Mrs. Brown, Alonzo Kelly married in Ellicott City

by Lula Jones Garrett

Emma Brown (Mrs. W. Emerson Sr.) and Alonzo T. Kelly slipped off to Ellicott City, Thursday, and were married by the Rev. James E. Dorsey.

Emma, lovely as ever, was particularly charming in pale green silk princess frock with white lace collar, white shoes and gloves and a white silk bouffant tam. Her corsage was an orchid.

The bridegroom wore a medium gray suit with blue and gray tie and black shoes. The double - ring ceremony was used.

I could say that was a whirlwind romance. They do say it was love at first sight. His wedding gift to her was a heavenly blue Oldsmobile.

The newlyweds kept on to New York. Week-ended at the Statler-Hilton. Were feted at a dinner party given by the William Stanley Braithwaites (he is the poet) at the hosts' Edgecomb Avenue home, and were back in town this week.

This week they are busy house-hunting.

Mr. Kelly, a Lincoln U. grad, is who did his graduate work at Columbia, is on the faculty of the Harvey Johnson Junior High School. Mrs. Kelly, a statistician, is with the U.S. Department of Health, Welfare and Education.

ANOTHER WEDDING of the week . . . that of Dorothy Lee Morris and Erwin Wilson, took place in the home of the bride on Saturday, with the Rev. Leon K. Ceasar officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Samuel Morris and the late Mrs. Bertha Morris, and Mr. Wilson the son of Mrs. Dora Wilson of this city.

A small reception followed at which her father and step - mother hosted. Serving assisted in various duties by Mrs. Vashti Jackson, Mrs. Mary Bestie, Mrs. Pauline Taylor and Mrs. Marian Felton.

After this the new Mrs. Wilson changed from wedding attire to a pale yellow frock and blue accessories for her wedding trip.

ELAINE SWAN, of Los Angeles, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mann, here, is being flooded with parties, one of the most charming being that given on Friday by Janet Woolridge.

The hostess carried out the Hawaiian theme which she has been adopting in her entertaining this season . . . the Friday guests being:

Elsie Bowser, Alice Branson (who also gave a party for Mrs. Swan) Bernice Brown, Myrtle Bennett, Mae Chamberlain, Imogene King, Daisy Kinnaird.

Also Bernice' Nickens, Inez Reed, Nicki Randolph, Myrtle Russell and Hermione Weaver. Mrs. Swan's daughter, Gail, was also there.

POT-POURRI: That freak accident . . . a lightly screwed in light bulb that dropped on Anita Thomas, abed, is the cause of her being tucked in Johns Hopkins this week. Glass from the broken bulb severed a nerve that in turn affected the retina of her eye, necessitating a slight operation. She's in Brady 5.

Calendar item of the week is that for Sunday, when Drs. and Mrs. C. Dudley Lee Sr. will observe the 25th anniversary of their wedding, at their home on Carlisle Avenue.

Tucker R. Dearing, the attorney, and his wife, Dr. Tucker, will be joining the west-end colony at 3724 Woodhaven Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Graves have announced the approaching wedding of their daughter, June Thomasene, to James Davis.

The wedding will take place in Calvary Baptist Church on August 6th at five in the afternoon. A reception will follow in the Church Hall. The bride-elect is also the granddaughter of the Rev. Lorenzo Graves.

PEREGRINATORS: Arrived from parts flung friends . . . Vivian Cook, in Oberammergau, Germany, for the Passion Play; Judge and Mrs. E. Everett Lane in San Juan, Puerto Rico; Thelma Weaver, who with Gertrude Corbett, has been touring Canada since July 7th, with the exception of the week they spent in Boston.

Mrs. J. Logan Jenkins who came in, this week, from a 10-day cruise on the Great Lakes, making pop calls in Buffalo, Mackinac Island, Detroit, Cleveland, and Perry Sound, Ontario . . . and, to land home and to a "welcome back" dinner party given her by Dr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson. Other guests were Mrs. Virgie Waters, Mrs. Florence Carter and Mrs. Alma Thomas.

Mrs. Dora Haughton of Bridgeview Road is home from High Point, N.C., where she week-ended. And back from New York City is Frank Brown, organist of Zion Baptist Church, who attended a masters class in choral conducting under instruction of the famous conductor, Peter J. Wilhousky.

Miss Audrey Fonseca and her sister, Mrs. Anna Bell Martin returned from Canton, Ohio, where they visited another sister, Mrs. Goldie Gentry.

And the Lee Woodlees are back from Los Angeles, where they saw the town under the guidance of their daughters, Patricia and Lenora.

Lenora was a Kennedy Girl (in red, white and blue) at the Democratic Convention, while Pat was a Golden Girl on the same occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown of Ellicott Drive were guests of Retired Navy Officer Albert C. Finley and Mrs. Finley in Los Angeles, Calif

Mrs. Finley is Queen of the Daughters of the Sphinx, O.E.S. and an officer in the Grand Lodge. The Browns, with their hostess, motored to San Francisco, San Diego and Tijuana, Mexico.

Party hosts to the Baltimoreans included Mrs. Stella Martin of Compton, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones of Los Angeles, and the Finleys, who gave a barbecue for the visitors. Mr. Brown is employed at the Washington Post Office and Mrs. Brown is a city clerk.

JACK AND JILL (Baltimore Chapter) Executive Committee meeting was held Friday at the Longwood Street home of the president, Grace Scott.

Officers, committee chairmen and age-group chairmen met to discuss the program for the coming year. Time was spent discussing the highlights from the National Convention which was held in Boston.

Eighty two delegates from across the country assembled to further Jack and Jill goals. Scores of interested Jack and Jill mothers and fathers and children from all over the country enjoyed the hospitality extended by the Boston Chapter.

His Excellency Governor Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts was presented the National Jack and Jill award at a luncheon held at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Boston. Governor Furcolo complimented the mothers on their outstanding goals and program. He sat and conversed with the teen-agers.

Blanche Hughes, charter member of the Baltimore Chapter, received congratulations from the Executive Committee as the newly elected national program director.

Other national officers are: president Dr. Ruth Howard, California; vice president, Odessa Willis, Ohio; recording secretary, Hattie White, Texas; Corresponding secretary Edna Rogers, Massachusetts; treasurer, Lucille Simms, Missouri; and editor, Thelma Kenk, North Carolina.

This year's theme is "Meeting the Challenge as Parents." January will mark the 15th anniversary of the Baltimore Chapter. Plans are under way for the 1961 Jack and Jill Day.

Those in attendance were:

Grace M. Scott, Effie Scott, Ann Shepherd, Ruth Hughes, Harder, Audrey Pinderhughes, Harriet Stephens, Celinda Walden, Inetta Gross, Ruth Jenkins

Also Mrs. Marguerite Brown, Mrs. Nettie Carey, Harrison Tucker, Phillip Poulson, Ralph McCoy, John Weatherford, Clifton Houghton, Roland McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Coltrane, William Ransome and Clarence Ball.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscle aches and pains make one so miserable, emotional upsets or day-to-day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer acid bladder irritation, with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are bothered and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same help many others have enjoyed for over forty years. Ask for new, larger, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Capacity house enjoys Irish fantasy, 'Finian's Rainbow'

By ADAH K. JENKINS

It was a "great "evening" for the Irish" and for The Arena Players when the Strawhat Theatre presented "Finian's Rainbow," an Irish fantasy about American race prejudice!

A capacity house thoroughly enjoyed the interracial production last Thursday. It is the first project to be done by the Arena Thespians in conjunction with the Equity Acting Company of Strawhat Theatre. "Finian's Rainbow" is being held over until July 30 with a special matinee Sunday.

The play is an hilariously amusing musical about an Irish girl, her father and "Og," the leprechaun (grown-up Irish pixie), who contrives, to get a Southern senator changed from white to tan and back again. Said senator, meanwhile, revises his prejudices and decides to "become a member of the human race!"

Expert casting has been done by Director Edgar Loessin. From the winsome, witty lass, the heart chrob of "Sharon," Shaffer and her adventurous father "Finian" (Lian Lenehan) to the diminutive, delightful "Henry," of a sharecropper's family, done by Nathaniel Harris, first grade pupil of Mrs. June Thorne's at School No. 60.

Andre Moreau as "Woody," heart throb of "Sharon," shared vocal honors with Miss Shaffer and Delores Stokes, who stopped the show with her deep - throated "Necessity."

ANOTHER HIT of the evening was the quarter, "The Begat," put over in top-flight fashion by Joe Wilson, Harvey Denmark, Irving Turner and Herman Campbell. Jack Remine, as the incorrigible leprechaun, was a delight to watch and hear.

In the role of "Susan," the pretty rustic who could not speak, but "talked with her feet," Madeline Littman, from the Deborah London School of Dance, was lovely indeed, displaying impressive talent.

One of the drollest scenes was Sam Wilson's portrayal of "Howard," the college student who has a summer job with Senator Billboard Rawkins, expertly played by Edward Beach.

VACCUNTESS PAYNE and Wayne Brooks made a superior contribution in supporting roles. One of the strongest features of the performance was the ensemble work done by the excellent chorus in both singing and dancing under the able direction of William Bevans and Deborah London.

This group included; June Thorne, Sondra Banfield, Delores Stokes, Herman Campbell, Harvey Denmark, Jack Jenkins, Irving Turner, Joe Wilson, Merrel Anning, Irving Turner, Joe Wilson, Patricia Perrine, Wilson Riley, Gwen Alston, Erva Bodes, Jean Beck, Charlene Chapnick, Connie Coleman.

Gail Copper, Jeff Dahid, Marilyn Fleiman, Gary Fusfield, Harriet Garbis, Ginny Hart, Lois Hoffman, Royce Hunavice, Barbara Malinowski, Jane Radcliffe, Ellen Bice, Marin Rippeche, Nara Rosenthal, Arlynne Stark, and De Ette Wilkinson.

The single rustic setting lights and costumes added to a well - integrated production, along with the tuneful and sprightly score well played by the orchestra, with Conductor William Bevans at the piano.

AT THE intermission, L. Taylor Giles, director of Strawhat Theatre, congratulated the Arena Players upon their "outstanding contribution to local theatre and, in particular, to "Finians' Rainbow."

After the performance refreshments were served on the lawn by the Arena Players with Mrs. Verna Day, one of the founding members, as hostess.

Considerable attention was attracted by the portraits of famous jockeys by Henry Cooper, well known Baltimore artist and musician, which were exhibited in the auditorium.

AN OVERFLOW audience greeted the young performers at the annual recital by students of Mrs. Emma Poulson and her daughter, Miss Florine Poulson.

Piano solos and ensemble numbers, for two pianos, were characterized by accuracy in notes and rhythm. Nine pupils participated in a musical demonstration of practical appreciation of religious music was given by Mrs. Rebecca Foxwell of the piano class. The audience joining in a familiar hymn.

Adrina Richardson, baritone, as guest soloist, sang Strauss, "Dedication" in good voice and with little Schubert's "Serenade" accompaniment by Vivian Wright, who assisted in the entire program. Renee and Michael Barnes, Bertha and John Boone, Vernon and Alma Lynch, Leigh and Zenia Colb and Michel and David Jones for meritorious work. Mrs. Foxwell also received a citation for regular attendance and consistent progress.

Participants were: Leigh and Zenia Colb, Lenora Smith, Dawnce Simms, Carolyn Brown, Darlene Jones, Michael Jones, Ida Cavanaugh, Jacqueline Hunter, Dorothy Johnson, Michelle and Bernadette Jones, Pamela Johnson, Sylvia Wright, John and Bertha Boone, Vernon and Alma Lynch, Lizzett Pendergrass, Jacqueline Oliver.

Caroline Miles, Lloyd Rone, Beatrice Rone, Renee and Michael Byrd, Angus Smith, Marsha Jordan, Ida Jones, Yvonne Marie Ridgley, Beverly Hall, Beatrice Brown, Lia Henderson, Michael Williams, Colberta Woodland and Sylvia Wright.

THE FIRST event in the summer festival at the Carlyle Arts Center at Morgan State College was an organ recital by R. Warren Gioch.

Almost half of the concert was devoted to organ masters of the Renaissance period, featuring the great 17th century organists and composers Jean Pachelbel and Samuel Scheidt of Germany and England's Henry Purcell. The "G Major Fugue" and eight "Chorale Preludes" by Johann Sebastian Bach represented the period of the Reformation and the culmination of the Baroque period in music.

From the romantic period there were "Chorale Preludes" by Brahms. Hindemiith, Henry Mulet and Richard Purvis represented the modern composers presented by Mr. Gioch in a recital that reached for the full span of musical periods and trends.

The festival which will close Monday, August 1 with a recital by Daniel Comegys, baritone, was sponsored by Morgan Summer School and the Student Union.

A MODERN note of decided interest was added to the annual recital by pupils of Mrs. Katrine N. White, with the presentation of works by Duke Ellington, W. C. Handy and R. Nathan Dett. Performing these numbers in duet and solo form were Jackie Miller and Loretta Robinson.

From the classics were works by Haydn, Grieg, Mendelssohn and Rachmaninoff by intermediate and advanced students. The balance of the recital was devoted to choice selections from well known composers in a new era of educational piano material.

Visitors day Sunday at handicapped camp

Sunday is annual Visitors' Day at Camp Greentop, near Thurmont, Md., the summer camp for handicapped children sponsored by Baltimore Easter Seal Agency, the Baltimore League for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

Visitors will have an opportunity to tour the grounds from 3 to 5 p.m., to enjoy refreshments with the resident handicapped children and see first hand the work that is being done at Greentop, according to Margaret M. Huffington, assistant executive director.

SON was showered and toasted at the home of Delores Augustus the evening prior to her wedding on July 21, 1960.

Four of Jackie's former college chums and her best friend, Lorraine Washington, gave the surprise for her.

Beneath a frothy white lace trimmed umbrella, pin-pointed with pearls, stood a beautifully arrayed table, sparkling in its motif of silver and white.

After what seemed all too short a time to reflect upon past college days, the girls dined, wined and sipped pink champagne.

About and showering Jackie with the choicest of miscellaneous gifts were Nannie Garrett Mary Robinson, Delores Taylor, Geneva Waddell, Audrey Thomas, Frances Finney.

Also Carolyn Hawkins, Inez Jones, Lorraine Washington, Lang Weeks, Gwendolyn Carter, Mrs. Effie Leftwich and Delores Augustus.

THE BRIDE given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white nylon organza, lined with silk taffeta, and trimmed with seed pearls around a bowl neckline.

Her voluminous princess lined skirt ended in a full back panel of Chantilly lace forming a chapel-length train. The gown was made by the bride's mother.

Her veil was of tulle attached to a lace and pearl seeded tiara. She carried a lace - trimmed Prayer Book topped with a white orchid. Feminity ornaments were one strand of pearls and tiny matching earrings.

MRS. LILLIAN FLETCHER, sister of the bride, and matron of honor, wore a street-length dress of white swiss-dotted organza.

The dress featured a double tiered skirt, a bodice with short sleeves. Her head piece was a wide open crown hat of net and tulle, and she wore a strand of pearls, gift of the bride.

White lace gloves, and white silk shantung shoes completed her accessories.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dorothy Brown, Mrs. Shirley Barrett, Miss Myrna Myers, all of this city, and Miss Juliette Shanks of Washington.

The maids wore white swiss-dotted nylon organza full-skirted street-length dresses. Their accessories were identical to those of the honor attendent with the exception of the head pieces, which were white tulle veils attached to a band of rose shape petals. They carried bouquets of blue carnations.

The bride's mother wore a street-length d
