warm soap or detergent suds, rinse with lots of clear water, blot in a towel, and hang to dry in an airy place.

Washable scraps of fabric are easy to fashion into dribble bibs for babies. Bind edges with bias tape or leftover length of lace.

It's a pity that we will not be around for the twenty-first century, just to sample the goodies that are sure to be around. Right now, for example it is possible to sew without thread or needle with an ultrasonic sewing machine. The new technique sews by welding together synthetic materials with high-frequency generate localized heat by causing one piece of material to vibrate against the other, creating a molecular change with joins or "Sews" the pieces together.

Material can be sewn at rates up to 50 feet per minute in a variety of patterns, the manufacturer says. The machine can be used to seam, hem, tack, baste, pleat, slit and make buttonholes.

Economy meals for good eating

For a good, economical protein food to help round out the nutritional needs of your food budget, use split peas, now in plentiful supply.

A thick, fat, nourishing split-pea soup will just hit the spot. You can serve it as the protein-enriching appetizer of the dinner meal or the main course of the luncheon or supper meal.

Split peas provide slightly more protein than an equal weight or measure of dry beans, except soybeans. However, like beans, split peas contain proteins not altogether well balanced by themselves.

They need a bit of supplementing with higher quality protein foods—meat, poultry, fish, cheese or eggs—in the same meal. If you add a ham or beef bone or smoked sausage to your split pea soup, you'll increase its food value.

This tasty Split Pea Soup is recommended for the appetizer of the lunch meal.

The soup requires 1 cup split peas, 6 cups water, Meaty ham or beef bone, 1 small onion, chopped, salt, and pepper.

Boil split peas in water with the ham or beef bone in a covered pan for about 3 hours. Boil gently, stirring occasionally.

Add onion and continue cooking 30 minutes, or until peas are fuzzy dissolved.

Remove bone and cut off meat. Add meat to soup. Season to taste and reheat.

Black Police Chief Fired At

DARBY, Pa. — A car containing three men, one of them black, fired three shots into the unmarked police cruiser of black Police Chief William A. Johnson recently.

The bullets punctured holes in the rear door of the chief's car but he was not injured.

The chief said he had received anonymous telephone threats and other policemen in Delaware County had been fired upon.

Scopes Dies Of Cancer

SHREVEPORT, La. — The family of John Thomas Scopes planned a Roman Catholic funeral last week for the man who shook fundamentalist religion in the "Monkey Trial" of 1925. Scopes died here last Wednesday night of cancer. He was 70.

Scopes had just begun a career as a teacher in the Tennessee town of Dayton when he found himself on trial for violating Tennessee's law against teaching the theory of evolution.

He had told his students of Charles Darwin's theory that man evolved from the lower primates.

Scopes was overshadowed in the trial by two of the greatest lawyers of the day — Clarence Darrow and William Jennings Bryan — and by H. L. Mencken who headed an illustrious press corps covering the trial.

NEW YORK — Businessmen, with the last "Green is Beautiful" thinking, are capitalizing on the black community's desire to purchase goods and services which reflect their heritage.
