Bears primed to host Buccaneers in grid bow

The Morgan State College Bears football curtain-raiser will be held here Saturday in Hughes Stadium against the Hampton Institute "Pirates" at 1:30 p.m.

Holding a wide margin of 24 victories over the Pirates in 36 games played, Morgan is still smarting from the defeat they took last year from Hampton in a squeaker that found the Bears on the short end of a 9-6 score.

Head Coach Earl C. "Tiger" Banks is running his heavy, all-quarterback attack Dennis Ingram, who was ineligible last year, "knows the Monroe," a bright threat has returned for his senior year.

Banks says, as Dennis goes— so goes Morgan.

IN 1958, Dennis was the leading ground gainer with 36 carries for a total of 551 yards, which included 4 touchdowns and 4 conversions. He is the same player he was in the running department which a total of 551 yards in 24 kicks for an average of 23.8 yards per.

He is also very shifty and can think in different situations.

IN THE forward wall there will be a lot of experience returning this year and the line is expected to rate with the best of them in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association Conference.

One of the stalwarts on the line will be big James Hairston, 284 pound tackle, who is fast and aggressive for his size.

Another letterman, who commands a lot of respect around the conference, is Nonie Whitt, 218 pound guard, who will be playing his senior year.

BANKS, WHO replaced Eddie Hurt this year as head football coach, played pro football with the Yankees of the old American Football League. He was chosen all - American guard one year while playing with the University of Iowa.

Before coming to Morgan, Banks was head line coach at Maryland—State College—for nine years.

GETTING A glimpse of his charges in Spring practice, and what he has seen since September, Banks says, "The potential is here— all we have to do is to develop it and polish it up some."

Coach Hurt, who relinquished the football post at the end of last season on doctor's orders, continues at the college as Director of Athletics.

Bald Eagle eyes 2nd International

LAUREL, Md. — Cain Hoy Stable's Bald Eagle, America's leading handicap horse and a prime candidate for "horse of the year" honors, will try to score an unprecedented second triumph in the $100,000 International Washington D.C. International at Laurel Race Course next November 11, it was announced this week.

Laurel president John D. Schapiro confirmed that Bald Eagle's owner, Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim of New York, had accepted an invitation to run his five-year-old star in the Veterans' Day mile and a half grass classic for the second time.

A year ago, Bald Eagle defeated 11 of the world's best 3-year-old colts and fillies, representing nine countries, to give the United States its third victory in the race.

Colts begin quest for 3rd straight

With two successive world championships behind them, the Baltimore Colts launch their bid for number three when they engage the Washington Redskins in the opening game of the National Football League season Sunday, in Memorial Stadium.

The kickoff is slated for 2:05 p.m.

During their pre-season campaign the Colts displayed a devastating attack, which was featured by John Unitas' aerials, and a somewhat erratic defense. One of the major offensive developments was the progress made by second - year halfback Alex Hawkins. Sidelined by an injury after starting only one game last fall, the 6 - 1, 190 - pound Hawkins opened each of the Steeds' six no - count contests and never failed to give an excellent account of himself.

Lenny Moore, the breakaway threat and deluxe pass receiver, should be ready to pair off with Hawkins after sitting out the final pre - season game with the Philadelphia Eagles with a pulled leg muscle.

Jim Mutscheller, the stellar veteran end, also remained idle during the Eagles fray, nursing a balky knee. His status remains doubtful for the Redskins' encounter, as does that of left linebacker Bill Pellington.

The latter was on the shelf with a muscle spasm in his back last week and he'll bolster the defense considerably when he returns.

With these exceptions, the Colts figure to be in good physical shape to face the Redskins.

Chip off block

Worden, winner of the 1953 Laurel International for France, sired the stakes winners Angers and Wordpam, two of France's leading three-year-olds in 1960.

Marshall sparkles as Panthers score

By JOHN B. HARRIS
RICHMOND

Coach Tom Harris of Virginia Union University shuffled sophomore Milton Marshall between quarterback and halfback and came up with some striking results when the Panthers defeated Elizabeth City State Teachers College, 14-6, Saturday night at Elizabeth City, North Carolina.

Marshall, a 163 - pound, 5-9 Richmonder who played four years at Armstrong, sparked the team in such a performance as the Panther team has not seen in three seasons.

Marshall picked up 165 yards rushing, scored in the second period on a one-yard off tackle smash, culminating a 30 -yard drive, and otherwise held the team together after a scoreless first stanza.

AFTER THE first TD in the second quarter, Danny Greenwell added the placement for the extra point. This was all the scoring in the first half and Union led 7 - 0, at intermission.

The third quarter was a repeat of the first. During this period the Panthers picked up most of the 15 first downs as compared to 6 recorded for the Pirates.

HOWEVER IN the final quarter, the Richmonders struck pay - dirt again when Bob Brazeal, halfback, crashed over from the one-yard line after Milton Marshall picked up 73 yards in ten carries. Again Greenwell added the extra - point.

Also in this period, Pirate Mickey Harper picked up the only TD for his team on a three - yard halfback drive after a series of drives from the Union 30. The conversion attempt, a kick, by George Craig, failed.

The Panthers picked up 15 first downs while the losers were picking up six, and they gained a total of 323 yards-164 rushing and 159 passing.

ON FRIDAY night, the Union Panthers will meet Shaw University in Richmond at Parker Field on October 3 at 2 p.m. indicate that a number of advance tickets which are selling for $2 each until October 22 are available to the general public.

the fact that Miss Rudolph was a victim of polio in early childhood. She did not walk until she was eight years of age.

This revelation pointed up the value of the 19 - year-old heroine as an inspiration to people suffering from the dreaded polio disease.

The AFRO recommendation that she be considered for employment by the Foundation met with immediate endorsement by President Walter S. Davis of Tennessee State University.

LAST WEEK, Dr. Davis pledged his "whole - hearted support" to the move. He described Miss Rudolph as a good student and fine young woman, deserving of any efforts made in her behalf for the future.

This week, Mr. Bynum disclosed that the Foundation is "genuinely excited" about Miss Rudolph and that he has been asked by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, to interview her at his first opportunity.

"I WON'T BE in New York on September 26, when Miss Rudolph is due to return," Mr. Bynum told the AFRO. "Commitments in Atlantic City, N.J., and St. Louis, Mo. will prevent my seeing her at this time.

"However, at Mr. O'Connor's request, I intend to be in Nashville, probably early next month, and will talk with her then.

"I also will talk with her mother and with Dr. Davis to determine the exact nature and extent of her childhood illness.

"I DO NOT think it is likely that employment of Miss Rudolph will come about as a result of these discussions," Mr. Bynum continued, "because with the discovery of the vaccines, etc., we have been able to reduce our emphasis on polio.

"There is the possibility, though, that Miss Rudolph can be an asset to our youth program of inspirational rehabilitation. Certainly, her achievements make this young woman a source of great inspiration."

Pro Warriors sign A&T cage star

PHILADELPHIA (ANP) — The Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association last week announced the signing of Alvin Attles, a rookie from North Carolina A and T College at Greensboro, N.C. Attles, a big star at A and T, was signed along with Ernie Beck, veteran guard.

Bearcat-Nature Boy title rassle Monday

Bearcat Wright, relaxed six foot, seven inch, 265 - pound resident of Jersey City, will be out to dethrone 6 - 1, 242-pound Nature Boy Buddy Rogers, United States heavy weight champion, in the one - fall feature to a positive finish that will headline Promoter Harry Smith's outstanding wrestling show at the Baltimore Coliseum Monday night.

In a spirited semifinal Sweet Daddy Siki, Bearcat's acrobatic 233 - pound side - kick and also a Jamaican, will be tested by Killer Kowalski, fiercely aggressive 6 - 7, 280 - pound Canadian - born midwesterner.

MARK LEWIN and Don Curtis will battle Al Costello and Roy Heffernan, the Australian Kangaroos, in one best-of-three-fall tag team attraction; Red and Lou Bastien meet Chet Wallick and Angelo Savoldi in another, while Chief Big Heart opens against Tito Carreon.

Wright not only is quietly confident of his chances of taking Rogers' championship belt, but also that he will become the first colored matman to win a world's heavyweight title.

YOUNG BEARCAT WRIGHT was following the lead of his father, the Original Bearcat Wright who was a hard hitting heavyweight boxer, before turning to wrestling three years ago.

"I was going along pretty good as a boxer when I was persuaded to take a fling at wrestling," Bearcat says, "I've never been sorry.

"I'D HAVE to say that wrestling, that ties you up four and sometimes five nights weekly, demands more for you than does boxing. But I'd also have to say that you can make more money as a wrestler, and, I'm all for it."

Wright makes use of his boxing training only when necessary as a matman, and specizes in potent drop-kicks and a punishing head butt as a wrestler.

92-Game MSA Slate Opens Next Friday

Action gets under way next Friday (30th) for Maryland Scholastic Association football teams, with a 3 - way title battle anticipated between City, Loyola and always - strong Poly.

A busy schedule of 92 games awaits the 15 member schools, 36 among teams in the "A" league of the two - division setup, and 36 among those in the "B" loop.

This 1960 realignment pits the larger schools against each other. Douglass, Dunbar, City, Poly, Calvert Hall, Loyola, Patterson Park and Mt. St. Joe comprise the 8 - team "A" group, while Carver, Mervo, Southern, Severn, Forest Park, Edmondson and McDonogh make up the 7 - team "B" section.

COACH GEORGE YOUNG of City, and his opposite number, Tracy Mehr at Loyola, acknowledge on the eve of the conference opening, that they have good chances to battle for the crown. The MSA title is contested for only by "A" teams.

Young is working overtime in an effort to find a successor to Cliff Melton, his all-city quarterback, and thinks he may have him in Bruce Barrett.

Mehr, on the other hand, appears confident that his Dons will assert themselves with their two - deep backfield, as they did among the Catholic schools in previous seasons.

Dunbar coach Sugar Cain, his usual canny self, professes to be "out of our league" in the "A" grouping and Douglass tutor Mack Payne says his boys "may not be quite ready for the tougher schedule, but we'll give it out."

INTHE "B" class, Southern, with all - city tackle Jim Tellington anchoring a strong line, and co - captain Major Lawson operating from fullback, appears the team to beat.

Southern coach Stan Fields, man refers to Tellington as "probably our best football player," but insists that Lawson "is a very close second."

Carver, Edmondson and an ambitious Forest Park eleven may turn up as the principal contenders. Herewith is the complete schedule for MSA teams:

Former PV star impresses Bears

CHICAGO (ANP) — The word from the Chicago Bears training camp is that George Halas, owner - coach, is high in his estimation of John Farrington, a rookie end from Prairie View college in Texas.

Farrington, tall and rangy, was one of nine rookies Halas threw in against the Cleveland Browns in a recent exhibition game. The only regulars going the distance were Zeke Bratkowski at quarterback and John Melleckas.

The results? Well, Halas was highly pleased, particularly with the work of Farrington.

Girl horse threat to Pimlico colts

PIMLICO, Md.,—The Marguerite Stakes at Pimlico on Thanksgiving weekend is for 2 - year - olds, but a filly named Little Tumbler may be running in it to cinch the title for her horses.

Only three fillies in modern racing history have ever been declared two - year old champion over all the colt contenders, but Little Tumbler rose on her way to pulling off this unique hat trick.

She not only won The Futurity, one of the nation's oldest stakes for two - year olds, last Saturday, but also the beat Globemaster, an $80,000 colt, and Garwol, a $32,000 colt, in the doing. Little Tumbler cost a comparatively modest $10,500.

Always tomorrow

AN EDITORIAL

We suggest to Baltimore Oriole fans, that all is not lost just because the Birds could not hold on to their American League lead.

At the risk of being trite, we offer the usual consolation, there's always tomorrow.

Paul Richards and his boys have provided us with many moments of joy during this baseball season. We think particularly of the Sept. 3rd weekend, when the Birds swept the three-game Yankee series.

But, this weekend of Sept. 24, finds us back in 3rd place, behind the N.Y. Yankees and the Chicago White Sox. There is no chance of us entering the World Series.

Maybe sports fans can find some further consolation in the fact that the Baltimore Colts open their season here on Sunday.

They're gunning for their third straight football championship. We hope they salve the wounds of disappointed sports enthusiasts, and bring us the championship. And, we hope the Orioles will do the same next year. There's always tomorrow.

"Wait till next year," avid Oriole fans say

By BILL SLATER

"Just wait till next year."

This was the attitude of many of the 19,457 Oriole fans who went to Memorial Stadium Wednesday night to see the Birds buried in the last home game.

The final 4 - 1 score ended hopes for the American League pennant, but each seemed no longer important to the fans.

These 20,000 fans were loyal, a bunch who stuck by the club throughout the year—good and bad days.

• • • •

IRONICALLY, the man who did the most damage to the Wednesday night, by collecting three hits, two of them doubles, and putting up some fancy fly catching, was Willie Tasby, an ex-Oriole, traded to the Red - Sox for outfielder Gene Stephens.

Tasby was responsible for bringing in a run, and slugging in another, and on other occasions he broke the heart of many an Oriole fan by ripping the batters with fine catches.

To add insult to injury, the Yankees blasted Washington out of Yankee Stadium with a decisive 10 - 2 win, putting the Birds in third place, five games away from the top spot.

BUT MANY loyal, die-hards still haven't given up hope. One of such persons is Jordan Johnson, a chauffeur who lives at 2100 E. Hoffman St., who said:

"I still haven't given up hope yet. I started with them and I'm going out with them. They're my boys, and if they don't make it this year, I know it's in the bag for next year."

Another such opinion was that of Walter J. Wilson, 1414 Eutaw Pl., a BTC employee.

Mr. Wilson, excited about the Birds' 1-0 lead in the first inning, said:

"I don't consider them out of the race yet. They still have a chance. Anyway, I think they had a great year and I'm going to stick with them.

"They're going to take that pennant for sure next year," added Mr. Wilson.

ANOTHER FAN, who wishes not to be identified, was not as optimistic as the others. This fan's statement came in the fifth inning, just after the Sox had gone ahead 2-1.

"I don't think they have a chance of winning the pennant this year. I'm not too sure I'd want to pick them for second place.

"They're certainly going to have to play better than they're doing now. I wouldn't predict a pennant for next year. I'll have to see how they're going to do first."

"I think they're the greatest. First place for sure next year. They have my full support."

Tim Brubaker, Joe Stokes, also an avid Bird fan, made this comment:

"I think they've played good ball most of the season. The only thing I can see wrong is that they need more hitting power.

"I think the young boys are going to be pretty well seasoned by next year, and their chances will be much better for the pennant.

"I'm with them all the way," he added.

Mr. Stokes, asked of his opinion of Paul Richards, Oriole manager, declined to make a comment.

PRETTY MISS ROSA LINDSEY, a senior at Douglass High School, who lives at 2011 Mount Anne Rd., who has seen nearly every home game, made this comment:

"I think the Orioles had a good year. I enjoyed all of the games.

"I'm sorry they couldn't win them all, but at least they tried. I don't think they'll take the pennant this year, but is almost certain next year."

Miss Lindsey said her only objection to Baltimore fans is that they do not stick with the team when they're in trouble.

"When the team is winning they've got a city full of fans; everybody wants to be a friend, but when they're on a losing streak, then come the boos—nobody wants to stick with them," she added.

Alexander Lawrence, a Sparrows Point employee who lives at 223 W. Lanvale St. had this to say of the Birds.

"I'm not sure if they stand a chance or not this year, but I'm still with them. I'm sure they're going all the way next year."

THE AFRO'S final comment came from Mrs. Willie Mae Johnson, a baseball lover and mother of seven children who lives at 2100 E. Hoffman St.

"Even if they don't win the pennant, I still love them. They will have to play a catching at this year's title if they can take their series in Washington—we'll just have to wait and see."

"As for next year, it's in the bag."

This reporter admires the hope and loyalty of many of the Bird fans, but feels that all chances for a pennant this year are lost.

As for next year — well, we'll just have to wait and see.

NC Eagles nip Morris Brown

ATLANTA, Ga. — North Carolina College's Luther Jerald crashed through Morris Brown College's defense to block a fourth quarter punt in the end zone to give the Eagles a safety and an 8-6 triumph over the homecoming Wolverines, here Saturday.

The Eagles scored in the opening period when Rossie Barfield went off his own right tackle, cut back to the center of the field, and skirted 33 yards to paydirt to cap a 72-yard TD drive. The scoring drive used up only five plays.

MORRIS BROWN, fighting desperately for a comeback, managed to score with 2:18 seconds remaining in the second quarter when Don Cambridge dove through the middle of the Eagles' tight defense for the Wolverines' touchdown from three yards out.

Jeralds, a 230-pound guard, dove through to block the attempted kicking conversion as it sailed off Johnnie Davis' toe.
