CALVERT COUNTY NEWS

Island Creek rites for Daniel A. Butler

by MELVINA EDWARDS

Brooks United Methodist Church was filled to capacity for funeral services of Daniel Alexander Butler of Island Creek, last week.

Mr. Butler was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. (Sarah) Henry Butler and was well known in the county.

Born December 17, 1900, in Calvert Co., he attended the Old Pink School in Island Creek. He became a member of Brooks United Methodist Church in 1913, during the ministry of the Rev. C.C. Brown, where he remained a faithful member.

He married the former Miss Eliza Janey who survives. They had three children.

Mr. Butler was treasurer of the official board for 20 years and was chaplain of the Methodist Men.

He delivered his last message on October 25 and died on October 26.

In addition to his wife, a son; 8 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren survive.

The Rev. Joseph Collins, pastor of the church gave the eulogy. Five other ministers assisted at the services. They were the Revs. Charles Johnson, William Edwards, Sherman Mason, Benjamin Collins and James Jonwa.

Pallbearers were Howard Kent Jr., Eugene Smith, Preston Creek, Charles Reynolds, Kinsie Jones, Hershall Randall, Howard Brown, Herman Coates, Hagner Booth, John Titus, Dory Brooks, Samuel Harris.

Mrs. Josephine Parker read the resolutions. Mrs. Edna Broadnoux and Parran Gross were the soloists. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Miss Thondo Evans, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John E. Evans is visiting her sister in Texas.

Say a prayer for Mrs. Henry Brooks of Huntingtown, who is ill.

Also on the sick list are Mrs. Dorothy Pinkney of Sunderland and Mrs. Lillie Duppin of Sunderland, a patient at Calvert County Hospital. Also, Mrs. Evelyn Plater.

Mrs. Rebecca Booze suffered burns of the arm and hand. She is confined at home.

Sympathy to the family of the late Miss Mary Elizabeth Thompson of Stockton St. Funeral services were held at the Isiah Brown Funeral Home on Wednesday.

Miss Ketie Gross, a former resident of Lusby, attended Homecoming at St. Edmonds Church. Also seen there were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Plater of Washington.

James Titus, who has been visiting in Calvert Co. and rendering programs at St. Edmonds and Cooper Churches, left Monday for Bethlehem, Pa.

Wedding bells will ring for Miss Bernadette Yvonne Carter and James E. Petty on Saturday, November 14 at 2:30 p.m. at Second Baptist Church in Germantown, Pa.

Miss Carter is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Gray Carter and granddaughter of Mr. Youngie Gray, former resident of Island Creek.

Richard Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans, has returned to his station, and will leave soon for Vietnam.

Prayer Services will be held at St. Edmonds Church each Wednesday at 8 p.m. The Rev. Mrs. Clara Brooks is the sponsor. Services will also be held on Thursday night. Herman Coates is the sponsor.

Construction has begun on St. Edmonds new church.

Bill Ennis dead at 62

"During his tenure as a counselor, he helped many patients, made many friends and inspired them to see a better way of life."

That was the tribute paid to William Ennis Black, City Hospitals alcoholism counselor, at funeral services held Saturday at Arlington Phillips Funeral Home Chapel.

Father Harris Shelley, St. Michiel and All Angels Episcopal Church, officiated.

He was assisted by Father Charles Fox St. Matthews Episcopal Church, and the Rev. C. Peters, Grace United Presbyterian Church.

Burial was in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Black 62, 2813 Ulman Ave., died Wednesday in City Hospitals after an extended illness.

Born in Portsmouth, Va., he received his early education there and came to Baltimore in 1925 and graduated from Frederick Douglass High School.

He also attended Morgan State College where he was known as "Wild Man Black," a top football player.

He served as Merchant Marine during the Second World War.

During his lifetime he was employed by the Mutual of Baltimore Insurance Company and was the first black welding instructor in the city.

He was also insturmental in establishing the first local alcoholism training course, which was sponsored by the state and city health departments. He further extended the program into the Baltimore City Jail and other institutions.

He furthered his career by beginning Bridge House, which later merded with Valley House, 28 S. Broadway, to become Valey House, Inc., a recovery and rehabilitation center for alcoholics.

Mr. Black has participated in summer sessions on alcoholic study at Rutgers University, New Jersey, and seminars at Loyola College and Johns Hopkins University.

He spent the last three years of his career on the City Hospitals staff as an alcoholic counselor.

He was a longtime member of Grace United.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma Collier Black; four child ren, Mrs. Jo Anne C. Stallings, Ennise P William, 3rd, and Charles Robert Black; granddaughter, Laura E. Stallings; mother, Mrs. Beulah DePree and brother, Prentiss L. Black, of New York.

Ribbon cut at Model Cities

The ribbon cutting ceremony for the Target City Youth Program, Inc. Halfway House was held on Thursday, Nov. 5, 10 a.m., at 1105 E. Fayette St.

Milton Holmes, Project Director, Target City Youth Program, Inc., joined Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro in cutting the ribbon on this momentous occasion.

Mr. Holmes stated that the Halfway House will provide a service to persons seventeen (17) years and older in need of social guidance and/or rehabilitative assistance to readjust to the community.

He further stated, "By and large, these will be persons who characteristically feel 'lost,' are in desperate need of support and have a background of either penal incarceration, unemployment, or community delinquency."

The objective of this program is to provide the stimulus necessary to activate within these persons the desire for self-improvement and, thereby, reduce the number of criminal actions committed in the Model neighborhood.

The enrollees will receive such services as physical examinations, job counseling and placement, skills orientation, and training. A strong emphasis will be placed on Black history and culture in order to instill pride and motivation.

The residential program will serve approximately 100 persons during a 52-week period.

Roosevelt Miles is the supervisor of the program for the Target City Youth Program.

The program is funded under Model Cities. It was slated to open earlier but has been delayed because of unusual changes that had to be made for the building inspection. The building was formerly used as a nursing home.

Southern Baptist builds new church

The Southern Baptist Church congregation has begun construction of its new church at E. Lanvale and Chester Sts.

The 1,000 members, now attending service at the church at 1530 E. Preston St., six blocks away, are scheduled to move into the new building in December, 1971.

The Rev. Nathaniel Higgs, pastor, said the congregation has grown to the extend that they need a larger buildings and new facilities.

The new church, an ultra-modern windowless structure begun in October, will include a pastor's study, lounge, church library and conference room.

It will also have a chapel for small services with 150 seats and a main chapel with 950 seats.

The acre of land will allow 50 parking spaces.

"We were thinking in terms of a building large enough to provide xommunity services including a day care center," said the Rev. Mr. Higgs.

This will be the fifth home of Southern Baptist Church, which was begun 39 years ago under the late Rev. J. R. Coel.

The church officers are: Henry McArthur, chairman of the deacons; John Baxtor, chairman of the trustees; Ernest Hobson, financial secretary, and Mrs. Marie C. Smith, church secretary.

The Rev. Mr. Higgs has been pastor since the death of the Rev. J. R. Grant in December, 1966.

The minister, who is quick to commend his trustees and deacon board, had been associate minister since 1960.

He was born in Scotland Neck, N.C. and has been in Baltimore since 1948.

He attended Dunbar Evening School and Morgan State College where he now continues extended study.

His wife, Mrs. Bernice Higgs, is an active member of Southern. She belongs to the deaconess board, the early morning choir and the choral choir.

They have seven children: Nathaniel Jr., 16, Marvin, 11, Angela, 13, Melissa, 5, Rosetta, 4, Bruce, 10 and David 7.
