de Cecilios fete Ghanan diplomats

with Lula Jones Garrett

Most delightful hostess, Saturday, was Gwendolon de Cecilio, who, with Mr. de Cecilio, entertained at luncheon in honor of Madam Kofi O. Darki, wife of the Chief of Protocol of Ghana.

The hosts invited guests to their Catonsville-place at two . . . but the latter were having such fun that many were still lingering at the pink stucco manse at the dinner hour.

There was a long, long cocktail hour, and the place rang with talk . . . ere folks treked to the de Cecilios' groaning buffet . . . and then treked back again for seconds ere they settled down with tall drinks at the end of the afternoon.

The Ghanan dress (which most of the ladies from that country wore) is so colorful that it alone would perk up any party. . . . and added to that, ensembles which Americans have fetched back from foreign shores (Genevieve Harris' Indian costume, for instance) gave an additional spark.

The hostess emphasized her good looks in a dark silk print.

Guests from Washington, in addition to Madam Darko, were:

Madam Abdulla Maiga, wife of the Ambassador of the Federation of Mali; E. M. Debra, Chief Counsellor of Ghana, and Mrs. Debra, Mrs. Harrison Tucker, wife of the Minister of Education of Sierra Leone; Miss Anna Berry, secretary of the Washington Friends of Ghana; Mark B. Aaku, Administrative Secretary of the Embassy of Ghana;

Charles H. Bartells, Financial Attache of the Embassy of Ghana; Dr. Marguerite Piper and husband, Benjamin Piper,; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roundtree, Phillip R. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lassiter and John H. Greene.

From Baltimore were Messrs. and Mesdames Harry Macer, Jack Madden, Louis Sheppard, James Phelps;

Mesdames Violet Lincoln, Genevieve Harris, Weida Alston, Thelma Ashe, Patricia Holtsclaw, Carrie Scott, Edith Saunders, Violet Ford, Lula Patterson;

Mesdames Edith Smith, Catharine Carroll, Edith Chatman, Naomi Hardy; Misses Rose Kinney, Hattie Tilghman, Ethel Wise, Ruth Davis and Mildred Williams.

AND THEN THERE were Leana Ferrell and Bernice S. Turner holding forth for We Moms on the weekend.

At the business session, delegates to the conference of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs were selected, namely Bernice Turner, Minerva Williams and Marguerita Wilkins.

Plans were also completed for their Friday night skating party . . . after which the group dined.

About were Mesdames Marjan Anprey, Minerva Williams, Jeanette Johnson, Thelma Thompson, Ruth Sampson, Neonta Corbin, Marie Coles, Mae Cornish, Marguerite Wilkins and the hostesses.

'TWAS "NIGHT OUT" for members of Miel Jemas, Saturday, when the girls donned their finest and dined at the Garrison.

There, they abandoned the idea of seeing a show and instead, decided to go to Carrie Carter's for cards and just fun. In between they did manage to wrap up plans for their May 28th party at Kappa House.

Sharing the evening were Carrie Carter, Mae Cornish Essie Dorsey, Leona Ferrell, Marita King, Mildred McDaniels, Bernice Turner and Elizabeth Young.

ON FRIDAY evening, the Baltimore chapter of Moles marked its second anniversary with a party, at which it entertained the husbands in the Chesapeake Club.

In a setting made colorful with the green and white of the club scheme, the group sipped champagne until they proceeded to dinner, highlighted with lobster and imperial crab . . . through a lemon chiffon pie.

Later tables were cleared for dancing, more sipping and fun.

Traditionally the husbands of the Moles are banded under the title of Mules: Officers of the Baltimore group are Robert Bailey, chairman; David Wright, secretary; and Irving Lockerman, treasurer.

Other Mules are Paul Beckham, Roland Williams, Nathan Pitts, Thomas McPherson, Glenford Dudley, A. U. Forte, Damovan Queen, Edward McDaniels and Westley Stubbs.

All of the Moles were most fetching for the evening. Eye catchers were Louise Lockerman in a green and white floral print sheath; Jacqueline Spencer accented her Hindu beauty with an imported print with matching shoes. Stunning was Anethia Williams in a black and white print sheath that was smartly paneled in the back. Her costume was highlighted with a crystal headdress.

Other Moles present were Florence Bailey, Carolyn Stubbs, Helen Hall, Blanche Beckham, Beatrice Wright, Mary C. McPherson, Mary Pitts, Bernice McDaniels, Emma Dudley, Helen Queen, Bertha Forte and Josephine Rogers;

Also present were: Cecil Cooper, William Alexander, Henry Winstow.

THE LORDS AND LADIES group of Jack and Jill are busy selling chocolate bars for the benefit of the NAACP. In the spring they will engage in other very special activities, culminating with attending their Eastern Regional Conference in Brooklyn, N.Y. late in June.

On March 4th, these boys and girls, their friends and parents, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Marshall Jr. then boarded a chartered bus and were off to the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen. They were met by Mr. Macsherry, chairman of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, who provided religious and architectural information and answered questions as he conducted them through the entire Cathedral.

Each person marvelled at details of this magnificent gift to all Baltimore. The Cathedral was built in five years at a cost of $9,500,000 bequeathed by the late Mr. Thomas O'Neill.

The Lords and Ladies present were:

Kenna Bass, April Henson, Harold Jennier, Judith Seasoma, Jewell Rawlings, June Burkett, Kathy Moore, Brenda Winckler, Lenora Woods, Nina Adams, Harriett Stevens, Committee members—Brenda C'l'a'r'k'e, Wesley Marshall, Matthew Dogan and Carol Shrevington, president.

Parents present were:

Mesdames Mae Williams, Alice Payne, Inez Henson, activity chairman — Charlotte Shervington and Edith Marshal, and age group chaiyman, Elise Clarke.

Guests present were:

Miss Ann Bowers, Miss Merle Rawlings, Mrs. Ann S. Davis, Mr. Johnson, Alicia Wallace, Joan Sessom, Roslyn Roberts, Joyce L. Cooper, Maria Clarke, Veronica Clarke, Madeline Murphy and Angela Moore.

THE TOTS AND TEENS' benefit Spring antasy, preview the viewers wide eyed with the viewers wide eyes with wonder and admiration at the spring and summer fashions from Pauline Brooks Fashion Salon.

Prior to this, however, the Tots and Teens modeled their own fashions in a Dreamland Fantasy skit which featured Greer Shorter as the Sandman; Anna Smith, Marquetta Quarles, and Richard Mitchell as the children displeased with their tired wardrobes, and Debra Hunter as the Fashion Godmother who opened a fashion wonderland to them.

Models in this skit were:

Carolyn Drew, Zelma Moore, Carole Martin, Strelsa Gorham, Evangeline Lambson, Darlynne Hunter, Cheryl Russell, Lynn Anderson, Alice Tucker, Charlene Lawson, Patricia Hayes, Paula Brooks, Gwendolyn Watts, James Hill Jr.;

Maurice Smith, Karl King, Michele Fantt, Clifton Martin Jr, Pinky Howell, Patricia Marshall, Marcia Porter, Denise Weems, Kim Rainey, Levi Sewell, Thomasine Mickie and Cynthia Underwood.

Members of Tots and Teens as well as the audience were delighted with the talent shown by Luther Bond, who sang a specialty number; Annette Lambson, whose ballet interpretation was charming ;Pinky Howell, in top hat and tails for her tap dance; and Hansonia Laverne Caldwell, whose piano selection was a program highlight.

Models who also showed hats by Neil Sheridan were; Mable Burton, Pearl Dyson, Mae L. Hawkins, Leatrice Hubbard, Hilda Kelson, Ann Phillips, Melinee Yerrell, and Tonya Wiggins.

Mrs. Odelie B. Ree as narrator, deftly linked the various phases of the show, and billy Fox was at his best as M.C. Background music by Mrs. Charlotte Swann gave the entire show a Dreamland fantasy quality indeed.

Ushers from Tots and Teens were Victor Walters, Irvin Quarles, Louis Tucker, Louis Bond, Gwendolyn Smith, Monica Bond, Thomasina Watkins, Joseph Duvall, Pamela Sewell, and Beaver Smith 3rd.

Edna Russell is president of the group. Louise Turks was chairman and Mabel Walters co - chairman of the affair.

Morgan Faculty Wives advised of area needs

Morgan State College Faculty - Trustee Wives at their Sunday afternoon meeting in McKeldin Student Union listened to a talk by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Phillips, and sipped punch afterwards.

Mrs. Beryl Williams, presided, and noted that Mrs. Phillips' mother, the late Mrs. Vashti T. Murphy, founded the faculty wives group.

The speaker, a member of the Baltimore School Board, outlined several areas in which college women and others interested citizens could serve the schools and their community.

MRS. PHILLIPS noted that keeping a weather eye out on school construction progress, visiting public schools, attending school board meetings would be rendering the community a service.

She also urged the women to help new citizens and youngsters, just coming of age, to register so they may qualify to vote.

She also suggested that more women make themselves available when calls for jury duty come, and that they indicate their willingness to serve as volunteers with community groups like the Crownsville State Hospital Auxiliary.

TULIP — The club members were guests of Mrs. Irene Alexander of 2757 Riggs Avenue, recently.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Iola Brooks, 2803 Riggs Avenue. Mrs. Mildred Brown is president of the group, and Mrs. Mary Brown is secretary.

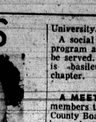
ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

BY ELOISE RICHARDSON



Delta Phi Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority will present Dr. Marjorie Parker (Mrs. Barrington D. Parker, wife of the attorney) in a travelogue talk on Africa, Sunday, March 26 at 4 p.m. at the Northwest Street YMCA.

She is Director of Student Teaching at Maryland State Teachers College and a visiting lecturer in history and philosophy of education at Howard University.

A social hour will follow the program and refreshments will be served. Miss Marita Carroll is basileus of the local chapter.

A MEETING for nominating members to the Anne Arundel County Board of Education will be conducted on Tuesday evening, April 4 at 8 p.m. at the Annapolis Elementary School in Green Street.

It is hoped that the various organizations of the county will consider re-appointment of two present members of the board, whose terms expire this year.

The two persons referred to by this column are Mrs. D. Ellwood Williams and Dr. Aris T. Allen.

All organizations, civic, religious and social and especially P-TA's should send one delegate to this meeting which will select by ballot, six candidates, the names of who m will be submitted to the governor for his consideration as appointees.

To do this, a registration fee of $1 along with the name of the candidate and the organization must be sent before April 4 to the president of the Anne Arundel Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, Gordon S. Harris, 1334 Howard Rd., Glen Burnie, Md.

Also it is urged that individuals and organizations may write to the governor, endorsing those they would like on the board.

MRS. D. ELLWOOD Williams, recently gave a generous monetary gift to the "Committee of 100" in support of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. of the national office.

The committee is chaired by Allan Knight Chambers, a person whom Mrs. Williams went to college with, and whom she knew as a resident in Baltimore along with his two sisters.

AS A RESULT of the interest manifested in mental health following the annual legislative meeting of the Maryland Association of Mental Health, a group of enthusiastic persons living in Annapolis and Anne Arundel County have organized a committee which is functioning as a nucleus body for the setting up of a permanent organization.

During a dinner meeting held at Crownsville State Hospital, with Dr. Charles S. Ward, superintendent, as host, on last Tuesday evening, S. Steve of Rosner, executive director of the Maryland association, announced that offices for a financial campaign in the interest of mental health in this area are being set up at 232 Main St. and will be opened to the public this week.

Mrs. Sachse will be campaign manager and Mrs. Doris Ford will be the campaign secretary.

Mr. Rosner also announced that a spring conference to formulate a permanent organization in Anne Arundel County would be conducted on April 11 at Carvel Hall.

There will be a workshop from 4 to 6 p.m., to be conducted by Dr. Paul V. Lemkau, president, and Ivan Asay, vice-president, of the Maryland association, and a dinner and conference will follow at 6:30 p.m.

The temporary committee for the organization is headed by Bennett Crain Jr., the attorney, and Mrs. D. Ellwood Williams, a member of the Anne Arundel County Board of Education, who are working as co-chairmen. Mrs. Henry Adams is recording secretary.

Members of the committee who attended the dinner meeting were:

Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Stotz, of Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Norris of Linthicum, Mesdames D. Ellwood Williams, W.H. Harder, Douglas B. Lacey, Willis mH. Richardson, Henry H. Adams and Doris M. Ford;

Also Miss Nan Wright and Messrs. Richard Clopper, Robert S. Shaffner, Noah A. Hilman, the attorney, George Sachse, Bennett Jr., the attorney.

THE REV. CHARLES H. Mack, minister of the St. James AME Church at Salisbury, addressed a large group of Marylanders at the Salisbury High School on Saturday, when the first annual observance of Founder's Day of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers was held.

Others who spoke included Boyd A. Mahaffey, superintendent of Wincomico County schools; Mrs. Carrie D. Bailey, Charles H. Chipman, principal of the school and Mrs. Eliza S. McDaniels, president of the group.

Mrs. Cora Pinkney of Clinton, Md. and William H. Richardson of Annapolis, the only two founders of the state organization present, also were presented and gave remarks.

Mr. Richardson gave highlights on the infancy of the group which is now in its 32nd year.

The Maryland Congress will conduct its spring conference on April 28 and 29 at the Harriet Tubman High School in Howard County.

Speaker for the dinner meeting on the 28th at 8 p.m. will be Mrs. Ethel W. Right of La-Grange, Ga., national president.

Other officers of the body are James W. King Sr., Howard County, vice-president; Mrs. Aurora V. Branford of Havre de Grace, executive secretary; Mrs. Grace McDowell of Snow Hill, recording secretary; and Lynn H. Jones of Baltimore, treasurer.

A charming personality who participated on the program was Mrs. Ann Pollitt Hatchfield, only colored employee with one of the utilities of Salisbury as a house service attendant.

She related to us her interesting experience as the only colored person to attend the National Contesters Association in New York City.
